Other bids accepted include: instrumental music from Classrooms, Inc., for $10,660.00; 12 classrooms of cabinetry from Michigan School Service (Stevens) $12,660.60; auditorium seating from American Seating, for $12,252.89; library bid and to incorporate the present library equipment into the new high school from Remington Rand, $14,980.00.

The Board voted to install the Tartan floor as per architectural change order.

Band Earns Top Ratings

CLINTON — Senior high symphony band earned all first ratings in the district band festival competition Saturday at Pottersville.

The coveted awards were matched by only one other school, Williamston.

The four sections and the numbers played were: Festival Prelude, required; Burst of Flame, required march; Fantasy of American Sailing Songs, selected number; and sight reading.

"This group plays musically as if they enjoy it," Kenley Inglefield said.

"Band has lots of technique and rhythm," said A. Bartnus.

Sight-reading judge Paul Ranier said, "Your school should be very proud of you. You're a good looking group and well-behaved."

"Our band's performance was tremendous," pronounced Superintendent Richard Wegner, who attended the event with Mrs. Wegner. He especially liked their arrangement of the Fantasy of American Sailing Songs, which had a truly nautical lilt—he could actually feel the roll of the waves. It didn't sound as though it was just a "required number."

Praise indeed, from the man who directed the Clinton band for some 11 years before he became superintendent of the school.

The placing entitles Clinton's band to play in the state band festival in April.

Township Board Considers Zoning And Ordinances

CLINTON — Need for ordinance revision concerning trailers was discussed at the meeting of the Clinton Township Board last week.

Board members also expressed a need to revise the zoning ordinance section which deals with residential lot sizes.

Supervisor Harold Calhoun reported every effort has been made to prepare a fair and equitable assessment roll within the bounds of state directives. This has included consultations with State and County officials and the Village Assessor.

Clerk Ben Mahrle reported the number of registered electors in the township is 1,033. This is three more than were registered at the close of registrations prior to the 1968 primaries.

Clinton Chatter

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Buckmaster have moved into Knight's apartment at 13900 E. Michigan Ave., one mile east of Clinton. They had been staying with her mother, Mrs. Clinton Hoelzer, since he received his discharge from the service recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Merval Mattis and family attended a 40th anniversary open house honoring her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McGuire, of Palmyra, at the Palmyra Fire Hall, Sunday afternoon. Others attending from Clinton included Mr. and Mrs. Rex Winchell and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun.

Boy Scouts Spend Week-end Outside

Wilford McCollum, assistant Scoutmaster, attended as supervisor.

These boys will receive their Polar Bear Badges. They slept overnight in 20 degree weather to do it.

Retreat Attended by Baptist Youth

Hire Police Protection

CLINTON — Around-the-clock police protection will be provided to the village by the Frank Becker Police Agency, Britton, resulting from an arrangement with the village Council at last Wednesday's meeting.

The Becker Agency will be hired for the month of April, and at the end of that time, will be given a two-year contract. At least three men will be provided by the service, which will cost approximately $1,500 for the month of April.

Contract for the agency will be through the State Police Post.

Bids were opened for the new substation at the light plant. The 14'x20' building will be adjacent to the present light plant.

The new budget was discussed and will be voted on at the April meeting.

No increase in millage for the operation of the village is anticipated, according to John Truesdale, village president.

Westfall Named Mail Carrier

CLINTON — Richard Westfall, of Adrian, has been appointed rural carrier for Clinton's only rural mail route, it was announced by Postmaster Robert Mohr.

Mr. Westfall has been serving the Onsted rural route since 1953. Prior to that he served in the Army.

He has a wife and four children, including one son, William, who is expected home from duty in Vietnam this week.

His appointment fills the vacancy made by the retirement of Amos Wilson, carrier for more than 40 years in Clinton. Assistant rural carrier, Mrs. Franklin Humble has been delivering the mail in the interim period.

Postmaster Mohr suggested it would be a big help to the new carrier if everyone on the route would have his name correctly printed on the mailbox.

Also, when a patron address sheet is placed in the box, it should be correctly filled in and returned to the box.

Cooperation at this time will be appreciated to help acquaint the new carrier with his route and patrons, Mr. Mohr said.

John Prible Is Honored by Florists

CLINTON — John Prible, owner of Kukini Flowers, was awarded the Garrett Foundation plaque for outstanding contribution to the floral industry at the annual convention of the Michigan Florist Association.

Mr. Prible participated in the design panel, "Spring Festival of flowers," and on the panel for "Funeral Flowers in the Sizzling Seventies."

Saturday and Sunday, Mr. Prible was in Columbus, Ohio to design the All White Floral Show for the Gard Company, a floral and hobby spray company.

Clinton H. S. Band Presents Annual Variety Show

CLINTON — "The Age of Aquarius" is the title for the annual variety show by the Clinton High School Band.

Performances will be given March 19, 20 and 21, at 8 p.m., in the high school gym.

Features will include the high school dance band, dance chorus line, vocal and instrumental solos, and comedy routines.

Admission is charged, and tickets may be obtained from band members.

Thomases Have New Daughter

CLINTON — A daughter, Kelly Lynn, was born March 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thomas, 9552 Hulett Hwy., Tecumseh. The baby weighed six pounds. Mother and daughter came home Saturday.

Tom Moore Is Top Member

CLINTON — Beginning this month, the Clinton Chapter Future Farmers of America will choose an outstanding member each month.

Tom Moore is the Future Farmer for March.

He is a senior at Clinton High School, where he has been active in several areas. He has been a Future Farmer for four years and during this time has had a number of accomplishments.

Tom is a dedicated sheep producer and has developed his flock so that it now numbers 200 ewes.

He can also be classified as a professional sheep shearer, having been Michigan's junior champion sheacer two years running. He also shears sheep regularly all year, for added income.

He also buys and sells ewes and lambs for producers in the area.

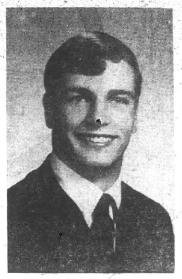
Tom has been treasurer of the Clinton Chapter of FFA as well as participating in a number of other chapter activities.

An active member of the high school student body, Tom has been a football player for four years and was co-captain this past year. He has also had a four-year career in wrestling and was Michigan's 1969 State Champion and won the 1970 State Championship Saturday, in the 165-pound class.

He intends to pursue a college education, but has not made any definite choice yet as to where he would like to go. He presently plans to continue in his livestock venture after graduation.

Tom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, 3399 W. Michigan Ave.

Selection of the Future Farmer of the month is made by the Chapter Publicity Committee, composed of Terry Calhoun, John Mullaly, Sarah Manchester, Ann Wolford and Steve Shelley.



TOM MOORE

Megan Feldkamp To Be Delegate for Girls State

Kay Greenfield was chosen as alternate to the event which will be held in June.

Mrs. Ken Meyers was named in charge of the annual poster contest for elementary students.

Landwehr Memorial Dedicated

CLINTON — A new lectern, given in memory of Lt. Duane Landwehr, was dedicated at the morning worship service in the United Methodist Church last Sunday.

Lt. Landwehr, who was posthumously decorated for his heroism, died in action in Vietnam last spring.

His wife, Frances, and young son reside in Lee Villa Park, south of Tecumseh. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bunney, E. Church St.

Through My Window

. . . . TO EAT APPLE BLOSSOMS!

It was just one of those mornings. Only with the strongest exercise of will power could Gertie T. and I do much more than stutter exclamations such as "Oh—oh my—look—over there—and here they come again!" In between times we were counting, "one, two, three, four." Once the count reached 50, we quit.

The cause of all the excitement was a flock of cedar waxwings. On the previous two days there had been reasonably good waxwing watching but nothing had prepared us for this particular morning. Sometime during the night our sneak preview of spring had blown to an abrupt end.

It was nice while it lasted though — the temparature had soared to a balmy 50 degrees, the snow cover had just about disappeared, and some overly anxious crocuses were begining to push up little green shoots.

Oh, the glorious dreams of things to come! There was, however, a sudden flip-flop and when we awoke the wind was howling cold out of the northwest. And, even though the sun shone brightly, the thermometer on our back porch kept edging downward until it reached a chilly 11 degrees at 10:30.

IT WAS while watching the wind whip the tree tops that we first started noticing the waxwings. The nearby maple tree was loaded. Ditto all the trees on the creek bank. And the birds were so close that even without binoculars we oohed and ashed at the bright yellow bands at the tips of their tails, the soft grayish brown of their backs, their cute topknots, and those stylish black eyemasks.

We could even see the firey red beads or wax which decorated the ends of the wing feathers. These little gobs name the birds waxwings even though no one apparently know what, if any, purpose they serve nor why some birds have them and others do not.

Once their identity was established beyond the slightest shadow of a doubt, they started moving. There were waxwings everywhere. Gertie T. and I were in a tizzy trying to keep each other informed about the bunch out in front eating the berries of the barberry bushes, the group who took off up the creek, and look at the congregation in that little tree.

In sharp contrast to the general movement, which was always done in typically fast dart-like waxwing fashion, were nine birds who for many minutes perched almost motionless. They were just the right distance for binocular viewing.

Gertie T. and I were amazed at the steakiness of their topknots and the sharpness of their bills.

THE MAIN center of attraction was the creek. It was, with a single exception, completely frozen over and there had been just enough snow flying so that the ice was nice and white.

The one open spot was a long narrow band along the opposite bank where the current was strong enough to have resisted the sudden drop in temperature. Apparently our waxwing visitors were thirsty.

Every once in a while we noticed a few drop down for a quick sip but then all of a sudden, most of the group congregated at the water's edge. It was as they kept coming in that Gertie T. reached the thrilling count of 50.

Birds were all in bright sunlight and what a sight! As they moved their wings, the subtle white markings showed and as they turned towards us, we could not help but gasp in pleasure at the surprising yellowness of their breasts.

I somewhere read that cedar waxwings were blessed with more of the social graces than anyone else in bird-dom. How true. In both appearance and manner they are exemplary.

They are beautiful birds to see and always straight-out-of-the-bandbox neat. Their manners are above reproach, even though traveling in large flocks there are never any impolite fights or quarrels.

They are not even noisy. Being friendly, the birds talk to each other constantly but it is a soft chatter.

So it is that we had a great time with our waxwings, their whole visit deserves raves — but after all, what except nice things can possibly be said about birds who on accasion have been known to eat apple blossoms!

ARE BIBLE NAMES SIGNIFICANT?

Almost all Bible names carry a message. A good Bible Dictionary will explain many of these.

Consider Abram changed to Abraham. Abram means father. He had no children. When Isaac comes, also his name change comes. Abraham means father of many.

Jacob means cheater, deceiver. When he met God and wrestled through the night his name was changed, with the change in his character, to Israel. This means a prince with God.

"EL" in a name is a reference to God's name. Elohim. "JAH" in a name is a reference to God's name, Jehovah.

Jesus and Joshua are the same, both mean Saviour. Jesus, the Saviour, was born in Bethlehem, the house of bread. Jesus is called the prince of peace and He will one day enter Jerusalem to rule the world. Jerusalem is the house of peace.

The best name change is when our names are transferred from the "lost" to the "saved" column of God's books. If your name is there, rejoice. Luke 10:20. If your name is not there, better contact God immediately. Rev. 20:11-15.

Ticket Issued for Speeding

Mark E. Nichols, 18, 14222 E. Michigan Ave., Clinton, was given a summons for driving too fast early Saturday morning.

Nichols was driving on Lemm Rd. at Van Tyle Rd. when he lost control on gravel as he applied brakes, striking a telephone pole.

He was not injured.

William Laidlaw on Dean's List

William D. Laidlaw, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Laidlaw, formerly of Tecumseh, has attained Dean's List status on the basis of having achieved a grade average of B or better during the first semester of the academic year 1969-70 at Williams College, Williamston, Mass.

Frank W. Flack Will Be Speaker

All men and boys of the Milan area, and elsewhere, are invited to a fellowship dinner meeting at 6 p.m. on Saturday, March 21, at the Milan Baptist Church.

Honored guest and speaker will be Frank W. Flack, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of both Faraday, Inc., of Tecumseh, and Orrtronics, Inc.

Mr. Flack, who resides with his family in Ann Arbor, also serves as the chairman of the board of Christian Service Brigade, headquartered in Wheaton, Ill.

Subject of Mr. Flack's talk will be "The Several Messages of Peter." A discussion period will follow his talk, and the meeting will adjourn by 8:30.

Men and boys are urged to attend and bring their friends. There is no charge, but a free will offering will be taken to cover the catered meal expense.

Two Students Are Writers

Two Tecumseh High School students have been named winners in the Detroit News scholastic writing award contest.

Michael House, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson House Jr., 708 Outer Drive and Mark Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Roberts, 705 Outer Drive, won in the poetry area.

Tories Win District Final

BRITTON — The Britton Tories marched past the Ypsi St. John Crusaders at Saline Saturday night by the same score of their first tournament game, 57-55.

The Tories seemed to have the whole game under control as they kept a 12-point lead most of the way until the last of the third and fourth periods.

The Crusaders started to press and the Tories had a few turnovers which the Crusaders took advantage of by coming up to make it 52-51. Jim Dupuis was fouled with under a minute of play left and had a one-and-one situation and made both to put St. John's ahead, 53-52.

The Tories added five quick points, but the Crusaders came back with a basket. Only four seconds were left when Maska pulled down the last rebound and held onto it for the win.

Scoring honors went to seniors Jim Brown with 20; Jim Lister, 18; and Rick Maska with 12 points.

For Ypsi, which was its last basketball game because of financial problems — the school will close next year — John Rose pumped in 17 points, Jim Dupuis had 14, and Tom Krips added 10 points for the losers.

The Tories will travel to Eastern Michigan's Bowen Field House Thursday, March 12, to compete in the regionals against Webberville at 8:30 p.m.

Britton Advances in Tournament

BRITTON — Britton Tories pulled out a squeaker Thursday night to advance into the championship finals of the Michigan Class D District Basketball Tournament at Saline by downing Whitmore Lake 57-55.

With six seconds showing on the clock Whitmore Lake turned the ball over to Britton. Jim Brown aimed a 15-footer from the corner, the ball bounced off the rim straight up into the air and then through the hoop.

Jim Lister had tied the score at 55-55 by converting both ends of a one-and-one foul situation.

It was close throughout the game. Whitmore Lake shot 50 percent in the game connecting on 22 of 44 shots. Britton netted 25 of 57 for 44 percent. Britton had four players in double figures: Jim Brown, 17; Tuberville, 14; Lister, 13; and Maska 11.

Women's Guild Plans Breakfast, Banquet and Tea

Mrs. Otto Miller led the devotions, and Mrs. Edwin Mueckler was in charge of the evening's topic.

Plans were discussed for the Easter breakfast. Bowling banquet was scheduled for April 27.

A Lenten service tea will be held at St. Paul's Church in Milan, March 12. Guest speaker will be Rev. David Ludwig, Michigan District Lutheran Women's Missionary League counselor.

Mindy Furgason Celebrates 6th

BRITTON — Mindy Furgason, celebrating her sixth birthday anniversary, enjoyed Saturday afternoon with 15 of her classmates, playing games and singing songs in the gaily decorated basement of her home.

The party, given by her mother, Mrs. Walter Furgason, and sister, Pam, had a gift table decorated in a birthday theme and centered with a beautiful birthday doll cake.

BHS Band Receives Superior Rating

BRITTON — On Saturday, March 7, the Britton-Macon Area High School symphonic band competed in the District Eight Band Festival held at Jonesville.

All Class D High School Bands from Lenawee, Jackson, and Hillsdale Counties presented three concert selections and were rated on their performance by a panel of judges considered to be experts in the field of band music.

The Britton Band received first division ratings from two judges and second division ratings from two judges. The band also received a first division score in the area of sight-reading.

These ratings were then averaged to obtain an over-all rating of second division, which indicates a superior performance.

Women's Fellowship Meets

BRITTON — Members of the Golden Rule Circle were hosts and planned the program for the Women's Fellowship meeting at the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church Wednesday, March 4.

Business meeting was opened by Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland with a reading and a prayer.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read. Communications were read with several "thanks" from the various groups that the women have helped during the past year.

It was voted to have a flower committee who would see that fresh flowers be placed on the altar on holidays. Five dollars was voted to be given the Cancer and March of Dimes Funds. It was also decided to paint the bedrooms of the parsonage.

The father and son banquet was discussed, which will be held April 3, with the Golden Rule and Mary-Martha Circles in charge of the kitchen. The Sunshine and Priscilla Circles will take care of the dining rooms.

A committee of four was appointed to see about arrangements for the future mother and daughter banquet. Women on the committee are Mrs. Bud Loren, Mrs. Beryl Albring, Mrs. Douglas Palmer, and Mrs. Raymond Seagert.

Mrs. Donald Judd had charge of the program. Mrs. Eldon Reeck gave a reading on "Beneath the Cross." Two hymns were sung by the group, "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross" and "The Old Rugged Cross," with accompaniment by Mrs. Gustav Hannevik at the piano.

Mrs. Mills Swick gave a talk on "Americanism." Mrs. Donald Judd gave a reading on "Responsibility" and "Slow Me Down, Lord."

Mrs. Truman Rentschler, of Tecumseh, gave an interesting and timely talk on "What Lent Means to Me," and also an interesting talk on her trip to the Holy Land, which she took in 1966-67.

The program was closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

City Attorney Jim Beardsley Resigns Post

With the feeling that one can serve too long and that there should be some rotation in appointments, James C. Beardsley, city attorney since April 1960, resigned at Monday night's Council meeting.

When asked about the resignation, Mr. Beardsley explained that he attempted to resign 10 years ago and was talked out of it. Since then, another 10 years has passed and he indicated a change was warranted.

He began when Tecumseh was a village, during the era when Floyd Elliott was mayor and Robert Kroner was clerk. Other top officials he worked with since include Ed Heilman, Ernest Campbell, Charles Menning, H. H. Hanna and the current mayor, Harold Easton.

Mr. Beardsley succeeded John Zeigler as counselor. He has aided the community in many ways. He was a member of the charter commission and encouraged its adoption on Dec. 14, 1953.

He has re-written many of the city's ordinances and has brought them up to date. His duties included legal advice in many aspects of the growth of the city.

Gregg Forsthoefel, assistant city attorney for the past four years, will now carry out all of the city's legal affairs until a successor to Mr. Beardsley is appointed.

Tie Clasp Slows Shot, Saves Life

District manager for the Detroit area for Cambridge Wire Cloth Co. Mr. Carmean was in the metropolitan area last Wednesday evening completing some business in preparation for a trip to Florida with his wife.

He left his room about midnight to obtain a brief case from his car in the motel parking lot, when he was accosted by a man in the dark, stating, "You're not going anywhere, give me your money."

Mrs. Carmean was called to her husband's bedside at Ford Hospital, due to his critical condition, and didn't recognize the seven twisted pieces of metal that physicians brought to her.

Doctors had removed them from the wound and attributed a minor nick in the patient's liver was due to the fact that the tie clasp had taken enough of the impact of the bullet to keep it from shattering the liver.

A spring from the tie clasp was imbedded in the head of the bullet. The tie clasp, a little larger and thicker than many was in the shape of a rock bass, an advertising piece used by the home office of Carmean's company.

"We are grateful to people here in Tecumseh, it's like we have lived here 20 years, and we only came last June 1 from Deerfield," remarked Mrs. Carmean.

The Carmeans have two children, Fred 12, and Carolyn 10.

Detroit Police Department is investigating the case.

Fire Damages Set at $1,500

Fire from a waste paper basket caused damages estimated by the Tecumseh Fire Department at $1,500 at the Marlboro Apartments last Friday night.

According to the report, an ash tray of cigarettes in the Dale Bowen apartment was tossed into a container below the kitchen sink. Contents of the waste paper basket then caught fire.

Firemen found mostly intense heat when they arrived. The blaze had melted solder on a water line, causing water to spray out and help contain the fire. Some water damage, however, was inflicted on another apartment.

Firemen reported damages of $1,000 to the building and $500 to contents.

Bus Depot at Lamb's

Depot for bus patrons has been moved from Wright's Pharmacy to Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy in downtown Tecumseh.

A request from Short Way Bus Lines to have parking space in front of the new depot was deferred by Council Monday night when officials refused to eliminate two or three parking stalls.

Councilmen proposed that the bus line use the alley behind the pharmacy, instead of double parking or using valuable parking space in the middle of the block.

Wright's Pharmacy was purchased by Carl Lamb earlier this month.

John Thompson, Dr. Coak Resign

Two members of the Board of Appeals, John R. Thompson and Dr. Richard Coak, submitted their resignations by letter to Council Monday night.

Both were original members of the Board when it was established by Council several years ago. No replacements were appointed at Monday's session.

Remaining members on the Board are Donald Brazee, chairman; Robert Bonner and J. W. Meadows.

Board Offers Wegner New Contract, But -

By MAXINE CALHOUN

A meeting of the Board of Education of the Clinton Community Schools was moved to the high school gymnasium after all Tuesday night.

When the audience grew large enough to fill the Central Administration Office to overflowing, a request to move to the school was made. Board President Donald Geiger, called the meeting to order, explaining that a few matters of routine action would be taken care of and then the board would go to the school.

More than 100 persons gathered at the gym to question the Board about its recent action in first denying a contract to Superintendent Richard Wegner, then subsequently rescinding that action on Friday and offering him a contract for one year.

Mr. Geiger reviewed the action and reported that school attorneys had determined the action to deny the contract was legal.

However, when board member Harlon Ruhl reconsidered and changed his vote, the result was a 4-3 vote to retain Mr. Wegner, Geiger explained.

Ruhl, when asked to explain his reasons for changing his vote, said he had considered public opinion, the problem of the new school building program, and the need to try to keep people working together.

He also noted the fact that Mr. Wegner knew the building program from start to finish and architects had expressed their opinion that they did not want to have to work with a new man.

"Maybe I was hasty when I voted the first time," Ruhl concluded.

Geiger reiterated, "I know my opinion has not changed."

George Brunner queried, was there any reason to believe the Board would not reverse its action at another meeting in the future.

Geiger responded, "It could be, however, the Board at this point seems firm in their position." He further explained that he felt the contract, when accepted, would be binding for the next year.

His reluctance to explain in detail the criticisms of Mr. Wegner was related by Mr. Geiger. He told how the constructive criticism would be incorporated into the board records.

However, the audience demanded specific review of the issues which brought about the controversy.

In order to clarify the matter, Geiger read the official statement of a superintendent's responsibilities, which include development of rules pertaining to all matters of administration and management, submission of all records to proper authorities, keeping the Board informed, direction of staff, curriculum development and recommendation for changes, provides leadership, attends all Board meetings, recommends certified personnel for approval of Board, and represents district as chief educator.

The superintendent must also utilize the full resources of the staff, keep up on educational trends, suggest textbooks and prepare the annual school budget.

The recitation of complaints by the Board members included such things as an alleged lack of supervision in school crossing areas some two years ago, unkempt incinerator conditions at the high school, hazardous situations caused by chained entry doors in the high school, backed-up sewer lines and student use of fired-up aerosol cans in the hallways of the old school section of the high school recently.

A long-standing problem was aired when Board Secretary Mrs. Henry Louwerens told how the Board had sought to have a quantity of old paint and solvent cans removed as a fire hazard from the basement of the old school. In more than two years, nothing was done to remove it.

Custodian DeArle Brugger, when questioned, asked, "Where do you suggest I put the stuff?"

An effort was then made to avoid dealing in personalities and to remain objective.

John Truesdale, village president, asked that the Board read a letter which Mr. Wegner sent to the Board on Jan. 27 in which he asked that members send him specific criticisms of any problems concerning the school.

Mrs. James Christian, secretary to Mr. Wegner, reported that so far no such written criticisms had been received.

Earl Lawrence, pastor of the United Church of Christ, made a plea for an end to the discussion saying, "You will bury Mr. Wegner with these petty things."

At this point, the Board was asked if it had considered hiring an assistant superintendent or business manager.

Mr. Wegner asked to speak, saying he thought the size of the school was not necessarily large enough to warrant such additions to the staff, however helpful it might be.

"I know there are problems in the high school," Wegner explained, "and I have tried to learn to function with this Board as individuals. At this time I don't know if I will accept a contract for another year."

He concluded his remarks by saying he was trying to arrange a seminar with the Bureau of School Service, University of Michigan, in which he and Board members could study their responsibilities, with the expectation that the community would be better off as a result.

The Board then adjourned to the Central Administration office to complete action on a lengthy agenda of other matters.

Two Killed

Funeral services were held Monday and Tuesday for two area men who were killed in a collision early Saturday morning on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

Killed were Troy Warren, 27, father of three children and who lived at 6400 Green Hwy., just south of Tecumseh, and Edward Medvecz, 43, of Allen's Trailer Court, Clinton.

Mr. Medvecz was a father of three children and also had five step-children.

Tecumseh police and firemen joined both the State Police and sheriff's department at the scene, less than a mile north of Tecumseh near a curve and intersection of Allen Rd.

Medvecz was dead at the scene, and young Warren was pronounced dead at Herrick Hospital.

Construction of a new dam for Globe Mill Pond was set back a year, perhaps longer, at Council Monday night after property owners on the pond and race objected to paying a portion of the costs.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the next move is probably up to the property owners if they want a dam and the water restored to the basin.

City officials have explored three programs in an effort to obtain state or federal aid to replace the dam washed out in the June 1968 flood. They've been rejected each time by state and federal authorities.

Monday night's meeting between property owners and the Council was to determine if the owners were willing to share in the costs. Out of 13 property owners present, only four expressed willingness to pay part of the costs.

Since the city had been rejected for outside aid, officials had hopes of a special assessment for property owners, with each owner paying according to his frontage on the water.

Amount needed, according to the city manager, was $35,000 with the city paying $7,600. Property owners would have been assessed at the rate of $2.28 per foot.

There are no plans now to replace the dam.

The meeting between Council and the property owners lasted well over an hour with several owners expressing their views, one of which had the city paying the entire cost.

It was pointed out that property owners were not asked to share in the cost of repairing and replacing the washout at the River Raisin bridge and dam on N. Evans St.

Approximate cost here was $21,000, including the construction of a barrier to prevent future washouts. To help meet this cost, the city received a gift of $10,000, leaving $11,000 left at city expense.

Repairs of this washout were rushed as the approach to the bridge was gone and the street closed to traffic.

There are 32 property owners on Globe Mill Pond and the average cost per property owner would have been about $900 each. In some cases, some owners would pay considerably more, and in others, considerably less.

Plans for a new dam have been completed and reviewed by the state. When the plans were ordered along with borings and other tests at the pond site, officials were anticipating some outside funds.

TREMENDOUS CHANGE — One of the biggest changes in recent years among stores in downtown Tecumseh is now nearing completion at Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy. Extensive remodeling in the past three weeks has not only departmentalized the store, but has made it exceptionally attractive through the use of paneling and carpet. Owner Carl Lamb is here in the new pharmaceutical department, one which can be completely closed off from the rest of the store. This department also includes a comfortable waiting area for patrons and a receptionist desk. Remodeling was extended into the original section of the store where new carpet, fixtures and lighting are featured. Mr. Lamb just recently purchased Wright's Pharmacy, which at the time was the oldest business in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Lindsley Tops Program

Concerning the genocide treaty, she said that it is imperative the citizens of United States become informed of the text of the treaty as it is now written.

Literally defined, genocide means mass killing which is universally condemned. If the provision of the genocide convention were confined to the prevention of genocide among nations, few could oppose it but when the definition is extended to cover persons causing mental harm to national, ethnical, racial or religious groups and permits trial of an individual before an international penal tribunal, then truly, a pandora's box of incalculable trouble is opened, she read.

Before the Senate since 1946, the treaty has not been ratified but each year it is brought up. Should the Senate ratify the convention as now written, the individual American could be exposed to possible arrest, extradition and trial.

Mrs. Lindsley said that fluoridation should be studied as cyclamates and thalidomides have been and until safety is positive, should not be imposed on people. Of demonstrations and moratoriums, she said, "It is fashionable today to seek commitment, but don't get committed to anything you haven't studied."

Vice Regent Mrs. Fay Wheland read a letter about the Hyder Kidney Machine Fund and stated that donations of money or baked goods for a sale April 17 at Herrick Park Branch bank would be welcomed.

Mrs. Purnell Osburn reported acknowledgment from National DAR Library of four geneological books for the chapter.

Mrs. Whelan will be the hostess for the April meeting. The program will be on conservation.

Clinton Troopers Awarded Citations

Troopers James B. Ewers, 1208 Shady Lane, and Patrick T. Coady, 312 Kehoe Rd., Clinton, of the Clinton State Police Post, were awarded citations in recognition of outstanding performance or service, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director, announced.

Ewers and Coady, aided by an informant's tip and with the cooperation from the sheriff's department, investigated drug and narcotics use last year in Lenawee County. This resulted in the arrest of seven persons, impounding of a car used to transport drugs, and the breaking up of a narcotics ring with operations extending at least into Ohio.

85th Celebrated By Mrs. Dannells

CLINTON — Mrs. M. L. Dannells was honored in observance of her 85th birthday anniversary Saturday at a family dinner party at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Truesdale.

Co-hosts for the event, attended by 21 children, were Mrs. M. L. Dannels, Jr., Decatur, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Burton Dannels and Robert Dannells. Other relatives from out-of-town were Sgt. and Mrs. James Englehart and daughter, Rebecca, Uba City, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. John Basinger, Charlotte.

The birthday lady reports that it will take all week to read the many birthday greetings she received.

Pancakes Top Scout Supper at Britton

Next Tuesday, March 24, will mark the 30th anniversary of the Britton Boy Scouts annual pancake supper.

Tickets may be purchased from any Britton Boy Scout, and the menu is still all you can eat. Serving will start at 5 p.m.

The supper is the principal source of funds to finance one week at Scout camp for the troop, and for a Scout trip that is taken every other year. Annual sales awards and recognition are given each Scout selling supper tickets.

Persons who still hold wooden tickets used at the first supper in 1940 will be admitted free. Over 300 were sold and some are known to still be in existence.

The supper the area's oldest annual event, will be held at Britton High School.

Monthly Meeting Held by WSCS

BRITTON — WSCS of Grace United Methodist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Tom Judkins Thursday evening, March 12.

President Mrs. George Forsyth opened the business meeting by reading the poem "The Dogwood Tree."

Dates to be remembered are, invitation from the Tecumseh WSCS to attend their March 24 White Breakfast and Ann Arbor District Annual Spring Meeting at the Milan United Methodist Church April 20.

Discussion was held concerning the menu and sale of tickets for the Mother-Daughter Banquet to be held at the Ridgeway Church Saturday, April 18.

Mrs. Ellsworth Robison, having a Worship Center of lighted candles, spring flowers and open Bible, gave a meaningful Easter program, with scripture and poetry. Members assisting were Ellen Strait, Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mrs. Lloyd Wagner, Mrs. Edward Kanous, Mrs. Raymond Bird and Mrs. George Forsyth.

Refreshments, in keeping with the Easter theme, were served to 14 members and two guests, Mrs. Hamilton Moore, District WSCS president, and Billy Niblack.

2 Yenor Children Enjoy Birthdays

BRITTON — Benjamin and Angela Yenor, children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Yenor, celebrated their fourth and third birthdays Saturday afternoon. The party was given in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schroeder of Welch Road.

A beautiful doll cake and teddy bear cake were baked and decorated by Mrs. Harold Lutz of Britton. Seventeen attended from Britton, Tecumseh, Saline, Manchester and Milan.

Those attending were Chad and DeAnn Miller, Craig Brown, Jimmy Schroeder, Arrin Schroeder, Steve and Tommy Lutz, Glen and Keith Nieman, JoAnn Miller, Lori Kroger, Ruth Schafer, Margerate and Brad Withrow, Lora Jagelka and Brian and Karlene Lutz.

The afternoon was spent playing games and eating ice cream and cake. They received many gifts.

Afternoon callers were their great grandmother Mrs. D. Prichard of Tecumseh and Miss M. J. Prichard of Detroit, their great-aunt.

Bid OK'd by Board

BRITTON — Following reports were given at the regular session of Britton-Macon area School Board Friday evening in the superintendent's office.

Dick Cox, president of the Tory Boosters Club expressed appreciation of the club for the support during the past year by the school staff, coaches, ballplayers, cheerleaders and student body.

The Board accepted the bid of Max Larson Ford, Inc., of Coldwater for $3,700 for a Ford school bus chassis. The Board will cooperate with the PTO in purchasing new stage curtains.

It was decided to keep bus number five as a spare instead of trading it off. Larry Jacobson, history-English teacher, was given tenure by the board.

Sam Hamilton, driver education instructor of Britton-Macon High School, reports that driver education classes are being held on Tuesday and Thursdays for students who will be 15 years old by June 1.

There are 50 students in the class who meet in the study hall at 3:30 p.m. on specified days. Actual driving will be done at end of the school year.

Basketball Team Awarded Trophy

Tories Defeated In Regional Play

The Tories led at the end of the first quarter 15-12. Later in the second quarter Webberville caught fire and led at half time 29-25.

In the second half it was all Webberville as the Spartons controlled the boards and gradually increased their lead.

Britton used a full court press in the second half in an attempt to get the ball. More often though the Spartons would break the press for a lay-up.

Ed Ancel topped all scorers with 29 points. For the Tories, Lister had 19 points, J. Brown 18 and Maska 12. Sam Bates came off the bench late in the third quarter and did a good job rebounding and scored six points.

WEBBERVILLE 78

GIRL SCOUT WINDOW — Seventeen troops of Girl Scouts provided project materials for a distinctive window display at Ken-Ray Drugs. It shows many of the handicraft and badge work features of the program. Mrs. James Wheeler, neighborhood chairman, assisted by Mrs. Avery Lee and Mrs. K. L. Armstrong, arranged the display with items like tiny cookies and candied apples made by 275 girls from Brownies to Seniors. Each troop has an assistant leader, besides the leader, and three committee mothers, totaling 85 adults volunteering their time.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Job Well Done

Twenty years of service to Tecumseh is a long time, and the community owes Jim Beardsley its gratitude for his services over these years.

His resignation as city attorney caught nearly everyone by surprise, and this includes Council.

Most communities have one or several officials with considerable historical knowledge about the growth of their communities and area. With Jim's departure, Tecumseh will have no one serving in such a capacity.

Not only will his legal advice and general knowledge about Tecumseh be missed, but also his sense of humor. He often enlivened a dull Council meeting.

We recall a dog ordinance he once re-wrote after city officials had received a number of complaints. When it was ready for Council review and action, he was questioned about a clause regarding dogs under "reasonable control."

After considerable expounding on the nature of dogs and the difficulty of keeping dogs in their proper yards, it was discovered that Jim's dog had the habit of snitching a bone at French's Market—some three blocks from the Beardsley residence.

Amidst some chuckles, Jim remarked that this was "reasonable control."

Twenty years as city attorney is truly a long time. A village became a city and grew rapidly during this period. Behind this change and growth was considerable work which went unnoticed.

We can't help but look back and say, "a job well done, and done with Tecumseh at heart."

Club Now Selling Curb Numbers

The Voyage en France Club, in cooperation with the Jaycees, is selling curb numbers to boost their finances toward the trip to France they plan.

Members will start a door-to-door canvass Saturday asking a $2 donation. They will then give the names to the Jaycees who will paint house numbers on the curbs when weather permits.

Wallichs Return from Spain

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wallich returned last Friday from a week's jaunt to Madrid, Spain, vacationing with other customers of one of their wholesale houses.

While there they visited Kay Lincoln at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and dined on one of the typical dishes of Spain.

The Wallichs found the food in Spain quite different from the states. They ordered gouela, tiny, skinny, gray baby eels, at one restaurant. Marty liked them but his wife couldn't muster the courage to try.

Mrs. Wallich said that it was hard to find anyone who spoke English and frustrating to try to speak Spanish.

They went to the Prado Museum, second only to the one at Vatican City in Rome, and saw many El Greco paintings and other art. In Toledo, Spain, they saw the artist's home and where he was born.

Weather was most cooperative, about 65 degrees, the fruit trees and flowers were starting to bloom and people were watering their lawns.

The Wallichs, owners of Tecumseh Plywood, went to the Valley of the Fallen where memorials have been erected for the Spanish Civil War veterans in a beautiful natural canyon.

League Views Film

Dan Hostetler of the Lenawee County Conservation League presented a film, "The Cry of the Marsh," at this week's Tecumseh Rotary Club meeting.

The film tells of conservationists in Minnesota who tried to save a marsh from reclamation. Although they were unsuccessful, they were able to record the story on film.

It begins by showing the marsh as it was, beautiful and filled with wildlife. Then machines came, grim and efficient, which are followed by fire to cast the final insult.

The annual election of officers was held with the following elected: Paul Roekle, president; Sid Adams, first vice president; Dick Lewis, second vice president; Ambrose Clay, secretary; Steve Illeck, treasurer; Bob Durham, Ken McElroy, Vern Manwaring and Len Bruner, directors.

Next week's program is entitled, "The River That Came Back."

The Great Man Came

The crowd had been gathering for hours. From every corner of the town they came—from tall white houses on the hill and cramped row houses by the mill. There were bankers and housewives, students and salesmen, grandmas and grocers, all drawn by a common hunger to hear the word of God.

And then the great man came. He stood before a microphone, and his words spread over the gathering like a benediction.

Suddenly, the shadow of a bygone day spread massively from another crowd, another place, to those gathered here. A thousand differences were reconciled, as the congregation found a common bond under the spell of Good Friday, when God gave His Son in a wondrous gift of love.

So, in these troubled times, as crowds gather all over the world—sometimes with hate in their hearts—let us pledge our time and talents to our churches as they teach the brotherhood of men through the fatherhood of God.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Sure and Begorra and Tuesday was a foine day to be born. Little Boy Anderson arrived early March 17 at St. Joseph Hospital, pleasin' his mither no end since she won the pool arranged in her office by having the little one on St. Patrick's Day.

The leprechauns will certainly smile on the likes of that boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt. Bobbie's baby weighed 7 lbs., 12 ozs., believe it or not. Wonder what they will name him?

Mrs. G. A. Abner is recuperating at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Meads. Mrs. Abner fell at her home March 5 breaking her left arm and dislocating the shoulder. She wears a heavy cast.

Carson Murphy, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Murphy, 206 E. Pottawatamie St., entered St. Joseph Hospital Wednesday for plastic surgery to his face. Carson received gunshot wounds to the face three years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman have returned from Montego Bay, Jamaica, where they spent 10 days in Half Moon Hotel. Mrs. Helzerman said the weather was delightful, 82 degrees.

Mrs. C. C. Carmean of Florida is a house guest at the home of her son, Richard Carmean, and family. A switch was made in plans when Mr. Carmean sustained a bullet wound while in Detroit making preparations for visiting his mother. He and his wife planned to leave Friday for the home of the senior Mrs. Carmean.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Robison spent the weekend in Chicago visiting her cousin, Mrs. Virginia Kennedy and Edgerton Temple and their mother. They live in the section of the city called Pullman Place where employees of the Mr. Pullman who invented the railway car lived in 1840. The factories are still there and young people are purchasing the properties and rebuilding the homes. Mr. and Mrs. Robison attended the historic Pullman United Methodist Church.

Service Scheduled for Good Friday

The Union Good Friday Service, sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, will be held March 27 at the new Friends Church on the Tecumseh-Clinton Road.

The service will begin at 1:30 and close at 3 p.m.

The Rev. Edmund Watkins will speak on the theme "What Does Jesus Say from the Cross." The Rev. Seal Janeway will speak on the theme "What the People Saw and Heard Around the Cross."

The Rev. Paul Brantingham, host pastor, will preside and special music will be provided by Friends Church.

The public is welcome to come and spend as much time as possible as there will be convenient times to leave the service. The offering has been designated to be sent to the American Bible Society.

Some Pupils To Be Bussed Out of City

Unless there are other plans devised, many Tecumseh school district parents will probably be upset next fall when their youngsters trot off to school.

School officials are working out class and bus schedules for the 1970-71 term, and it now appears likely that some elementary pupils will be bussed from the city to the Tipton and Ridgeway schools.

The schools have elementary rooms available, but the shift in school-age population is providing problems. In some cases, it may be possible for a pupil to live within sight of an elementary building, such as youngsters in Lee Villa Trailer Park, but attend school in Tipton.

A youngster, for example, who has attended Patterson from kindergarten through the fifth grade, may find himself at Ridgeway for his sixth grade.

The two rural buildings have space while city classrooms are crowded.

Compromise on Dress to Students

A compromise in the high school dress code was approved by the School Board Monday after considerable discussion with Neville Hart, school principal.

The Board voted four to two for the compromise which will be presented by Mr. Mart to the Student Affairs Committee and the Dress Code Committee of the Student Assembly on Thursday.

Shepherd-Beckey Unite in Marriage

Barbara Shepherd became the bride of Russell Beckey March 17 in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Floyd Vaughn at the home of the bride in Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sisty were the attendants. Both Mr. and Mrs. Beckey are employed by American Chain and Cable Corp.

At the reception following the ceremony, a call was placed to her son, Pvt. Richard Shepherd, in Germany telling him of the wedding.

Other children of the bride present were Mrs. Michael Vancoopanel, Adrian, and Nancy and James at home.

The bride's mother, Mrs. John Hull, Mrs. Clark Pearson, Mrs. Carson House, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer House and Mr. and Mrs. William Beckey of Tecumseh also attended.

No THS Vote This Summer

Tecumseh School Board decided Monday night not to hold another election in either July or August for millage for a new high school and conversion of the present high school to a middle school.

Last month the voters voted nearly three to one against eight mills for the construction program.

No date was set at Monday's session as to when the Board will again seek approval of the millage. A vote in June, however, will be held for renewing school operation millage.

One factor against a summer vote was the necessity of using paper ballots instead of the voting machines.

Rev. Fitzgerald to Assist Service

The Rev. Fr. James Fitzgerald of St. Joseph Shrine, Irish Hills, will assist the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley with Penance service Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The blessing of the palm will take place Saturday evening at 7 p.m. mass. The blessing will be in the school corridor where the parish members are asked to gather and then march in procession to the church.

Sheriff Germond Speaks on Drugs

Sheriff Richard Germond spoke on drugs in Lenawee County at the meeting of Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Tuesday night in the Teen Club rooms at Community Center.

Election of officers will be held at the annual meeting in May.

100 at Supper

The tables were decorated to the theme of St. Patrick's day.

After dinner a short skit, called "Little Nell," was presented by Mrs. Richard Platt, Mrs. William Bale, Mrs. Jack Allen and Mrs. Milford Sellers.

The models were Mrs. Alice Grady and Mrs. Barbara Orr, both of Dundee, and Mrs. Barbara Bailey of Tipton.

The business meeting was opened with the following officers: Most Excellent Chief Mrs. Amice Bunor of Ypsilanti, Past Chief Mrs. Haze Jackson of Ann Arbor, Excellent Senior Mrs. Opal Brady of Tecumseh, Excellent Junior Mrs. Mable Kopka of Dundee, Manager Mrs. Cecil Smith of Tecumseh, Secretary Mrs. Lee Hendershot of Allen, Treasurer Mrs. Anna Binknke of Ann Arbor, Guard Mrs. Neda Bemis of Hillsdale.

The meeting was called to order by Most Excellent Chief, Mrs. Albert Gilhouse. The secretary's report and treasurer's report were given and approved as read.

Grand Honors were extended to the following Past Grand Chiefs: Mrs. Irma Tefft of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Gladys Wanty of Miland and Mrs. Bernice Condyeor of St. Louis and to the District Deputy Mrs. Barbara Orr of Dundee.

Reports were given on sick members and altruistic work. Mrs. Gilhouse extended a welcome to Mrs. Elizabeth Mattis who has been ill for six months.

New business was discussed and Mrs. Gilhouse appointed a Ways and Means committee to raise money for Grand Temple expenses. The committee is Mrs. Barbara Biley and Mary Theilan.

To conclude the evening a drawing was held for a door prize. Mrs. Dwight Service won.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

DID JESUS DIE FOR EVERYONE?

Some who are living today have tried to cut off the wide spread value of the death of Jesus. They say that He only died for some people. The Bible takes a different position however. John 3:16 informs us that God loved the entire world. Christ is the gift of God as indicated in this verse: 1 Timothy 2:4 calls Christ the saviour of all men, and the special saviour of those who believe. 1 John 2:2 tells us that Jesus did not only die for believers but for the whole world.

Christ died for our sins. He bore our sins in His own body on the tree. 1 Peter 2:24.

God laid on Christ the iniquity of all of us. Isaiah 53:6.

The universal invitation of God to "whosoever" assures us of the ample provision for all. See Romans 10:13 and John 6:37.

Also, it must be noted that everyone is not automatically forgiven and redeemed simply because Christ died. There must be a personal acceptance of Christ's death as for one's self. See John 1:12 and Acts 16:31. If we do not accept His work on the cross, we receive no salvation. John 5:40. John 3:18.

At this wonderful season of the year, we should consider our own need and if we have not done so, appropriated God's salvation for ourself. Romans 10:9.

No Teacher Here Refused Tenure

A review of Tecumseh school teachers was held during an executive session of the School Board Monday with principals from the various buildings.

No teacher was refused tenure. If the Board had decided to drop a teacher, notice was required by April 12.

Pythian Sisters Schedule Dinner

Plans were made last Wednesday by Pythian Sisters for a potluck dinner March 25 when Grand Chief Mrs. Robertine Nelson of Berkley will be a guest.

Sixteen members of the local lodge went to Tipton for a joint meeting and Friendship Night following a cooperative dinner.

Mrs. David Criss is chairman of finding the child to go to the camp sponsored by Pythians on Burt Lake this summer.

Mrs. Cecile Smith will assist her.

THS Seniors Stage 'Arsenic'

"Arsenic," first staged in 1940, is about two elderly matrons who live with their nephew who believes he is Teddy Roosevelt. Rick Rohrer portrays the nephew.

The matrons, played by Lesley Otter and Donna Osburn, think it is an act of charity to murder old men.

David Vaillancourt, playing the sadist nephew, Jonathan, exemplifies this attitude. Stefan Parkman, Tecumseh's exchange student, plays Dr. Herman Einstein, Jonathan's associate.

Other members of the cast are Bill Bailey as Dr. Harper, Bob Laidlaw, Steve Cooley and Mike Wilkin as policemen; Mike House as the playwright policeman and Dave Frownfelder as Mr. Gibbs.

The play, to be presented at the Community Center Glass Room April 9, 10 and 11, is directed by Mrs. Deborah Baker assisted by Mike Wilkin.

He is to report back to Ft. Hood, Tex. Pfc. Gary Stalls is stationed at Ft. Bliss, Tex., training in air defense.

Friends Fete James Short

"I don't know how I can thank all of you. I really appreciate all this," remarked the surprised James Short, 511 S. Pearl St., who was the recipient of an open house retirement party Sunday, arranged by his C B (Citizens Band) friends.

About 50 persons greeted Mr. Short who retired as a lift truck driver March 1 from Tecumseh Products Co. They brought three element beams and a rotor with them and plan a raising bee soon.

Cake, cookies and coffee were served by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Polley, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Opel and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Bayles.

Fellowship Holds Tea

Members enjoyed a program by Mrs. K. Xavier of Adrian formerly of India. She told of the customs of India and presented a style show.

Mrs. Dean Cook was in charge of the program.

Recreation News

There are still openings in new spring classes for junior and senior high students. New classes are cake decorating and gymnastics. Call recreation department for further information.

Don't forget the kite-flying contest Saturday morning starting at 10 a.m., at Shady Lane Park. Tecumseh Jaycees will assist in judging. Prizes will be awarded.

The service is open to everyone in the community.

Artificial Ponds Discussed

Would you like to know more about ponds?

More than 150 people attended the meeting co-sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and the U.S. Soil Conservation Service last Thursday evening at the Michigan Producers Dairy plant to find out about artificial ponds.

John Comstock, cooperative extension director, was master of ceremonies. Vern Anderson and Martin Urka, SCS, discussed favorable and unfavorable pond locations, soils, costs and pond designs.

Ponds have many uses. Some are for fishing, boating, swimming, ice skating, water-fowl, picnicking, livestock water, irrigation and fire protection.

Richard Hill, county executive director of the ASCS, reviewed the ASC government cost-share programs, past and present. He commented on the 1970 program as to cost-sharing for ponds.

Dan Bruggeman, assistant prosecuting attorney, stated three standards of care.

First is the invitee. To protect yourself from guest invitation, get a policy of insurance that will cover a big loss from liability.

Licensee is the second. You are giving the person permission to come on your property. Warn them of danger. It is not only a legal but a moral responsibility for you.

Third, the trespasser, involves the doctrine of attractive nuisance. The pond looks so nice it lures uninvited people in, especially children.

Put up the necessary signs. The signs will probably mean little in case of drowning. There are no written rules, but your case will be based on what a reasonable person would have tried to do.

Ed Bacon, fish biologist, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, states that the prime fish to stock in southern Michigan ponds is black bass or bluegills or black bass-bluegills. Channel catfish do not do well in small Michigan ponds.

Trout may do well for 10 months but the hot summer may be lethal. Trout need more oxygen such as is found in colder waters. The warmer the water the less available oxygen. A combination is 150 fingerling black black bass and 10 large bluegills. Commercial fertilizer is not recommended.

Bill Morrel, game biologist of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, followed with constructing a shallow pond for waterfowl. He covered suggestions on tree and shrub plantings around the pond area for wildlife and aesthetic purposes. Wood chuck nest boxes are important for placement in these shallow water areas.

Does The Herald Have Your Photo?

Jim Neal, district natural resource agent, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, said there are three ways to control weeds in the pond, namely, mechanical, biological and chemical. When chemical control is used, first identify the weed then follow directions on the label of the chemical used.

If necessary get a permit for certain chemicals. Chemical means should be used only as a last resort.

White Breakfast To Be Presented

Seventeenth annual White Breakfast will be held Tuesday, March 24, at United Methodist Church beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Frances Gorney of the Girls' Training School will offer an Easter meditation entitled, "Mercy In the Cross."

Special devotions will be given by Mrs. H. J. Weikart with Mrs. James Danforth presenting the seasonal music accompanied by Mrs. Fred Oberlin.

On open invitation is extended to all women of the community to attend this highlight of the Easter period.

VFW Auxiliary Serves Girl Scouts

Thirteen girls and their leader, Mrs. Howard Kromberg, and assistant leader, Mrs. Walter Mueller, and VFW Auxiliary president Mrs. Richard Eisenmenger were present.

Those attending the sixth District Rally in Carleton Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenmenger, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller, Richard Zick of Macon, Carroll Conklin and Lloyd Stites.

The auxiliary and post received certificates from the District for participating in the Voice of Democracy program in the high school. Sue Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Curran of Newburg Rd. was first place winner here and placed fourth in the District.

The Auxiliary is having a smorgasbord Friday, April 10, at the hall, serving from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 4 to 7 p.m.

Social meetings are being used to make articles for the Veterans Hospitals and also for the Tecumseh Sidewalk Sales. The auxiliary has supplied the Ypsilanti State Hospital with new and used articles of clothing.

The next social meeting will be held March 18 at 8 p.m.

The business meeting, April 1, will feature nomination and election of officers.

Father-Daughter Banquet Staged

Tecumseh Area Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls held their annual Father-Daughter banquet at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall March 10.

The leaders and assistants of the two Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups were introduced before each group sang an Indian song.

This week, in honor of the 60th birthday anniversary of Camp Fire Girls, there will be a Camp Fire display at Ken-Ray Drugs and a Blue Bird display at Mary Sanchez's Beauty Shop in Tecumseh.

Church Members To Be Installed

New members will be accepted and installed into the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church on Palm Sunday. The service, which includes the proper musical arrangements for this Sunday, is open to the public.

Combined choirs of 56 voices, Chancel and junior choirs and the Youth Singers will sing "Hosanna, Blessed Is He That Cometh" by Hedges, and "O Thou Eternal Christ, Ride On" by Lovelance, under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Mason. Her organ accompanist is Carole Ann Christman.

The worship service starts at 10:30 a.m.

Volunteers Hold Dance

Members of Lenawee Emergency Volunteers are holding a dance Saturday evening at the Products Workers Union Hall for anyone interested in both round and square dancing.

The String-Aires will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and a portable television will be awarded to some lucky person.

The group has purchased one generator to be used in an emergency such as the 1965 Palm Sunday toronado and they would like to get another one.

Auxiliary Votes $1,000 Pledge

The drive sponsored by Goodwill will raise money for the training of handicapped people.

Members will contact new members soon. They may either be active or inactive in the organization which is not a social group, but composed of women who desire to help those with a disability.

Tickets Available for Dinner-Dance

Tickets for Mayor's Exchange Banquet and Dinner-Dance May 21, now on sale at Flanders Music, Easton's Mobil, members of the Little Garden Club and city offices. Prices are $3 per ticket. Tickets also available at the Herald.

THE MASTER'S MEN — Featured at Family Sunday, March 22, at the Assembly of God Church will be Gale Kimerer, first tenor, Richard Hansen, lead, Marvin Fike, bass and Lawrence Wotring, baritone. The Speer family and The King's Daughters will also provide special music for Family Day, both at the church and at the dinner and fellowship sing at the Products Workers Union Hall.

Music Presented On Palm Sunday

The Rev. Harold Speer extends an invitation to the community to attend Family Sunday services Palm Sunday, March 22, at Assembly of God, 210 W. Bidwell St., when three groups of musicians will present special music.

"The Master's Men," a quartet of local young men, will present the morning worship. Formed in April, 1968, the group has been singing in churches within a 500-mile area since that time.

Gale Kimerer, Richard Hansen, Marvin Fike and Lawrence Wotring are "The Master's Men" with the theme, "Saved to Serve and Serving to Save."

A group of women called "The King's Daughters" and the Speer family will also present musical selections during the day's activities.

The Rev. Speer invites families to add their name to the family register at the church Sunday.

Following church school at 10 and worship at 11 a.m., a potluck fellowship dinner will be served in the Products Workers Union Hall at 1 p.m.

Musical groups will coordinate a family sing at 3 p.m. Christian Ambassadors meet at 6:30 p.m., preceding the evening service at 7:30 p.m.

R. D. Moore Wins Recognition

Fishing in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament on a recent vacation in Florida, R. D. Moore, 5914 Rogers Hwy., won angling recognition for landing a 21-lb. barracuda in the 12-pound division.

He will be awarded a citation for his catch.

Commemorate 51st

Nearly 100 attended the dinner party celebrating the 51st anniversary of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 of the American Legion in the Legion Home Saturday night.

During the program, recognition was given to the past commanders of the post and past presidents of the auxiliary.

The program was informal and interspersed with a medley of familiar tunes played by Mrs. Frank Gray including a Hum-along.

Guest speaker and Past Commander of the Department of Michigan, Milo Anspaugh of Reading, centered his talk around Americanism.

Greetings were read from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe in Florida. Mrs. Louis L. Schneider sent greetings from Florida by telephone.

A highlight of the evening was the news that the date was the 27th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring who were present.

Mrs. T. Rentschler, president of Unit No. 34, presided and was assisted by Commander Clarence Natterstadt of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baaske cut the birthday cake.

The tables were decorated in patriotic colors and poppies by Mrs. Natterstadt.

Mrs. Roger Williams prepared and mailed the invitations to the past commanders and past presidents.

"The American Legion Story," a book by Raymond Moley, Jr. was on display at the head table. This book has been placed in the Tecumseh Public Library by the Auxiliary commemorating the 5th anniversary of the post last year.

Youths Sponsor Sunrise Service

Youth of the Tecumseh churches are sponsoring the annual Easter Sunrise Service to be held March 29, at 6:30 a.m., outside at the New Friends Church on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. The speaker will be the Rev. Harold Speer, pastor of Tecumseh Assembly of God.

In case of bad weather, the alternate location will be inside of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars.

So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents.

Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price: □ Regular-gas Rocket V-8 □ Power Steering □ Power Brakes, front discs □ Nylon-loop carpeting □ Bias-Belted Tires □ Door Side-Guard Beams □ Hidden Radio Antenna □ Flo-Thru Ventilation □ Bigger, better riding 124" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!

Through My Window

A TWO ARTICLE BREAK-UP

We three Duncans and one Austin always say that living by the creek is one of the best things ever. There is always something happening—it may be exciting, amusing, fun, or quietly satisfying but it is a safe bet that there will be something. Once in a while, of course, that which is good becomes tremendous. Just such a day was March 4th.

All winter the snow had been building. The ice froze thicker and thicker, snowfall piled on top of snowfall, and every little thaw added water which, when the temperature dropped again, froze, making the ice even thicker. Finally all was in readiness and, when a rise in temperature coincided with an all night rain, we had the exciting 4th.

Mom's eyes open earlier than do mine and it was she who brought the expected news that the creek was full of water. Tuesday had been reasonably warm and, although there had been much thawing, our last look at the creek that day showed only a little dirty water running on top of the ice. However, when the rain started falling, we began to anticipate. Sure enough, Wednesday morning our beloved Evans Creek was in flood. I had my bed twisted around—instead of facing the south window as well as the west, I would concentrate on looking north and west. What happened on Logan and Democratic Streets would just have to get along by itself. I knew where all the action was going to be, it was going to be along the creek.

A STEADY rain was falling when I first got with it and there was also a thick heavy fog shrouding my window worlds. Although the bed was positioned so that I should have been able to see quite far both up and down stream, the fog effectively shrunk my view. It seemed strange having to look and even strain to see where the creek was—after all, anything as familiar as that should not be lost, but the fog was so thick that we had trouble seeing our creek. Also what it was doing—what it was doing was rushing towards us at top speed. Evans Creek in flood is wild and angry; this morning it was dirty too. It was full of mud, logs, fence posts, tree branches, leaves, weeds, and icebergs.

Vaguely through the fog we could see the dim outline of an ice jam building up in back of Dick's dam. By the time the ice jam was large enough to self-destruct, the fog was beginning to lift slightly. We could see much of what was happening; We could also see much of what had happened. Sometime earlier the water had been extremely high, the flatlands must have been completely flooded. The story was easy to read because, as the water dropped, it stranded debris (mostly dirty icebergs and tree limbs) everywhere.

GERTIE T. at her lunch literally on the run. After the first part of the big jam worked through my view, she reported it progress from the livingroom, kitchen, and breakfast nook. Suddenly an exceptionally large amount of tree trimmings and ice caught at the slight bend just outside my west window. The start of another ice jam. My room was once again the focus for flood watching. Listening too. Apparently something further up the creek had broken loose about now for the creek was suddenly almost clogged with ice and slush and as it all crashed into my jam—wow! It was not even necessary to open the window to hear the crunching, grinding, and smashing.

We had front row seats. It was easy to see how ice jams are built. Sticks, branches, logs, and ice cakes rush with the current, meet an obstruction, are diverted to an open spot, and, as they rush through, are caught and held fast. Not too gradually the dam builds and the openings are closed. The water starts rising behind and the pressure mounts. It, of course, is not completely water tight, and as the water uses the openings, little whirlpools are formed. These are the destructive forces which, as they grow in strength and size, doom the jam. Usually the destruction starts gradually and then builds relentlessly until with a final swish and a loud roar, the jam breaks. Then the water drops—it is just as though someone pulled the plug in the bath tub. Of course, further down the creek somewhere, the stopper is put back as another ice jam builds.

Collectors Stage First Extravaganza

Michigan's first Collector's Extravaganza will be held Sunday, April 5, at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Arrangements for the event are being made by Marie A. Johnson, of Clinton, well-known collector of tokens and metals. Co-manager of the show is Raymon E. Olson, of Detroit, collector of tokens, coins, bottles, political items, and several types of Early American glass.

Nearly 100 display tables will feature collections of bottles, antiques, coins, tokens, minerals and Indian relics.

Many kinds of metal detectors will be shown by the Association from Oscoda, and their display will include $30,000 worth of artifacts unearthed by the detectors, much of it in Michigan. There is a variety of treasures, such as coins, jewerry, lumber, relics and guns, from their museum in Oscoda.

There will be a big display of insulators, Indian relics and much more.

This is the first time those in the collecting field have coordinated a show in one place. Most of the articles will be for sale.

Collectors who are interested in renting a display table may do so by March 26. There are still a few places available.

Food will be served on the premises. There is ample parking.

Dealers are expected to participate from Manistique, Cleveland, Jackson, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Monroe, Dundee, Adrian, Findlay, Defiance, Ohio, Kalamazoo, Garden City, Oscoda and Grand Rapids.

Errors Delay Tax Refunds

Missing W-2 wage and tax statements caused income tax refunds of 3,279 taxpayers in Michigan to be held up, said Thomas A. Cardoza, district director for Michigan.

Processing is delayed until the W-2, or an acceptable explanation of why it cannot be furnished, is received.

Refunds are also being held up because of other errors or failures to follow instructions.

As of last week, 2,856 refunds had been delayed because of errors in Social Security numbers.

Already 15,398 returns have been filed without a signature.

IRS Service Center in Cincinnati has processed 478,341 refunds for Michigan taxpayers totaling $138,663,618.

Vaccination Low In Pre-Schoolers

In a recent assessment of the immunization level of children in Lenawee County, it is noted that the level of Polio immunization is low in pre-school age children.

There has been an outbreak of polio in Texas during the past year, and Lewis Glaser, acting director of the Lenawee County Health Department, is concerned that the children of Lenawee County be adequately protected against polio so that this does not occur in our county.

Parents who have children entering kindergarten this year are reminded that according to law (P.A. 169), their child must be completely immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, 10-day measles, smallpox and must have a tuberculin test before the child may enter school.

If immunization has not yet been started, complete immunization takes several months and should be started immediately if a child is to be ready for school this fall.

Workshop To Be Held

Mrs. Eleanor McCrimmon, consultant in home economics education for the Michigan Department of Education, will speak about "Home Economics in the 70's" at a curriculum workshop this Thursday.

The workshop, to be held at Adrian College's Tobias House, is open to all Lenawee County superintendents, principals and home economics teachers.

Airman Robert H. Smith has graduated with honors at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the training course for U. S. Air Force communications specialists. Airman Smith is the husband of the former Carol Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Allen, 802 W. Pottawatamie St. Parents of Airman Smith live in St. Helen. Airman Smith will be assigned to Tinker AFB, Okla., for duty with the 1984th Communications Squadron.

Airman Awarded Citation of Thanks

Airman First Class Richard Rutherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rutherford, 905 Russell Rd., has been awarded a citation of thanks by city officials and Chamber of Commerce of Biloxi, Miss.

Airman Rutherford, an inspector of aircraft at Keesler AFB, assisted in the clean-up of Biloxi after Hurricane Camile struck on August 17, 1969.

Besides assisting in the clean-up, the airmen had to live on C-rations for two weeks so. Biloxians would have food to eat.

Camile struck two weeks after Airman Rutherford arrived at Keesler AFB.

He has been in the Air Force one year.

Senior Citizens Help Close Gap

"Young people interested in 4-H need more adult leaders," says Dr. Gordon Beckstrand, director of Michigan 4-H Youth Programs, "and Michigan's senior citizens can help meet that need by serving as leaders and advisors for 4-H youth projects and activities.

"In most communities there aren't enough adults willing to serve as 4-H leaders for all the young people who want to participate," notes Beckstrand.

"All a person really needs to be a 4-H leader is time and an interest in youth," he says. "I think many senior citizens have both."

Contact the Cooperative Extension Service in Adrian if interested in volunteering help to youth through 4-H.

ELECTRIC HEAT

Are you one of those people that suspects electric heat costs so much that you have to make big money to afford it? Forget that myth! Compare the cost of heating electrically with the cost of other heating methods. Include such costs as installation, maintenance and repair, cleaning, redecorating and home depreciation. You'll find that modern electric home heating is not expensive, but a real bargain. So before you decide on the best heating system for your home, get the facts . . . all the facts . . . nothing but the facts.

Wondering About F. O. B. Meaning

By LUCINE LITTERAL

Recently I realized the only fact I knew about the commercial term, F.O.B. was "free on board." Confident the two sets of encyclopedias we had would give me a more precise answer, I scurried off to my "private library" to read the vast information at my disposal only to learn that it was a commercial term meaning "free on board; all expenses paid up to and including the loading of freight on cars or ship." I had expected much more.

I called the post office and asked if they could be of any help as to the definition of F.O.B. "Yes ma'am, free on board." Explaining I already knew this, but needed to satisfy my urge to know more, he apologized and said that was all he knew. At least I had the satisfaction of knowing I wasn't the only person who knew little more than "free on board."

Next I called an auto dealer and was assured F.O.B. did mean free on board with charges directed to the receiver of merchandise sent.

Encyclopedia Britannica stated: "F.O.B. — a contraction of 'free on board', a commercial expression describing the terms of sale. Under f.o.b. terms the seller must load the goods on board a railroad car, ship, plane or other carrier at the location named in the contract.

"The named location is sometimes the city where the factory is, but it may be a port of export. In the United States, for example, the prices of automobiles are often quoted at f.o.b Detroit. Risks and expenses pertaining to the goods pass from the seller to the buyer at the moment of loading."

OUR READERS WRITE

To the Editor:

If school Boards are going to be over ruled by certain people, why have a School Board at all? The people speak when they vote at elections for their school board to represent them.

I am neither for or against the Clinton superintendent Mr. Wegner, because I do not know all the facts.

If you or I were voted against, we would have to step down from any organization. The school government is run a lot like our government with the representatives representing the public, because they know the full issues at hand.

The petitions to be signed by a lot of people do not know what they are signing. One woman was asked by her husband why she was standing in line to sign the paper and her answer was "because every one else is."

Is that any reason to sign a paper? Must we all be like sheep following one another? Because one steps off the cliff, we must all do so?

Let the school board run the school board or have no School Board.

Mrs. George Bancroft

TO THE EDITOR:

Notice to Tecumseh voters:

Election time for city officials is approaching.

Do you remember the hassle last summer over the proposed Tecumseh Box Co. expansion?

Three of those Councilmen are asking for re-election —

Shall we?

Ninth Graders Given TB Tests

All ninth grade students in Lenawee County schools will be given a tuberculin skin test in April as part of a state-wide program.

Purpose of the program is to determine the index of tuberculosis infection in ninth grade students. From the testing, students will know if they have been exposed to TB and the Lenawee County Health Dept. can compile an index of TB infection in this area.

'Battle of Bands'

The battle to end all battles will be held soon in Saline. Bands from throughout the area will gather to compete against one another on April 18, 25 and May 2. This year's first place prize is a Shure Vocal Master (Model VA300) projection system.

The competition will take place at the Saline Farm Council Grounds at the corner of Saline-Ann Arbor Rd. and Pleasant Lake Rd. The battles will begin at 8 p.m. The winning band will go on to state competition at a later date.

If you have a band whose members are at least 13 and not over 19 years of age, residents of the state for at least two months, and are not professional in the sense that playing in the band is their main means of livelihood, then you qualify.

Get into the swing and be the scene at the Saline Jaycees Fourth Annual "Battle of the Bands". For more information or entry blanks, write: Bob Briggson, 184 Wallace Dr., Saline, Michigan 48176.

Miles Speaks To Realtors

Cliff Miles, Adrian administrator discussed increased costs and the raising of tax assessments at Friday's realtor meeting.

He pointed out that clothing costs have increased by 28% in the last eight or ten years and the relation of other increased costs in comparison to real estate assessments. He cited instances where improved real estate or properties that are well maintained by their respective owners are worth more than those properties not taken care of.

In his remarks, Miles mentioned that some 5,500 properties have been re-evaluated in Adrian and that the city may consider the possibility of an income tax as a means of spreading costs equitably among the residents.

The present combined tax rates in the City of Adrian are $55.16, and by contrast, the combined tax rates in Tecumseh are $47.97 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Those in attendance from Tecumseh were Mrs. Elizabeth Gould, Larry Carpenter and Vern Manwaring.

Men's 'Y' Breakfast on Good Friday

The 18th annual county-wide men's Good Friday Breakfast will be held at the YMCA of Lenawee County on Friday morning, March 27, according to Bill McCartney, YMCA executive director.

The annual event attracts upwards of 200 men from the county and is the only interfaith and inter denominational event of its kind during the year.

Breakfast will be served at 6:55 a.m. and the entire morning's observance is over by 7:55. Reservations are needed and will be accepted by the YMCA through Wednesday of next week.

Calls may be made to 263-2151.

√

Mrs. Clara Camburn and Mrs. Leland Rohn entertained the Macon Woman's Club. Following the business meeting Charles Bigelow discussed taxes and explained how they are assessed.

√

Mark Service and Earnest Martin are spending their Eastera vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin and Mrs. William Serive. They attend Tennessee Military School in Sweetwater, Tenn.

Cub Scouts Hold April Paper Drive

CLINTON — Local Cub Scouts will have another paper drive on April 18. They are asking that householders save all papers for them to pick up.

The annual Pinewood Derby will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Elementary School.

Held by Society

CLINTON — Mrs. M. Sokolowski, Manchester, was announced as winner of the afghan at the meeting of the St. Dominic's Altar Society Monday.

A potluck supper was attended by 15 members and the Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy at the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

Mrs. Thomas Young had decorated the tables with a St. Patrick's motif.

Mrs. William Kroger presided at the business meeting at which a bake sale was planned for April 19, following the Sunday Masses.

Mrs. Walter LaSovage was appointed to decorate the church for Holy Thursday.

Announcement was made by Fr. Kennedy that the St. Dominic's Church would host the annual Good Friday Community Service with other local churches cooperating in the service.

Mrs. William Kershner won the lucky Lady prize.

Hostesses for the April meeting at the center will be Mrs. Herbert Blumhardt and Mrs. George Bowman.

Clinton Chatter

The Rev. and Mrs. Dean Parker entertained for dinner Sunday in observance of the 80th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. Hattie Garlick, of Novi. Other guests were Mrs. Mae Atkinson, also of Novi, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Parker, Jr., and children, David, John and Beth, of Livonia.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodge and daughter, Patty, of Hillsdale, called on Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks Saturday. The families were neighbors many years ago in Hillsdale.

√

Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks were in Jonesville Saturday evening to visit his mother, Mrs. Laura Meeks and sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Van Wert.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis and daughters, Ronda and Barbara, of Carland, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lawrence and family.

√

Mrs. Eugene Wallace of Detroit visited for three days last week with her mother, Mrs. Lenn Gray. Another daughter, Mrs. Russell Hochradel, of Monroe, was here Friday.

√

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fromer and son, Alan, of Mt. Morris, were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Odell. Saturday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Washington and daughter, Jeanine, of Mt. Clemens.

√

Mrs. A. H. VerBryck of Stamford, Conn., spent the week visiting with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoyt, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownson. She also called on another brother, Hugh Hoyt, and family in Toledo, O.

√

Mrs. Natividа Garrido has returned to her home in Spain after spending three months visiting her son, Evel Garrido.

Council Accepts Equipment Bid

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Village Council Wednesday, the bid was accepted for additional switching equipment to provide additional power at the electrical generating plant, at a cost of $87,500.

Projected improvements will make the electrical plant a primary switching station.

Wegners Contract To Be Renewed

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Clinton Board of Education Friday, it was decided unanimously that for the general welfare of the community, continued educational growth and reunification of the electorate, Supt. Richard R. Wegner's contract would be renewed for the coming year.

Agreement was reached on the basis of entering constructive criticism regarding Supt. Wegner into the official records for future reference. It is the firm belief of all members of the board that board unity must be maintained if quality education is to remain in Clinton.

The Board decided not to adjourn to the high school for further discussion as it can see no positive benefits from exploring this subject in greater detail. The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held at the Board office, Wednesday.

Families Entertain U of M Students

CLINTON — Four students from the University of Michigan were recent weekend guests of local families.

The visitors and their hosts were Martin Amibba, Venezuela, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker; Rauel Castro Munques, Mexico, guest of Mrs. Francis Faulhaber; Alex Castillo, Venezuela, guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Simpson and Zuelma Sandy, Bolivia, a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dixon.

Pam's Operation

CLINTON — Pamela Clark, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark, Matthews Hwy., underwent heart surgery, March 3, at University Medical Center, Ann Arbor. She is reported making a satisfactory recovery.

Her parents wish to thank all those who helped by donating blood for Pamela.

Philathea Class Offered Program

CLINTON — "My Husband Bought Me for $40 and a Chicken," was the amusing Readers Digest story read by Mrs. Leon Van Deusen for the program of the Philathea Class Thursday.

Mrs. Hattie Feldkamp hosted the dessert luncheon meeting attended by 13 members.

Mrs. Ben Mahrle gave the devotions.

The class members will arrange the decorations for the Father-Son banquet, April 18, and for the Mother-Daughter banquet, May 9.

Mrs. Bruno Papsdorf will be the hostess for the April meeting.

Easter Bunny Set For Annual Hunt

CLINTON — Annual Clinton Easter Egg Hunt will be held March 21 at 10 a.m., at the Community Center.

All children up to age five can participate in the hunt.

Each Girl Scout and Brownie is asked to furnish six eggs.

Denice Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, E. Church St., Clinton, is among the graduates at Michigan State University who received their degrees Sunday. Denice received a BA in journalism, and she is employed on the copy desk at the Lansing State Journal. She is a graduate of Clinton High School, and for several summers she was a Tecumseh Herald staffer.

Mrs. John Mabry Elected President

Other officers elected are:

First vice-president — Mrs. Harlon Ruhl.

Second vice-president — Mrs. George Wolf.

Recording secretary — Mrs. Maxwell Stamats.

Corresponding secretary — Mrs. Frank Allen.

Treasurer — Mrs. E. John Hoelzer.

New directors are Mrs. Roy Bower and Mrs. Roy Richards and the parliamentarian is Mrs. John Monaghan.

Mrs. Marion O'Donnell was a guest of Mrs. Norman Luttermoser.

Mrs. William Adams, world traveler from Grosse Pointe will be the guest speaker for the spring luncheon, April 8, at Roumell's.

St. Patrick's motif decorated the refreshment table arranged by Mrs. L. A. Van Gieson's Committee.

FFA Continues Rotary Pig Chain

The Tecumseh FFA gave the 34th gilt from the Rotary Club Pig Chain to Randy Waynick on Friday, March 13.

In October, 1951, the Tecumseh Rotary Club gave the FFA $35 to buy a purebred gilt to start a pig chain in the chapter. Since that time several breeds have been raised.

The first pig was given to Melvin Schafer in 1951. This pig was a Duroc and since that time other breeds given out were: Berkshires, Yorkshires, and Landrace.

In 1960 there were seven pigs out. This was the most given out in any year.

Idea of the pig chain is to help a boy get started with a productive project while in the FFA. All pigs are purebreds and registered.

Bethlehem Gifts Given to Members

Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene is conducting an attendance contest.

Gifts imported from Bethlehem will be given to all attending the Easter Sunday service and a special second gift will be given to the five persons bringing the most people to Sunday School.

Managers Meet for Little League

There will be a meeting of managers and men interested in managing minor league baseball teams in the Little League program. Meeting will be held at the Community Center at 7:30 p.m., April 6. It is requested that only managers or potential managers be present.

First organizational meeting of managers of teams desiring to enter the Tecumseh City Slo-Pitch League will be held at the Community Center at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 9. It is requested only managers or their representatives be present for this meeting.

holy week services

Easter is a time to worship and rejoice.

"He is risen!," a message which rings across the centuries as Easter spreads its radiance throughout the city, churches and homes. Cares and worries are cast aside as Christians experience anew the joy and reverence, the spiritual rebirth wrought by the miracle of Easter.

Sunrise services, sponsored by youth of Tecumseh churches, will be held Sunday at 6:30 a.m. outside the new Friends Church on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. unless weather is bad.

In that event the service will be held at the same time at United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Harold Speer presenting the sermon.

Union Good Friday services, sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, will also be held at the Friends Church from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

First Baptist

"The Crucification" is the name of the cantata to be presented by the choir at the First Baptist Church Thursday evening under the direction of Richard Barber.

Soloists are Mrs. John Westgate, Mrs. William Rader, Dr. Richard Lewis, Mrs. Leta Brunner and Fred Dickinson. Mrs. Westgate and Mr. Barber will also present a duet and narration will be done by the Rev. Blair Bashore.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter and Mr. and Mrs. William Rader will have charge of Easter breakfast following the sunrise service at 6:30 a.m.

"Fear Nothing. He has Risen," is the topic of the Rev. Bashore's Easter message with worship starting at 11 a.m.

United Methodist

Special Holy Week services have been set for the members and friends of the United Methodist Church.

Thursday evening at 7 p.m. the sacrament of the Holy Communion will be celebrated in the sanctuary with the pastor, the Rev. Donald Porteous officiating.

Tecumseh's annual Union Good Friday service will be held at the Friends Church, beginning at 1:30, with the Rev. Edmond Watkins of the Presbyterian Church in the pulpit.

Easter Sunday the morning service will begin at 10 a.m. with the message being "The Last Enemy is Destroyed." During this service the Chancel Choir will sing "Open Wide Ye Everlasting Door."

Special music will be offered by Jamie Danforth and William Adams who will sing "Lift Up a Song of Praise." Three trumpeteers—Patricia Mannino, Catherine Criss, and Craig Davis—will play "Christ Arose" as well as joining the hymn offerings.

Mrs. Donald Bush will be the organist with Mrs. Carl Meyer accompanying on the piano.

Grace Evangelical Lutheran

Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church will observe the sacred events of Holy Week with these special services: Maundy Thursday 7:30 p.m. with Holy Communion. Good Friday at 7:30 p.m. will be a Tenebrae Service, which means darkness—the conclusion of the service will find the sanctuary darkened.

The purpose of this service is to impress upon all the reality of sin, which caused our Savior to die for us. This will also be a communion service in which the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Jackie Lindquist will sing "How Great Thou Art."

Easter Festival Services will be at 7 a.m. and 10 a.m. Special organ music will be provided by Debbie Simon and the choir will sing "O Glorious Easter Day," by Saint-Saens.

Between the services there will be a Fellowship Breakfast served by the Pioneers, an organization for boys in the church.

Church of God

Revival services will continue through Easter Sunday at Church of God.

Presbyterian

Traditional candlelight communion service will be held in the Fellowship Center of First United Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. on Maundy Thursday, March 26.

This service is different from other observances in that those participating are seated around tables in an arrangement similar to the original last supper.

All members and friends of the church family are invited to this service of hymn, scripture, prayer and sacrament.

Good Friday union services will be held at the Friends Church from 1:30-3:00 p.m. Pastor Watkins and the Reverend Seal Janeway of the Missionary Baptist Church will be the speakers.

There will be one service at 11 a.m. on Easter Sunday. Chuch School classes will be held at the regular time.

St. Peter's

Maundy Thursday evening service at St. Peter's Church will be the Lord's Supper at 8 p.m.

Addresses will be given by both the Rev. Russell J. Cooper and the Rev. Frank Hawthorne on Good Friday. The service, 'At the Foot of the Cross," will be held from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

The evening service, "The Way of the Cross," will be at 8 p.m.

Baptism will be held at 4 p.m. Easter eve and Holy Communion at 8 and 10 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

St. Elizabeth

Good Friday at St. Elizabeth Church is a day of Fast and Complete Abstinence. Offerings will be used for the upkeep of the Holy Places in Jerusalem.

Private confessions will be heard Holy Thursday from 11 a.m. until noon and from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Mass will be at 7 p.m.

Confessions will precede the service from noon to 1 p.m. Good Friday and be heard in the evening from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Liturgical services will begin at 1:30.

Easter Vigil Mass will be at 7 p.m. Holy Saturday.

Easter Sunday Masses will be at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

Missionary Baptist

The Rev. W. B. Oakley, chairman of evangelism for Michigan Baptists, will be guest speaker Easter morning at the 11 a.m. worship service at Missionary Baptist Church.

Revival services will continue each evening at 7 p.m. during the following week.

Tecumseh Friends

Meditations for the cantata, "The Easter Gospel According to St. John," are based on scripture from the writings of St. John and the music written by Ellen Jane Lorenz draws from eight of the hymn tunes of the early church.

The cantata will be presented by the choir of Tecumseh Friends Church Sunday evening at 7:30. The location of the church is on the Tecumseh-Clinton Road and the public is cordially invited.

Scriptures will be narrated by Russell Rieve and the choir will be accompanied by Mrs. Loren Avery at the Allen organ. Mrs. Paul Brantingham is the director.

Restaurant Is Planned at Wright's

Don Smith, owner of Don's Beef Buffet, has purchased the Wright Pharmacy building from William Wright and has plans for a second restaurant in Tecumseh.

The new restaurant will feature fish and chips, sandwiches and short orders and operate on a self-serve basis. Evening hours also are planned.

Mr. Smith says an English style and type restaurant is tentatively planned with details to be worked out later.

He expects to open the restaurant later in the summer.

Trickey Is President of Chamber

New officers and directors of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce have been elected for 1970.

Chales Trickey, of Van-Mer's, has been selected as the new pesident; David Criss, Proctor Funeral Home, vice president; and Sally Hunt, Don's Beef Buffet, secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the board and directors are Marion Ford, Stauffer Chemical; James Springer, Gambles; Ron Baxter, Green's Clothing, and Carl Lamb, Lamb's Pharmacy.

At a session Wednesday morning, discussion centered around dues, membership drive for the current year, budget and general activities and functions of the Chamber.

Funeral Services Held Saturday for Edward Boss

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Ann Arbor for Edward Cyrus Boss, 62, who died last Thursday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The former, well known Tecumseh resident had moved to Ann Arbor just four years ago. He had moved to Tecumseh in 1949 and was an executive here with Tresco, Inc.

Mr. Boss, a Certified Public Accountant, was a long time director of Adrian Commercial Savings Bank, financial advisor for Security Exchange Commission, member of the local Rotary Club, Tecumseh Country Club, and St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

He was born Aug. 1, 1907 in Detroit, the son of Cyrus and Genevieve Shear. Prior to moving to Tecumseh he was a resident of Detroit for a number of years.

Survivors include his wife, Agnes H. Houghton Boss; a brother-in-law, Ralph H. Houghton, Huntington Woods; and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held in St. Andrews Episcopal Church of which he was a member by the Rev. M. Jones, Jr. Interment was in Forest Hill Cemetery in Ann Arbor.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Fund.

Home Burglarized Saturday Night

Burglars hit the Earl Baldwin residence in River Acres early Saturday night, taking three guns, approximately $50 and a silver watch.

The home, unoccupied only for just an hour by the family during the evening, was entered through a door off the garage.

Although several rooms were searched, no damage was reported to the Tecumseh police handling the investigation.

Vacations Start

Easter and spring vacations will start Thursday at the end of the school day in the Tecumseh and St. Elizabeth schools. Classes will reconvene April 6.

HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

GLAD TO BE ALIVE! — Richard Carmean is looking at life through rose-colored glasses these days, but he doesn't need any to look at the pieces of a tie clasp that saved his life. He and his son, Fred, 12, are comparing the remains of the salmon-shaped clasp which deflected a robber's bullet which was shot at point-blank range during a visit to Detroit two weeks ago. "The funny thing about it," said Carmean, "was that it didn't hurt that much," — until after surgery. Carmean returned home Saturday where he is making a rapid recovery. The miraculous tie clasp — Carmean is going to frame it. How else will anybody believe him?

New Building Is for 'Supply'

The site, formerly occupied by the Patterson House, an old brick apartment building torn down by the city several years ago, will be the new home for Tecumseh Building Supply owned by Lee Fogelsong and now located at Ridgeway.

Mr. Fogelsong says the building will be of colonial architecture and will be over 1,600 square feet in size. Room is being allowed for future expansion.

Off-street parking is being provided and plans call for a paved drive and lot, just east of the real estate office. Side of the 60x28-foot building will actually face the boulevard with entry facing the parking lot.

Mr. Fogelsong, former local builder, has operated Tecumseh Building Supply for the past 10 years, specializing in kitchen cabinetry. He plans to use the front portion of his new store for kitchen displays, but has only tentative plans for the rest of the building.

Dollars Galore Are Indicated in Income Tax

Each year our Federal, state or local taxes seem to creep upwards. Sometimes the cause is justified, sometimes it's difficult to understand why.

It now appears that adoption through an advisory vote of the proposed city income tax on April 6 would just about double the city's annual revenue from local taxes.

A little research indicates that our local city taxes could not just creep upwards, but jump drastically. Some of the older folks in the city will benefit, some of those earning $5,000 or $6,000 in the family also may benefit some. But, then look out.

Last month a survey showed the city's payroll income at about $57.8 million. Over $8 million came from Fisher Body and most of this will be exempt from a city income tax.

Since this was a rather conservative estimate of the city payroll, one could round off the figure at $50 million. We can then split the $50 million, estimating that $25 million is earned by city residents, and $25 million by non-residents.

If we deduct 20% for allowable deductions, we would then have $20 million taxable at one percent from the residents and $20 million at one-half percent from non-residents. The city portion would raise $200,000 in a city income tax and the non-resident portion would be $100,000.

Add to these figures an amount of approximately $270,000 which the city would collect off a property tax. This is based on nine mills of $30 million assessed evaluation.

We're now up to $570,000, but the city income tax would not stop here. There are corporate earnings to be taxed, and a rather conservative estimate would be $15 million or another $150,000 for city collections.

Your grand total, therefore, is approximately $720,000—and don't bet that it couldn't be larger.

This grand total represents about $300,000—or 10 mills—more than the city collected last year when property taxes resulted in $420,000.

It's impossible to determine the exact amount which would be collected through a city income tax, but it would appear that an income tax without any property tax would channel as much money, if not more, into the treasury than ever before.

Although Council has gone on record to lower the present 14-mill property tax to nine mills, an advisory vote of approval still would actually be approving a 10-mill hike for the city next year.

City officials have stated that further reduction of the property tax would be made if the income tax warranted it. If property tax were dropped completely after one year, the city still would be blessed by $300,000 at the expense of resident and non-resident contributions plus a sizeable hunk from local corporations.

3 on TV Sunday

Easter Sunday treat for television viewers will be the appearance of Concordia Lutheran Junior College Choir on Channel 13 at 9:30 a.m.

David Bush and Thomas Schroeder are regular members of the choir and Dave's brother, Jim, a junior at Britton-Macon High School, has been asked to accompany the group with one number on the string bass.

Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder, Ridge Hwy., and Dave and Jim are sons of the Elwood Bushes.

CAR EXPLODED — Remains of the car, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant, indicate that the auto practically exploded when struck by a train Friday morning, just south of Britton on Dibble Rd. Fragments of the auto were strewn for several hundred feet around the scene. Services for the two rural Britton folks, pronounced dead at the scene by a coroner, were held Monday afternoon at Britton.

It's Howard Hyder Day at Airport Bowl Saturday with all proceeds from the day's bowling going to the Howard Hyder Fund, thanks to owners, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham. Open bowling hours are from 3 to 11 p.m. Fund now has reached $1,108.46 at United Savings Bank. Another 5,000 coupons have been collected bringing that total to 27,000. Next big event will be a two-day bake sale April 17-18, sponsored by the Welcome Wagon Club for the Hyder Fund benefit.

There's a flock of new Michigan highway maps available free at the Herald office. That's as sure a sign of spring as the flock of ruddy breasted robins glimpsed by the Rev. Herbert Nation, Tuesday, at the parsonage at the Church of the Nazarene. Before the day was done, Robert Woodlock, manager of Lenawee Auto Theatre popped in to announce the opening of the drive-in theatre. Now, all that's needed is a little cooperation from the weatherman to bring milady out in all her Easter finery and we'll be convinced . . . SPRING IS HERE.

Does Marty Bagdon look like Betty Grable? One of the patients at Veterans Hospital, Ann Arbor, thinks so and said as much when Marty and Betty Flanders were over there Monday evening for an auditorium show. He remarked that the swinging Grandmother of Tecumseh had brought Betty Grable with her.

The Rev. Herbert Nation of Church of the Nazarene brings several interesting thoughts to Herald readers this week. Here are two: "The empty tomb proves Christianity, but the empty church denies it;" and "Let us place more emphasis on the Easter heart than the Easter hat."

Bibliomaniacs, wouldn't you like to get your hands on a French edition of Don Quixote printed in 1752—or Tresor Cleric, dated 1689—or Smollett's History of England, five volumes printed in 1763?

Then you can envy Esther Fretwell, a Siena Heights senior, who has been compiling a list of old and rare books in the Siena Library.

Other collector's items include a Missions buchlein (little prayer book) printed in 1723, a French cookbook, 1826 vintage, a Latin missal printed in Venice in 1761.

Sister Laura Dillon, head librarian of Siena Heights College, hopes to sell all the old and rare books to obtain funds toward an up-to-date materials center.

Association to Meet

Michigan Association of Counties will be holding Ninth District meeting at the Tecumseh Grange Hall, Tuesday, March 31. Registration is at 10 a.m. and includes a noon luncheon.

Counties represented will be Branch, Calhoun, Hillsdale, Jackson, Monroe, Washtenaw and Lenawee.

The meeting is primarily for county commissioners and township supervisors. Other elected county officers are welcome to attend.

Stacy Zilke, Lenawee Commissioner, chairman of the District Association of Counties, arranged for the afternoon program which will include the following discussions:

GLORIA DEI LUTHERAN

There will be held no Wednesday evening service this week at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church. Holy Communion will be administered during the Maundy Thursday service, at 7:30 p.m. The Chancel choir will sing "Were You There."

On Good Friday the Junior Choir will present the ancient anthem "O Sacred Head," at 7:30 p.m. The service will commemorate the death of our Lord.

Because of Easter vacation there will be no confirmation classes on Saturday.

The celebration of Christ's resurrection will start with the decoration of the Cross by the Sunday School students at 9:15 a.m. The decorated Cross will be placed in the sanctuary during the worship service and later taken to the nursing home.

An organ and piano duet by Mrs. Earl Mason and Mrs. Larry Wagner will open the Easter festival service at 10:30 a.m.

A trumpet solo by Paul Bush, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bush, Britton, will accompany the processional hymn. Fifty voices of the combined choirs will lift up the spirit to the meaning of the resurrection by singing the "Easter Bell Carol."

The descant on bells will be played by Paula Macbeth.

The traditional second anthem will be the "Hallelujah Chorus." The church message will bring closer to the hearts of the believers the joyous fact of Christ's victory over death.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD

"The Living Christ" will be the theme of the sermon Sunday at Assembly of God Church, 210 Bidwell St. delivered by the Rev. Harold Speer.

Special music will be featured during the services and the loyalty campaign will begin on Easter.

Church to Offer Bethlehem Gifts

Sunday School classes at Church of the Nazarene will be cut short Easter Sunday in order for the children to have a short program prior to the morning worship service.

There will be a free gift to all in attendance in Sunday School. One part is made from Olive wood from the Garden of Gethsemane, another part is from the hills of Judea. It is made in Bethlehem and shipped to this country.

A special gift will be given to the five individuals bringing the most to Sunday School who have not been in attendance for the last four Sundays.

"We will also be receiving an Easter offering, over and above our tithes, for world evangelism. The theme, 'GIVE that others may live!' will be used, the Rev. Herbert Nation stated as he expressed the wish that many would come to the services.

INTERESTED IN CANING? — Registration for spring classes in chair re-caning will be April 2 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Tecumseh Park building, off Adrian St. Classes will start April 9 and are limited to 10. Fee is $8 for eight weeks plus supplies. Those registering are asked to bring their chair so that size and amount of cane may be ordered. It should be clean and refinished before caning. Mrs. George Halberstadt, instructor, caned the one in the picture.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

SHOULD I TITHE?

It must be said first of all, that to tithe means to give a portion to God. Ten percent is a tithe. Old Testament people gave about 25% to 30% to God.

The New Testament and the Old Testament combined will instruct us in this matter. 1 Corinthians 16:2 tells of our need to give regularly, systematically and proportionately. When this verse is viewed as a companion verse to Malachi 3:10 it becomes apparent one should give at least 10% of his income to his own church each Sunday. Obviously, some Christians can give far more than a tithe. They are instructed to give liberally and cheerfully. No directions are given as to where this is to be done except as found in 1 Corinthians 16:2 and Malachi 3:10.

Read 11 Corinthians 9:6-8, Galatians 6:7-9 and Luke 6:38. Also, Matthew 23:23 will indicate to us that tithing is pleasing to God even today.

It should be noted that this subject is "God's way of raising His children". If you are not a child of God you will not benefit by giving God money. Open your heart first. Revelation 3:20.

Flower Show Is Scheduled

Spring may be a little late this year, or it could be early. In any case, the classes set up for the Little Garden Club's flower show May 21 will provide allowance for any growing "season which comes along, from early tulips to blooming roses.

And if snow should still cover the ground, there are classes for plants grown indoors, too.

Any amateur grower may enter the show, which will be judged by accredited experts. Anyone entering a plant or cut flowers or branches will be invited to view the entire show.

The show will be held from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m., May 21 in St. Peter's Church.

All plants shown must have been in the possession of the grower for at least three months prior to the show. They must be free of insects and disease. The entries committee reserves the right to refuse entries which do not come up to show standards.

Non-blooming plants must be registered by April 21 to be assured a place in the show. Later entries will be admitted as space permits. All specimen grown primarily for their bloom must be in flower.

Entries in these classes will be open until May 14. Earlier entry is encouraged, and later entries will be placed as space permits.

Entries may be made through members of the Little Garden Club.

WINS A GRAND — Mrs. Denny Richmond, 805 S. Union St., points with glee to the number on the Bingo Odd-Bingo Even number on her card that scored the $1,000 prize for her recently from Kroger Co. "I won, I won," she screamed at her husband and he calmly continued to watch the tube but after she phoned her sister, Irene Isom, who helped her and the screaming began again, Mr. Richmond gave his wife a bit more attention. A donation for remodeling at Missionary Baptist Church is a certainty for some of the money and the Richmond children, Debra, 13, Tammy, 11, and Mark, 7, have thought of lots of other ways to spend it.

Deadline Is Near For Baby Contest

Deadline is April 1 for entries in the Jaycee Auxiliary sponsored Baby Contest. There are 14 children already entered.

Little King and Queen chosen will be awarded the $10 gift certificates from Osborne's or Vanmer's department stores. The runner-up boy and girl will receive $5 gift certificates from Proctor's Shoes or Woolworth's.

Mrs. John Seay, chairman, is urging area residents to mail entries to her at 605 Adrian St., or Mrs. Dyke Helms, 801 Adrian St., before the deadline Wednesday. Rules for the contest appeared in March 4 issue of The Tecumseh Herald.

Sheryl Honored At Open House

Sheryl Lynn Bugbee was the honored guest at an open house Sunday afternoon given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bugbee of 116 S. Maumee St.

Among the guests present was her godmother Mrs. Mildred Schwager. Sheryl's godfather, Donald L. Faust, was unable to attend.

● MR. AND MRS. DEWEY STURTEVANT

Services were held Monday at Niblack Home For Funerals for Dewey V. and Nina L. Sturtevant who were killed Friday at 8:20 a.m. in a train-car accident near their home. Both were pronounced dead at the scene at the railroad crossing on Dibble Road between Ridge and Palmer Highways.

Dewey V. Sturtevant, 86, was born Feb. 6, 1884, in Wisconsin.

He moved to Britton to make his home in 1909, where he owned and operated a farm.

Nina Lowe Sturtevant, 85, was born Dec. 4, 1884, in Wisconsin.

She had been a teacher for 20 years in Michigan and Wisconsin. The couple married July 3, 1906.

Mr. Sturtevant was a life member of Tecumseh Lodge 69, F & AM; Royal Arch Masons; Council of Royal and Select Masons and Adrian Commandery Knights Templar.

He was also a member of Lenawee County Historical Society.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant were members of the Grace United Methodist Church of Ridgeway, the Lenawee County Farm Bureau, the Grange and the Tecumseh Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

They are survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jennings Frayer, of Britton; two grandsons; one granddaughter and eight grandchildren.

Mrs. Sturtevant is also survived by a step-sister.

The Rev. Luren J. Strait officiated and burial was in Ridgeway Cemetery with the F & AM conducting services at the graveside.

Adrian Commandery conducted services Sunday evening, followed by others by the Eastern Star at the funeral home.

Try-outs are open to anyone interested in being a part of this amusing comedy.

TECUMSEH HERALD

VOICE of THE HERALD

Income Tax Here? — No!

Several months ago when city officials first studied the possibility of a city income tax for Tecumseh, thoughts prevailed that such a tax would be fair and equitable for all.

In light of the city's big payroll, exceptions and other questionable factors in the tax ordinance, we do not feel a city income tax now being proposed would be good for the community.

We are hoping that residents take a close look at the proposition and vote no at the April 6 election. The tax is simply not suitable.

Payroll earnings, corporate earnings and nine mills of property tax could net the city almost twice—perhaps more—than what the city took in last year. The extra monies could easily total over $300,000, and this amount is certainly not needed to operate our government here.

We doubt that city officials would want to collect this much extra, and there's no doubt that they would in turn reduce the property tax lower than announced.

This exemplifies a hit-and-miss method with the tax payers being hit the hardest.

Why not a thorough study of general payrolls in industries and businesses? It would take time and cost some money, but city officials then would have a better picture of their probable annual revenue.

An income tax, or a similar tax, is likely to come in the future. But, why not a study first and then decide? It may or may not be needed.

No one should be gouged, and unless there are amendments or changes in the proposed city income tax, a lot of folks would be clipped—and but good.

The city is going to need more money to operate, but officials can hike the millage to satisfy its needs for a year or two. During this period, we hope an accurate study is made.

Students To Vote On Dress Code

Students at THS will be voting on the new high school dress code sometime in the next two weeks, school administrators said Monday.

The proposal, a compromise of the student request, was tentatively approved by the school board at last week's meeting.

Until the students vote in their homerooms, the old dress code will be enforced.

Club Has Meeting

MACON — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton were hostesses for the Macon Community Club Tuesday. Following a cooperative lunch, the meeting opened by singing several Irish songs.

The group repeated the Lord's Prayer and Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hendershot invited the club to meet with them in April.

Mrs. Hendershot read "The Robins Returned", an original poem which had been written by the late Elmer Pocklington. Iva Grigg recited "Speaking of Dogs." Several other pieces were read by various members of the group.

ALL SPRUCED UP — Hunt's Gulf Service, Clinton, has been completely remodeled to provide better service. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hunt. All new brick exterior and cedar shake roof trim gives a contemporary look to the station which the Hunts have operated for the past 11 years. Inside a newly-paneled office and revamped rest rooms add to the conveniences. The station features a new drive-thru, completely automatic "Mr. Scrub" car wash. Plans call for blacktopping the entire surrounding area in the spring.

Clubs Helping Girls

Service clubs all over Lenawee County have named service committee members who attend monthly meetings at Girl's Training School in Adrian to learn of the program there and the ways in which club women can be helpful to the girls.

Mrs. John Seay, 605 Adrian St., represents the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary at these meetings and she'd like to tell others about the girls' needs.

By PAT SEAY

To walk across the grounds of the Girl's Training School is like walking across any small college campus. The abundance of trees adds serenity to the atmosphere. The buildings look like sorority houses or college dorms. If it wasn't for the fact that these girls are required to stay there, most of the girls would probably be very happy with the facilities.

The buildings are called cottages, and each cottage has a capacity of 20 to 30 girls. Inside the cottages each girl has a room by herself and is responsible for cleaning it. With good behavior, a girl can share a room with one to three other girls in some cottages.

The girls are also responsible for various chores throughout the cottage. Most of the cottages have their own kitchens. The girls, under the supervision of a cook, do all the cooking and serving of the food. This gives them training for future restaurant work, and it can't hurt as preparation for marriage.

The cottages are under the constant supervision of two housemothers, each working eight-hour shifts. They all seem proud of their cottages and concerned with the girls' problems and needs. It is their job to keep things under control and be a helping hand to the girls with their problems.

Some cottages also have housefathers for escort service, father images and muscle when needed. These men are very carefully selected for their jobs.

Each cottage has a personality of its own. Therefore, each girl is evaluated closely upon entering the school to determine which cottage will best suit the girl's needs. Environment has a great deal to do with putting a girl into Girls' Training School and it also has a lot to do with getting a girl out as soon as possible.

There are two forms of training at the school, educational and vocational. All girls under 16 are required to attend classes in the educational program a set number of hours each day. Those older girls can elect to attend one of the vocational classes that are offered at the school.

The educational classes are patterned after public school classes, but many of these girls are dropouts and far below public school level for their age. If a girl wants to get a high school diploma, she can attend classes at the school then upon leaving have her credits transferred to a public school.

Those girls electing not to attend classes in education must attend one of the vocational classes. The girls are tested to determine where their interests lie.

A girl interested in cosmetology can take the course at the school and then have her credits transferred to any beauty school in the state. If she is able to accumulate 1,500 hours in the classroom at the school, she can go directly to the State Board for her license after she leaves the school.

Also under the vocational program, girls from the school who are selected by a counselor, go to Alexander elementary school for certain afternoon hours to assist the teachers in the remedial arithmetic and reading classes.

They also work in the principal's office learning to use the office equipment. This gives them both teaching and office experience.

There are classes in basic and commercial sewing and laundering. Also a class in cake decorating. The school stresses the skills that will help a girl get a job when she leaves, giving her independence.

There is a small group of girls at the school who wanted to do something for the community to show their appreciation for the help the community gives them.

They came up with a plan to make Adrian beautiful. They became actively and physically involved in cleaning windows and interiors of vacant buildings and placing attractive displays in these stores.

On the social level, each cottage has a social room with pool table, record player, games and books. There also is an arts and crafts program.

Part of the social program for the girls is off-campus activities, but there is a shortage of people willing to take one of the girls who are entitled to these privileges. Some of these would be plays, movies, shopping or just a day in a private home.

The Girls' Training School is the only school of its kind in the state and is state-supported. The age of the girls runs from 12 to 17. A girl who gets into trouble after that age would be placed in the Detroit House of Correction.

The mistaken impression of those that have never visited the school is that all of these girls are criminals or dangerous. This is not the case. The majority of these girls end up there because of inadequate supervision at home or lack of love and understanding.

They turned into drop-outs, truants or run-aways. There are girls that have gotten into serious trouble but they are a minority.

A few years ago the average stay was two to three years, but now it's 11 months. The best cure is a quick cure.

Most of these girls are a product of their environment and sometimes this environment can cause these girls to have to return to the school. It's often the case that the food and shelter at the school is the best these girls have ever had.

The school is state-supported but this support doesn't cover all the items needed at the school. The items in the social rooms, such as books, records, magazines and games, some arts and crafts items, yarn and needles, crochet cotton and hooks and various other items are contributed by many service clubs throughout the area.

Father-Daughter Banquet Staged

BRITTON — "American Heritage" was the theme of the Camp Fire and Blue Bird Annual Father and Daughter Banquet Saturday evening at the high school study hall. The event celebrated the 60th birthday anniversary of Camp Fire Birthday Week.

About 200 Blue Birds, Camp Fire, Horizon Club girls, their fathers, leaders and guests were seated at tables decorated to carry out the theme of "American Heritage."

A fine job was done on replicas of hand pumps, butter churns, wash tubs, wall telephones, log cabins, and coal stoves by leaders, Mrs. Walter Furgason, Mrs. Robert Osterhout, Mrs. Joseph Hall and assisted by Walter Furgason and Robert Osterhout.

These were on each table, along with nut cups holding birthday candles, which were all lit later in the program as the group sang "Happy Birthday Camp Fire" in observance of Camp Fire Birthday Week celebrated March 15-21.

The program was opened by Ronda Cheever, mistress of ceremonies for the special occasion. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Becky Maschino.

The Camp Fire Blessing was sung by everyone before the serving of the Swiss steak dinner which was prepared by the high school cafeteria staff and served by the mothers.

Following the dinner the group sang "This Land is Your Land," after which the welcome to fathers was given by Rita Vershum and Lewis Vershum responded with the toast to daughters.

Mrs. James Arft, president of the Camp Fire Leaders Association introduced the leaders and sponsors present.

The second and third group repeated the "Blue Bird Wish," and the "Camp Fire Law" was sung by everyone.

An interesting account was given by Becky Maschino and Nancy Pilbeam on "Our Camp Fire Days." The girls then presented gifts to the leaders, Mrs. Howard Heiden, Mrs. Raymond Seagert and a special "thank you" to Mrs. Russell Pilbeam for her ten years of service as leader.

Special guests of the evening were Dr. Howard Pennington, president of the Camp Fire Girls organization, and Miss Edith Haviland, who was guest speaker for the occasion.

County History Discussed

BRITTON — The March meeting of the Britton Woman's Club was held in the home of Mrs. Paul Rowlands.

Mrs. Walter Prill introduced the speaker, Mrs. Donald L. Frazier of Adrian, curator of the Lenawee County Historical Society Museum. She spoke on the history of Lenawee County and mentioned many famous people who came to Lenawee in the early days, either as pioneers or as visitors just passing through.

She also told how the economy of our county developed from the selling of ashes at six cents a bushel to becoming the second richest agricultural county in the United States by 1900.

Mrs. Frazier showed pictures of some historical homes, including the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore in Britton. It was known as the John Britton house. Mrs. Frazier brought a guest with her who showed the group a hand painted picture of the Blood Road Bridge which used to be in Tecumseh.

Lenawee County Federation of Woman's Club officers were guests for the day. They were Mrs. Oscar Hauch, president; Mrs. C. B. Brock, first vice-president; Mrs. Stanley Goodsale, secretary; Mrs. Melvin Rutinger, treasurer; and Mrs. W. P. Rogers, junior past president.

Mrs. Hauch spoke briefly about the upcoming annual meeting and other things of interest concerning the Federation.

Members brought items for a baby shower for the Department of Health and Welfare of the County Federation.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, Mrs. Mills Swick and Mrs. Fred Schober.

Dinner Honoring Miss Swift Given

BRITTON — Norlene Amber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Swift, was guest of honor at a family dinner at their home on Sutton Road following her confirmation Palm Sunday at Immanuel Lutheran Church of North Blissfield Hwy. Pastor Daniel Mathes officiated.

A dinner for the family and sponsors was held following the services at the church, and an open house was held later in the afternoon for over 100 friends and relatives.

The dinner table was centered with an open Bible book cake with appropriate scriptures and other decorations. It was baked and decorated by Mrs. Allen Schmidt.

Family and sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gubbe and family and Mrs. Lloyd McCreery of Adrian. Other guests were from Milan, Dundee, Tecumseh, Adrian, Blissfield and Britton.

Pastor Williams Gives Message

BRITTON — Quartet and trio from the Bethel Baptist Church will participate in the Good Friday service at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Hudson.

Message will be given by Glenn Williams, pastor of Open Door Bible Church, Hudson, formerly of this area.

At the 1:30 p.m. Good Friday service in the Open Door Bible Church, the speaker will be the Rev. Bob Williams. The Master's Men quartet will be singing.

Mothers Attend Moms' Weekend

BRITTON — It was Moms' Week-end at Western Michigan University and the moms from Britton that attended were Mrs. Martin Ivan, mother of Dennise; Mrs. Sam Vreeland, mother of Nancy and Mrs. LaVon Tubbs, mother of Brenda, all freshmen at Western.

The moms left Saturday to spend the weekend with their respective daughters. The girls entertained their moms by first taking them to a fashion show at Gilmores and then to a spring luncheon at the Union Center on the campus.

In the afternoon the group saw a movie, "Jenny." A sorority sing was next on the agenda in the evening in which different sororities competed for a trophy.

Sunday morning the girls and their mothers attended services at Kanley Chapel, after which they were treated to lunch to complete a most enjoyable weekend.

Officers Elected By Britton PTO

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon PTO meeting was held Monday, March 16, in the high school gym at 7:30 p.m., with an elementary open house and election of officers.

The following officers were elected for the coming new school year of 1970-71: president, Mrs. Donald Dickerson; vice-president, Mrs. Carle Gubbe; teacher vice-president, Mrs. Fred Long; mother vice - president, Mrs. Ivan Olds; father vice-president, Lowell Bush; secretary, Mrs. Richard Cox; and treasurer, Mrs. Ronald Frayer.

Mrs. Lester Edelbrick's kindergarten class won the award for most parents present.

After a short business meeting the parents of school children were invited to visit their rooms and meet with the teachers.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria following the program.

Choir To Present Easter Cantata

BRITTON — The Senior Choir of the Congregational Christian Church will present its annual Easter Contata Sunday morning during the Easter Worship Service beginning at 10 a.m.

This year's presentation, "Behold Your King," is one of the Singspiration series by John W. Peterson, who has written over 1,000 gospel songs, hymns and sacred cantatas.

Several members of the choir will be featured in special sections. The role of Jesus will be sung by Jim Brown and Lowell Bush, tenors, with baritones Jim Lister and Bill Raeburn singing the words of Pilate. A duet will be sung by Mrs. Joseph Hall, soprano and the Rev. G. O. Hannevik, tenor.

Richard Bruce will read the scripture narration and Mrs. William Raeburn will direct and accompany the choir.

BRITTON BRIEFS

A group of classmates gathered at the home of Pam Furgason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Furgason, Thursday afternoon to help celebrate her 10th birthday anniversary. Refreshments of a decorated doll cake and ice cream was served, after which the group traveled to Adrian for an evening of roller skating.

Mrs. Paul Rowlands entertained her G-8 Euchre Club Thursday evening at her home on W. Chicago Blvd. Prizes were won by Mrs. Eldon Reeck for high, Mrs. Walter Prill for low, most lone hands by Mrs. Martin Ivan and Mrs. Joseph Hall was the winner of the traveling prize.

The L & M Extension Club will not hold their March meeting due to conflicting activities. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday, April 23, at the home of Mrs. Chester Brown of Lenawee Rd.

During their semester break, Mr. and Mrs. David Csokasy, students at Ferris State College at Big Rapids, are spending a week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Csokasy of Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe O'Neil had as visitors for two weeks their grandchildren, Jeannie, four and one-half years old; Brian, three; and Lora Ann, five months. They are the children of their daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Holland of Midland, who attended a medical meeting in Florida.

Jeff Geigler and John Lorenz were the winners of the annual Boy Scout Kite Flying Contest Saturday morning. They are scouts of Troop 23. The judges were John Check, Frank Becker and Tom Judkins.

Marianne and Jim Bush, children of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bush, played with the Michigan Youth Symphony Sunday afternoon at Dearborn with the Dearborn Choir. Jim and Marianne accompanied the Dearborn and Edsel High School Choirs to the event.

Twins Club Holds March Meetings

During the meeting it was decided by the group to have a speaker and film on kidneys at the April meeting.

After a short business meeting the group held a Plastics Party with profits for the club treasury.

Mrs. Don Handcastle of R. 2, Wamplers Lake, will host the April meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Benedict returned home last week after spending two weeks in Florida. They spent a week at Anna Marie Island, Orlando and Cocoa Beach and also dropped in on Mrs. James Woods and Mrs. Harold Rohrback at Winter Park, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe O'Neil had as house guests for two days, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gripton, who were returning to their home in Melvin from Palmetto, Fla., where they spent the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forsyth received word Friday of the birth of a granddaughter, Janelle Carin, weighing 6 lbs., 10 ozs. Proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Forsyth.

Mrs. Walter Frakes was hostess for a birthday dinner Sunday for her sister, Mrs. Marie Hunt, of Wyandotte. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doubleday of Lincoln Park and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abbott of Riverview.

FIRST TEMPLES

I looked straight up in a tree, today,
From the soft, sweet grass below,
And learned how men, when they built for God
Had made his cathedrals so
They carried your heart on a soaring flight
Up beyond what the eye could see.
God drafted the plan of His house for men,
And grew it into a tree.

This inspired verse was written by none other than our own Clara Waldron and with all of her other "Lines That Ryme" has been bound for some of her friends. What a treasure and one we don't intend to lend. We'll be glad to share its precious contents with anyone who cares to visit but we will read it on the spot together. It's a joy.

Clara, by the way, is experiencing considerable lameness from a recent fall (over the cat) in her yard, but she is persistent in her daily walk. We hope she soon recovers.

Douglas Beasley has received his discharge after four years in the U. S. Navy. He served aboard the USS Columbus, a missile cruiser with home port at Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey and her mother, Mrs. W. C. Graham, Adrian, attended the confirmation of their grandson, Paul George Weber, at St. Michael's Church, Richville, Palm Sunday. Afterwards they attended a family gathering at the home of Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Weber.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weir and son and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hall of Louisville, Ky., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall.

Mrs. Harvey Carpenter and daughter, Vicki, left by plane Friday to meet her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Terry Keith, and daughter, Bonnie Lynn, in New York coming from Frankfurt, Germany. Her husband is expected to be discharged soon from McGuire AFB in New Jersey after three years of his four in service spent in Germany.

Bonnie Shiffen, who little Bonnie Lynn Keith was named for, is expected to arrive home from Florida next weekend after a visit with her sister in Florida.

Mrs. Ronald Sturgeon, nee Ruth Ann Coates, and sons, Craig and Eric Lee, returned to their Topeka, Kan., home Saturday after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hearold Coates and brother, Larry. While here they went to Trenton March 15 where Eric was baptized by the Rev. Walter Saxnan, minister of United Methodist Church there.

Mrs. Ned Baldwin and Mrs. A. J. Williams were in Alma last Tuesday to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Mark Knowles, nee Linda Baldwin and new daughter, Brenda F. The baby was born March 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Knowles in an Alma hospital.

A daughter, Melissa Ann, was born March 22 to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey, Rochester, N.H. The couple has another daughter, Carla Marie, 18 months old. Melissa is the 17th grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, Mohawk St.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sinkey and daughters, Nancy and Jackie, entertained at a pre-Easter family gathering Sunday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Orval Thompson and sons, Flint. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wolf and Janet, Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wolf, Ypsilanti and Mark Perrin.

Nancy Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Ford, 609 Outer Dr., was pictured recently in a Toledo paper at the flower show there. A student of Patricia Stevens Modeling School, Miss Ford is also employed at Mary Sanchez Beauty Salon on weekends. She will go to New York City soon to visit the fashion centers.

The Rev. and Mrs. Russell J. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. James Meade have entered the ranks of grandparenthood. Their children, Fran and Michael Meade, have a son, David Michael, born March 23 in Bixby Hospital. Happy grandparenting and "raise up that child in the way he should go," kids.

By press day, we were living again at The Herald. Mrs. Robert Hunt spent Monday and Tuesday with her new grandson, Dagvin Robert Melville Anderson, in Saline. Gee whiz, you sure find out what a gal does when she isn't there to do it. Grandpa Bob got to hold little Dag Tuesday night and Uncle Corky took a super duper picture right through the nursery window.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS — Sharon MacGeorge, David Lay and Lynn Peck are the David Day scholarship winners this year. Try-outs were held Monday evening with Bruce McCormick, Blissfield band director, and Richard Farley, Sand Creek, as judges. Don Johnson announced the winners. Sharon, eighth grade, plays a clarinet, David, ninth, a trumpet and Lynn, seventh, an alto saxophone. Application has been made to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Five Accidents Are Investigated

Five minor accidents were investigated during the past week by the Tecumseh police, who cited one driver for an infraction.

A resume of the mishaps is:

Mar. 18—James Sharmbarger, Jasper, had the rear bumper pulled off his car at the railroad crossing behind the former Wright Pharmacy. A hitch on the bumper caught on the tracks as Mr. Sharmbarger attempted to drive onto S. Evans St.

Mar. 19 — Joseph J. Schneider, 16, 9234 Murphy Hwy., damaged a curb and lawn at 1017 Red Mill Dr.

Mar. 20 — Mrs. Howard Wilson, 505 Parkway Court, reported her auto damaged while parked in the Kroger parking lot. Witness to the accident reported the license number to police after the unidentified driver left the scene.

Mar. 22 — Sherill C. Kuney, 27, Cadmus, was cited for failure to exercise due control after running into the rear of a car driven by Denise K. Bagby, 16, of 1201 Murray Dr.

Mar. 20 — Marion P. Murphy, 79, of 5808 E. Monroe Rd., and Colston Watson, 38, Clinton, bumped in the Kroger parking lot.

Places In Meet

Laurie Hohenstein participated in the State YMCA swim meet in Okemos Saturday. She placed 10th in the 200-yd. individual medley in the state competition.

She was also a member of the 200-yd. free style relay which took fifth place.

OBITUARIES

● THOMAS KNIGHT

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at Dunn Funeral Home for Thomas Knight, 42, of 501 W. Russell Rd., who died Monday en route to Herrick Hospital.

He had been ill for the past month and home from the hospital only a few days.

He was born May 20, 1927, in Brooklyn, N. Y., the son of George and Catherine Baird Knight.

Aug. 10, 1946, he married Miriam Harma in Ironwood, who survives.

Mr. Knight was a navy veteran of World War II. He was employed at Tecumseh Products Company for the past 20 years and had lived in Tecumseh since 1947.

In addition to his wife, surviving are five sons, Dennis of Tecumseh, Dallas, Darrell, Douglas and Duane, all at home; his daughter, Darlene, at home; his mother, of Adrian; one grandson; three sisters, Mrs. Merrill (Dena) McClain and Mrs. Kenneth (Elsie) Schultz, both of Tecumseh, and Mrs. Stewart (Gail) Solmonson of Adrian.

He was preceded in death by his father.

The Rev. Blair Bashore will officiate and burial will be in Brookside Cemetery with the Underwood-Orr Post American Legion conducting military services.

Church Dedicates Children Sunday

Children dedicated Palm Sunday at First Baptist Church are Dawn Marie McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Eugene McKenzie, and Clark William Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Griffin.

William Welch, Phillip Carter and Joseph Murphy are joining the church Easter Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Casteel, the early part of April.

Want To Improve Your Chances of Avoiding HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS?

DEFENSIVE DRIVING

. . . . that's how Reese and the other professional truck drivers travel thousands of miles year in and year out accident-free on highways which each year continue to claim more lives and injure more and more people.

WHAT IS DEFENSIVE DRIVING?

Just what it says — driving alertly and always prepared to defend yourself from becoming involved in mishaps with other motorists whose sudden and erratic actions often involve the unprepared defenseless driver.

Reese advises every driver to learn all he can about the art of Defensive Driving. He and most other professional drivers credit Defensive Driving for accident-free records of well over a million miles.

And you, as well as almost any driver, could become a "million-miler" without any accidents if you'll learn and practice Defensive Driving every time you take to the road.

Reese was named the Michigan Trucking Association's Truck Driver of the Year in January for his outstanding record of over 16 years of commercial driving without an accident. During that time he covered well over a million and a half miles.

He was one of 12 Drivers of the Month competing for the annual Driver of the Year trophy which is the highest honor bestowed on a Michigan driver by the trucking association.

The Driver of the Year program is currently in its 23rd year and during that span fleet truck drivers have reduced their accident frequency one per million miles from 17.0 to its current record low of 3.23.

The rate for motorists is 26.8 accidents in a million miles of travel. Lamb and his wife and their two teen-aged sons live in Wayne and he drives for Complete Auto Transit, Inc. out of its Ypsilanti terminal.

Like all pros, Reese swears by DEFENSIVE DRIVING. He knows what it has done for him and he also knows it can make a better and safer driver out of anyone who employs its basic techniques on the highway.

DRIVE DEFENSIVELY. DEFEND YOURSELF AND OTHERS ON THE HIGHWAY FROM DEATH AND DESTRUCTION THAT DOESN'T NEED TO BE. DRIVE DEFENSIVELY!

Mail Moving Again

By Bill Whiting

The mails are returning to normal, the embargoes are being lifted, and Tecumseh folks are breathing a sigh of relief. Postmaster Jack Metcalf reports that in the wake of returning postal employees, all embargos on mail to other cities have been lifted, but zip codes are a necessity on all mail.

A nation-wide strike of mail carriers last week all but stopped postal service throughout the country. Although local carriers remained on the job, many folks and businesses in town were receiving only about a third of their normal quantity of mail. Mail volume was down considerably because of embargoes on some mail going to larger cities.

Lillian Perso, president of the local carrier's union, stated that after sending observers to a Sunday meeting of Adrian postal workers, the union made the decision to stay on the job and await a national settlement. Adrian employees went on strike Monday, but returned to work Tuesday. "I can't see any good in Tecumseh going out, too," said Mrs. Perso.

Mrs. Perso said that she and her union were in complete sympathy with the strikers, but felt that they had made their point and that it would not help their cause by halting mail service in Tecumseh. She noted the discouragement of postal workers at the tie-up of wages legislation in Congress, saying, "the government's been asking for it."

Mail carriers presently work for a base pay of $8,500 starting salary to an $8,500 maximum. Strikers in New York are demanding increases of $8,500 minimum and $11,000 maximum.

Mrs. Perso seemed to represent the indignation of many workers to recent statements made by some officials to the effect that moving the mails was really a simple job. Far from it, according to Tecumseh's lady mailman. Most folks around here would probably agree with her.

Rec. Dept. Plans Trip for Seniors

Josilyn Snook and L. Mier Exchange Wedding Vows

Josilyn Kay Snook and Lawrence O. Meier were united in marriage Saturday evening in a candlelight service by the Rev. Edmond Watkins.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Snook, 108 S. Maiden Lane. The groom is the son of Otto Meier and the late Laura Hewlett Meier.

Shelby Meffley, great-uncle of the bride, of Lima, O., played the piano, where a five-branch silver candelabra fronted with greens and pink net with white baby breath and bridal ribbon was placed.

The ceremony took place before the fireplace flanked by standing candelabra with white sprays of stephanotis and white and pink satin streamers. Tall arrangements of white gladioli and babys breath accented with pink chrysanthemums centered the mantel. A spray of green palms was arranged before the hearth.

The bride wore a floor length Victorian inspired gown of silk organza designed in empire silhouette. Val lace trimmed the ring collar and long sheer Bishop sleeves. A narrow sash of pale pink accented a gently gathered organza skirt that swept into a chapel train.

She also carried a white satin-covered Bible, topped with cymbidium orchids and miniature carnations and cascading ribbons. The Bible was one used in her mother's wedding.

Judith Ann Snook, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in an organza gown designed like the bride's with white Val lace lavishly tucked and trimmed on the demure candy striped bodice fashioned with cowl neckline and long puffed sleeves. Her sash was red accenting the full white organza skirt.

Robert Meier, brother of the groom, of Ann Arbor, was best man. Mrs. Norm Paulson of Adrian, registered the 60 guests at the wedding and Kay Raputinski of Wyandotte and Mrs. Edwin Clauda of Clinton, served champagne punch.

Mrs. Robert Meier cut the four-tiered wedding cake, encircled with greens and carnations and flanked with tall silver candelabra.

Among the guests were the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Miller of Zanesfield, O.

Both young people are graduates of Tecumseh High School. The bride attended Western Michigan University and Adrian College and is presently employed at Tecumseh Products Co., as a production clerk.

Following a two-week honeymoon in Jamaica, the couple will live at 215 S. Evans St.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meier were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at Leutheusers in Saline.

Engagement of Faye Nita Spreeman to Jack A. Lewis is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arno Spreeman, Monagin Rd., Tipton. Miss Spreeman, an elementary teacher in the Hudson school system, is a 1968 graduate of Eastern Michigan University where she is presently completing her masters in reading. She is a member of the Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Society. Mr. Lewis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lewis of Adrian. He is a 1969 graduate of Michigan State University. A June 13 wedding is planned.

Jane Abner and Nick Hebert Marry

The Rev. Fr. L. Kennedy performed the afternoon ceremony March 14 using the double ring vows uniting Jane Lee Abner and Nick Jake Hebert in marriage at St. Dominic's Catholic Church in Clinton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest A. Abner, 808 Outer Dr., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hebert, 513 N. Union St.

Altar vases were filled with white gladioli and white bows and yellow carnations marked the aisle pews.

Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was secured to a Dior bow matching her gown and she carried a cascade of white and yellow roses with white carnations and a rope of pearls.

Tracie Brooks was maid of honor in a yellow A-line gown with matching head piece. Lora Lee Abner was the flower girl, attired as the maid of honor and both carried white sweetheart roses and yellow carnations.

Mrs. Donald Johnson presented a program of nuptial music at the organ and Mrs. Robert Bagdon sang.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Upell and Mr. and Mrs. George Meads were hosts for the reception at the Eagles Hall in Adrian where 125 were served a buffet luncheon.

Mrs. Robert Liedel of Bayfee cut and served the five-tiered cake. Others assisting were Mrs. Lawrence Dipmore, Ottawa Lake; Sue Upel and Mary Gurtzweiler.

Music was furnished by Robbie Robbins and the Nomads.

Parents of the groom were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Steve's Restaurant in Clinton.

The couple are graduates of Tecumseh High School and the bride is a graduate of American Floral and Arts School of Chicago. She created her own floral arrangements.

Mr. Hebert is in the U. S. Army, having served a year in Vietnam. He has volunteered to spend another six months there before discharge. They will live in Adrian.

MRS. NICK J. HEBERT

Henderer-Fielder Unite in Marriage

Virginia Towle Henderer became the bride of James B. Fielder at the Zion Lutheran Church in Deerfield Beach, Fla., March 13.

Mrs. Marvin Nelson, of Pompano Beach, formerly of Tecumseh, served as matron of honor and William Fielder was best man.

Mrs. Nelson's sheath dress was pink and she wore matching accessories and a pink tea rose corsage. Both wore white mantillas on their hair.

The couple with two excited little daughters of the bride, Kathleen, 7, and Linda, 5, arrived in Tecumseh Sunday following the wedding.

Spaulding Agency Highly Successful

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — The phenomenal success story of the Spaulding for Children adoptive agency of Chelsea was related for members of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ Thursday evening.

Mrs. Louis Vogel, Manchester, a volunteer worker, told the story of the non-profit Spaulding program to 34 women including several guests from St. Dominic's Catholic Church.

Spaulding for Children began just 1½ years ago, and has already found permanent adoptive homes for 48 children.

Most of the children placed by Spaulding are older, and may have either some physical handicap or be emotionally disturbed from childhood experiences or feeling of being unwanted, from being shuttled through several foster homes.

Some are simply of minority or mixed racial heritage. There are an estimated 8,000 such children in Michigan alone.

The cost of keeping such a child in an institution or foster home is estimated at $1,800 a year or $30,000 over his lifetime.

Spaulding for Children has demonstrated its ability to place these children in adoptive homes at an administrative cost of only $1,200 for each child.

Spaulding gains partial support through purchase-of-service fees paid by agencies and courts at the completion of a placement, but these fees currently cover less than half of the actual placement costs.

Usually private agencies make a fee charge to adoptive families, but Spaulding does not. Spaulding believes that the public is indebted to the families who make room in their hearts for these parentless, waiting children.

Most of the work of the agency is accomplished by a small staff of volunteers, and there are presently only two full-time social workers employed for the investigative work.

The idea for Spaulding for Children was developed when 86-year-old Warren Spaulding, a Chelsea farmer, decided he wanted his farm house to be used for some worthy purpose.

In the Chelsea area, the Spaulding for Children Auxiliary has been formed to provide additional sponsorship funds and volunteers.

The youngsters enjoy the glimpse of farm life and Mr. Spaulding, who still resides in an apartment there, has a new-found interest in entertaining them.

One might suppose it is impossible to find a home for a boy born without hands, an epileptic 10-year-old, a brain-damaged infant, or a toddler victim of an inherited disease, but Spaulding has done it.

Most of the rules other adoptive agencies use, such as requirements that child and parents be matched by race, religion, or physical attributes, do not apply at Spaulding.

Many black children have new-found homes with open-hearted white parents. Also, the first child to be adopted in Michigan by a single male parent came from Spaulding.

"At last we have reached the time when there is acceptance of all God's children on an equal footing," Mrs. Vogel said.

Spaulding for Children is fully licensed in Michigan and is approved by the Child Welfare League of America.

An individual can sponsor a child, or join another group of individuals to sponsor an entire adoption. One can join the Child-a-Month Club, which contributes $10 monthly on a continuing basis.

For $5 one may become a voting and participating member of the Spaulding for Children agency, or volunteer time and talent. Speakers are available for service club programs.

More information may be obtained by contacting Spaulding for Children, 3660 Waltrous Rd., Chelsea, Mich., 48118, telephone (313) 475-2500.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Vogel's talk, refreshments were served by Mrs. William Shelley, Mrs. Robert Vogel and Mrs. Milton Grossman.

Business meeting which followed was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Hill, president.

Plans were made to serve a luncheon to the Ministerial Association, April 20. Committee appointed includes Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Robert Vogel and Mrs. John Fox.

Members were invited to the open house for Mrs. Howard Hause, who will be observing her 95th birthday anniversary, the afternoon of March 26, at her home at 119 Locust St.

It was announced that all the women of the church will be receiving questionnaires concerning the need for greater cooperation in serving on Rotary dinner committees. A vote will be taken at the May meeting to determine if there is sufficient interest to maintain this community service.

Mrs. Paul Dunham reported for the material aid committee that 39 little girls dresses, a quantity of boys' shirts and seven baby quilts are completed for the Salvation Army distribution at Easter. The garments were displayed at the meeting. She also reported 270 lbs. of used clothing was sent to Adrian for Church World Service collection in March, along with 10 quilts and more than 300 bandages.

Mrs. Earl Lawrence announced there would be a creative arts workshop, sponsored by the United Methodist Church at Judson Collins Camp, Wamplers Lake, April 3, 4 and 5. Attending would be Mrs. Norman Randall, Mrs. Charles Steffens and Mrs. Lawrence.

Mr. Lawrence will attend a seminar for ministers, April 29, at University of Michigan, when the subject will be drug abuse, alcoholism, and treatment of depressives.

The Fellowship voted to provide funds to those attending both of these programs.

Mrs. Ben Mahrle, II, announced a workshop for church officers on Lay-Life and Parish Concerns, April 5, at Jackson. Representatives from every board in the church are asked to attend. Reservations may be made with Mr. Lawrence or Mrs. Martin Hoelzer.

The May 28 meeting of the Fellowship will begin with a noon luncheon.

Selection Heard By Band Boosters

CLINTON — Band Boosters were treated to a recording of the selections played by the symphony band at the recent district band festival, at the meeting Monday night.

The festival rating of all first placings qualifies the band for the State Band Festival, which will be held April 25, in the Flint area.

Band Director Richard Jorgensen told Band Boosters he would like to take a spectators' bust to the event, if enough interest is shown by parents of bandsmen. Reservations may be made at the April 20 meeting.

He announced that the band would entertain the Hudson High School band for a combined band concert, Thursday afternoon at Clinton.

Two new snare drums and stands have recently been purchased for the band from band funds, Mr. Jorgensen said.

Band members will be attending the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp near Muskegon, August 17-23. It is expected there will be a parents' day concert on Aug. 23.

Members discussed the need for addition of several uniforms for bandsmen who are taller than usual, and these will be ordered soon.

A Band Tag Day was discussed, and a date will be selected at the April meeting.

Board Approves New Bleachers

CLINTON — Board of Education at its meeting, March 17, voted to accept both units of Berlin bleachers for the new high school, at a cost of $19,022.

In other action the board voted to accept with regret the resignation of Mrs. Lewis Lamm of Tecumseh, who is moving from the area, effective April 1. She is a sixth grade teacher.

Following an executive session, it was voted to reinstate James Poppink with full back pay.

Approval was given by the Board for band members to attend the Blue Lake Arts Camp, near Muskegon, Aug. 17-22. Band Boosters have agreed to provide the required number of chaperones.

Approval was given for the annual Spanish Carnival, to be held April 9, 10 and 19. Sponsors are the Spanish Class, who are planning a trip to Mexico this spring.

As the result of a faculty study on drugs, alcohol and tobacco education with the County Health Department, several courses and special films and programs on the subject will be introduced into the curriculum of the elementary, junior high and senior high school.

Easter Films Are Shown

CLINTON — "Meaning of the Resurrection" and "The First Easter," were the subjects of two films shown by Mrs. James Meeks to members of the Faith Circle of the United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Oren Woods hosted the meeting attended by ten members Thursday.

Easter devotions were presented by Mrs. Merle Greenfield.

READY FOR ROOF — Construction is proceeding on schedule on first section of Clinton's new high school. Structure will be 72,000 square feet and will cost an estimated $1,625,049, exclusive of site purchase or development. McKinnon & Parker of Toledo are the general contractors.

Construction Ahead of Schedule

CLINTON — Construction is a little ahead of schedule on the new high school building, now taking shape on the hill at the east edge of the village.

MacKinnon-Parker, Inc., of Toledo and Adrian are the general contractors.

The high school is being constructed in two sections. The academic or A section, approximately one-third of the total area, is now bricked and expected to be ready for the gypsum roof by the end of this week.

This first section, located nearest E. Michigan Ave., will house the academic area, containing three science labs for chemistry, physics, biology and general science studies. This area will be three times the size of present science facilities in the high school.

Plant and small animal growing centers will have highly sophisticated controlled environment equipment. Using glassed-in centers, students can experiment with temperature, humidity, metabolic rates, forced hibernation and life cycles.

Plant climatorium will permit the growth of seedlings, roots, tubers, and the study of photosynthesis, transpiration, respiration, germination, incubation and phototropism.

Also in this area will be the two-room commercial department. During the past six years, the commercial department has been greatly up-graded with the use of local and matching reimbursed monies from the vocational and NDEA funds. Although some typewriters may be added, not much else will be needed to maintain the quality of the commercial department.

Classrooms average 22x24 feet in size and each has a complete storage wall.

The learning center will essentially be the core of the academic area. Approximately 80'x80', the instructional resource center incorporates library, production room, audio visual storage, library office, dark room and conference rooms.

An adjacent room will have a duo-fold curtain which can divide in two sections for small groups, or open up for a seminar.

All planning has been aimed at achieving the utmost in multiple use in functionality.

There will be a journalism room and adjacent work room.

In the language lab, plans call for the latest audio equipment, including an overhead boom, which will raise and lower head phones from the ceiling to within easy reach of the students with a simple push-button control by the teacher. This, too, will allow the language lab to be utilized for more purposes, and insure the safe-overhead storage of delicate audio equipment.

Counseling offices will be located close to the administrative and principal's offices.

It is not planned to have the central administrative office located in the high school. It has been determined that the superintendent's functions are best handled at a separate location, Mr. Wegner said.

Approximately 300 persons may be seated in the auditorium. There will be a sloped floor and three sections of seats, some with adjustable table arms, for large or small group lectures.

The 26'x60' stage will have a panel folding wall, which will separate the main portion of the stage for use independent of the auditorium.

The cafeteria, 50'x50', and kitchen will be fully equipped to serve approximately 200 students. There will be walk-in freezer and storage areas.

A tartan floor has been selected for the gymnasium. Much softer, more resilient and safer than wood, the tartan floor is a new synthetic material which local school officials saw in use in Morenci High School and several other public buildings before deciding upon it.

The three-station gym will contain room to seat 1,600 persons on Berlin fold-away bleachers.

At this time it is expected that use of the gymnasium will be restricted to athletics, since the present high school facility is available for other public functions.

With a view toward easier maintenance, there will be terrazo floors in the hallways and cafeteria, glazed tile on sidewalls and floors in the locker rooms. The academic area will be carpeted with the exception of the science rooms. All rooms are at ground floor level, and an automatic scrubber can be whisked throughout the entire building when completed.

Design for the industrial arts department and shop has been studied and developed during the past two years by Clinton's own industrial arts instructor, Carl Terry, and vocational education instructor, John Jansen.

They worked in conjunction with Dr. Gerald Jennings, of the Eastern Michigan University Industrial Arts Department.

Department objectives are to offer a good general industrial arts program in a two or three-year sequence. It is not designed to offer this as vocational training, which is a function assumed by the Lenawee County Vocational-Technical Center.

In the local program, a student will be able to get a good background in electronics, material fabrication, machining, power mechanics, small engine operation or large engine theory.

Also offered will be courses in graphic arts, drafting, blue prints, photography, silk screening and printing.

Vocational agriculture department will be largely innovative, providing room for a variety of projects, and the portable plant and animal centers can be readily moved from the science labs for use here as needed.

There will be a large instrumental music area and band equipment storage facilities.

An improved arts and crafts program will be possible in the new facility with equipment provided to permit ceramics, copper work, and sculpturing of pottery and clay.

Homemaking department will incorporate the latest appliances for food preparation and sewing in a contemporary home-like setting, complete with dining area.

Planned with an easy-growth potential, the new high school will accommodate between 650 and 700 students in 27 stations of study.

At this time no decision has been made regarding a closed campus at the school; however, Mr. Weigner said there are many spacious areas where students could be permitted to spend their noon time and cafeteria time could be staggered.

It is expected that the academic wing will be nearly completed by fall. Remainder of the building is scheduled for completion by December, 1970, and it is due to be in use by the beginning of the January, 1971, semester.

Land will be rough graded and a lawn and minimum landscaping completed when the building is finished.

It would appear that the Class of 1971 has a good chance to be the first to graduate from the new high school.

Variety Show Staged

CLINTON — At the annual band variety show, individual youth have an opportunity to demonstrate their talent. "Age of Aquarius," presented three nights last week at Clinton High School, provided a fine evening's entertainment.

Setting the background tempo was the 15-member dance band, directed by Richard Jorgensen and accompanied by Carolyn Girbach, a former Clinton High band member, who is now teaching music in Garden City. Master and mistress of ceremonies were Jim Claus and Marcee Mayers.

Featured solo instrumental numbers included the outstanding performance of "Midnight in Moscow," by Don Osgood on the drums.

Interspersed throughout the show were colorfully-costumed routines by the dance chorus line, directed by Mrs. Fred McCrate. Several comedy skits added to the merriment.

"Day is Done" was sung by the vocal ensemble, composed of Jim Claus, Bob Dowling, Debbie Gibbard, Marilyn Girbach, Judy Hoyt, Jeannie Meeks, Joe Shouse and Eric Sparks.

A party for the members of the cast was held after the show Saturday. Arrangements were made by members of the Band Boosters Club and chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hawkins, Mrs. Harold Moon, Mrs. Frank Humble and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Swift.

Mr. Jorgensen arranged for a rock band from Adrian, which played for dancing.

Refreshments featured a cake decorated with the show theme, "Age of Aquarius," made by Mrs. Roland Redman. Brownies and soft drinks were also served.

Hustlers Present Demonstrations

Letters from Ceylon highlighted the meeting of North Franklin Hustlers recently. Bob Winzeler was given a pen pal letter and Barbara Vincent had one from Ceylon to the Club.

Demonstrations were given by Greg Williams, Tracy Richardson, and Miss Vincent on "Readying a Steer for the Fair" "Selecting Vegetables for the Fair" and "Using the Reasons Sheet and Judging Card."

The group played a game called Colonel Goofy preceding the meeting held in Smith-Kimball Community Center.

Kathy and Kim Hartung furnished refreshments.

Demonstrations will be presented by Lynn Winzler, Danny McKeen, Fran Vincent and Jane Woodward at the next meeting also to be held at the Center.

Plans will be made for money raising. Lynn and Bob Winzler will be hosts.

Vision and Hearing Tests Available

Vision and hearing screenings are being made available again this year to pre-school children.

This program, sponsored by the Lenawee County Health Department and the Michigan Department of Public Health, is available to all children from three and one-half to kindergarten age.

Michigan State Legislature has passed a law requiring a child to have a vision screening before entering kindergarten. This law becomes effective Sept. 1, 1970.

The vision and hearing screenings will help to uncover eye and ear disorders which, after correction, will result in the children entering school better equipped to handle their learning tasks.

A major aim of the program is to prevent one-eyed blindness. This condition, commonly referred to as "the lazy eye," can very often be corrected at the age of three or four, but becomes a permanent blind eye at age seven or eight. It is estimated that over 5,000 children each year are destined to be blind in one eye in Michigan.

Just as a child may not see well without being blind, he may not hear well without being deaf. Only a special instrument, audiometer, can pick up a hearing loss when it is beginning, the time when treatment is most helpful.

The screenings, free of charge to parents, will be conducted during April, May and June. Clinics will be set up in local areas throughout Lenawee County.

Mrs. Kathryn Condon, vision technician, and Mrs. Vivian Turnwald, hearing technician, will do the screening. Mrs. Esther Casterline is co-ordinating the program.

Application forms will be distributed through the schools and at pre-school round-ups. These forms may also be obtained at the local Health Department.

Army 1st Lt. Larry W. Waynick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade L. Waynick of Detroit, received the Army Commendation Medal on March 2 during ceremonies in Vietnam. Lt. Waynick earned the award for meritorious service as an administrative officer in Headquarters, 1st Logistical Command. The lieutenant's wife, Catherine, lives at 607 Herrick Park Dr.

Swine Producers Form Association

Dale Brown, area extension swine agent, and Fred Savage, director of the Michigan Pork Producers' Association, were present to explain the operation of the Michigan Pork Producers' Association.

The group decided to form a county association and elected the following as officers: Jay Fisher, R. 5, Box 363, Adrian, chairman; Ken Mitchell, R. 5, Box 376, Adrian, vice-chairman; Gene Frost, R. 1, Palmyra, secretary-treasurer; and William Knisel, R2, Blissfield, Lenawee County director to Michigan Pork Producers' Association.

Mr. Knisel will attend the state meeting of the association at Michigan State University during Farmers' Week, March 23-27.

He will report to the county association at the next meeting, April 13, at Michigan Producers Dairy at 8 p.m.

Anyone wishing to join the association is urged to attend.

Lamkin Honored As Angell Scholar

Barry Lamkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lamkin, 310 Marlboro Ct., received special recognition at University of Michigan's Honors Convocation March 20.

He was among 231 students who were designated as Angell Scholars. They earned all-A grades for at least two successive terms.

A few students had straight-A marks for seven or eight terms.

Barry was among 3,100 undergraduates who were recognized for academic achievement at the convocation.

Dr. William N. Hubbard, Jr., director of the U-M Medical Center, was the speaker.

Michigan Week Committee Meets

The first county-wide Michigan Week meeting was held at the home of Lenawee County Chairman Mrs. Thomas Morgan, March 18. Plans were formulated for 1970 Michigan Week, May 16-23.

Theme for this year is "Michigan — Land of Hospitality." All citizens of Michigan are urged to speak out for Michigan, learn about, tell about and build an even better Michigan.

Attending the meeting were: Ralph Beuhler and John Emon, Region 16 co-chairmen, of Ann Arbor; Betty Flanders, Lenawee County publicity chairman; Robert Lorentz of Adrian, Lenawee County Product of the Year chairman; Dick Yenor, Adrian City chairman; Ward Earling, Tecumseh City chairman; Buck Mohr, Onsted Village chairman.

Other Lenawee County Chairmen named are: A. E. Brown, Addison Village chairman; Tom Sayler, Hudson Village chairman; John Truesdale, Clinton Village chairman.

On Honors List

Deborah Lavender, second term student at Cleary College taking a secretarial course, has been placed on the president's list for achieving a 3.5 average this term. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lavender, 508 Stacy St.

Ed. Association Will Hold Meeting

Lenawee Occupational Education Association will hold a meeting this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Room 101, Jones Hall at Adrian College.

Superintendents, principals, counselors and vocational and practical arts teachers from Lenawee County as well as representatives from business and industry have been invited.

Following the business meeting, Richard Shupe, supervisor of Business Education in the Division of Vocational Education of the Michigan Department of Education, will be guest speaker.

A native of Michigan he attended Newark High School in New York and also Taylor University in Upland, Ind., before returning to Michigan to complete his education at Michigan State University, where he received his bachelors, master's and educational specialist degrees.

In September of 1969 he was named Supervisor of Business Education in the Division of Vocational Education.

Mr. Shupe's topic will be "Issues and Concerns in Vocational Education."

This meeting is open to anyone in the community who is interested in vocational education.

Church Receives 9 New Members

On Palm Sunday, the First United Presbyterian Church received into membership seven young communicant class members and two adults, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Laflin, Jeffrey Adams, April Cook, Jill Feight, Margene Frownfelder, John Hopson, Jr., Laura Hughes and Ginnie Ousterhout.

On March 15, the Sacrament of Infant Baptism was administered to Ann Marie and Kay Dee Sommermeyer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Sommermeyer and to Jeffery Edward Goad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Goad and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant.

Hosts Cancer Drive

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary here is sponsoring the drive to open April 6 with a kickoff breakfast at 9:30 a.m., at the Post home on North Evans St.

Main speaker will be Dr. Bruce M. Carlson, assistant professor in the Department of Anatomy at the University of Michigan Medical School. Dr. Carlson received the M. D. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Minnesota and has been on the staff of the U. of M. Medical School for several years.

He has spent a period of time doing research in Russia, and is currently involved in studying tissue regeneration. From such studies should come basic information of considerable value to our understanding of the cancerous process.

There will be guests from the Adrian Cancer Society office and its officers.

There will be a film shown called "Fess Parker Presents" or "The Tallman Story." Fess Parker of the "Daniel Boone" series on TV is the national chairman for this year.

"Tag Day" for Cancer in Tecumseh will be April 17. A program will be placed in the schools. "Send A Mouse to College" in which children will place a small sum of money in envelopes in the research of cancer in buying mice for this program. Mrs. Stites said, "When a volunteer worker appears at your door, please remember the slogan, 'Fight Cancer with a Cheekup and a Check'. The next one may be you — please, let's hope this never comes true."

The American Cancer Society isn't included in the United Fund. The ACS is a national organization dedicated to one purpose — to conquer cancer and then get out of business. This program is open to the public.

All chairmen and volunteer workers are to be present to pick up packets for the drive.

Students Sponsor Brother and Sister Program at Siena

Students from Siena Heights College are actively involved in a Big Brother and Sister Program sponsored by the Sociology Club.

The program was organized in January by Mary Kruger, president of the club. She made personal contacts to families in Adrian to obtain permission for their child to be in the program.

The children range in age from six to 13. The program works on a similar basis to Big Brothers.

Each week the college students participate in some activity with their Little Brother or Sister, whether it be a basketball game, bowling or playing pool at the college.

Companionship and confidence are the main objectives of the program.

Mary is the daughter of Mrs. Lewis Kruger, 9816 Billmyer Hwy.

Through My Window

A TWO-ARTICLE ICE BREAK-UP (Part Two)

Wednesday, March 4, was just one of those red-letter days of good looking from morning to night. The creek, with its ice break-ups and floods and jams, would have been enough in itself but there was oh, so much more going on, too. There was fog for instance.

Early, of course, there was the thick pea-soup fog which closed in the whole world. Gradually it began to lift but if a fog could have personality, we could say this one was friendly and hated to leave.

It would start to thin out and we would begin hoping; a few minutes later it would be soupy-thick again with visibility zero.

Finally it became patchy. Banks of fog would sit on the lowlands across the creek where I was looking but Gertie T reported that the view through the south window was quite clear.

Until late in the day, some fog hung over the creek. It was an eerie sight, the wispy clouds rolled and floated low on the water.

Evans Creek flows a twisting and turning course past our windows and the fog followed the same pattern. As our window watching time neared an end, the temperature of the water and the air became compatible enough so that the fog finally disappeared entirely.

It had been interesting, to watch, though.

BY THE TIME the fog had cleared, the creek was beginning to seep back into its regular course. The lowlands were littered with dirty globs of leaves, muddy tangles of weeds, and filthy chunks of ice.

There was a slight indication of the creek bank, however, and good heavens, look who was having fun. Our muskrat. He was playing in the shallow water, taking daring trips out into the swift current, riding it, diving where it was deep, and just enjoying himself.

That beautiful fur coat in all that muddy water — well, if it didn't bother him, I suppose it shouldn't us.

All day long the birds were busy. Unusually busy for such a rainy, foggy day. It was almost as though the excitement of the ice break-up and the energy of the flooded creek had transferred itself to them.

We have noticed this phenomenon before. And why shouldn't the birds be affected, we certainly were.

The first visitors of the day were two of the wettest, most bedraggled bluejays imaginable. They were absolutely soaked and their wet feathers were so dark that they were hardly recognizable.

Their dispositions matched their appearance and as they started screaming, we knew for sure they were bluejays. There is no mistaking that noise. There was also a disreputable looking starling, so hungry that he worked at the suet even during the hardest of the rains.

THE CARDINALS were more prudent. They waited until the showers were beginning to let up before making their appearances. And even though wet, they were certainly not the miserable looking characters that the bluejays were. Nor did they seem to be as hungry as the starling.

The final cardinal count was four, two males and two females, and whereas they did drop in once in a while for a quick sunflower seed snack, most of their attention was focused on the creek. They seemed absolutely fascinated with the fast rushing water.

Perching on the tiniest branches that reached over the creek and cocking their heads to look down at the swirling water or slowly flying from one bank to the other — the cardinals could quit their creek watching no more than we could.

So it is that by evening we were exhausted; the excitement and the watching had been once-a-year special, we were all keyed up, hoping not to miss anything because after all, this was a two-article ice break-up!

Since March 18, specialized equipment at the General Telephone Co. central office has aided in long distance calling. Dick Carter shows the equipment, which cost $50,000, and eliminates the necessity of an operator interrupting direct-dialed long distance calls to obtain the caller's phone number. Telephone numbers will automatically be identified as they are dialed on all private and two-party lines.

Seniors Celebrate March Birthdays

Those honored were Wilfred Waldron, Mrs. Henry Gallant, Mable Chandler, Hardy Youngblove, Edith Shull, Emil Sabo, Gladys June and Ilah Spencer.

Mrs. Joe Rice and Gladys Rohweder served cake, cookies, coffee and tea.

An election of officers will be held at the April meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osgood will be hostesses for the March 26 session.

Seaman Brooks Completes Tour

Navy Seaman Apprentice Kenneth W. Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brooks, 807 Outer Dr., has returned to Long Beach, Calif., aboard the fast combat support ship USS Camden after seven months in the Western Pacific.

Scholarship Offered

Oakland County Parks and Recreation is making it possible for Michigan boys between the ages of 11 and 15 to win a four-year scholarship to Lawrence Institute of Technology in Southfield.

In order to be eligible for this scholarship, he must build a soap box derby racer, enter it in any Chevrolet-sanctioned soap box derby competition in Michigan and contact Tom Jackson, derby director.

He should inform Mr. Jackson that he will enter his racer in the Soap Box Derby Exposition to be held at the Pontiac Mall in Pontiac, July 6-11.

Mr. Jackson's address is: Oakland County Parks and Recreation, 2800 Watkins Lake Rd., Pontiac, 48054.

The soap box racers will be exhibited for one week at the Mall and judged by Lawrence Tech, Chevrolet and General Motors truck and coach engineers.

Local champs go to the "All American Soap Box Derby" finals in Akron, O., to compete for an additional $30,000 in college scholarships.

A larger than normal turnout is expected at the polls here next Monday when the city electorate casts an advisory vote on a proposed income tax and elects four councilmen.

It is the first time that a city income tax has been proposed here, and the man-on-the-street has indicated a resounding defeat, similar to the one dealt the recent eight-mill bond issue for the schools.

There is little support for the new tax, while there has been considerable verbal opposition.

At a public meeting Monday evening at the Community Center, just 17 residents showed up to discuss the tax with city officials. This response also is similar to that which school officials encountered when they attempted to inform the public about the bond issue.

Although a few of the 17 present may have favored such a tax, most of the discussion was in opposition. Officials said the income tax was more equitable and was needed to finance city operations.

City Manager Cal Zorn displayed a chart showing the city's millage and expenses for the past 10 years. He said Tecumseh has enough monies probably for the next two years.

"We will probably reach the 15-mill limitation in 1972" explained Zorn in discussing city finances. He remarked that the city is not immune from inflation and that costs have continued to rise.

Residents, who commented about the tax and asked questions, included Mrs. Ruth Rentschler, Kenneth Goldmann, Pat Meadows, Paul Hohenstein, Kenneth Schultz, James Covell and Cornelia Walker.

★

Pictures and brief resumes of the candidates are:

HAROLD EASTON

He has served longest of any encumbent, 11 years on Council and 10 years as mayor. The 45-year-old mayor has operated a service station here for the past 25 years, and though born at Goodrich, he has spent most of his life here. He has been active in several civic organizations, is a former county supervisor, and is currently serving on the Herrick Hospital board. Mr. Easton and his wife live in Herrick Park and are the parents of two children.

GEORGE McCOMBS

Veteran city official has served 16 years on Counell and is now seeking one of the four posts up for grab. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and other Masonic organizations, a past president of Exchange Club and a member of other community groups. He was first elected to Council in 1947. Mr. McCombs is employed in the office of Schnieder Chevrolet-Buick. He and his wife, parents of three children, live at 207 S. Oneida Street.

WALLACE WHITING

Encumbent is serving his first year on Council and is seeking re-election for another term. He is a graduate of Ypsilanti High School and attended Michigan State Normal for two years. He is a past president of Exchange Club and is a member of Tecumseh barbershop singers. Mr. Whiting has been employed at the Tecumseh Products for over 20 years. He and his wife, local school teacher, reside at 106 W. Pottawatamie. Son Bill is a freshman at MSU.

DR. CARLTON COOK

Local physician is seeking his third term on Council, having been first elected in 1966. Prior to becoming a councilman, he had served a number of years on the Planning Commssion. A native of White Pigeon, he is a graduate of Michigan State and the medical school at University of Michigan. Dr. Cook has practiced medicine here for the past 16 years. He and his wife have six children. Their home is at 140 Brown Street.

MURRAY PALMER

He is the second of six candidates to be seeking a public office for the first time. Mr. Palmer, 34, is general supervisor of payrolls at the Fisher Body Plant on Occidental Rd. and has been a resident of Tecumseh for the past five years. He has been employed by Fisher Body for approximately 16 years. He and his wife and three children live at 407 Seminole Drive.

LAWRENCE BILKE

A newcomer now seeking election to Council for the first time. A resident of Tecumseh for the past four and a half years, he is a senior analyist in engineering at the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant. He graduated from the University of Detroit in 1961 and has been with Fisher Body for 17 years. Mr. Bilke, 38, and his wife and son live at 1016 Red Mill Dr.

MARIE JOHNSON STAGES COLLECTORS' SHOW

100 Collectors Here for Show

When the Collector's Extravaganza comes to Tecumseh Sunday, Michigan folks will have a rare opportunity to see some of the most outstanding collections of "anything that anyone would ever consider collectible," according to Marie A. Johnson of Clinton who has arranged the show. Mrs. Johnson is a collector of tokens and medals.

Nearly 100 collectors will be represented at the showing at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. They'll be displaying many rare tokens, coins, bottles, minerals and Indian relics. There will be dishes, cut glass, pattern glass, antique furniture and much more. Everything displayed will be for sale and visitors may bring in articles for appraisal.

An assortment of metal detectors will be shown and a $30,000 display from Oscoda will feature the artifacts unearthed by the detectors.

It will take all day to see everything, so arrangements have been made to have the Voyage en France Club of Tecumseh High School serve sandwiches, beverages and sweet rolls through the day. Club members are raising funds for a trip to France this summer.

6 Accidents Investigated

Accident frequency on city streets took a sharp swing upwards during the past week with local police investigating six mishaps, one involving a personal injury.

James E. Stone, 31, of 201 N. Ottawa St., suffered injuries Monday afternoon after being hit by a skidding auto. He was standing next to a tree on N. Ottawa when an auto driven by Harvey W. Miller, Jr., 21, Blissfield, skidded some 90 feet, jumped a curb and crossed a front yard before striking Stone and the tree.

Stone was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

Miller lost control of his car after being hit in the intersection of N. Ottawa and E. Logan St. by Margaret A. Leighton, 51, of 306 E. Pottawatamie.

Police cited Mrs. Leighton for failure to yield at a stop sign, and Miller for speeding.

A resume of the other accidents is:

March 25 — Zola A. Welling, 45, of 411 E. Pottawatamie St., lost control of her car rounding a curve on Russell Rd. and Adrian St., slid on the icy street and into a basement wall at 807 W. Russell Rd.

March 26 — James Kane, 16, of 214 Pine St., and Lewis Schultz, 79, of 312 N. Maumee St. collided in the intersection at W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental.

March 27 — Two parked automobiles, owned by James Records, 110 N. Union St., and Myrna Downing, 413 Seminole Dr., were totaled in an accident on N. Union St. by a car, owned by James C. Beardsley, 401 W. Chicago Blvd. Driver of the Beardsley auto, which sustained extensive damages, is unknown.

March 28 — Floyd F. Bohannon, 37, of 738 S. Union St., struck a telephone pole on S. Evans St., near Pottawatamie.

March 31 — Mary A. Moulton, 25, of 9103 N. Union, was cited for violation of the basic speed law when her car collided with a parked auto, owned by Dr. Sidney Adams, 503 N. Evans St. Accident occurred on N. Union St.

Two Youths Await Date In Court

Two youths, Harold Turner, 18, 10539 Pennington Rd., and a 16-year-old rural Clinton juvenile, were arrested last week and charged with breaking and entering.

A series of breaking and enterings have been investigated by Trooper William Daily over the past several weeks.

Among the things taken were about $300 worth of items from the Britton High School on Feb. 6; Included were a movie projector, lounge chairs, radio and record player.

A large quantity of stolen goods has been recovered.

The youths are awaiting arraignment in Lenawee County District Court.

$311.35 Raised For Hyder Fund

Mrs. Donald Escott and Mrs. Sidney Adams report a total of $311.35 was raised by bowlers Saturday for the Howard Hyder Fund at the Airport Bowl thanks to the generosity of owners, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham.

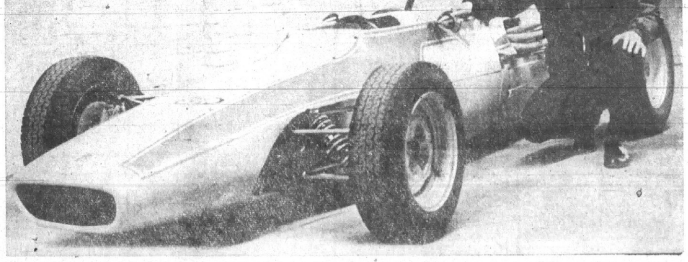
A small increase, amounting to about two percent, has fixed the city's evaluation for 1970 at $31,165,200.

The 1969 evaluation was $30,-$15,000. This year's increase is attributed to new construction and personal property, according to Cal Zorn, city manager.



SLEEK, NEW RACER — Jim Harrell, Tecumseh race driver, opened a new specialty shop this week for sale of racing equipment to area men who run the strips and tracks. He has also received his new Formula Ford and will run it next month at MIS.

New Shop for Racers

Local race driver Jim Harrell has opened a speciality shop—Redline Engineering, Inc.—across from Moore Lumber Co. on E. Logan St. for area race drivers.

He will handle supplementary racing equipment and will do precision engine building, performance work and tuning, plus custom chassis fabrication, roll bars, roll cages and exhaust systems.

"This shop is for racers who participate on drag strips, dirt tracks and in road racing," explained Jim, "and not for youth in street racing."

He says the shop will handle the finest equipment available for racing cars.

Harrell, a race driver who has raced at Michigan International Speedway track in the Irish Hills, just recently received a Formula Ford car, a small sleek racer which he will drive at MIS on May 16-17.

The racer, over 12 feet long, has a 105 horse power engine, capable of speeds in excess of 140 mph. It weighs just 890 pounds. The fiber glass body is only two and a half inches off the ground, and at its highest, only 23 inches.

Cost is about $5,000, including the trailer.

It was provided for Jim by Douglas Shierson Racing of Adrian. Mr. Shierson has contracted Jim to drive through 1970 in the national championship races.

Census Count Is Starting

Census enumerators have been selected for the 1970 census and started their canvassing Wednesday, according to Mrs. Lawrence Gunn, crew leader.

Folks are being reminded to retain their census questionnaire for the enumerators, and not to return them by mail. Those who missed receiving a questionnaire, are asked to contact Mrs. Gunn, phone 456-4639.

Other enumerators are:

Clinton — Mrs. Edwin Blom.

Clinton Township — Mrs. John Snyder.

Macon Township — Mrs. Phyllis Patterson.

Tecumseh Township — Mrs. Marian Halasz.

Britton—Mrs. Virginia Dixon.

Ridgeway — Mrs. Rita Garland.

Raisin Township — Mrs. Betty Goll, Mrs. Greta Isley and Mrs. Dale Garrison.

April 1 is the official day when folks throughout the country will be counted.

Tecumseh's population in 1960 was 7,049. The 1970 figure is expected to exceed 8,000, but most of the growth locally has been in Tecumseh and Raisin Townships with a large number of homes just outside the city limits.

Council Meeting Next Tuesday

Regular meeting of Council will be held next Tuesday night, instead of Wednesday, owing to the election being held Monday.

The city's annual re-organizational session of Council will be held the following Monday evening, April 13.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Dr. Jack Van Impe, "the walking Bible," will be heard at 7:30 nightly April 12-19 in Ann Arbor in the United Evangelistic Crusade. The son of a night club entertainer, Dr. Van Impe changed to using his instrument for the service of the Lord. He can recall 8,000 verses of scripture and literally saturates his messages with documentation from the good book.

Read Senator James G. Fleming's report this week and learn how JOHN G. TAXPAYER pays both ends of the horn again. Not only does he finance his own child's education but also that of numbers of Michigan college students receiving food stamps.

"Mother of the Day" for Easter Sunday was Mrs. Elwood Bush. With two sons singing on television and two others playing trumpets in church services here and in Britton, what a glorious day it was to celebrate—her birthday anniversary, too. Paul, 12, played at Gloria Dei and Dan at the Union sunrise service at Methodist Church before going to their own services at Emmanuel Lutheran Church on the Ridge. All 12 were home with their parents for dinner.

In compiling a book on the history of Britton, the fifth and sixth grade Camp Fire Girls would like dates and details of such historical events as the bank hold-up, the big train wreck and any other historical events that took place in Britton.

Please contact or send information to Mrs. Gerald Price, 10860 Ridge Rd., Britton, phone 451-4055.

There's a "darling little girl" Mrs. Dyke Helms would like to know more about. It seems, the tot's daddy dropped off a photo to enter in the Jaycee Auxiliary Baby Contest, at the Helms home Tuesday, and all it said on the back is "Jill Marie 3-months-old." Daddy buzzed off in a red pickup before she could ask questions, such as Jill Marie who?

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Teske will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary April 7. Otto Teske and Florence Schaber were married in 1920 at St. Stephen's Lutheran parsonage in Adrian. They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Roy (Helen) Beasley, Mrs. Ned (Margaret) Lanning and Mrs. Richard (Shirley) Whelan and four grandchildren. They have lived at their present home at 208 N. Democrat St., since 1925. Mr. Teske was employed by the Quaker Oats Company for 34 years and retired in 1960. A family dinner will be held in their honor Sunday, April 5.

50th Anniversary Will Be Observed by Robothams

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Robotham, formerly of Tecumseh, will be honored at an open house given by their children Sunday, April 12, from 2 to 6 p.m. at their home, 929 S. Merritt Rd., Merritt, Mich.

They will also be honored at a similar occasion, April 5 at the home of Mrs. Albert Horak, 5500 Pawson Rd., Tipton, for friends and relatives.

The couple will observe their 50th wedding anniversary April 7.

Claude Robotham and Pearl Martin were married April 7, 1920 by the Rev. Henry Shrauger at the home of the bride's parents.

They have two daughters and one son, Mrs. Paul (Lorraine) Seamon, Adrian, Mrs. Albert (Claudine) Horak and Ellis C. Robotham, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. Robotham retired from Tecumseh Products Co. in 1963 after 17 years of employment.

Lotts To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lott, 5403 Green Hwy., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, April 5. An open house from 1 to 5 p.m. for friends and relatives will be held with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. David B. Lott, 882 South Shady Hollow Ct., Bloomfield Hills.

John R. Lott of Ithaca and Louise Beck of Detroit met while students at Alma College. They were married April 6, 1920, by the Rev. C. W. Lowry of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church, Detroit.

They moved to the Tecumseh area in March, 1931, and were active in the community until the past year.

The couple asked that gifts be omitted.

Larry Recovering From Accident

His left arm was seriously crushed and is now in traction.

He expects to be hospitalized for four to six weeks.

Smiths Observe 50th Anniversary

Golden anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Smith of 116 W. Kilbuck St., will be celebrated Sunday, April 5. Mr. Smith is a retired engineer of the D.T.&I. Railroad.

Florine Bennett and William M. Smith were married by the Rev. Calvin M. Thompson at the Methodist parsonage, April 5, 1920, attended by Vivian and Raymond Bachtol, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Smith.

The couple have three children: Donald E. of Flat Rock, Mrs. Mary Jane Wolters of Bellsville and Clyde E. of Tecumseh, 12 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren of California.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend a reception Sunday to be held in the Fellowship Hall of Tecumseh United Methodist Church on Bishop Reed Dr.

It is requested that gifts be omitted.

Tecumseh is Navy Saint

In the old sailing days when ships were wooden and carried carved figureheads on their bows, the U.S.S. Delaware bore the image of Tamanend, one-time chief of the Delaware Indians.

The Navy has a bronze duplicate of this figurehead at the Naval Academy, as the "patron saint" of "wooden" midshipmen, "the god of 2.5" (lowest passing mark).

The old figurehead of Tamanend is called Tecumseh—a name and memory that no Naval Academy man will ever forget.

Robert D. Proctor, journalist seaman, United States Navy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Proctor of Clinton, sends this bit of news to Herald readers.

Don't Need to Pay

According to information from Myron (Mike) Kelsey, Michigan State University agricultural economist who works closely with Internal Revenue Service on regulations, farmers and fishermen are exempt from estimates and quarterly tax payment if: (1) they filed a final return by March 1 or two months after the close of the taxable year, or (2) they filed an estimate on Jan. 15, paying the estimated tax, and then a final return on April 15."

To qualify as a farmer, at least two-thirds of the gross income must be from the business of farming, Kelsey commented.

Project Reports Heard at Meeting

Project reports were given at the meeting of the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Darrell Staup. There were 13 members present.

Mrs. Clark Nichols reported on the recent candy sale, which netted $25 for the Howard Hyder Fund.

Mrs. John Seay reported on the Baby Contest which has begun.

Progressive dinner April 18, beginning at 6:30 p.m., at home of Mr. and Mrs. John Seay.

The April 29 meeting will feature a tour of Girls Training School, Adrian.

Two Resignations Accepted by Board

CLINTON — Board of Education of Clinton Community Schools accepted resignations of two teachers at a special meeting, Tuesday night. Resigning at the end of the school year are Mrs. JoAnn Hays, elementary remedial reading and James "Dutch" Poppink, physical education and social studies.

All other teachers were offered contracts.

Mrs. Richard Chatters, Clinton-Macon Rd., was granted a contract to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Lewis Lamm, sixth grade, who is moving from the area, effective April 1.

Health-tex® CRANTOGS

How do you think I keep mommy from getting mad at me? By sporting my most beautiful A-line dresses. They make me look ultra-adorable. I have lots in solids, some with embroidery; and in pretty-girl patterns too. Shoulder openings make ins and outs easy on little girls. Mommy never gets mad 'cause these dresses are polyester and cotton permanent press. They never need ironing, will never shrink out of fit and they're color fast, too! Whatever would I do without Health-tex?

Sizes: 9, 12, 18, 24 mos.

Our Readers Write

To the editor:

Thank you for warning us, in Dorothy Grigg's article, that our home talent play is not fit for children to see.

If we are properly concerned about the children, what about the greatest factor of influence on them, precept and example?

Should the next play be more thoughtfully chosen?

Very truly yours,

Re: Elmer Charles Andrus
Gentlemen:

Our Company has a policy of insurance outstanding on the life of the above named Insured, whose last known address was Tecunsek, Michigan and whose occupation was that of a minister of Universalist Church. We have had no word from our Insured in many years and all efforts to communicate with Elmer Andrus or his heirs at law, have ended unsuccessfully.

Tracing long lost policyholders and their beneficiaries is extremely difficult without facilities for reaching a large number of people. For this reason, if you care to carry an item telling of our desire to communicate with the said Elmer C. Andrus, if living or any heirs at law, if our Insured is deceased, your courtesy in doing so will be greatly appreciated and may enable us to pay a benefit that could not otherwise be paid.

We have had splendid success in working with the local press. We find that such items are of interest to a large section of the local reading public. In most cases, there is usually a few readers who can furnish us with our Insured's whereabouts or the names and addresses of persons with whom we can communicate. May we hear from you?

Sincerely yours,

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing you in regards to the incident that happened on North Union St. last Friday night.

I am the mother of one of the young people that was in the residence. What all the young people are so disturbed about is if it had been them who was driving the car they would have gotten a ticket right there.

The young people all know who the person was. Just because he is a businessman, why should he be any better than anyone else? I have six children all of whom have gone through high school in Tecumseh, some have gone on to college, one is in college at the present time.

I do not uphold all the things that young people do but adults sure don't set a very good example. A few months ago my daughter was issued a ticket for going a few miles over the speed limit on N. Maumee St. in Tecumseh.

She had to pay $15. She has a social security check to keep her in school. Your police chief's wife had her as a pupil in her younger grades.

She is only a teen-ager and greatly disturbed over this whole thing. I hope the business person gets a fine and also, all or part of this is put in your paper.

Her father passed away some time ago. He was a laborer but was well-acquainted with all parents of the concerned young people.

Fine Flapjacks Flipping Friday

Proceeds from the Pancake Supper at Emmanuel Lutheran Church Friday will be used for a furnishings project inside the church.

Serving will be from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. with ham rather than sausage accompanying the flapjacks, flopped by Wallace Johnson.

The event is sponsored by the local Aid Association for Lutherans, an insurance group.

Youth Round-Up Set For Sunday

The Jim Miller family of Britton, with nine in the group, had the largest family in attendance Palm Sunday at the Assembly of God for the Family Sunday worship.

Services will be held nightly beginning Friday, April 3 through Friday of next week at 7 p.m. at the church.

On Sunday the Rev. Rector will speak to both parents and children.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper of Blissfield will be hostesses April 2.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Need Your Vote

Voting is a privilege and one to be exercised. Unfortunately, many fail to recognize this and are unaccounted for at the polls.

Next Monday the city will elect three councilmen and approve or disapprove a proposed city income tax. In view of its wide effects, the tax issue for the community is very important.

We need a thorough, local study of an income tax before its adoption. This study would require the cooperation of industries and businesses. In round and general figures, officials could closely determine the revenue expected from figures provided through a study.

If the study showed that city income from the tax would be sufficient to operate our government, then it would be conceivable that all property tax could be eliminated.

Discarding the property tax, however, would be for the city only, and not the schools. Don't be surprised, however, but in the near future that schools also will attempt to be financed by an income tax, one which would affect all wage earners in the school district.

In the meantime a study could be conducted by the city. This study would reflect the city's potential for revenue from an income tax. Until that study is made and more accurate figures produced, we would recommend that voters voice their objections April 6th.

Council has stated that it will abide by the voters' decision, and since our vote will be in an advisory capacity only, we urge you to vote and vote no.

Exercise your privilege. Only a turnout at the polls will save us from an income tax. Your neighbors and friends can not vote for you, it's up to you!

Derby Finals Held

First place for originality was won by Jon Betzoldt with Scott Day second and Kirk Oliver third.

Following awards were presented at the meeting — denner bar to Dan Turvey and Brad Dunn; assistant denner to Scott Crabtree, Steve Burch, Jeff Rendel, Brad Dunn and Erik Mason.

Erik Mason, Brad Dunn and Steve Burch were awarded wolf badges; Jeff Rendell, Steve Burch, Brad Dunn and Erik Mason received gold arrows. Bob Snyder, Clifford Schill and Mike Ery were awarded silver arrows, and Wayne Riley a one-year pin.

Melvin Yoder and Ron Williams graduated from Webelos and were welcomed to Boy Scout Troop 273, while two new Bobcats, Greg Gadok and Mike Declure, were inducted into Pack 73.

Harry Snyder announced a kite-flying contest for the pack would be held April 26 at 2:30 p.m.

Songs were led by Mrs. Earl Mason.

Careful Wiff De Grammar!

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Floyd Bryan of Britton shares with Herald readers a bit of doggerel by Berton Braley that she has been carefully saving for a number of years.)

GRAMMAR

Be careful of your grammar,
Don't let nobody find
You'ain't been taught how you had ought
To speak what's in your mind.

I never knowed no person
What wouldn't find their speech
Improved a lot by learning what
The grammars has to teach.

Them grammar books will learn you
How English should be spoke,
So you won't make no bad mistake
Like crude uncultured folk.

Don't never talk like they does,
There ain't no reason why
You couldn't be as smart as me
And learn to talk like I.

Us educated people,
Wherever we have went,
Finds others whom fills us with gloom
Because they are content
To speak the English language
Without no kind of care,
Though if they looks, they's grammar books
To learn 'em everywhere!

Art Show at Siena

Latest exhibition to be sent by Project "Outreach" is "Museum Director's Choice." The exhibition has been personally selected by Willis F. Woods, director of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The exhibition includes works by Maurice de Vlaminck, Henry Moore, Fernand Leger, Henri Matisse and Georges Braque as well as other European masters.

This latest "Outreach" exhibition will be open free to the public. Hours are 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Marionette Show

Children of Lenawee County are invited to the annual performance of Meredith Bixby Marionette, sponsored by the Association for childhood Education.

"The Magic Stalk" will be presented Saturday, April 11, at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. at Alexander School.

Bixby's version of the favorite "Jack in the Beanstalk" will have six acts of colorful production of humor, pathos and gentle excitement.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

There is no use for further wordy copy in this column, other than to direct your attention to Page 3 of The Herald's Section B this week. There you will find that Cadet Richard Skinner has said it all so beautifully in his winning letter in Freedom's Foundation letter writing contest. Do read it.

With such fine young people doing the thinking for their unthinking peers who behave like children and continue to have temper tantrums, the world looks brighter this spring. Certainly it behooves adult leaders to take a stand against that which they know is evil and apply the rod to spare the child. One member of the clergy holding a youthful revival stated it aptly. "We hope to get them before they get us," he said.

Home for Easter with Mom, Mrs. Alfred Jewell, were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mahrle, Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. William Every and children, Tipton; Helen Jewell, Port Huron; and Kathryn, of Jackson Junior College. Pearl Ash of Britton was also visiting his daughter that day and Mrs. Jewel had a message from her son, T. Sgt. Alfred Jewell, that he will soon be transferred from Bountiful, Utah, to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. He is expected home soon.

Paula made her first communion Holy Thursday at St. Elizabeth Church and like the other older children of Dr. and Mrs. Carlos Knisely, took the plane trip by herself. Mrs. Knisely, Pat and Pam and Mrs. William Mackey went to the Big City Tuesday to bring Paula home.

A daughter, Renate Sue, was born Saturday at Bixby Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, nee Molly Stanley. The baby weighed in at 7 lbs., 15 ozs.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Eardley entertained relatives over Easter weekend. Mr. and Mrs. John Hess and Ricky and Bill Williams of Freeport, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dole and Debbie of Bellefontaine were the guests. John evaded the work detail this time by getting sick. Previous visits found him helping the Parks and Recreation Department superintendent show movies of 250 kids and one other time, he was conned into the garbage detail.

√

A son was born March 25 to Mr. and Mrs. James Harris, nee Jean Ann Hbag of Westland at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. The little guy weighed 9 lbs., 2 oz., according to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoag. They and Uncle Roger visited the baby and his parents Good Friday.

√

Anne P. Moeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moeller, 7247 Wisner Hwy. has been named to the scholastic honors list for the fall semester at Central Michigan University.

Miss Moeller is a junior.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lincoln and Jim entertained their niece, Anne, and her father, Robert Wilson, of Madrid, Spain over the weekend. Kay Lincoln is living with the Wilsons and going to school this semester in Madrid. Mrs. Lincoln, her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Landers, of Grosse Pointe and Jim accompanied the Wilsons to New York City where he caught a plane and Anne returned to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Munger, Mike and Lisa, are expected home from a tour of Florida.

Memoriam

In loving memories of Claire W. Minehart who would have been 74 years old today, April 3.

Memories are tresdures,
No one can steal.
Death is a heart ache,
No one can heal,
Some may forget him,
That he is gone.
But, I will remember him,
No matter how long.
Sadly missed by his wife,
Florence Minehart. 4-2p

3/C John Bailey Aboard Westwind

Coast Guard Petty Officer 3/C John H. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs Keith Bailey, 5364 Green Hwy., is participating in ice breaking operations in Buffalo, N. Y., aboard the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Westwind.

Clearing of the ice-jammed Buffalo harbor will allow an early start on the commercial shipping season.

Holloway News

Stefan Parkman, exchange student from Sweden, who is living with Lavern E. Moll and family, flew to Washington to spend the Easter recess. He is staying with his friends, Professor and Mrs. Leis Muten and family of Sweden, who live in Falls Church, Va. They are entertaining Stefan by touring Washington, D. C.

You Told Us

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Priest, of Evans Lake, have returned from Tempe, Ariz., where they spent the winter with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Priest. Mr. Priest has been ill all winter, and is unable to have visitors at this time.

Bookmobile Stops

Mrs. Ann Rising, bookmobile driver, announced that the bookmobile will be stopping at the following locations during the summer: Occidental Highway, Boyssville, Macon Church, Riga, Palmyra, Jasper, Canandaigua, and Weston. It will also stop at Manitou Beach — Tibbs' Store, Manitou Beach — Christian's Corners, Airport subdivision, Maple Lane Manor, Cement City, Wamplers Lake, Manor Farms, Home Acres, Tipton, Fairfield and Birdsall.

In addition, Mrs. Rising will tell stories and show filmstrips at branch libraries throughout the county.

County residents who would like the bookmobile to provide summer reading in their neighborhoods are invited to call or write to the headquarters of the Lenawee County Library in Adrian. There are still a few openings on the summer schedule.

DOES OUR COUNCIL NEED NEW IDEAS, NEW ACTION?

We've had a company expansion by Corrugated Box refused by our present Council, a losing and embarrassing condemnation suit against one of our own residents, rejection of a Planning Commission recommendation for a commercial improvement, failure to replace a 15-year-old emergency vehicle for our firemen, and now a bungling, ill-researched, proposed city income tax.

NEW IDEAS, NEW ACTION ARE NEEDED!

YOUR VOTE WILL BE SINCERELY APPRECIATED

Tax and Spend — Tax and Spend

Where Will It End

LET'S PUT A STOP TO IT

RIGHT HERE IN TECUMSEH

Vote No - April 6

- Federal Income Taxes at all-time high.
- State Income Tax Increase being considered.
- Tecumseh Assessed Valuations recently increased.
- Total Tax Burden already excessive.
- Country Now in Recession.
- Unemployment Mounting Nationally.
- City Income Tax Unfair to Labor and Industry.

Our Tecumseh City Council has proposed the adoption of a City Income Tax and at the same time readily admits there is NO IMMEDIATE NEED for an increase in revenue.

Experience shows that whenever EXCESS FUNDS are available in government, these funds are quickly spent. Later, when a real need develops, all that is left is cancelled check stubs and then more funds have to be obtained.

Example:

City Council claims that the 1968 Lenawee County average family income was $9,100 per year. If this is a family of four and owns a home in Tecumseh assessed at $6,000, the comparison will be:

Total Property Tax at Present

Assessed Valuation	$6,000.00
Mills (present tax rate)	.014
	$ 84.00

Proposed New Income Tax Plan

Assessed Valuation	$6,000.00
Mills (tax rate reduced (5 mills)	.009
	$ 54.00
1% Income Tax on $9,100 minus $2,600 (4 dependents x $650)	$ 65.00
New Property and Income Tax Total	$119.00

An instant tax increase of 41%.

DO YOU WANT YOUR TAX INCREASED 41%?

The Proposed Income Tax is being promoted on the basis of a benefit to Senior Citizens.

This benefit is minimal at best, and non-existent if the Senior Citizen has any taxable income.

A widow, aged 62, living in an older home assessed at $4,800.

To augment her social security benefits she earns $1800 a year from renting rooms and working part time, and receives $500 a year in interest on her savings account and dividends on stock left by her deceased husband.

She now pays 14 mills tax on the $4800 assessed valuation, or	$ 67.20
Under proposed new plan she pays 9 mills on assessed valuation, or	$ 43.20
She also pays 1% on her $2300 income, less $650 exemption	$ 16.50
Total	$ 59.70

This new benefit, designed to help Senior Citizens nets this woman a grand total of $7.50 for the entire year.

Note: Once this income tax plan is enacted, then future increases in the tax are out of local control. The State can increase the rate without local referendums and you must pay at the increased tax rates.

THE PROPOSED CITY INCOME TAX IS....

Unfair to the wage earner.... Unfair to local industry.... Invasion of privacy.... Unneccessary

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHAT DOES REVELATION 22:19 MEAN?

This verse, along with verse 18 warns against changing the Bible. To add or subtract from this book is dangerous.

I think your question is concerning the phrase, "his part out of the book of life." Let us examine this closely.

One who tampers with God's Word is to be punished. How can we remove from the Bible? This is done by refusing to believe or to preach certain aspects such as Hell, Salvation or Obedience of life to God. If we do this our part will be removed from the Book. Apparently there is a place for everyone's name to be placed in the registry of Heaven. This place or "part" is removed as a judgement. The verse does not say your name will be removed. There is no indication of the name having been written. The seriousness of wresting the Word is seen since to do so removes any place for that person's name to be written.

God keeps books. He records our words, our deeds and names. According to the Bible all the records shall be opened one day. Most important item of consideration is having your name written down. Accept Jesus Christ today. Acts 16:31.

Beef Tour Planned

Forty-first annual Lenawee County Beef Cattle Tour and banquet will be held Tuesday, April 7.

Sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and the Lenawee County Cattle Feeders Association, this educational event has long been noted as an outstanding opportunity for cattlement to learn and share new ideas.

The farms to be visited include four which have modern innovations to interest anyone in the cattle industry.

Farm Stop No. 1
Raymond Goetz & Sons, Lipp Hwy., Riga Township. 1,500 head annual production and an excellent combination of management practices which include the use of automatic feeders, liquid manure tank and some ingenious materials handling equipment.

Farm Stop No. 2

Farm Stop No. 3
Elwyn and Kenneth Isley located on Raisin Center Highway in Palmyra Township. These cattlemen will show how they overcame the high cost of expansion with some highly efficient methods of handling feed and livestock. A new 3,000 ton silo constructed by these men is sure to be an eye-opener for many.

Farm Stop No. 4
Walter Miller located on Ridge Road in Macon Township feeds over 400 head of cattle. This one-man operation exhibits high labor efficiency through mechanization and good management.

In addition to observing cattle feeding practices on farms, two other topics of interest will be presented:

Wally Nelson, a prominent Fulton County, Ohio, cattlefeeder will explain the new "Cattle Fax Super Pool" program which is designed to provide improved marketing information to producers.

Also a demonstration of how management information can be brought directly to farmers through linear programming and use of computers.

Specialists from Michigan State University will be on to answer questions.

At 6:30 p.m. over 400 guests will be on hand for an evening of food and entertainment at Blissfield High School.

The Rev. Charles H. Willey, from Moline, Ill., will be the featured speaker at the banquet.

Tickets are limited and available from the following directors of the Lenawee County Cattle Feeders Association, Jim Darish, Tecumseh, Richard Gentz, Tipton, and Walter Miller, Britton.

Exclusive Zenith COLOR COMMANDER CONTROL makes it easy to compensate for changing room light conditions — by letting you adjust contrast, color level and brightness, instantly, with one simple control instead of three.

Cadet Skinner Named Winner

(Editor's Note—We are glad to be able to share with Herald readers Cadet Richard Skinner's winning letter in the 1969 Freedom Foundations letter writing contest. Cadet Skinner is a junior at the University of Michigan and a member of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. He is a 1967 graduate of Tecumseh High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society.)

MY HOPES FOR AMERICA'S FUTURE
By Cadet Richard W. Skinner

My hopes for America's future are wider than the eastern seaboard, longer than the Mississippi, higher than Mount McKinley, and deeper than the Pacific.

They are stronger than the granite of the Rockies, older than Plymouth Rock and shared by well over 200 million people. They are hopes for lasting peace, prosperity, and prominence.

They are segments of American thought, goals which have been obtained only after years of struggle, targets that are often shot at and missed by people less fortunate than Americans, gifts that have been taken for granted by others and lost in the dusts of crumbling civilizations.

What else have Americans to dream on? Little in respect to that which our ancestors had and that which is shared by the majority of the people on earth.

When once our parents hoped for personal freedoms — like freedom to worship, freedom to choose their leaders and to speak, freedom to produce and to sell, and freedom from tyranny and misjustice, modern America hopes for bigger cars, larger homes and longer vacations: small goals in consequence, though real goals, for unfortunately, modern Americans have fallen into the routine of have and have forgotten the have-not.

We sometimes forget and have indeed, little to remind us of the precarious position anything as fragile as freedom has in a world where choice is a costly possession. Yes, the modern American is born into a world where it is unnecessary to quest for freedoms, and we have lost perception of their importance.

I hope that man will strive to recover an understanding of his American heritage, a knowledge of the gifts he has already attained — that he will seek out his most valuable possessions and guard them, and fight for them, if necessary.

I hope that man will be willing to sacrifice lesser riches for those that he must maintain. If he is willing to recognize these trusts, to sustain the "American Dream" he won't have to worry about America's future, for it will be guided by the greatest pillars of civilization that man has known — the United States.

My hopes for America's future include a desire that modern man re-evaluate his position in society, that he reconsider his personal objectives and that he assert his goals for a greater and better America.

He has had the foundation of freedom laid for him. He has toiled on that block for over 190 years.

I hope that he will continue where others have slowed or stopped — he must take that responsibility.

Yes, my hopes for America's future are great — but they are not too great, they are certainly not new, but they will never be old.

They danced across a whole continent and into a vast ocean, they flow into the far north, they are realities and they are dreams — a hope for a bright tomorrow!

Larry Ivan in National Seminar

BRITTON — Larry Ivan was one of 29 participants in the 18-day Kellogg Farmers National Traveling Seminar. The trip included visits to Washington, D.C., northern Georgia, Monterrey, Mexico and southern Texas.

Some of the highlights of the Washington, D.C. visit for Larry were questions and answer sessions with Phil Campbell, under secretary of agriculture; Paul McCracken, chairman, council of economic advisors; John Hannah, administrator agency for international development and Robert Griffin, U.S. Senator.

Larry also had lunch with Representative Marvin Esch. Discussions were also held with lobbyists representing Farm Bureau, NFO, American Meat Institute, National Canners, Agriculture Chemicals and Farm Co-ops.

During the Georgia portion of trip the Atlanta Farm Market, the world's largest, was visited. Also, the operations of welfare programs such as Food Stamps, Manpower Retraining, Aid to Families with Dependent Children were studied in Macon and Milledgeville, Ga. An interesting discussion was held with high school students from Macon whose schools are forced to intergrate by March 31.

In Monterrey, Mexico, highlights included a bullfight, a tour of the city, visit to the Department of Information, Carter Blance Brewery, Monterrey Technical College, orange juice processing plant and orange growers.

The Texas tour included migrant labor recruitment and retraining programs in McAllen; visit to Rio Farms, a 26,000 acre irrigated citrus, cotton, sorghum and vegetable farm; tour of the 800,000 acre King Ranchers cattle operations and Jackson Counties rice growing operation.

While in Houston, tours of the Astrodome, NASA and the Houston Shipping Canal were conducted. Discussions were held with a grain exporter, banker, dairy farmer, extension agent and a dairy marketing expert.

Spanish Carnival Preparations Made

Students are setting up booths and decorating for the carnival which will be held April 9, 10, 11 in the old gym of the high school. Hours will be from 6 to 10 p.m., Thursday and Friday nights, and from 1 to 10 p.m., Saturday.

Sandy Mohn, senior, is chairman and Megan Feldkamp, junior, is co-chairman of the event, which is staged to raise funds to send the 11 members of the Senior Spanish Club to Mexico City for ten days, beginning June 30. Proceeds of the carnival are shared by four Spanish Clubs, in order that students in succeeding years may take similar trips.

The first carnival of its kind, staged at Clinton High School last spring, was extremely successful and raised over $1,710, which was divided between the three Spanish Clubs, existing then.

This year there are four high school Spanish Clubs to share in the proceeds, and the eighth grade Spanish Club is cooperating by having their own booth.

Mrs. John Tuesdale, Spanish teacher, is also assisting with the direction of the carnival.

This year's theme is all the Spanish speaking countries of Central and South America. More than 200 paper flags of those countries have been made by students to sell at the carnival.

Students have also fashioned 20 handsome Spanish costumes, consisting of ponchos, decorated pants or skirts to be worn at the carnival.

Another new feature will be the showing of old-time silent movies—classics featuring such stars as Charlie Chaplin and Rudolf Valentino.

There will be a pie-throwing contest and many games of skill.

Two or three youths who are skilled with scissors will be cutting silhouettes.

There will be door prizes each evening. Local merchants have been very generous with their donations of gifts, Mrs. Truesdale said.

A Mexican cafe will serve homemade tacos.

Art and Spanish classes have prepared murals of famous South American landscapes to decorate the walls. Art pictures will also be offered for sale.

Visitors may have their fortune told, enter a cake walk or have an opportunity to play Beat-the-Champ, (Carl Anderson) at ping-pong.

Friday's activities will feature a record dance.

—o—

Visitors Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Follis were Paul Schulz and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McLaughlin, Detroit.

3 FFA Members Receive Degrees

CLINTON — Charles Finkbeiner, Tom Moore and Jim Woodward were presented the State Farmer Degree at the 42nd Annual Michigan FFA Convention held last week at Michigan State University.

The degrees were conferred at the banquet Wednesday evening.

John Mullaly and Gary Kershner were the official delegates representing Clinton Chapter FFA at the convention.

The chapter recently sold ten of their feeder lambs that were purchased in February.

Elementary Adds School Round-Up

CLINTON — Kindergarten, Round-Up will be held at Clinton Elementary School all-purpose room at 7 p.m., April 13.

The program will include an introduction of the teachers and a summary of state health regulations by the school visiting nurse.

Children who are entering school may meet their teachers, see the classrooms and ride the school bus.

Parents are asked to bring the birth certificate of any child who is to be enrolled in kindergarten. Children must be five years old by Dec. 1, 1970, in order to enter kindergarten in September.

Goodwill Auction

An auction, mainly antiques and bric-a-brac, will be held Saturday, April 4, at 11 a.m., at Goodwill Industries plant at 600 E. Beecher St.

Mrs. John L. Brown and children, Cathy and Michael, of Palo Alto, Calif., are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Parker. Easter Sunday marked the 40th wedding of the Parkers and the family was all together for the occasion. Daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oliver and children, Shelley Lynn and Krista Kay, of Midland, and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parker and three children, Mark, Sandra and Ann, of Ann Arbor, were present.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vaughn, all of Tecumseh and Walter Hoenes.

Eight girls of the Five-A Sunday School class of Tecumseh Friends Church, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Dan Van-Valkenburg, enjoyed an Easter egg hunt and social afternoon, Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Donald Baker and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kiebler have returned from a two-week motor trip. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kemp at Lindale, Tex., and friends in Biloxi, Miss., then continued on to Florida for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stokes. They came home well-stocked with the usual fresh-picked strawberries, tomatoes and oranges. "Wonder why they taste so much better than those in the store?" Mrs. Kiebler pondered.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Manchester were in Warren Sunday to spend Easter with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGuire, and family. Grandson David came home with them to spend the week in Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilman and family of Sussex, Wis., visited for the weekend with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilman.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Brooks spent Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brooks. Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Ivah McCombs was a guest also. Iva Brooks and two classmates from Eastern Michigan University are spending the holiday week vacationing in Florida.

Mrs. John White has returned to her home after being hospitalized with a heart condition for several weeks at Bixby Hospital.

Mrs. Howard Hause observed her 95th birthday anniversary Thursday, at an open house attended by 30 friends and relatives. Son, Neil Hause, hosted the event and was assisted by the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ. There were several gift bouquets and humerous greeting cards to mark the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Artz spent the weekend visiting with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warzynski, at Dayton, O.

Petitions Available For School Board

CLINTON — Two four-year terms on the Board of Education of Clinton Community Schools are to be filled at the June 8 school election.

Terms of Donald Geiger and Lester Proctor are expiring.

Those who desire to place their name on the ballot must file nominating petitions signed by at least 25 electors of the school district. Each petition has place for 20 names and may be picked up at the Central Administration Office.

Through My Window

A DIFFERENT KIND OF WINDOW

A march through the most inaccessable section of the bookcases always unearths some surprising gems. It is so easy to forget old favorites — and such a joy when they are found. And I am a firm believer in rereading. It does not need to be a painstakingly word-for-word job, a careful skim-through will bring back pleasant memories and interesting facts.

A dark dreary day is ideal for this type of old-book thumbing through. 1952 edition of LITERARY AMERICA by David Sherman and Rosemarie Redlich found its way to my reading table on just such a day. It is a marvelous blending of pertinent black and white pictures and short biographical sketches of important American writers. My, how quickly one poses facts and history if they are not used all the time.

Do you remember that Captain John Smith did more than merely allow Pocahontas to save his life? He wrote the first book ever written in this country. The title is almost a book in itself too — A TRUE RELATION OF SUCH OCCURANCES AND ACCIDENTS OF NOTE AS HATH HAPPENED AT VIRGINIA. My! By the way, after her life saving mission, Pocahontas did not marry John Smith, you know; she married John Rolfe and lived a very unhappy life in England.

FOR THOSE who wonder what history has to offer us today and what could anyone writing in the eighteenth century possibly say that would be relevent to today's situation, I offer Tom Paine. One sentence from his THE CRISIS is very familiar, "These are the times that try men's souls." But, do you remember what follows next? "The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country." Is this not as appropriate now as it was during the Revolutionary War?

The two pages devoted to William Cullen Bryant were a nice surprise. There are so many writers, both poetry and prose, who spend whole careers describing the attraction which nature has for them. In six lines from INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE ENTRANCE TO A WOOD the whole thing is said. And surely today our world is more full of guilt and misery and it does not take long for each of us to have seen enough sorrows, crimes, and cares — this is when William Cullen Bryant offers the advice to "enter this wildwood and view the haunts of Nature . . ." And, of course, this outdoor writer of all time was Henry David Thoreau. In his day he bemoaned the fact that men live "lives of quiet desperation," where they have become "tools of their tools." What would he think of today's rat-race!

READING and traveling can work together, the latter produces memories and the former rekindles them. When Sherwood Anderson and his WINESBURG, OHIO came under discussion, they said that Winesburg was a composite of many small towns in Ohio but primarily Clyde.

That rang a bell because, how well I remember when, I as a very small girl, we used to take Auntie Dick to Clyde, Ohio, for homecoming. Such a long tedious ride it seemed and really, it isn't that far at all.

Another bell clanged when it was mentioned that Zane Grey, on his 1890 trip through the west, visited and discovered a wealth of material in Kanab, Utah.

We visited Kanab in June of 1965 and found a wealth of rain and snow. We were all much impressed by the town, in fact Dad still gets a far-away look when it is mentioned. Actually Kanab should love us too — the day and a half of rain and snow we gave them equaled their average for a whole year.

Trivia, the collecting of unastounding facts and figures, was a popular time-waster a while back and a book like this could well rejuvenate it. For example, UNCLE TOM'S CABIN was translated into 32 languages. And what must this have done to family relations, Harriet Beecher Stowe's Simon Legree was based on a New England kinsman. Hiawatha was a real live Indian too; Longfellow's epic is named for an Iroquois Chief who lived around 1570.

James Whitcomb Riley traveled with a medicine show and drummed up enthusiasm for its product by reciting dialect verse. In addition to writing RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE, which sold almost 2,000,000 copies, Zane Grey was also a dentist. But enough is enough, Marda.

SO IT IS that although usually these articles deal with the things I see through my glass windows, thank you for today letting me share a few of the things I just rediscovered through a different kind o f window.

Next week: NOISES

NEWSWORTHY — In their continuing search for news, reporters sometimes fail to notice a newsworthy story close to them. After sitting at his desk in The Herald office for four weeks, someone who felt newsworthy realized it was necessary to set his fellow reporters onto a news tip—himself. Most recent addition to The Herald staff is Tom Schultz of Adrian. He graduated from Adrian High School and received his BS degree in journalism and education at Central Michigan University in January. He married Delores Johnson Jan. 31, and they reside in Adrian where she is a dental assistant. While at the university, Tom had some experience on the campus publication, Central Michigan Life. He'll be doing editing and writing for The Herald. Tom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schultz, Adrian.

Easter Birthdays

This year, those people born on March 29 under the sign of Aries, had the good fortune of celebrating their birthdays on Easter.

Since this doesn't occur too often, an Easter birthday has a special meaning to it and the observance is remembered a little longer.

Some people believe that an Easter birthday gives extra cause to celebrate. Well, imagine the celebration which could have erupted if members of The Herald staff had held such a belief since two who work there were born on March 29.

Strangely enough, this remarkable circumstance might have gone unnoticed if Dorothy Grigg had not mentioned that Easter was Jim Lincoln's birthday. That remark was overheard by Tom Schultz who told the Heraldites that it was also his birthday.

How old is each? Well, Tom has seven more trusted years before he joins the over-30 crowd. If any stock can be put in that not trusting anyone over-30 statement, Jim, unfortunately, is not to be trusted. He says he's "39 and holding".

An Easter birthday should merit a special present. What did they want? Jim wanted a golf bag full of sunshine and warm weather and a promise that The Herald would still be at 117 S. Evans when he returns from his southern golf trip.

Tom was allowed only one birthday wish and decided to proportion it well. Since it was Easter, he asked for a bunny — a Playboy Bunny. Unfortunately, his wife decided that was one pet they didn't need around the house.

Smart Chick™ PANTY and HOSE

ONE SIZE FITS YOU

Look like panty hose . . . fit like panty hose . . . but they're better! So practical, too! Separate panty comes with 3 stockings in the package. If you get a run in only one, replace it with the spare! Additional pairs for replacements are only $1. SMART CHICK STOCKINGS are custom designed for garterless girdles and panty-'n-hose sets. They're made longer, to stay put . . . with a special top to eliminate bulges. All made of Downyloft 100% nylon fiber that shapes itself to your body the first time it's worn. Be a smart chick . . . buy SMART CHICKS . . . in fashion-right shades . . . sold only at Kroger.

INCOME TAX DEFEATED 1,119 to 190

Bilkie, Palmer, Whiting, McCombs Win City Posts

For the second straight year newcomers ousted incumbents. Harold Easton, mayor here for 10 years and a councilman for 12, was a surprising loser as was Dr. Carlton Cook, councilman for the past four years.

Larry Bilkie and Murray Palmer, residents of Tecumseh for only about five years and newcomers in city government, were easy winners with Bilkie recording 891 votes, and Palmer, 986.

Wallace Whiting, elected a year ago for the first time, was the only incumbent successful in winning re-election. He collected 839 votes.

George McCombs, former councilman with over 15 years experience and who was defeated in 1969 for re-election, tallied 755 votes. Dr. Cook received 722 votes and Mayor Easton, 592. Both had been top vote getters in the past and were expected to win again Monday.

An advisory vote on a proposed city income tax was trounced by nearly a six to one margin. Final tally was 1,119 to 190. On one machine in Precinct Three, the tax failed to gather a single vote.

The vote is expected to kill any plans of the local government to collect revenue through an income tax. Council had gone on record that it would abide by the vote of the citizens.

The tax and Council race attracted 1,327 voters to the polls, nearly twice as many as last year but far short of a 2,000-vote that was expected. Those balloting represented about 40% of the city's registered voters.

Speculation has now mounted as to the city's next mayor. Tecumseh's annual re-organizational meeting will be held next Monday night.

Council with any experience and possible mayor candidates are: Raymond Puffer, seven years on Council; William Holmes, three years; Mr. Whiting, one year; Dr. Carlos Knisley, one year; and Mr. McCombs, who has served on Council, off and on, since 1947.

Unofficial tabulation of Monday's vote is:

	Pct. 1	Pct. 2	Pct. 3	Total
Lawrence Bilkie	222	339	330	891
Murray Palmer	244	276	366	986
Wallace Whiting	239	293	307	839
George McCombs	182	281	292	755
Dr. Carlton Cook	175	282	265	722
Harold Easton	128	244	220	592

Propose Joint Disposal

The possibility of joint waste-water treatment with the village of Clinton was discussed at the Tecumseh City Council meeting Tuesday night.

An engineering report by Clinton on waste-water treatment presented two possibilities for the village. One is the conversion of their own plant to an aeration system and the other is treatment at the Tecumseh plant.

According to City Manager Calvin Zorn, treatment of Clinton's waste-water would cause no immediate burden on the Tecumseh plant. There has been discussion about increasing the size of the plant and this, as he said, may make expansion necessary at a sooner date.

In order to connect with Clinton, a gravity system, which would run along the river, has been proposed. Zorn said there would be no problem in running the gravity system all the way to Tecumseh without lifts being required.

He added that this system would open up a great deal of vacant property for sewage treatment.

A joint meeting between Tecumseh and Clinton officials has been tentatively scheduled for next Wednesday, April 15. Location of the meeting has not yet been determined, but will be set sometime early next week.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES BRANIGIN PHOTOGRAPHED RIOTS IN HER HOMELAND, IRELAND

Branigans Back From Ireland

Charles Branigin came home after six years in Ireland for the Ford Motor Co., and he brought his pretty Irish bride with him.

The typical Irish lass with dark hair and light complexion, is a native of Galway in the south of Erin and ironically enough, she was asked to fill in with the sound equipment as her husband filmed the recent riots in North Ireland, Protestant territory.

The pictures taken by Branigin of the trouble between the Catholics and the Protestants of that country were shown for nine straight nights on Walter Cronkite's CBS television broadcast.

After getting over her fear of the northerners, Martha discovered that people are people wherever they are and has followed six feet behind her husband and his camera since. Only once did she trip on the cable and sprawl headlong to her complete embarrassment. It was her husband, however, who was hit in the legs and had his glasses broken during the rock hurling.

"It's the communists who are causing the riots, we are sure of that," Mrs. B. stated as she told of spending a full five days in the fray with no sleep except what they could get sitting against a lamp post.

"A few educated ones start it and then the illiterate take it up. Many people were killed in Belfast," she continued.

They were married in Texas and have seen much of the west. This year they hope to see more of Michigan.

Mr. Branigin's daughter, Barbara, 18, goes to school in Tucson, Ariz., and plans to continue her education in journalism at the University of Denver.

Employed at the Rawsonville plant, Branigins worked with John Costello in Ireland before he returned here with his family a couple of years ago.

The Branigins are staying at the Harvey House while they wait for their furniture and to move into their farm home, one and one-half miles east of Britton.

It just may be that they will go back to camera and sound carrier work again to film the Edsel Rally here this summer.

Martha will like that and there won't be any stones to dodge this time. Times out will include quaffing her thirst with Guinnes stout, a black ale made of hops and barley and she warns that it must be served in a dry glass, else it loses it's verve.

Recently here someone made the error and she remonstrated, "You could get shot for that in Ireland."

City Atty. Is Named

Mr. Forsthoefel began practicing law here in the office of Mr. Beardsley in March, 1965. He moved from Adrian to Tecumseh the same year, coming from Adrian where he had lived for about 25 years.

Born in Springfield, Mass., he holds bachelor of arts degrees in both business administration and in law from the University of Toledo. He was admitted to practice in 1964.

The new city attorney and his wife have five children and are members of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Fire Dept. Offers First Aid Class

Sessions will begin April 20 at the Fire Station from 7 to 9 p.m. and continue each Monday night for six weeks.

Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge, Mahlon Sebring and James Forsyth will be the instructors, volunteering their services. Only cost for the adult class is $1 for a book and 25c for a triangular bandage.

"We feel that everyone should take at least a standard first aid course for their own protection and that of their family," Chief MacGeorge stated Tuesday.

For more information call the chief, 423-7101 or the fire station business phone, 423-4545.

Total Valuation Increases 35%

CLINTON — Total valuation of the Village of Clinton was announced at the meeting of the Village Council Wednesday of $15,002,402, which includes $5,746,422 in real and $9,275,960 in personal.

The 1969 total valuation was $11,737,800, thus reflecting a 35% increase this year of $3,264,602, largely in personal property increases due to additions to local industries.

Tax rate for the village for 1970 was set at six and one-half mills to be divided: village, .0058 and Community Center, .0007.

The newly-hired police service, provided by Frank Becker Police Agency, Britton, began 24-hour daily patrol in the Village April 1, and traffic ordinances will now be enforced and violators ticketed.

Chinchillas Lost in Fire

The fire, which practically gutted the building, was believed to have been started by an electrical short in the wiring.

The chinchillas, valued at about $150 each, were a breeding stock for the Master Chinchilla Breeders Association in the Michigan, Ohio and Indiana area.

Among the 50 pair lost in the fire were the base male and two base females, both of which were pregnant. Also lost were many babies. The Ruesinks had been breeding the animals for five years.

The building was partitioned into sections for the animals and was air-conditioned, but there was no heating.

Tecumseh Fire Department answered the alarm at 6:05 Sunday morning and called in the Clinton and Sand Lake Fire Departments. Firemen fought the blaze for approximately four-and-a-half hours.

Fire officials estimated the loss of the building at $6,000.

Mrs. Ruesink said it would be very difficult to place a value on the loss of the chinchillas. Fire officials estimated the loss at about $10,000.

New Speed Limit Is Set At 55 mph

A speed limit of 55 miles an hour will be established soon on about two miles of M-50, Chicago Blvd., in Lenawee County, between M-52 and the west limits of Tecumseh, the Department of State Highways said.

The speed limit was recommended by the Highway Department, State Police and the Lenawee County Sheriff's Department following a survey of residential and commercial development in the area.

Other speed limits in the city will not be changed.

The speed limit is authorized in a traffic control order signed by Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, and Col. Fredrick E. Davids, state police director. It will be enforced as soon as signs are posted.

Appoint 2 On Board of Appeals

Rev. Blair Bashore and Dr. Harry Currier were appointed to the Board of Appeals at the City Council meeting Tuesday night.

They will fill the unexpired terms of John R. Thompson and Dr. Richard Coak who recently resigned. The terms run until August, 1971.

Council also re-appointed Raymond Puffer to the Parks and Recreation Board.

Approval was given for an engineering survey of the land between Dinius and Russell Roads and the Cook Drain for the possibility of sanitary sewer extension into that area.

An ordinance amendment, number 5.211, was passed which prohibits the use and installation of aluminum wire in any building or dwelling within the city limits.

DEATH HOUSE FOR LOCAL MAN is being torn down. A rooming house at 121 S. Ottawa St., scene of a fire in January which claimed the life of one boarder, George Ward, is being torn down. The fire, which practically gutted the main section and caused extensive damage to a wing of the building, was fought by the Tecumseh and Clinton Fire Departments. Harvey Wilson, owner of the property, said no plans have been made at this time for use of the land.

Chocolate Drop Cookies

½ c. butter	1 c. sugar
1 egg	4 tbsp. milk
½ tsp. vanilla	½ tsp. salt
1½ cups flour	2 tsp. baking powder
¾ c. cocoa

Cream butter, sugar, add beaten egg and milk. Sift together all dry ingredients and add to creamed ingredients. Drop by tsp. and bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 12 minutes.

The Rev. Harold Speer did a double take and then being a man of quick decisions decided to "use it anyway." When he was phoned to determine what the sermon topic for sunrise service Sunday would be, he said, "Let's call it 'The Living Christ'." He was somewhat surprised to see on the Methodist Church bulletin board, "Let's Call Up The Living Christ."

Members of the Class of 1960 of THS are seeking pictures of the Classes of 1920 and 1945 to be used in honoring those groups at the alumni banquet June 27. Nurse Week Is Planned

"Michigan Nurse Week" has been officially designated April 12-18 by Mayor Harold Eagon. His proclamation calls upon citizens of the community to "recognize the contribution of nurses to the mental, physical and social environment of our state."

Mayor Easton's proclamation stated that nurses are committed to the reversal of pollution which threatens the health and welfare of citizens.

He stated that, "Tecumseh is proud of these men and women whose action continues to uphold the high standards of the nursing profession."

The Mayor's concluding remarks emphasized the need to encourage youth to enter the nursing profession through which they may fulfill their commitment to the health and welfare of society.

Michigan Nurse Week is an annual event sponsored by the Michigan Nurses' Association, the Michigan Licensed Practical Nurses' Association and the Psychiatric Attendant Nurses' Association of Michigan.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHY DON'T SAVED PEOPLE KEEP STILL?

Good news is hard to stifle. We are eager to share bargain news, bonanza boys and recent incidents. No one would want to stop the spreading of these things. The news of Salvation bothers us. It disturbs our peace. Could it be "I need to be saved?" Am I going to Heaven? Have I obeyed God? It is easier to seek to stop the spreading of Gospel tidings than to go through self-examination.

Real Saved, Born-again people cannot keep it quiet. One evidence in the Bible of God working in persons' life was that they immediately began to tell it. In Acts 4 Peter and John were instructed not to talk about Jesus. Peter said in verse 20 we have to speak about these things.

One reason we have to talk is that something good and great has happened to us. We have been saved, forgiven and assured of Heaven. That is Good News. Best of all it is free.

Another reason is Jesus told us to talk. In Acts 1:8 He told us to witness. In Matthew 28:18-20 we are told to go and tell everywhere. He said so — that is why.

Have YOU heard the Good News? John 3:16.

Parachute Meet Here

Parachuting Service of Tecumseh will host the 1970 Mid-Eastern Conference Meet, May 2 and 3.

Forty of the outstanding male and female jumpers of Michigan and Ohio will be competing. After eliminations approximately 15 of the competitors will attend the National Parachuting Championship in Plattsburg, N. Y., at the end of June.

Sauve is the most prolific jumper in Michigan with over 2,000 jumps. He was the State Champion for four years and a member of the 1968 United States Parachuting Team that competed in Austria at the World Parachuting Meet.

Other top jumpers who will be competing in the Conference Meet are Gerald Marklin of Detroit and Jim Kunard of Jackson.

Susie Neuman, the best woman jumper in Michigan, was a member of the 1969 United States Parachuting Team which competed in the Asiatic Cup Meet in Yugoslavia last summer.

These four jumpers have over 5,000 jumps among them.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing to you in regard to an antique that the "city of Tecumseh" owns. It is used by the fire department to protect the property of people in the rural Tecumseh area.

I am speaking of Tecumseh's antiquated No. 2 or the tanker. When it was new and Tecumseh was only a village it was quite a modern piece of equipment. Now it has a little age on it and needs a rest (only 20-years old).

The rural area that the Tecumseh Fire Department serves has grown over the years. It serves City of Tecumseh, Tecumseh Twp., parts of Franklin Twp., Raisin Twp., and part of Macon Twp. They also have mutual aid with Village of Clinton, Britton and Raisin Twp.

As the area has grown so has the Fire Department. They have two modern pumpers (one city and one rural), one reserve pumper, an emergency station wagon and an antique rural water truck. The men of this department are highly trained and are the best.

Now why must a modern and highly trained department as this be hindered on rural runs with an antiquated truck as this? It is old, small, slow and clumsy.

The answer is that they shouldn't be hindered. Anyone who has seen this "old girl" in action will know what I mean.

In the past the men of the department have asked the City Council for funds for a new truck and have been met with a deaf ear. Now I think the City Council should have second thoughts.

We in the rural Tecumseh area need and deserve a new rural tanker added to the fire department that protects our property.

What about it Council? Don't we and the department deserve better?

Sincerely,
Larrie Lynn Eaton
R. 2, Tecumseh, Michigan

TO THE EDITOR:

In response to the comment made by Mrs. George Bancroft concerning Clinton's School Board's most recent blunder, let us not deny that even the elected can act without thinking.

While it is quite true that the school board members are the elected representatives of the local populace — they sometimes neglect to reflect the voters' wishes and rather, reflect their own.

When that occurs, it is the responsibility of every voter to demand that their wishes are expressed — and accurately!

It is encouraging to know that enough people understand the difference beteween democratic representation and autocrtic control.

Township Meeting

Annual meeting of Franklin Township was held Saturday, April 4 in the Township Hall.

Minutes of last year's meeting were approved as was the township financial statement. Richard Platt, township supervisor, gave a detailed report of the year's activities.

A budget of $43,000 was approved unanimously by a group of 70 people. The Township Board salaries were adjusted to $3,500 for the supervisor, $1,800 for the treasurer, $1,600 for the clerk and $400 for each trustee.

The supervisor appointed a committee to plan a Decoration Day program with $100 appropriated for this purpose. Committee members are Rev. Max Bailey, Richard Gentz, Mrs. Guy Hoover, Mrs. Eileen Mukensturm and Lowell Selders.

It was voted to have next year's budget printed in the paper two weeks prior to the annual meeting, and to have the minutes of all the regular meetings published in the paper.

A discussion was held on the level of Evans Lake.

Impala '400' Sale.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

Then we add our big 400-cubic-inch V8 at 265 hp that runs on regular gas, along with dual exhausts—both at no charge. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

And the Impala you're buying, of course, got to be America's No. 1 car, because of all the value features built right in. Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value, too.

How can you beat that?

"ANOTHER FINE KAYSER ROTH PRODUCT"

First came stockings.
Then came Panty Hose.
Now HIP-POSE stockings.

Here's the ultimate kind of stay-up stocking, rising high on the thigh. The special stay-up top is so scrupulous it won't allow a wrinkle or sag to develop. And HIP-POSE won't ride down.

You get all the beauty of a panty hose and none of the problems. It's more economical. Now you don't throw out a pair if one leg runs. And we've taken the panty away. Now you have the choice again to wear whatever you'd like.

Wouldn't you know we'd come up with the newest? $1.75 a pair.

It has been said, "When the cat's away, the mice will play." 'Taint so.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Puffer of Albuquerque, N. M., are parents of a little boy, Theodore Karl, born Sunday in Bataan Hospital. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Puffer, look forward to a future visit there to see their grandson and his sister, Faith Anne, nearly two years old.

"Dode's cooking helps," said John Surratt Tuesday as we called to find out how he is feeling. Mr. Surratt experienced a violent reaction to the 5th and spent a 10-day siesta in Herrick Hospital. He hopes to go back to work part time Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bishop were home from Alma over the week-end and little Holly was dedicated by the Rev. Blair Bashore during morning worship at First Baptist Church Sunday. Grandma Ruth Bishop was invited to stand with her son and his family during the ceremony. Congratulations, all.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cheever and son, Michael, returned Monday after a 10-day trip to Scottsdale, Ariz., where they visited her brother, Dr. Lee Clark. They visited the Grand Canyon and other points of interest.

"Lamms do not live here anymore," said Mrs. Richard Heglin Wednesday as we called last week at the home of 1103 N. River Acres Dr. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lamm moved Tuesday and are in Florida and the Heglins, with Kate, 9, and Andrew, 5, from Grosse Pointe, moved in the following day. Mr. Heglin has been employed as an engineer for about two weeks at Tecumseh Products Co. Mrs. Heglin is a former high school English teacher. She and her family are avid boaters, swimmers and golfers.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring entertained at a family birthday dinner, honoring their son, Guy, on his 17th birthday anniversary, Sunday. Home for the occasion were daughters, Emily, from Michigan State University, son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Manwaring and Stephanie, Livonia. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Manwaring were supper guests.

Mr. and Mrs. John Selders, accompanied by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Darby Cramer, Moore Rd., Adrian, have returned from bit of a jaunt. They spent two weeks in Florida, then another two weeks in Texas and Denver, Colo. They were up in ski country in the Colorado mountains when a snow storm clogged the roads for a short time.

RDSA A. Dean Gittings is spending a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Gittings, 804 Shady Lane, following training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Ill. Monday he will leave for Florida and a cruise to the Caribbean and the Mediterranean.

Eastern Star Holds Memorial Service

A memorial service was held by the Eastern Star Thursday evening for the late Richard J. Brown, past grand patron, and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant who were victims of a tragic accident March 20, and other members deceased during the year.

Mrs. Dean Moore, Mrs. Fred Dickinson, Mrs. Wilmer Kiser, Mrs. Donald LaBounty, and Mrs. Hamilton Moore presented the service, Dean Moore draping the charter.

Mrs. Nan Busato, grand representative of Kansas in Michigan and historian of Lenawee-Monroe Association, and Mrs. Calvin Dixon, assisting marshal, were welcomed.

Messages were read from the worthy grand matron and the grand secretary on the coming grand chapter session, notice of the spring Lenawee-Monroe Association meeting to be held in Sand Creek, April 18, with practice to be held in Tecumseh April 9, at 7 p.m. Invitations to Friendship Nights at Samaria, April 13; Onsted, April 14; and Addison, April 22 and a dinner and reception honoring Harriet Suring, chairman of the Villa Committee at Cement City.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stotler and Raymond Nichols were presented with their proficiency cards by Mrs. Moore. Ten members will furnish baked goods April 18 for the Hyder Fund at the Herrick Park Branch of the United Savings Bank.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, decorated in the spring theme by Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Hamilton Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Stotler. The next meeting will be May. 7 and will honor mothers.

Round Top Club Holds Spring Fete

Wilford Tucker gave a report of the teen and adult leaders banquet in Blissfield.

Members voted to have a roadside spring clean-up as a community project. Plans were made for the horse sale dinner at the fairgrounds.

Summer projects were discussed and registrations made. Clothing members modeled the garments they have been working on and knitting members demonstrated and displayed their projects.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bater.

Doug Hintz Feted At Surprise Party

BRITTON — Mrs. Douglas Hintz of Welch Rd. had a group of friends and neighbors at their home Saturday evening for the surprise 39th birthday anniversary of her husband, Douglas.

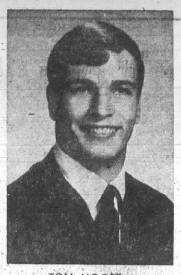
CHARLES FINKBEINER

JIM WOODWARD



TOM MOORE

Earn State Farmer Degrees

CLINTON — Three members of the Clinton Chapter FFA received State Farmer degrees at the Michigan FFA Convention, held during Farmers Week at Michigan State University.

Charles Finkbeiner is the chapter president. He raises registered Hampshire swine. He was chosen to play with the National FFA Band in 1969. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Finkbeiner.

Jim Woodward has a steer-feeding project and crop farms with his father. He was presented the State FFA Outstanding Scholastic Achievement award recently. He plans to study agricultural engineering at MSU. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Woodward.

Tom Moore is the chapter treasurer. His sheep enterprise includes raising, buying and selling them and custom shearing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore.

President Re-elected

Other officers elected are Mrs. Walter LaSovage, vice-president; Paul McKenna, secretary; and Mrs. Mary Hull, treasurer.

Announcement was made that terms have expired of three board members, Mrs. Nick Karapas, John Truesdale and Steve Sarvan. Vacancies are to be filled at the May 25 meeting.

Three board members who are filling vacancies, Mrs. Hull, Mrs. William Kroger and Mrs. LaSovage agreed to continue to serve on the board.

Mrs. Elvin Witherell was named chairman of the 1971 Fund Drive and she will be assisted by Mrs. Hull.

Announcement was made of the United Budget Conference, May 5-6, and the program planning institute in Detroit May 6. Several board members plan to attend the meeting in Detroit.

Letters of appreciation were read from several organizations and individuals for help they had received from the fund.

Chapter Hears Howard Heath

Mr. Heath developed his talk around the FFA motto—"Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve." He related how his experiences in FFA and subsequent opportunities had offered him the privilege to be of service to agriculture.

He urged the young people to "seek every avenue still available for education—be informed, and keep your ideals."

Slides were shown of the Meremac Caverns, Mo., which were a part of the tour taken by FFA members who attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City last fall. Charles gave a resume of that trip.

John Mullaly, vice-president, reported on the recent State FFA Convention, and the awards presented there. The local chapter earned a gold award for their educational exhibit, prepared for last year's state fair. Proficiency awards were presented to Steve Shelley for public speaking, and to Tom Moore for his livestock enterprise. Chapter advisor John Jansen was presented an honorary State Farmer Degree.

Presentation was made of the following chapter awards:

Star Chapter Farmer — Steve Shelley.

Star Green Hand — John Vincent.

Chapter Sweetheart — Sherry Richardson.

Past officers pins were presented.

New officers who will assume office next fall are:

President — John Mullaly.

Vice-president — Steve Shelley.

Treasurer — Gary Kershner.

Reporter — Terry Calhoun.

Sentinel — John Everett.

JERRY FREEBURN, MANAGER AND RICHARD BRONIMAN, OWNER

Broniman Buys Shamrock Egg

CLINTON — Shamrock Egg Co., located on US-12 two miles west of the village, was sold in January by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Freeburn to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Broniman.

Formerly of Detroit, the Bronimans moved into Mrs. Lester Pierce's house at 113 E. Church St. this weekend.

The Freeburns purchased the Shamrock Egg Co. in 1955 and had enlarged the wholesale and retail egg business, adding two completely automated laying houses, which accommodates 27,001 hens at present.

Son, Jerry Freeburn, will remain as manager of the egg business, where he has had nearly 16 years' experience. He is a graduate of Clinton High School and resides in Clinton with his wife, Marianne, and two children.

Mr. Broniman has a BA from Wayne State University and was a journeyman pattern maker for 33 years, and taught patternmaking and foundry practice for the Detroit Board of Education for nine years.

He had several years' experience as a youth on the family poultry farm in Ohio.

His wife, Irma, will be associated in the business. She was community liaison officer with the Amelia Earhart Junior High School, Detroit, working with problem children. Prior to that she was editor of technical publications for the U. S. Corps of Engineers for 15 years.

Shamrock Egg Co. employs six full-time and three part-time employees.

Besides eggs, the retail outlet handles some staple foods and fresh garden produce in season. The services to customers will continue as in the past, Mr. Broniman said.

What has become of the idea that everyone should be temperate in everything?

Class Hears Spring Poems

CLINTON — Poems of springtime by Clara Waldron, Tecumseh's historian, were read from her recently published book, "Lines That Rhyme," by Mrs. Harold Calhoun at the meeting of the Mary Martha Class Monday evening.

Mrs. Howard Hintz hosted the meeting.

Mrs. Maxwell Stamats presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Donald Corwin.

Food was solicited for the Father-Son banquet to be served April 18. Committee in charge includes Mrs. Corwin, Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mrs. Stamats and Mrs. Calhoun.

Mrs. Charles Steffens was named to arrange the program for the Mother-Daughter banquet, May 9.

Freeburns Join Real Estate Firm

They are now licensed to sell real estate and will be associated with Bob Goedert, Realtor at the Pearl St. office in Tecumseh, and will handle Clinton and Tecumseh properties.

The Freeburns reside on a farm at 12300 N. Adrian Hwy.

Mrs. Charles Sturm returned home Friday from Saline Community Hospital where she was a surgery patient for three weeks.

Clinton Chatter

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson have returned home after spending the past three months in Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. Wilson reports it was beautiful weather there all winter, in the near 80's with no snow until just before they headed home. He has a nice sun tan to prove it.

Miss Beal Feted At Bridal Shower

CLINTON — Bride-elect Barbara Beal was guest of honor at a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Clark, Macon. Another aunt, Mrs. Bernard Tucker was a co-hostess

Attending were 26 relatives and friends from Sand Creek and Tecumseh. Among the guests were Mrs. Richard Beal, Clinton-Manchester Rd., mother of the bride-to-be, and grandmother, Mrs. Edgar Clark, Macon, and Mrs. Harry Withrow, Sr., of Tipton, mother of Miss Beal's fiance, Fred Withrow.

Miss Beal and Mr. Withrow will be married May 2 in the Macon Unted Methodist Church.

Melissa Mattis Tapped By Board

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Meryal Mattis were in Kalamazoo Sunday evening to attend an initiation and dinner at Western Michigan University for their daughter Melissa.

Melissa was initiated into Mortar Board, senior honor society for women. Selection is made on the basis of high standard of scholarship, leadership and service to the university.

There were three professors and 22 students tapped for the honor, the highest which a woman can achieve at any university.

Adult Class Holds Party

BRITTON — The Adult Class of the Bethel Church Sunday School held a party at the church Friday evening.

Soap bubble race, necktie relay, paper sculpturing, Bible vocabulary and occupations were some of the games played under the direction of Mrs. Robert Hunt.

A golf game using lemons and broom handles was won by Mrs. Walter Stutesman who managed to put the lemon in the dinner plate in three strokes.

A game of humility, which started at the beginnng of the evening with each one receiving a ribbon and instructed not to use "I" at any time during the evening, was won by Judy Maschino. Having collected the most ribbons, she received a wall plaque and was dubbed the most humble person present. Her husband remarked she won because she kept her mouth closed for a change.

The group joined in singing choruses led by Howard Bishop who had charge of devotions.

Sloppy Joes, potato chips, relishes, Jello and cake were served by Mrs. Jack Hintz, Mrs. Bernard Bishop, Mrs. Howard Bishop and Mrs. Loren Gall to the 31 adults present.

Scout News

BRITTON—Wednesday night, April 1, the Boy Scouts of Troop 23 held ther second night of disaster training. After their training these boys will be able to help when needed by the local officials.

Saturday, April 4, the Britton Boy Scouts toured the Air Force Museum at Wright Patterson Army Air Force Base. That night they stayed at the Cricket Hollow Scout Camp at Dayton, Ohio. They returned home Sunday afternoon. The boys were accompanied by Mr. Tom Judkins, Mr. Wayne Dunbar and Scoutmaster Neal Judkins.

Following awards were presented at Cub Scout Pack 23 meeting: Terry Gibbs, bear badge, gold and silver arrow; Scott Niblack, bear badge, gold and silver arrow; Terry Benedict, wolf badge, gold arrow and bear book; Larry Lorenz, athlete badge. Three boys were received into the Webelos, Richie Bruce, Scott Niblack and Terry Gibbs.

Plans were made for a bicycle ride for the Webelos and a bake sale April 11 at 10 a.m. at Sharon's Flower Shop by the Cub Scouts.

The next Pack meeting will be held April 27 at the Methodist Church in Ridgeway.

Prom Theme Is 'Night To Remember'

BRITTON — It's that exciting time of the school year again when the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom is near, Saturday, April 18.

Preceding the dance the annual Junior-Senior Banquet will be held in the Britton school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. for the junior and senior members plus the members of the faculty and school board who are invited to attend this social event of the school year.

Following the banquet a dance will be held at the Siena Heights Ballroom in Adrian from 9 to 12 p.m. The theme for this year's prom will be "A Night to Remember."

Miss Lazaro Will Speak

BRITTON — The Congregational Christian Church will have Louise Lazaro as guest speaker next Sunday morning, April 12. Miss Lazaro will tell of work projects with teen and college age youth in France where she has been with the Evangelical Alliance Mission since 1956. She will also take part in the Sunday School session. The service begins at 10 a.m. and Sunday School at 11 a.m.

Camp Fire Girls — Guests At Farms

BRITTON — The Fifth Grade Camp Fire Girls were the guests of Bo-Mar Farms last week. They watched a sheep shearing demonstration put on by Ken Bortel. Mr. Bortel told the girls many facts about sheep shearing and wool.

Also, one of the girls, Tracy Benedict, brought along a special guest, "Sissy," her sister's ewe. Tracy thought this would be a good time to have Sissy's hair styled for spring.

ODE TO A WONDERFUL WIFE

Dedicated to my wonderful wife, Lillian, after 40 years of happy married life.

April 12 was that fateful day
When two people went forth to say
I do; I will. She was so sturdy.
In the year of our Lord, 1930.

We started out small, not knowing the ways
Of a wondrous world in those earlier days.
A depression was on us and all of our dreams
Seemed to form then fell apart at the seams.

The days were cold and the nights long.
Our steps were light; in our hearts a song.
Dollars were scarce, and food was the same,
Lady Fortune smiled, but was a fickle dame.

At four in the morning in that cold December
A cry from an infant, well I remember.
'Twas the start of a trip down a memorable trail,
We had charted our course, so we had to set sail.

We were blessed with ten from this humble start.
Over the years, we have done our part.
Filling many a niche and many a station,
Scattered all over the state and nation.

From here it's not going to take concentration
To help increase the size of this great nation.
After forty years of wedded bliss,
Who would ever think it would come to this?

William H. Schooley

Mid all the traffic of the ways
Turmoil without, within.
Make in my heart a quiet place
And come and dwell therein.
A little place of mystic grace
Of sin and self swept bare.
Where I may look into Thy face
And talk with Thee in prayer.
The family of Nina and Dewey Sturtevant wish to express our sincere thanks for all the acts of kindness and sympathy shown us by our neighbors, friends and relatives since the tragic accident of our parents and grandparents.
God does not count our prayers; he weighs them.
Thelma Frayer and family. 4—9p

I wish to thank all my friends, neighbors and relatives for the many cards and lovely flowers they sent me during my stay at St. Joseph Hospital. Many thanks, also to all who offered and gave my wife transportation for her visits to see me. A special thanks to the Rev. Edwin Mueckler for his visits and comforting words.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

Behind the Counter Fake Food Folklore

Have you always known that milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits? That you feed a cold and starve a fever? That whisky with aspirin is a good remedy for a cold? That premature baldness is caused by wearing a hat? That if an expectant mother holds her weight down, the size of the baby will be reduced? That red meat and alcohol are bad for persons with high blood pressure?

Sorry, but every one of those "beliefs" is incorrect. They are part of the medical folklore that has been disproved as we learn more about the human body and the illnesses that plague it. However, they have been repeated so many times, they are often accepted without question.

According to "Today's Health Guide," published by the American Medical Association, fish doesn't increase your brain power; beets don't "build blood" and parsnips don't "cleanse the kidneys." Sour foods can't cure diabetes, eating warm bread doesn't lead to a stroke, and ice water doesn't cause heart trouble. Despite what you may have been told, arthritis isn't helped by grape juice, honey, dried poke berries, carrot juice or tomatoes.

But there is one piece of advice that still makes sense: treat your body with respect and intelligence. See your doctor regularly and follow his advice. Don't ignore the symptoms of pain or bleeding (the body's way of warning you that something's wrong) in the hope that they'll go away. Good health is still a matter of good common sense.

● DANIEL J. AUSTIN

Services were held Saturday at Dunn Funeral Home for Daniel J. Austin, 77, of Occidental Rd. who died at 5:30 a.m. Thursday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for four days.

He had been in failing health for five years.

Mr. Austin was a retired carpenter. He had lived in the Tecumseh area since 1932, and at the Occidental Highway address since 1948.

He was a member of the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Born Dec. 22, 1892, in Monroe County, he married the former Chloie Burkholder in 1916. She survives with two daughters, Ruth Ann at home and Mrs. Alfred (Dorothy) Bird of Marion, O.; two sons, Gail of Tecumseh and Charles of Ford City, Pa.; seven grandchilden and two great-grandchildren.

Four brothers and a sister also survive.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated and burial was in Ridgeway Cemetery.

● J. FLORENCE MURRAY

Services were held Saturday in Washington, D.C. with burial Monday at Brookside Cemetery for J. Florence Murray, 82, who died Thursday in the nation's capital.

She was a retired English teacher in District of Columbia Public School

● EDWIN J. LOWRY

Services were held Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at Oakwood Cemetery, Adrian, for Edwin J. Lowry, 85, of 312 N. Union St. who died Thursday at Herrick Memorial Hospital after an illness of three weeks.

He had been in failing health for three years.

Mr. Lowry attended Detroit Business College and for many years, was owner-operator of Lowry's Grocery Store, retiring in 1940. The store was located in the center of the north west business block.

He was born Dec. 15, 1884, in Tecumseh. On Aug. 29, 1908, he married the former Shirley Bowen, who survives.

A sister also survives, Mrs. Julia Temple of Detroit.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated and arrangements were made by the Dunn Funeral Home.

● MRS. RALPH HODGES

Funeral Mass was read Monday at St. Elizabeth Church for Mrs. Ralph Hodges, 55, 125 Park St., who died Friday at 1:10 a.m., at Metropolitan Hospital in Windsor, Canada.

Mrs. Hodges and her daughter, Nancy, had arrived at the Windsor airport, just returning from a European trip over the Easter holiday.

Born April 6, 1914, in Big Rapids, she married Ralph E. Hodges July 10, 1943. Mr. Hodges operated a pharmacy here for many years. Bill Holmes purchased it early in 1966 after Mr. Hodges' death in October of 1965.

Mrs. Hodges had worked at one time for the Hillsdale Machine & Tool Co. She came to Tecumseh in 1934.

She later was employed as a secretary for Tresco. For the last several years she was secretary for St. Elizabeth Catholic rectory.

Mrs. Hodges was a member of St. Elizabeth Church, a member of the Altar Society of the church and the Herrick Hospital Auxiliary.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Ray (Virginia Ann) Miller of Owosso, Mrs. Clyde J. (Kathleen Sue) Locker of Tecumseh, Nancy Hodges, at home and four grandchildren.

The Rev. Robert Hardley officiated and burial was in Lenawee Hills Memorial Gardens. Rosary was recited Sunday evening at Proctor Funeral Home.

● SAMUEL L. LAWRENCE

Services were held Tuesday at Dunn Funeral Home for Samuel L. Lawrence, 37, of 709 N. Evans St., who died Friday at 4:07 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was admitted earlier in the day.

Mr. Lawrence was stricken while working on a leak in a water line at the corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Van Buren St.

He has been employed in the Highway and Water Departments for the city since Dec. 1, 1950.

Born Jan. 13, 1913, in Jonesville, he married Doris Wood in North Adams Aug. 17, 1940. She survives.

He served in the Armed Forces in World War II and had lived in Tecumseh for 28 years.

Mr. Lawrence is also survived by a brother, William, of San Diego, Calif. and a sister, Mrs. W. B. (Anna) Grimes, of Kalamazoo.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● MRS. JOSE R. DeLEON

Services were held Monday at St. Elizabeth Church for Mrs. Jose R. (Margarita M.) DeLeon, 76, of 5647 Pocklington Pc., who died Friday at 3:45 a.m.

She had been admitted two days earlier after eight years of failing health.

Mrs. DeLeon was born June 13, 1893, in Tusban Malorit, Mex.

She was married June 20, 1920, in Texas to Jose DeLeon, who survives.

She was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and belonged to the Society of Our Lady of Guadalupe and the Sacred Heart Society in Texas.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by one son, Jesus of 5647 Pocklington Road; one daughter, Mrs. Jesus (Rose) Espianoza of Clinton; one brother, Felipe Castorena of Tecumseh; one sister, Mrs. Rafael (Nicolasa) Sandoval; and seven grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by one brother and one sister.

The Rev. Fr. Robert Handley officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

The Rosary was recited Sunday evening at Proctor Funeral Home.

WANTED: A DECLARATION

The war in Vietnam rages on. The Selective Service continues to pick its way through the 366 numbers in the lottery. Young men everyday receive their notice of induction into the Armed Forces and everyday young men are forced to make what could be the most important decision of their lives.

The choices, unfortunately, are few. They can accept the induction, willingly or with reservations, refuse it and face a prison term, or leave the country. An increasing number of young men are choosing this alternative.

The war continues to fall from the public's favor. How can a war continue so long with no end in sight? The only developments seen are the outbreaks in Cambodia and Laos.

Two developments have come to my attention in the past week which might have far-reaching effects on the war. These are the Vietnam Bill and a student, Charles Muncaster.

Francis Sargent, governor of Massachusetts, has signed a bill to test the legality of the Vietnam War. Effective immediately, the bill asks if a citizen of Massachusetts should have to fight in a war which Congress has never declared.

Gov. Sargent, in reply to that disturbing question, said, "I don't know, but America should know."

A special amendment was added to the bill to get it into effect immediately. Usually 90 days have to elapse before the bill would become effective.

The United States Supreme Court will now have to rule on the legality of the bill and by doing so, will also be ruling on the legality of the war.

The question of legality brings up the case of Charles Muncaster. He is a member of the National Youth Alliance and a student at Auburn University in Alabama.

Muncaster has refused induction into the Armed Forces because he says it is an undeclared war. In an open letter in Action Newsletter, February, 1970, he says, "I am not refusing LAWFUL INDUCTION into the Armed Forces of the United States."

The point in question is this—Congress has never officially declared war. We are fighting an undeclared war. We are sacrificing the lives of American men in an undeclared war.

Muncaster lists 13 charges against the draft, one of which is: ". . . it makes the 'draftee' a principal in premeditated killing by the United Nations without a lawful declaration of war by the Congress."

The killings at Mal Lai provide a good example of this. Even though the act was wrong, should we punish only those who pulled the triggers, or should we also punish those who put those men in Vietnam in the first place? Mass murder in an unedclared war, what a strange paradox it makes.

Muncaster is opposed to the fact that the war is undeclared and therefore being waged illegally. He concluded by saying, "I hereby volunteer to serve in the Armed Forces of my country whenever the Congress of the United States declares war."

One man opposing the fact the war is undeclared and one state testing the legality of it. A beginning, but others are needed to raise their voices and express their opinions.

The question is not whether you support the war or not, it's should young men, perhaps your own son, die in a war which has not even been declared by Congress?

Write your congressmen, let's force Congress to finally make its position known and OFFICIAL.

On the CBS Sunday Evening News two weeks ago, a correspondent was interviewing soldiers who had just arrived at a fire base in Vietnam. He asked them why they were there.

One soldier said he didn't know why. He also said that he had broken up with his girl friend before coming to Vietnam because he expected to die there. He expected to die there.

We are sending men to Cietnam expecting to die in a war which our elected officials have not even declared.

Those who oppose the war DECLARE their stand and reasons and are sent to prison. Fair?

Mrs. Rogers Talks About Goodwill

Mrs. W. P. Rogers, past president of Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on Goodwill Industries at the Monday Club meeting March 30 at the Youth House.

She told of the needs of Goodwill since they have acquired another building and that 42 people have been placed in industry through Goodwill.

The Auxiliary to Goodwill is seeking new members.

Mrs. Fay Whelan spoke informally on international affairs and domestic issues.

Mrs. Ralph Comfort gave devotions entitled "If Easter Be Not True," by Henry Barstow.

President Mrs. Cecile Smith introduced Mrs. Rogers. Announcement was made of the spring luncheon to be held April 13 at 1 p.m., in the Youth House when the Rev. Frank Hawthorne will speak on "Sojourn In England".

Members will be called for reservations. Guests are welcome.

Hostesses were Mrs. James Tonneberger, Mrs. J. W. Meadows and Mrs. Donald LaBounty.

Catherine King and Jerry Ehlert Wed

Catherine Marie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. King of Toledo and Jerry Allen Ehlert, son of the late Lorenz K. Ehlert and Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge of 216 Park St. were married April 4 at St. Patrick of Heatherdown Catholic Church in Toledo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of silk organza with A-line skirt and chapel train. Alencon lace appliques with pearl and crystal beading accented the high banded neckline, sleeves, waist and skirt.

Her bouffant veil was secured to a petal cluster of lace and organza and she carried a large cascade of white eucharist lilies.

Elizabeth Stiff of Toledo was maid of honor and the bride's sister, Mrs. Paul F. Smith was matron of honor. Kathleen Murphy, cousin of the bride of Cleveland, Ohio, was bridesmaid along with Wendy D. Ehlert and Mrs. Thomas Thornton of Davenport, Iowa.

The attendants were gowned in sheer yellow nylon striped, with tiny white velveteen flowers over yellow taffeta. The dresses were floor length in empire style with puffed sleeves.

Marvin Sharrock of Deerfield served as best man and 150 guests were seated by Kenneth Reau, Adrian, David Wolfe and M. Lee Curtis, both of Toledo, and Kenneth Griffith of Deerfield.

The bride is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy and Northwestern Ohio Practical Nursing Center and attended the University of Toledo.

Her husband is a graduate of Deerfield High School, attended University of Toledo and Florida State University and is employed as architectural draftsman in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at Billyle Supper Club in Toledo.

The newlyweds will reside in Toledo.

MRS. JERRY ALLEN EHLERT

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. (Cy) Baily, 9355 Pleasant Drive, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary April 12. Their three daughters, Mrs. Claude (Ardith) Sebring of Clinton, Mrs. Warren (Olis) Puffer and Mrs. Duaine (Eris) Murphy of Tecumseh and their families will be hosts at an open house in the Youth House of First Baptist Church Sunday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Friends, relatives and neighbors are invited to attend. Cy Bailey and Ina Binns were married April 14, 1920, at the Holloway Presbyterian Church by the Rev. C. B. Hawkins. It is asked that gifts be omitted.

Martha Tiede and Ronald Noonan Marry

Martha Tiede and Ronald J. Nooman were married April 5 by Pastor Edwin Mueckler at Emmanuel Lutheran Church with the altar enhanced with white gladioli and blue pompons.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tiede, 8735 Mills-Macon Hwy., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Noonan, Delphos, O.

Mrs. Wesley Gilmore played nuptial music on the organ.

Grace Tiede, sister of the bride, and Theodore Tiede, brother of the bride and army buddy of the groom, served as maid of honor and best man.

Edward Schmidt seated the guests.

The bride chose a floor-length semi-bouffant styled gown of summer satin and Chantilly lace with fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the hands.

Pearls and sequins accented the Sabrina neckline and the sleeves. A detachable train edged in lace fell from the waist. Her shoulder length veil was secured to a petal headpiece edged in sequins.

She wore a pearl necklace and matching earrings, gift of the groom, and carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and carnations.

The maid of honor wore a blue empire styled gown with A-line skirt and white lace bodice. A matching petal rose was in her hair and she carried a cascade of yellow carnations tied with blue ribbons.

Pamela Schmidt served punch and Mrs. Edward Schmidt, coffee. Donna Schmidt registered the guests and Mrs. Ronald Tiede served the groom's cake and Mrs. Ernest Collins of Monroe, the bride's cake.

The bride was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1968 and the groom from St. Johns High School in 1960. He served two years in the U. S. Army, one in Vietnam and is presently employed by Weaver Construction Co. in Bryan, O.

Following a few days' travel in southern states, the couple will live at 522 Plainfield Dr., Payne, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiede also hosted the rehearsal dinner at their home.

MRS. RONALD J. NOONAN

Dr. Eleanor Skufis At Fisher Body

Dr. Eleanor Skufis, former director of Lenawee County Health Department, began duties at Fisher Body plant in early March as plant physician.

Her husband, Dr. Xenophon Skufis, supports his wife's new position "to the point that when the phone calls come to our home from 'her' plant patients, that's it."

Dr. Skufis continues active in State Medical Society affairs as advisor to the State Board of Education, part of the Maternal Perinatal Mortality Committee in the area of sex education.

Senior Citizens To Elect Officers

A 12:30 potluck dinner will precede the election of officers Thursday at the Senior Citizens gathering at Community Center.

Julian Kimler and Bonnie Opel of Brooklyn and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linger, Tipton, will be the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper served doughnuts, coffee and tea Thursday to 35 dropping in for games.

Engagement of Connie Kay Haley to Roger G. Wittrup is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Haley of Kempton, Ill. Mr. Wittrup is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Allen E. Wittrup of Grand Rapids, formerly of Tecumseh. Miss Haley is a graduate of Cullom High School and University of Illinois at Urbana. She is presently teaching school in Chicago Public Schools. Mr. Wittrup is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and of Michigan State University. In June he will receive a Masters of Divinity Degree from Garrett Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill. The couple's future plans include doing graduate work at Michigan State University; he pursuing a doctorate degree in clinical psychology and she a masters degree in education. A June 27 wedding is being planned.

Smiths to Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John W. (Jack) Smith will observe their 50th wedding anniversary Friday at their home at 804 N. Evans St. No celebration is planned until their grandson, John Smith, returns from Vietnam when a family dinner will be held.

Jack Smith and Olga C. Braun were married April 10, 1920, in Manchester by Pastor Alfred Schoen of Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The couple have lived all of their married life in Tecumseh, 43 years at their present address.

A World War I veteran and machinist by trade, Mr. Smith operated a dairy farm for 17 years. His hobby is gardening.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are the parents of two sons, Jack W., Jr., who lives north of the family home and Andrew J. (Jim) an architect in Southfield. They have four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Poucher-Atkinson

Helen Marie Poucher and Dillard Atkinson were married Saturday, March 28, at St. Peter's Church by the Rev. Fr. Frank Hawthorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allen were the attendants. A reception was held at the Junior High School for friends and relatives.

The couple will live at 1533 E. Munger Rd.

Drive Sponsored By VFW Auxiliary

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary to Post No. 187, Tecumseh, is sponsoring this year's Cancer Drive here in Tecumseh. The Kick-off Breakfast was held Monday at the post home.

Dr. Bruce M. Carlson, assistant professor in the Department of Anatomy in the University of Michigan Medical School, was the guest speaker.

There was a question and answer period following his talk.

Mrs. Lloyd Stites, co-chairman for Tecumseh introduced the guest and speaker, Jerry Swainson, divisional representative from Lansing, Robert Waite, director of Crusade for Michigan, Mrs. Harrison Cary, secretary at the Adrian office, Edward Engle, attorney and Lenawee county chairman and Mrs. Robert Marvin, co-chairman.

Also present were Adrian Township chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Allshouse, and Madison Township chairman, Mrs. Harry Hungerford, plus captains and volunteer workers.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank Van's Bakery for donating rolls and Kroger's for coffee and cream, also Tecumseh High School for sending Douglas Dillon with the projector and for running the film.

Q How is Consumers Power controlling air pollution?

A Its $18 million air quality control modernization program involves the installation of new electrostatic precipitators in four major plants, over a five-year period. This equipment removes solids (mainly fly ash) from the exhaust gas emitted in the boiler furnaces. Better than 99 percent effective, the new equipment exceeds the standards set by Michigan's Air Pollution Control Act of 1967. (Older equipment which it replaces was up to 90% effective.)

Q What happens to the fly ash after it is collected from the plants?

A Formerly a waste by-product, fly ash is now used as a filler in cement and in other road-building materials, in the manufacture of plastics and rubber, and by metal foundries. Research is going on to find more uses for fly ash.

Q Are there any other methods that Consumers Power is using to control air quality?

A Smoke problems are caused when coal is used as the fuel in boiler furnaces. In some plants, it is practical to convert from coal to gas and oil fuels, as is the case at our power plant near Kalamazoo. One good solution to air pollution problems is to build nuclear power plants. The uranium fuel used in nuclear plants not only keeps the air clean, but it also greatly reduces fuel costs. The company has one nuclear plant in operation; a second plant will be operational this year; and a third plant will be ready in 1974.

Much of the fly ash being drawn into this hopper used to go up in smoke. But you can breathe easier now, because Consumers Power keeps doing its part to clean the air. Using advanced technology, we are investing more than $18 million to install improved air quality control equipment in our largest coal-burning electric generating plants. Consumers Power believes in guarding the air we use. It's part of helping to make life better in Michigan.

Touch of Past

1860

J. S. Kies of Clinton has set out a plat of ground for dwarf pears.

Those attending the Presbyterian Institute here this week are loud in their praise of our village.

The wind blew with such force April 6 that it caused the plaster to fall off John Sherman's house and shook up several other houses. Some think it was an earthquake.

Year of 1889 eclipsed the record as the year of great calamities.

One year ago the onion crop of Lenawee County was a drug on the market. This spring the tearful vegetable is worth $1.50 per bushel.

Earl Updike is working at Williamson's grocery store.

1910

Mrs. R. W. Cole has been appointed census enumerator for Tecumseh Township.

1920

1930

Work of remodeling the interior of the Tecumseh State Savings Bank was begun this week.

Dr. J. J. Preston after 10 years as rector of St. Peter's Church, has resigned to go to Alma in May, where he has accepted a call to St. John's Church.

A Business and Professional Woman's Club has been organized in Tecumseh with 18 charter members and Mrs. Lillian Tingley as president.

1940

M. W. Wilson has purchased a lot in the Shull addition on N. Ottawa St. and ground has been broken for a new home.

Born April 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hayden, a son, Joseph Perry.

Doctors check an outbreak of infectious hepatitis as six residents in the Tipton area are affected.

Assessed valuation of real and personal property in Tecumseh illage and Township is in excess of $6,357,000, reports LeRoy Titley, township supervisor.

Key awards in the Detroit News Contest were won by Betty Hayden for her historical article and Joan Breitenwischer for her original poetry.

Jerry Bowen has been selected to attend Purdue as a Navy Candidate.

Harold Easton was chosen by fellow councilmen as mayor of Tecumseh. He replaces H. H. Hanna, who served in the position for six years, ever since Tecumseh became a city.

Mrs. Carl Burch was notified that her grandson, Larry Burch, was one of 200 selected for medical college from 1,000 applications.

Vote for Favorite Baby

Babies, babies, babies.

That's the story behind the Jaycee Auxiliary's Seventh Annual Baby Contest currently running. Thirty-three babies have been entered.

Canisters with the pictures of the many cute babies are displayed in various stores in the community. The canisters will be on display until May 19 when the contest ends. The King and Queen will be crowned during the Michigan Week festivities.

Each penny counts one vote, so VOTE, VOTE, VOTE. All proceeds will be used by the Jaycee Auxiliary to buy dolls to be given to the needy at Christmas.

Time to Consider Pasture Planting

It's that time of the year again to consider spring pasture and hayland planting in the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

If there is an area too steep for equipment, an odd-shaped field or a poorly-drained area, a legume-grass mixture or a grass can be planted. Maximum amounts of good quality forage can be expected.

Lime is necessary for high legume yields. Have the soil precisely tested.

When preparing the seedbed, it is best to plow the field. On steep slopes a field cultivator and disk will be most successful. If the stone is generally long or steep, plant the "upper" part across the slope this year and use strips to get the remaining stone established.

Use fertilizer according to results of soil tests when planting. Do not graze the area while the new seedings is being established. A companion crop, such as a bushel and a half of oats with the seeding, may be used. In this case the oats should be clipped or grazed before it is mature. If favorable growth develops, a light grazing may be done in August.

More information on grass-legume mixtures or grass plantings may be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service technicians at the Adrian work unit. The species to plant will depend on the soil, slope, and wetness or dryness of the area.

A Vacation of Working

Three months away from studying at college would make a great vacation.

However, 230 Kalamazoo College students will be working on jobs ranging from deckhand on a clipper ship in the Virgin Islands to research assistant at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colo.

Two local students are involved in the program. Kathleen Hall, daughter of Mrs. John Doughty, 5502 Clinton-Macon Rd., is teaching English at Sra. Pilarin de Sanchez Martinez, Madrid, Spain.

Rand Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Robinson, 109 W. Pottawatamie St., is a laboratory assistant at the University of Michigan, Dept. of Pharmacology, in Ann Arbor.

The students, who will be working in 24 states and nine foreign countries are participating in the College's Career-Service Program, designed to give experience through on-the-job training.

They will return to college in June for the summer quarter.

MACON MAXIMS

By MRS. HAMILTON MOORE

Saturday, April 11, at 6:30 p.m., the Macon Scouts will leave for their monthly "Y" Night from the church. All Scouts are invited. All boys, nine years and up are invited to join the Scouts.

√

Monday, April 13, at 7 p.m., the work area educational meeting will be held at the Macon United Methodist Church. The Council of Ministries will follow at 8 p.m.

√

Mrs. Paul Hover will entertain the Hope Circle Wednesday, April 15, at 9:30 a.m. They welcome any woman who wishes to meet for a morning of fellowship.

√

√

Mrs. Russell Collins has returned home from St. Joseph Hospital where she had tests and X-rays.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Badley and son, David, and Mrs. Hunter of Port Huron, spent Sunday with their son and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Badley. Mrs. Badley and children returned home with them for a few days.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hawkins entertained their children and families. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Crittenden and family of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stotler and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Hawkins and family of Britton.

√

Weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall was Mrs. Jennie Spence of Tecumseh.

√

Misses Sharon, Rebecca and Bradley Rowe spent Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore and family. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moore of Munith were also guests of the Moores.

√

√

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas entertained their granddaughters, Judy and Jayne Thomas, last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Damberg of Whitmore Lake came Wednesday evening to the meeting of Joy Circle at the home of Mrs. Carl Thomas. They had planned on showing their pictures taken on their recent trip to the Holy Land, but because of the stormy weather, decided to show them at a later date.

√

Mrs. Hamilton Moore, Jr., attended the Spring District meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild Sunday afternoon. The Ypsilanti First United Methodist Guild was the hostess. The Rev. Bruce Felker of Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, was the speaker. Mrs. Moore installed the officers.

√

Lt. Kohl Receives Army Discharge

Lt. Noel Kohl has received his discharge and returned home March 27 after serving in Vietnam for a year with the army.

He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. He graduated from engineer officer's school in Virginia.

He has joined his wife, Kathleen, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mitchell, 209 Shawnee St. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holcomb, Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

Mr. Kohl has returned to Tecumseh Products as an expeditor.

Sweet Adelines Planning Party

Irish Hills Chapter of Sweet Adelines plan a membership party for Monday, April 13 at 8 p.m. in Standard Oil Farm Service Center, 1325 W. Beecher Rd., Adrian.

President Mrs. Howard Close invites all ladies who like to sing and are interested in women's barbershop harmony.

Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Fred Hartwig 423-3690.

Potluck Banquet

MACON — Faith Circle held their meeting last Thursday in spite of the inclement weather. Mrs. Olga Graff was the hostess. Mrs. Garland Osburn opened the meeting by reading, "I Want A Principle Within," by John Wesley. Roll call was answered by each showing a picture of various birds and tell something of their characteristics. These were furnished by the Circle secretary, Mrs. Charles Gorton, Sr.

The Mother and Daughter banquet, which is to be May 9, was discussed. The group voted in favor of having a planned potluck banquet. They preferred having it family style or served by the men. The society will furnish the meat, potatoes and rolls.

The kitchen committee will plan the rest and are to notify each what to bring. It was suggested each family bring their table service.

A thank you note from Mrs. Minnie Saivey was read for her birthday anniversary gift and cards.

The nominating committee of the Circle, Mrs. Charles Howell, Mrs. Lana Hasted and Mrs. Lilburn Burleson, are working on the new slate of Circle officers.

Mrs. Blanche Wolfinger, an adopted sister in the Chelsea United Methodist Home, celebrated a birthday anniversary April 3. Mrs. Eugene Hill, Mrs. Charles Howell and Mrs. Hamilton Moore presented a program, "We, Two, Choose Life," based on the assembly program from the March "Response."

Gelatin dessert, topped with whipped cream, mints and nuts were served to the 12 ladies who braved the snow.

BISHOP RICHARD S. EMRICH

Bishop Presides At Confirmation

Bishop Richard S. Emrich of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan will preside at a service of Confirmation at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday. It will be a combined class from Tecumseh, St. John's Church, Clinton, and Holy Cross Church, Saline, at 4 p.m.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne and the Rev. Charles Sturm of Clinton and Saline will present their respective classes to the Bishop. The Rev. Russell Cooper, Deacon, will assist in the service.

A reception for the Bishop and the newly confirmed members of the church will be held in the parish hall following the service.

NURSE TATE RETIRES — Mrs. Burt Tate was honored at a tea held March 31 at Herrick Memorial Hospital on her last day of work there. An employee for many years, her last stint has been 14 years. Preceding that time she was employed at Tecumseh Products Co. for 12½ years. Superintendent Mrs. Lavern Moll gave Mrs. Tate a rose corsage and two cakes were baked and decorated by Mrs. William Ferow, another on the staff. More than 30 afternoon employees also honored the retiree at luncheon recently at the Country House when Marie Young, another nurse, made a horseshoe cake, decorated with yellow and green. Mrs. Tate has one son, Burt Douglas, and two grandchildren.

Chairman Named

Dave Criss, president of Kiwanis Club Tecumseh-Britton, announced that Dr. George Burkhard will serve as chairman of the Third annual Kiwanis Used Merchandise Sale May 7, 8 and 9.

Plans have been completed except for the location to be announced later.

Those people having items such as clothing, yard tools, household items, auto tires, accessories or appliances may arrange for free pick-up by calling 423-2968.

Others serving on the committee include James Danforth, pick-up, Carl Lamb and Ron Croll, storage, Marion Ford, display, Dave Criss, special merchandise, Ed Walters, publicity and the Rev. Alfred Sheeley, sales manager.

Proceeds for the sale are used to finance service work in the communities.

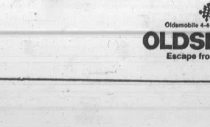
Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Olds costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with so-called low-priced cars. See your Olds dealer. He'll prove that you're closer to Olds than you think.

Cutlass S: The sporty Olds—priced right down with the low-priced names. Included as standard equipment: Recessed wipers. Hidden antenna. Deluxe steering wheel. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Door side-guard beams. Flo-Thru Ventilation. Rocket V-8. Bias-belted tires. Foam-padded seats.



Delta 88: The big Olds with the surprisingly modest price. Included in that price: Power steering. Power front disc brakes. Regular-gas Rocket V-8. Bigger 124-inch wheelbase for a smoother, quieter ride. All the room and comfort and luxury you could ever want.

NOISES

It's spring — it is, it is, it is! The winds might be right-off-an-iceberg cold, the temperatures may be record-breakingly low, and the spring rains may be falling as snow but it still is spring. The calendar says so. The days are becoming wonderfully longer, the crocuses are up and blooming, and the sun climbs higher in the sky each day. Old Man Winter is a diehard but he is on the way out. (I hope).

Fortunately, the birds know it is spring, even though the weather man does not. They are moving on schedule — even though they may be shivering in the process.

The one harbinger which everyone eagerly anticipates, non-bird watcher as well as bird watcher, is the robin. And they the back! In full force they are back. Big, fat, bright, sleek — it is most evident that they enjoyed a marvelous winter in the south.

They are in good voice form, too. Their loud merry caroling comes right through the storm window. Thank goodness. It may not feel springish but it certainly sounds it.

Thinking back to a few Sundays ago, I can change that last sentence to read something about it may not look spring but the sound is warm-weatherish. It happened on Palm Sunday and do you remember the all-day snow?

Well, guess what woke us up bright and early that morning? A loud robin serenade! I could hardly believe my ears. But even though the snow had already started falling, the tree tops were full of singers.

They sounded happy and cheerful — they were newly-arrived from a great winter vacation in the sunny southland, the mating season was near at hand, nothing as trifling as an unnecessary snowfall was going to dampen their spirits.

OF COURSE, NOT all of our bird noises are being made by fresh-from-the-south returnees. Many of our year round residents are caught up in the new season excitement.

This goes for the winter guests who have not yet departed, too. The tufted titmice are whistling, the bouncy little black capped chickadees are bubbling, the upside down nuthatches are honking, the flock of cedar waxwings are softly chattering, and so it goes.

Papa and Mama Cardinal are putting on an especially good show these days. Their clear whistling can be heard from sun-up to sundown.

It would be nice to think of all this glorious music as being love talk but the birds' springtime singing has been "scientifically investigated" and they tell us that much of it deals with establishing territories and advertising that "this is mine, keep out".

Oh, it is easy enough to believe this about grackles. Yes, the grackles are back, too; in fact, Gertie T. and I were privileged (?) to see the first contingent arrive. Arrive — descend or invade would be more accurate.

A huge black cloud appeared Thursday, March 5, and as it came closer, we saw that it was a huge flock of the evil-eyed black thieves. They are all over the place now and as unpleasant as ever.

By no stretch of the imagination can their harsh squawks be considered romantic, not even another grackle would find them romantic. And speaking of grackle voices, I must quote again from my old standby, "Birds Of America". They talk about these birds "emitting a sort of asthmatic squeak, which suggests the protest of a rusty hinge".

IT HAS BEEN interesting to hear the melodies of the song sparrow. All winter, on the bright, sunny days at least, it was not unusual to hear one of these little singers but now, and truly I do not think it is all imagination, they seem to be outdoing themselves.

Singing their hearts out is an apt description. The kingfisher noise has us a bit mystified — where is it? Early, far too early, we heard that familiar rattle; however, now that the ice is all out of the creek and we should be entertaining kingfishers, none have appeared.

We are also still waiting to hear that leaky radiator hiss of the pine siskins. They are daily visitors at the feeder and we have seen them open their bills as if to make noise but their talk must be soft because it does not seem to come through the windows.

So it is that even though the weather seems to be having trouble making the shift from winter to spring, the season has changed and as evidence, I offer to you a few of the springtime noises.

Grain Signups Lower in 1970

Final reports of 1970 Feed Grain Program signup in Michigan show 54,571 farmers signed in the Feed Grain Program and 60,381 farmers signed in the Wheat Program; both slightly behind the 1969 signup.

Those farmers who signed in these programs have agreed to take out of production and divert to a conserving use 862,867 acres under the Feed Grain Program and 427,197 acres under the Wheat Program.

In making this announcement, Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan agricultural stabilization and conservation state committee, stated that farmers will earn payments for setting aside such acreage and at the same time will be doing their part in reducing the production of these grains which are in surplus.

Smith added that although advance payments were not authorized this year, the Department is committed to start making 1970 feed grain and wheat payments as soon after July 1, 1970, as possible and payments should be in the hands of participating farmers by the end of July or mid-August.

To facilitate these early final payments, farmers must accurately certify as early as possible.

Sheriff Germond Speaks to Club

In conjunction with the lesson on "Safety" given by Mrs. Raymond Bird and Mrs. Ellsworth Robison, Sheriff Germond told proper procedures for calling emergency aid for home accidents.

1. Keep calm.
2. Use own basic knowledge, giving treatment.
3. Remove victim from danger, being careful not to involve one's self.
4. Call for help, giving name, location and type of emergency.

Sheriff Germond stated that the police ambulances carry stretchers, splints, first aid kits, oxygen and resusitators. There are five stations wagons and one large ambulance for use in Lenawee County, plus equipment of 18 fire departments.

Mrs. Robison and Mrs. Bird noted some things to remember about mowing lawns:

1. Remove spark plug before making any repair.
2. Only the person mowing should be in the yard.
3. A person not old enough for a driver's license should not be allowed to use a rotary mower.

During the meeting a "Thank You" was read from Mrs. Ken Teeter of Higgins Lake for the donation to the porta-lift for the Ceylon project.

Members voted to change the meeting time to 8 p.m.

Roll call was answered with a report of a farm accident.

Mrs. George Dinius will be hostess for the April meeting.

Dress Revue Plans Made

N. Franklin Maidens 4-H Club met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Lawrence Young, Thursday, to prepare for the local dress revue to be held soon.

They also discussed the Senior Miss dress revue which will be held Saturday at Siena Heights College.

Pies were solicited for the annual horse sale which will be held April 24-25 at the Lenawee County Fairgrounds.

Proposed City Budget, Millage Are Increased

Proposed 1970-71 budget for Tecumseh was presented to Council by City Manager Cal Zorn Monday night with rising costs again hiking government costs here to an all-time high.

Anticipated income is $1,116,787, compared to last year's $1,038,107, and anticipated expenditures, $1,124,224, an increase over 1969-70's $1,104,412.

Major increase is expected in utilities, where a $23,000 hike in costs is anticipated. Salary increases for city personnel also are planned, but figures here will not be finalized until at least after the city manager's meeting with the police department Friday.

A half-mill increase is being sought to finance the new budget. Although the half-mill will raise about $16,000, monies on hand and from other sources are expected to make up the difference.

The budget will run from July 1, 1970 to June 31, 1971, and must be approved by Council on or before the second meeting in May.

The proposed budget shows:

	Anticipated Income	Anticipated Expdts.
General	$	$197,541
Police		152,828
Fire		53,886
General Fund	404,255	404,255

Bill Holmes New Mayor

William Holmes was elected mayor of Tecumseh Monday night and became the fourth mayor to head the community since it changed from village to city over 16 years ago.

He succeeded Harold Easton, who had served in the position for the past 10 years. Before leaving his seat on Council, Mr. Easton thanked his colleagues and City Manager Cal Zorn and Clerk Vera Zornow for their cooperation.

Holmes received six votes with one vote being cast for George McCombs, who was then elected president pro tem.

Before the city's annual organizational meeting was conducted, Mrs. Zornow officiated at the swearing in of new councilmen, Lawrence Bilkie, Murray Palmer, Mr. McCombs and Wallace Whiting, an incumbent who was re-elected last week.

10 Days Yet for Census Completion

Mrs. Lawrence Gunn, canvas crew leader for this area, said Monday that it would take at least another 10 days to complete the head count here.

Call-backs are creating a problem, especially in Raisin Township where Mrs. Dale Garrison and Rita Garland are working.

Mrs. Gunn suggests that householders tape their forms to the door or some convenient place where the enumerator may pick them up, if no one is at home.

"In any event, please do not mail them," Mrs. Gunn requests. "This results in the necessity of filling out another form," she stated.

If one has a long form, Mrs. Gunn would appreciate being called so that an appointment may be made. Her phone number is 456-469.

Two Trips Are Planned for Seniors

Two trips for Senior Citizens are planned by the local recreation department in cooperation with state recreation — a camp-out and a trip to Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island.

Camping will be at Ocqueoc Lake Outdoor Center, near Rogers City June 22 - 27. Cost, $25 per person with registration by May 25.

The Grand Hotel trip is Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 at a cost of $50 per person.

This includes boat ticket, auto parking at boat lines, two island taxi tickets, breakfast and dinner, lodging and entertainment for two days with a farewell breakfast on the third day.

For further information call Ward Eardley, director Tecumseh Recreation, 423-2107, ext. 25.

Howard Hyder Is Bound for Home

Howard Hyder expects to return home from University Medical Center early next week after several months while he and his wife, Elona, were trained to use the kidney machine, a portable model. The machine was provided for him by the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, Ann Arbor, and the National Kidney Foundation.

Through the efforts of Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary and many other organizations and individuals, $1,504.65 has been donated to the Howard Hyder Fund at the United Savings Bank to assist the young couple with the expenses of maintenance of the machine, which he may have to use the rest of his life.

The machine will be installed in an especially prepared room in the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Frye on Rogers Hwy. The Frye home is about three miles from the Hyder home on Pixley Rd., Holloway, where the water supply was found unsuitable for the installation of the machine.

At present Mr. Hyder must be on the machine three times a week, six hours a time, however he may be able to adjust this to suit a different schedule. His wife must assist him with the machine at all times.

Teamsters Close TP

Tecumseh Products Co. is completely shut down due to lack of materials created by the teamsters strike between Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland, according to company officials.

Not only have local inventories been depleted, but there have been no mill deliveries of basic steel and iron to suppliers. It will take a few days to get the "pipe line" filled after the strike has been settled.

A few men worked several hours Tuesday but by Wednesday the whole plant was closed.

19-Year-Old Girl Is Hospitalized After Accident

Only four accidents were investigated here the past week by the Tecumseh police, but one sent a 19-year-old Adrian girl to Herrick Hospital.

Sykie L. Rickard, 19, rural Adrian, suffered injuries when her car rammed a parked auto, owned by Paul Fox, 5265 Macon Rd. Accident occurred Tuesday on Shady Lane.

A resume of other mishaps is:

April 12 — Michael D. Mobley, 24, of 811 Russell Rd., was charged with an unsafe start after a mishap with Charles L. Marine, 21, rural Britton, at the intersection of Chicago Blvd. and Evans St.

April 14 — Lillie I. Settles, 57, Pentecost Hwy., collided with the rear of a car driven by Jeffery R. Langham, 16, of 706 Outer Dr. Accident happened at the intersection of W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental.

LONG, LONG WINTER — Folks have waited nearly four weeks for spring to arrive here, and from the looks here of David Creger and Tim Hart probing Evans Creek, one would think warmer weather was just around the corner. Not so, as this photo by Bill Whiting was taken on the first day of spring — and how much nasty weather have we had since March 21? Plenty, and only Saturday, snow was our weather. It could be that we'll have winter, then summer, missing spring altogether. It's happened before, but who doesn't wish for a warmer change — NOW?

Candidates Are Elected by Union

Candidates elected in Tuesday's primary to run for offices on the United Products Workers Union Board in a general election on May 12 are:

President — Ray Jackson and Wayne Hebb.

Vice president — Stanley Samonek and Albert Thomas.

Secretary — Guy Cox and Charles Johnstone.

Treasurer — James Chapman and Paul Vanderdonck.

Co-ordinator No. 2 — Andrew Fisher and Reno Turner.

Third Shift Director — Donald Van Camp and William Fowle, Jr.

Little Leagues Are Scheduling Tryouts for Boys

Tryouts by boys for the Pony, Minor and Major Leagues have been scheduled by the city's Recreation Department.

Ward Eardley, director, says Pony League tryouts will be held April 25 at the athletic field. Managers are still needed, and anyone interested are urged to contact Frank Dalton at 423-4281.

Tryouts for the Major Leagues will be held May 2 at Nelson Field. Nine and 10-year-olds are scheduled at 9 a.m., and 11 and 12-year-olds at 1 p.m.

Boys already on these teams need not be at the tryouts. Coaches and managers also are needed for these two leagues, and interested men are asked to call the city, 423-2107, extension 25.

PILE OF JUNK — Only wreckage was left from a fatal accident Monday evening in which the driver, Dovie Fromm, 50, of Adrian was killed when she lost control on Ridge Hwy., just north of Holloway Rd. Sheriff's deputies estimated that she was traveling south about 65 miles an hour when she lost control and crashed head-on into a bridge. Coroner Donald Dunmore said that cause of death was a fractured skull and internal injuries. She was the 14th fatality in Lenawee County this year.

Michigan moved into first place in the production of blueberries in 1969.

A total of 35 million pounds of cultivated blueberries were grown in michigan.

Michigan also leads in production of five other agricultural products, dry edible beans, red tart cherries, pickling cucumbers, Eastern white winter wheat and hothouse rhubarb.

20 million pounds of the blueberries went to processors in 1969, while the remaining 15 million pounds were sold on the fresh market to Michigan housewives for such delectable dishes as blueberry pie, muffins, shortcake and jam.

Umm, I can taste them now.

Canister for Baby Contest queen candidate Kelli Ann Crittenden was placed at Harry's Cafe instead of at The Diner as announced. However, when contest chairman, Mrs. John Seay went to make a switch, she learned that the folks at Harry's had become so attached to the little miss, they didn't want to part with her—picture, so she'll stay there. Little William Edward Kapp's canister is at The Diner. Folks have until May 1 to vote on the King and Queen candidates for the Jaycee Auxiliary sponsored contest.

OK Married Students

Board of Trustees of Toledo Hospital has broken a 77-year tradition and has approved a measure permitting the acceptance of married students at Toledo Hospital School of Nursing.

At the same time, the Board permitted students to maintain residences other than at Croxton House. This action also marks a break in long-standing tradition.

The board acted to end the 77-year-old policy at the request of the Toledo Hospital Advisory Committee on Nursing Education and Nursing Service.

Kaleidoscopic KIOSK

by tom schultz

BUT WHAT'S IT MEAN?

Sooner or later, that question is bound to be asked by every one reading The Herald. And since I am the one who named it, it is my place to explain what Kaleidoscopic Kiosk means.

Undoubtedly, curiosity got the best of some readers and they have already consulted the dictionary for a definition.

A kiosk, according to Webster's New World Dictionary, is, "A somewhat small structure open at one or more sides, used as a newsstand, bandstand, etc."

Kaleidoscopic refers to some thing wihch is constantly changing. So the combination of the two produces an open newsstand which is constantly changing.

Then you might ask, why name it Kaleidoscopic Kiosk? Why not? I wanted a name which would stay with the readers, once they learned how to pronounce it.

The kaleidoscopic part was easy. I wanted a word which denoted change and kaleidoscopic was the logical choice. Kiosk was another matter. My first thought was why not use another word which begins with K. So I started thinking of words. All I came up with was kangaroo, kilowatt, kimono, Kodak and Kalamazoo.

Where can the widest selection of words beginning with any desired letter be found? Of coure, the dictionary. Starting on page 410 of Webster's book, I began reading: K, Kaaba, kabala, Kabul, kadi, Kaffir, Kafka, kaftan, kiakak and kaiser.

I am now of the undying opinion that the dictionary should be used only for learning what a word means and how to spell or pronounce it. The dictionary is definitely not for causal reading. By the time I had reached "ketchup," complete boredom had set in.

Enter my wife. After learning the reason for my strange selection of books, she said, "Why not kiosk?"

Why not, but what did it mean? Returning the dictionary to its intended purpose and flipping ahead two pages, I learned what kiosk is.

So there it was, Kaleidoscopic Kiosk. An open newsstand which is constantly changing. That is, changing in regard to topic. The head is set as is the two column width and they will remain constant.

But the column itself is open to any topic and any variation of form. One week may produce a serious expose and the next may bring a light-hearted satire. Whatever the form or topic, it shall be timely and of interest to Herald readers.

Perhaps you still have one more question to ask, as I do quite often. That is, why write the column in the first place? That's like askng a mountain climber why, he climbed the mountain. Because it was there, obviously.

I guess every journalist at one time or another during his career tries to write a column. Continuous experimentation goes on with style and format until the right combination is discovered, either by stubborn perserverance or accident.

So why am I writing this column? Because the opportunity presented itself for me to try.

So if the column appears to be in a state of constant change from week to week, bear with me. Remember, it is kaleidoscopic.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Fifty years have zipped by since Ina Binns became the bride of Cy Baily in a ceremony performed April 14, 1920 in Holloway Presbyterian Church by the Rev. C. B. Hawkins of Dearborn. Many of the bridal party were present Sunday to assist with the serving at an open house in the Baptist Youth House. In fact all but one still living and there are only two deceased. Mrs. Lynn Clark of Florida was maid of honor and couldn't be present, but Rebecca Baily, Adrian, and Mary Bloomer, Ann Arbor, bridesmaids, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kerr, Holloway, and Mr. and Mrs. LaVon Kuney, Adrian, ushers and their wives, and Winfred Mitchell of Grand Blanc, the pianist, were all there.

Nearly 200 guests were registered by Marta Doan, granddaughter of the honored couple. They came from Canton, Mo., Detroit, Livonia, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Adrian, Whittaker, Otisville, Grand Blanc, York, Manitou Beach, Clinton, St. Johns, Macon, Holloway and Britton.

Other guests at the party were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Puffer who were celebrating their 58th wedding anniversary that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hodges and her mother, Mrs. Edward Leighton, were in Detroit Sunday to celebrate three birthday anniversaries in the family. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson, nee Jane Hodges, whose daughter, Sherrie, was two. It was also Mr. Anderson's and Mrs. Leighton's anniversary. Kirsten, 6, enjoyed the fun with grandparents and great-grandma.

Sandra Ross returned recently from San Juan, Puerto Rico, where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Torode Segura. Mrs. Segura was a former classmate of Sandra's at Siena Heights College.

George Milosh underwent surgery Monday morning at Bixby Hospital. Formerly of Tecumseh, he now resides with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eschenauer, Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comfort have returned from Holland where they stayed with two grandchildren while their daughter, Mrs. Robert Weeldreyer and her husband, made arrangements to bring home a new baby, Sheryl Leeann, born April 1.

William Raeburn moved up to the presidency at the Teachers Education Association meeting Monday evening at the high school.

Past President Gary Lovett conducted the meeting when Mrs. Stuart Costigan was made president-elect; Carol Legene, secretary, and Kathy Kelso, treasurer.

Hold Bake Sale For Hyder Fund

A Community Bake Sale for the Howard Hyder Fund will be held Friday from 12 to 4:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the Herrick Park Branch of the United Savings Bank.

Mrs. Allen De Shano is the chairman of the bake sale, sponsored by the Welcome Wagon Club and 36 other city organizations and individuals.

TAX RELIEF FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Michigan law provides partial property tax relief to some senior citizens who own their homesteads. Until recently, a person over 65 years of age could claim a partial exemption from property tax if the value of his homestead was less than $10,000 of state equalized valuation, which means $20,000 of current market value.

The law has been changed, effective for the 1970 tax year and all future tax years. Every person over the age of 65 who has less than $8,000 of annual gross income, may claim a partial exemption from property taxation for his homestead, regardless of the value of the home.

Gross income is defined in the law as the total income subject to Federal income tax and all income specifically excluded therefrom as of December 31, 1969.

Every person over the age of 65 who does not receive gross income in excess of $6,000 per annum, and who owns a home should apply annually before the date of final adjournment of the board of review, for the senior citizens homestead tax exemption.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Blue Is Beautiful

A policeman is many things. He's a son, a brother, a father, an uncle, and sometimes even a grandfather. He is a protector in time of need and a comforter in time of sorrow. His job calls for him to be a diplomat, a psychologist, a lawyer, a friend, and an inspiration. He suffers from an overdose of publicity about brutality and dishonesty. He suffers far more from the notoriety produced by unfounded charges. Too often, acts of heroism go unnoticed and the truth is buried under all the criticism. The fact is that less than one-half of one per cent of policemen ever discredit their uniform. That's a better average than you'll find among clergymen.

A policeman is an ordinary guy who is called upon for extraordinary bravery—for us! His job may sometimes seem routine, but the interruption can be moments of stark terror. He's the man who faces a half-crazed gunman, who rescues a lost child, who challenges a mob, and who risks his neck more often than we realize. He deserves our respect and our profound thanks.

A policeman stands between the law abider and the law breaker. He's the prime reason your home hasn't been burned, your family abused, your business looted. Try to imagine what might happen if there were no policemen around. And then try to think of ways to make their job more rewarding. Show them the respect you really have; offer them a smile and a kind word; see that they don't have to be magicians to raise their families on less-than-adequate salaries.

We think policemen are great. We thank God for all the little boys who said they would be policemen, and who kept their promise. We hope you feel the same way, and we hope you'll show it—so there will always be enough good policemen to go around.

Board of Education Approves Program

BRITTON — The Board of Education of the Britton Macon Area School met Thursday, April 9, in the superintendent's office for their monthly meeting.

The Board received letters of resignation from two elementary teachers, Beth Hull, 5th grade teacher, and Tom Hicks, 6th grade teacher.

The committee approved drawing up a policy in regard to rental of school facilities.

Donald Bussler, principal, discussed purchasing a special bulletin board on which the names of students belonging to the National Honor Society would be listed.

The Board approved that any senior with a grade of B average or better would not have to take the final exams.

A summer reading program was approved by the Board for children who need help in reading. The program is voluntary on part of the student and the sessions are financed by the Federal government under the National Education Act and the Elementary Secondary Educational Act (ESEA) of 1965.

Officers Elected As WSCS Meets

BRITTON — The Grace United Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service of Ridgeway met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clay Croll with 23 members present.

Final arrangements for the Mother-Daughter banquet to be held Saturday, April 18 were made.

Announcement was made for all interested members to attend the Annual Spring Meeting of the Ann Arbor District WSCS Monday, April 20 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Milan United Methodist Church. All members are urged to set aside an evening, May 2-5, to attend the Billy Graham movie entitled "For Pete Sake," at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian.

An election of officers for the coming year was held, installation will be sometime in May and the new officers will take office starting Sept. 1.

A program entitled "The Individual, The Prisoner, The Community," was presented by Mrs. Thomas Smith. Assisting Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Croll, Mrs. Ellsworth Robinson and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield.

FFA Chapter Attends Dinner

By Peter Forgacs

BRITTON — DeKalb Banquet at Win Schuler's, Jackson, was attended by members of the Britton Charter FFA who participated in the DeKalb Corn Achievement Program, March 31.

The program was given for the last 15 years by students in FFA who has kept the best records on their corn projects at home.

Purpose of the project is to compare the DeKalb seed corn given to the FFA members last spring with another seed corn the boys may want to plant. Also, it helps the boys learn to keep better and more accurate records of their corn fields.

Project is supervised by the boys' local vo-ag instructor. Students who have planted corn as a project are given a yellow record sheet to fill out with a map of the field, where the corn is planted, soil inventory, plant population studies, field observation, characteristics of each variety of corn planted and yield and cost per acre.

Students must fill out all the parts on the record sheet to compete for high score of 100 points. Britton Chapter representatives were able to attend the banquet by scoring a total of 100 points.

They will each receive a wall plaque with a place for their name to be engraved on it.

A mounted ear of corn was presented to the Chapter for being the regional winner with a high score of 505 points.

Slides were presented on planting tips and how to get better yields.

Members of the winning chapters were interviewed by Howard Heath, farm editor for WPAG radio station, Ann Arbor.

ZENITH® CHROMACOLOR

$538

full Zenith handcrafted quality

The STAFFORD • A4509W-1
Featured with legs as trim, compact consolette model. Vinyl clad metal cabinet in grained Kashmir Walnut color. Illuminated channel numbers.

ONLY ZENITH HAS CHROMACOLOR... a revolutionary color television system featuring a patented color picture tube that outcolors.. outbrightens...outcontrasts...and outdetails... every other giant-screen color picture tube.

Exclusive Zenith COLOR COMMANDER CONTROL makes it easy to compensate for changing room light conditions — by letting you adjust contrast, color level and brightness, instantly, with one simple control instead of three.

Exclusive Zenith Chromatic Brain with the first integrated circuit ever used to produce a color picture.

Super Gold Video Guard Tuning System

- 5" x 3" Front-Mounted Twin-Cone Speaker
- Telescoping Dipole Antenna for VHF reception

"We Service What We Sell"

Poetry Book Is Available

A limited number of copies of a privately published book, "Lines That Rhyme," has been generously donated to the Voyage en France Club. The book is an enticing collection of poems by Clara Waldron, author of the history, "One Hundred Years—A Country Town."

The books of poetry may be obtained from the Voyage en France Club for $1.50 by contacting Mrs. John Wakeford at 423-7764 or any club member. Profits will go toward club members' trip to France.

In conjunction with the Tecumseh Jaycees, the club is canvassing Tecumseh selling curb members. The donation is $2. White numbers will be painted on a black square on the curb in front of the house enabling people to spot a house number more easily.

The Voyage en France Club will receive 50c of the cost of each house number and the remainder will go to the Jaycees for community projects.

Boy Scouts Hold Collection Day

Saturday, April 25, has been designated Goodwill "Goodturn" collection day by the Wolverine Council of Boy Scouts of Monroe and Lenawee counties.

Letters have been sent to the unit leaders in Lenawee County instructing them on the procedure to be followed. They are asked to designate by card the number of bags needed by their unit, and these will be delivered to the home of the unit leader.

Prompt return of the cards to Goodwill Industries will be appreciated so the bags can be delivered for distribution to the donors.

Successful drives have been conducted by the Boy Scouts each year in gathering clothing and other materials to be reconditioned in the Goodwill Workshop by handicapped workers. The reconditioned items are then sold in the Goodwill stores to help defray the operations costs.

Michigan is the hub of the rich Great Lakes industrial market area. Over 70 million consumers are within 500 miles of Michigan's capital.

133 Girls Evaluated

A total of 133 4-H girls received comments from evaluators on their clothing projects April 7 at the Northeast District Personal Appearance program in the Union Hall.

Nine clubs represented were welcomed by Jan Wilkins, mistress of ceremonies, and entertained with a solo by Cheryl Poduda and a talk by Mary Miller, 4-H youth assistant.

Using the theme, "Age of Aquarius, the girls modeled on a stage decorated with a horoscope and brightly-colored felt potted daisies.

Mrs. Geraldine Eaton played background music on an organ furnished by Flanders Music Co. Narrators were Jill Feight, Penny Mueller, Cathy Cox, Martha Osburn and Lora Lee Baldwin.

Mrs. Donald Mueller, Mrs. Wallace Wilkins and Mrs. Carlton Cook were general chairmen, assisted by Tipton Jets, decorations; Round Top, publicity; Top Notchers, clean-up; Britton-Macon, evaluation tabulation; North Franklin Maidens, programs; and Holloway Homemakers, line-up.

Other clubs participating were Raisin Cane, North Franklin Hustlers, and Raisin Roadrunners.

Those selected in the honor group were Peggy Aebersold and Mary Pat Kaechele of North Franklin Maidens, Gigi Crocker of Raisin Roadrunners, Debbie Pilbeam of Britton-Macon, Kathleen Morse, Marsha Bale, Pat Murphy and Jan Feight of Tipton Jets, Cindy Swift, Christine Herrell, Lisa Lundall, Vicki McDonald and Sandy Sprague of Tecumseh Top Notchers, Carol Sellers of Round Top and Sally Ventz of Holloway Homemakers.

Honorable mention was given to Kris Underwood, Theresa Philo, Nancy Kitson, Sue Kane and Lori Baldwin of Top Notchers, Joyce Richardson of North Franklin Hustlers, Linda Pilbeam and Denise Mueller of Britton-Macon, Becky Moeller, Cathy Cox, Sandy Kay Hunt of Tipton Jets, Rita Aebersold and Beverly Williams of North Franklin Maidens and Linda DuShane and Dianna Bolyard of Round Top.

Girls in the honor group modeled in the Senior Miss Personal Appearance program Saturday evening in Adrian.

Robert Cote Piped Over

Mr. and Mrs. Duaine Hunt, sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Hunt, nephew and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cote, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cote, brothers and wives of the long-time navy man, attended the ceremonies conducted by Capt. S. G. Anders, Jr.

CSI Cote was piped over the side at the conclusion of more than 20 years' service. Included during the ensuing years was a tour of duty in Vietnam.

He received five good conduct awards and medals for China service, Victory World War II, Vietnam campaign, Vietnam service and national defense.

Mr. Cote intends to remain in the Charleston area as unit manager for MacDonalds Restaurant chain.

He is married and has two children.

Following the ceremonies, the retiring Cote and his wife entertained his family and the Supply Division of the ship with a smorgasbord dinner and program by the Sixth Naval District orchestra and a rock and roll band.

Trackmen Open With Easy Win

The Indians picked up eight firsts in the 14-event, dual meet with Gary Hannibal copping two firsts. He took first place in both hurdle events.

Other first place winners were Craig Brown, pole vault; Tony Lisenbee, 880-yard dash; Gerald Girbach, 100-yard dash; and Mark Goodacre, 440.

Tecumseh's 880-yard relay team — Ken Cole, Scott Dalton, Brian Thews, and Girbach — and the mile relay — Dalton, Robert Sanchez, Lisenbee and Goodacre — also took firsts.

In three other meets this year, Coach Tom Fagan's tracksters walloped Addison, 81½-36½ and Hillsdale, 86-32. They bowed to Adrian, 69-49.

Fagan expects Grosse Ile, Flat Rock and Monroe CC to be the Indians' toughest competition this spring with Blissfield possibly finishing among the leaders.

Tecumseh tangles with the Royals here Thursday afternoon in what could be a close meet.

Support For Bill Urged by NAHB

Members of Lenawee County Association of Home Builders were urged by Norman Long, state membership chairman of the National Association, to contact their representatives to support the Usuary Bill.

Mr. Long spoke recently at the monthly meeting held in Adrian. He said Washington plans to release Federal money reducing prime rates and having a mortgage that people can afford.

It was noted that the Association is an asset to Lenawee County, having a list of qualified contractors available for home owners.

Also available are standard construction forms for the safety of both parties.

Women's Society Installs Officers

Twenty-six members of the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church met Monday evening and were greeted by Mrs. Robert Gillespie and Mrs. George Van Camp, hospitality chairmen.

Mrs. Cy Baily conducted the business meeting. Devotions were given by Mrs. Mable Young.

Mrs. Mina Sisson, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Updike, conducted an impressive installation service. Mrs. William Rader sang, "O Jesus I Have Promised," accompanied by Mrs. John Westgate.

Officers installed were Mrs. Thomas Brooks, president; Mrs. Richard Carter, vice-president; Mrs. Cy Baily, treasurer, and Mrs. Vern Manwaring, secretary.

Refreshments were served by the Christian Growth Circle.

We wish to thank Dr. Blanden and the nurses and nurses' aides and orderlies at Herrick Hospital for the wonderful care given my husband while there. Our sincere thanks to all our friends, neighbors and relatives for their acts of kindness, the cards, flowers, food and gifts. The ladies of the Friends Church for the luncheon, Rev. Brantingham for his comforting words, also thanks to pallbearers and Dunn Funeral Home.
The family of Daniel J. Austin. 4—16p

Heartfelt thanks to our friends and relatives for thoughtfulness and consideration during our illnesses and stay in the hospital. Loving thanks to our two wonderful daughters who have done so much.

Our Readers Write

The Herald
To the Editor:

There's a tax that everyone, regardless of age or sex, owes in Tecumseh. It can be paid as well with time as money. That tax is what we owe for the privilege of living on this earth. To leave our homes the sidewalks and roads we use, the schools, the places we work, shop and play as good or better than when we arrived is the payment.

The biggest paper and bottle throwing season is just starting. Last year after getting my second flat tire from broken glass on the streets of Tecumseh I complained to a friend of mine. She agreed saying "I always carry a broom and dust pan in my car." I thought what a wonderful positive approach. Wouldn't it be great if everyone picked up or swept up the litter they saw instead of griping. Soon we'd all be so aware of the "sight" pollution that there would be no more litter to sweep.

The young have the annoying habit of imitating what adults do no matter how loud or often we talk.

Good government, police, or schools can not make a city a good place to live unless its citizens pay this tax. Please don't just stand there this spring. Do something!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Carlton Cook

To the Editor:

Howard will soon be home with his kidney machine!

At this time we want to thank everyone for all that they have done for us. This isn't easy. How can we find the words to express. Thank You, for all the hope, encouragement and faith that you have given us. For the Trust Funds and Betty Crocker coupon drive and for all the other Howard Hyder fund raising drives.

We were filled with despair when we first faced the full realization of what this illness meant to Howard and me, and then we learned of the cost in dollars if Howard was to have a chance to live.

We didn't know which way to turn. We didn't even know where to begin! The professional and medical people, who work with this thing daily, handle it in a "matter-of-fact" routine way. It wasn't that simple to us. We were the "victims." My husband, the patient. What should I do? whom should I see? I went from one to another—here and there—filled out forms, filed applications! It seemed as though I was getting no where. Then the Tecumseh Herald printed the first article on Howard and his illness and from then on the little town of Tecumseh took over and opened the First Trust Fund for Howard and started the Betty Crocker Coupon Drive!

Only God knows the warmth of the hope and faith that surged through us that night as we read about the opening of the Trust Fund. Howard was on the kidney machine at the time. All we could say was, "Someone Cares! Some of them are strangers but they care! People are good, aren't they?"

Since then there have been many others who have helped by gifts and by organizing fund raising drives. In Blissfield where I work, a Trust Fund was also started for us and many people have stopped at the shop and given to us personally. We will not attempt to name them for fear of omitting someone.

In all humbleness we say, "Thank You" to each and every one of you who have helped Howard and me by giving of yourself, your time, your gifts of money, large and small, and for every single Betty Crocker coupon. The remainder of the coupons may help someone else.

"God bless you and yours for caring."

In faith,
Howard and Elona Hyder

To the Editor:

I am the mother of two of the teenagers who witnessed the travesty of justice which took place on Good Friday evening on North Union Street.

These young people are perceptive and sensitive and have been raised to respect the laws of the land and the agencies which enforce these laws. The soul searching question they ask now is does the law apply equally to all or are there a privileged few?

If this accident had occurred 30 minutes earlier, my children and perhaps 6 or 8 others could have been killed or hopelessly maimed. What kind of a tragedy is it going to take to bring about reform?

We adults fuss and fume about the "teen age revolution." Can we honestly blame the kids?

We profess to be a community of Christians. Is it not time that we put our principles into practice?

Annual Bowling Tournament Held

Fourth Annual Michigan State Grange Bowling Tournament was held April 11 at Lenawee Recreation, Adrian, with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Whelan bringing home the second place trophy and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Davenport, the third.

Mr. Whelan had the high game in the tournament.

Others from Tipton Grange who participated were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Platt and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Munger.

Sheriff To Present Program On Drugs

A program on drugs in Lenawee County will be presented by a member of the Sheriff's Department for the Tecumseh Acres PTA April 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Officers of the organization have opened the meeting to the public and are urging that parents of the students attend.

Students Present Dances, Poetry

Seventh and eighth grade students of Sylvia Swindlehurst, St. Joseph Academy provided original entertainment for St. Elizabeth Altar Society April 8.

Each class performed interpretive dances and an original poem by an exchange student from Iran was read.

President Mrs. Louis Caterina presented Fr. Robert Handley with a check for $250 at third payment on a $1,000 pledge.

Mrs. Robert Perez, Mrs. Robert Diaz and Mrs. Cyril Desmet were guests.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Kane, Mrs. Harry Vischer, Mrs. Donald Johnson, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Randall, Mrs. Bernard Henehan, Mrs. John Short, Mrs. E. J. Crawford and Mrs. Carl Gerten.

Club Views Opera Slides

Mrs. Clarence Damon presented "Impressions of the Opera", showing slides and narrating the Italian opera, "LaTraviata" by Verdi for members of Wit and Wisdom Club April 6.

She ran a sound tape with the pictures.

Mrs. Ruth Dustin assisted the hostess, Mrs. Perry Hayden.

Six local people were guests for the evening.

Indians Field Young Squad

The Tecumseh Indians head into the 1970 baseball season with a team that has only three returning lettermen.

Head Coach Robert Kiebler said, "We're a young team, but we will be respectable and surprise quite a few people."

Kennedy also takes his regular turn on the pitching mound and Greenfield can move in and play third base.

Mike Clement, a freshman, has worked his way into the starting line-up at second base. According to Coach Kiebler, it is unusual to find a freshman who can step in and play at the varsity level.

Other team members who provide reserve strength are Pat Murphy, senior; Rich Heirholzer, Gary Alcock, John Travis and Rob Hatch, juniors; and Steve Vargo, sophomore.

Coach Kiebler says the two teams which should battle for the league title are Blissfield and Grosse Ile. If past records are any indication, the Indians should do well against Blissfield, a team they have beaten since 1967.

Tecumseh plays an 18-game schedule and presently stands at 0-. They lost to Adrian, 6-5, and to New Boston Huron, 4-1.

The Indians travel to Blissfield Wednesday and will take on Airport at home Friday at 4 p.m.

H S Golfers Bow To Adrian, 178-169

Local linksmen playing were Bill Gibson, 40; Frank Geisenhaver, 44; Ralph Miller, 47; Bob Miller, 47; and Tom LaFerriere, 51. The first three are returning lettermen and the first four scores counted in the match.

Plymouth Valiant Duster 2-Door Coupe

The big difference between Duster & Maverick is not the $90.75

Duster has a longer wheelbase
Duster's 108 inch wheelbase is a full 5 inches longer than Maverick's. In overall length, Duster has 9 more inches. Add Duster's greater weight, and the result is a smoother ride, and more stable handling.

Duster has bigger brakes
Bigger brakes mean more stopping power, and Duster's got it. Effective brake lining area for Duster: 153.4 sq. inches. For Maverick: only 106.0 inches. And if you like disc brakes or power brakes, Duster offers those too. Maverick doesn't.

Duster has a bigger engine
Duster's standard 125 hp Six dusts off Maverick's standard engine by 20 big horses.

New THS Dress Code

A detailed report of the Tecumseh High School guidelines for student dress and appearance is:

The students, administration and faculty of Tecumseh Senior High School desire to promote the best possible atmosphere for learning in the classroom. It is our belief that reasonable and somewhat formal standards of dress, cleanliness, safety, neatness and personal hygiene are appropriate for the students.

These standards are based upon the student's pride in himself, and in his school and its reputation within the community, as well as having an important influence on both his academic achievement and future success.

It is the purpose of these guidlines to aid the students and their parents in determining each student's individual appearance.

GIRLS

1. Hair styles for girls should be in good taste.

2. Clothing should be of a type that reflects personal good taste, cleanliness and a fair degree of formality.

a. It is suggested that the clothing cover undergarments and that transparent fabrics be worn with the proper undergarments.

b. It is suggested that blouses be tucked in unless made to be worn outside the skirt.

c. The length of the skirts and dresses shall be left up to the individual and her parents.

d. Culottes, slacks and burmuda shorts will be considered acceptable attire.

3. Wearing of sandals also must include wearing of hosiery.

4. It is stressed that high standards of cleanliness, neatness and personal hygiene be maintained at all times.

BOYS

1. Boys hair may be worn in accordance with the current styles, but eyebrows, ears and neck should be visible. Cleanliness is stressed at all times.

2. Neatly trimmed moustaches that do not extend beyond the corners of the mouth either upward or downward may be worn.

3. Sideburns should be neatly trimmed, not too thick and should not reach below the bottom lobe of the ear.

4. Beards of any type should not be worn.

5. It is suggested that outer shirts be buttoned except for the collar button and be tucked in the trousers. Shirts should not bear obscene, suggestive or slang expressions.

6. Socks should be worn at all times.

7. Jewelry may be worn provided that its presence does not interfere with normal classroom procedures.

It is stressed that high standards of cleanliness, neatness and personal hygiene be maintained at all times.

Students who do not adhere to the suggestions found in these guidelines will be referred to the administration in writing and the parent will be notified. The correction will be the responsibility of the parent.

However, if in the opinion of a faculty member or a member of the administration, the pupil's appearance has a disruptive influence upon the normal educational process, the pupil shall be suspended immediately. Suspension will continue until the pupil and parent make an effort to alleviate the cause of the disruption.

Airman Robert E. Strait, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Luren J. Strait of Britton, arrived home April 10 following honorable discharge from the United States Navy at the Naval Air Station, Lemoore, Calif. Palmers Attend 2nd Open House

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer accompanied by their son, Lynn, attended the Second Annual Aviation Open House Saturday at Kalamazoo Airport in Kalamazoo from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This event was presented by the Alpha Eta Rho, a technical fraternity at Western Michigan University. They were taken on a tour of the facilities and saw demonstrations of equipment and static displays of aircraft and manufactured products and films. Aerial demonstrations were also presented.

Robert Graham of American Airlines was the speaker for the event. Refreshments were served to all the guests.

Five Are Selected For Honor Group

Five girls from Northeast District were selected among 21 others for the honor group at the Senior Miss Style Review Saturday evening in Adrian.

Barbara Johnson, Penny Mueller and Tammy Tucker of Britton-Macon Club, Lynn Winzler of North Franklin Maidens and Marsha Gautz, Holloway Homemakers, and the other winners were presented medals as mementos of the evening.

The girls are eligible to apply for a scholarship established by Lenawee County 4-H Clothing Committee for those juniors and seniors in high school who have studied three years of clothing.

Mrs. Earl Baldwin was among the narrators for the annual event, Eveldean Exclusives and Mrs. Donna Rohn were judges.

Mrs. Wallace Wilkin was publicity chairman.

Patricia Sue Gross To Be Baptized

During the worship service Sunday, April 19, Patricia Sue, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gross, will be baptised at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Merrill.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Mason, the Chancel Choir will sing: "The Heavens Are Telling".

Debbie Shelton Presents Slides

Debbie Shelton showed her slides of the trip to Mexico she took with the Girl Scouts last summer at the meeting of the Daughters of St. Peters, April 7, at the parish hall. Mrs. Clarence Brock had arranged the program.

Attending were 15 members and a guest. Mrs. Cecile Smith led the devotions from the Epistle of St. John.

Mrs. Earl Lindsley presided at the business meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Lindsley and Mrs. Anna Haughn.

Two Are Baptized

Sacrament of Christian baptism was administered to daughters of two families Sunday morning at United Methodist Church.

Heather Elizabeth Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hammond and Janet Lee Prill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Prill received the sacrament performed by the Rev. Donald C. Porteous, pastor.

Engagement of Barbara Carroll to Terry Berkley is being announced by her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil H. Carroll, of Chrisman, Ill. Mr. Berkley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Berkley, 501 Cairns St. Miss Carroll is a 1967 graduate of Pittsfield High School in Illinois. She is presently enrolled at Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill. Her fiance is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Armour Pharmaceutical Co. in Kankakee. A May 23 wedding is planned.

Clarice Clauda and Robert LeBlond Wed

Clarice Marie Clauda and Robert D. LeBlond were married April 4 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Adrian by the Rev. Fr. James McNeil of Toledo.

White chrysanthemums and yellow daisies filled the altar vases and pews were marked with white satin bows and daisies.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Clauda of Hunt Rd., Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. John LeBlond of New Baltimore.

Linda Swiderski was the organist, playing nuptial music as 150 guests were seated by John Haycock, East Lansing, Larry Szantor, Chicago and Tom Hummel, Lansing.

The bride wore an empire styled gown of organza and satin that she made herself. It was designed with long, cuffed sleeves, high neck with stand-up collar. Lace trimmed the collar, cuffs and waistline.

Her long veil of illusion was secured to three fresh white cornations and green leaves which she later used for a going away corsage.

Christine Clauda was her sister's maid of honor in an apricot chiffon gown styled as the bride's. She wore a wide-brimmed white horse hair hat enhanced with baby pink carnations matching her bouquet.

John LeBlond, Jr., of Detroit was best man.

Fresh daisies were used to decorate tables at the Holiday Inn for the reception and champagne buffet luncheon. Mrs. Gerald Speelman, cousin of the bride, of Adrian, cut the cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bogert, grandparents of the bride, were among the guest.

The bride, a senior at Michigan State University, will graduate in June with a degree in interior design.

Her husband was graduated this past year from MSU and is employed as a research chemist for Firestone Co. in Detroit.

The couple will live in East Lansing.

MRS. ROBERT LeBLOND

Andersons Named Centennial Farm

A farm owned by Harold W. and Mae K. Anderson of 9871 Tipton Hwy. has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The farm, located in Franklin Township, Lenawee County, has been in the possession of the family since 1863. It was originally purchased April 1, 1863 by John Whelan, great great grandfather of the present owner, from Eurastus Hubbard.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose department directs the activities of the Historical Commission, the Centennial Farm program in Michigan was established in 1948. Since that time, certificates and metal markers have been awarded to more than 2,500 Michigan farms.

The program is administered under the direction of the Commission while markers are provided by Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

According to Hare, a Centennial Farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. For this purpose, the Historical Commission considers a farm to be 10 or more acres having estimated sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres but having estimated sales of $250 annually.

Persons owning farms wishing to apply for Centennial Farm Certificates may write to Centennial Farm Programs, Michigan Historical Commission, Department of State, Lansing, Mich. 48918.

New Apartments

Construction of a new three-family dwelling on S. Ottawa St. is in progress by William Powell Real Estate.

Mr. Powell had hoped to have the one - bedroom apartments ready for rental by June 1 but he seemed doubtful Tuesday as the sun shone brightly and carpenters were busy elsewhere.

CLINTON — Mary Alice Powell, food editor for the Toledo Blade for the past 14 years addressed the Clinton Woman's Club members and guests at the annual spring luncheon Wednesday.

Attending were 40 members and 21 guests from Tecumseh, Manchester, Adrian and Deerfield. The smorgasbord luncheon was served at Roumell's. A yellow bouquet of spring daffodils and gladioli centered the speaker's table. Corsages were presented to the president, Mrs. Ralph Reed and the past presidents.

Introduced by program chairman, Mrs. E. John Heelzer, Mrs. Powell described her work as a food editor. She had just returned from the Pillsbury "Bake-Off" and she explained some of the judging procedures.

Overweight and high food costs are the two topics most homemakers are concerned with at present, she said, and suggested a simple solution, "buy less, spend less and eat less." She admitted this is not easy in a nation that spends $2 billion each year on snacks.

"It all began with Eve and the apple," she reminded her listeners as she noted food's esthetic value, its place in history and memories, customs, basis for religious ceremonies and as a friendship bridge, even at diet club meetings.

Discussing food trends she said that women are apparently going back to the old-fashioned way of cooking after trying all the convenience foods. Canning and bread baking have a new appeal to young housewives.

Among the newest innovations she mentioned was freeze drying, or dehydration of soups, casseroles and coffee for easy storage. Another was irradiation, which kills the enzymes in food which causes spoilage, so fresh food will not need to be frozen.

Another new development is underwater farm harvest, which will "produce fish flour, high in protein, with odor and flavor removed, a boon to hungry nations.

Mrs. Powell is often amazed at the questions from her readers — such as the woman who called at press time to ask if she could make a house call to tell what was wrong with the bread dough she had been kneading for past three hours. Another called with the query, "If I cut a 14 lb. rolled roast in half, will I have two 7 lb. roasts?"

It's all in a day's work for editor Mary Alice Powell, who says, "No matter how you slice it—food's wonderful."

Mother Waddles To Speak Sunday

CLINTON — Mrs. Charleszetta Waddles, who has gained nation-wide renown as "Mother" Waddles, director of the Perpetual Mission in Detroit's inner city, has been invited to address the congregation of the United Church of Christ Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service.

Daughter of former slaves, Mrs. Waddles has maintained the Perpetual Mission for several years, where she supplies food, clothing and meals, often without cost, to the needy. Her soup kitchen and charitable works are supported entirely by gifts.

She also maintains a chapel, appears on a radio program and is involved in a low cost housing project at present.

She was a guest of President Ricahrd Nixon at the time of his inauguration and serves on various commissions for him.

Hymns Heard By Philathea Class

CLINTON — Crusade Cameo recorded hymns were a feature of the meeting of the Philathea Class Thursday.

Attending the dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bruno Papsdorf were 12 members, Mrs. Linn Weaver was co-hostess.

Mrs. Leo Smith presented the devotions.

Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Thomas Pence reported on the recent workship meeting of the Jackson Association in Jackson.

Mrs. Frank Stuwe will host the May meeting at which there will be an election of officers.

Township Board Approves Budget

CLINTON — A budget of $42,014 was adopted at the annual meeting of the Clinton Township Board, April 4, for the fiscal year March 15, 1970 to March 15, 1971. Supervisor Harold Calhoun presided at the meeting.

Included in the budget are salaries of $3,600 for the supervisor; $2,400 for the clerk and $3,000 for the treasurer.

Other major items included $14,604 for highway maintenance; $1,700 for cemeteries; $4,000 for fire protection and $2,000 for dump operations.

Supervisor Calhoun reported the 1970 total Township valuation is $17,440,982. This includes $7,820,842 real and $9,620,140 personal.

State Savings Bank of Clinton was designated depository for all Township funds.

Regular meetings were set for the first Monday of each month at 7 p.m. with the exception of the month of September in which the meeting will occur on the second Monday of the month.

The accounting firm of Collins, Burrey, and McKonkey were designated as Township auditors.

At the regular meeting of the Clinton Township Board, April 7, Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, owners of Walker Sanitary Landfill, near Sand Lake, and their consulting engineer, Hugh Corrough, were present.

Preliminary agreement on a contract, whereby all township residents will be able to use the Walker Landfill without charge was reached. A meeting to finalize the contract was scheduled for later in the month.

Paul Diez, 5411 Clinton-Macon Rd., came before the board with a request to park an unoccupied housetrailer on his property while he was in the process of selling it. Permission was granted. Mrs. Diez to do so.

A letter from the County Road Commission presenting a cooperative plan for spot treatment of township roads with chloride was read and the plan approved.

Jan Shelley and Karla Girbach were at Davenport School, of Business, Grand Rapids, Saturday, to attend orientation sessions. The girls, who are seniors at Clinton High School, plan to begin studies at the school in June.

ORDINANCE

Meeting of the City Council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, held on the 7th day of April, 1970.

Present: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Knisely, Puffer, Sunderland and Whiting.

Absent: Councilman Holmes.

The following preamble and ordinance was offered by Councilman Whiting and supported by Councilman Cook.

WHEREAS, the use or installation of aluminum electrical wire may create a dangerous condition when used or installed in buildings or dwellings in the City of Tecumseh owing to its inherent characteristics; and

WHEREAS, it is in the public interest for the safeguard of the health and welfare of the residents of the City of Tecumseh and their property, real or personal, that the use and installation of aluminum electrical wire be prohibited.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

1. That the use or installation of aluminum electrical wire be, and the same is hereby, prohibited for use or installation in any building or dwelling within the City of Tecumseh from a point where the service drop attaches to said building or dwelling to any electrical outlet receptacle situate within the confines of said building or dwelling.

2. That this Ordinance shall be in force and take effect from and after its passage, approval and 10 days after one publication thereof, and that it shall be identified as City of Tecumseh Ordinance 5.211.

3. That all Ordinances, or parts of Ordinances, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed insofar as the same affect this Ordinance.

AYES: Unanimous.
NAYS: None.
Ordinance declared adopted.
Dated: 7 April, 1970
Vera Zornow, City Clerk.

Does GM Care About Cleaner Air?

You bet we do! General Motors has made a public pledge to solve the problem of vehicle emissions in the shortest possible time. We're working in two directions to accomplish this objective: finding new ways to further reduce pollutants from our current engines and exploring, through aggressive research programs, new low-pollutant power sources.

GM BEGAN EMISSION CONTROL RESEARCH 20 YEARS AGO

It was some twenty years ago that GM initiated its first research into the control of vehicle emissions. The immediate problem was air pollution in the Los Angeles basin. At that time, air chemistry and the reaction of vehicle emissions in the air was a little-known field. Even today, scientists are only beginning to unravel this immensely complex subject.

WHERE THE EMISSIONS COME FROM

While it was known that trace amounts of the hydrocarbons which make up gasoline are not burned in the combustion process, it was generally thought that these unburned hydrocarbons were emitted only through the exhaust system. GM scientists learned that only 60% of a vehicle's unburned hydrocarbons were emitted through the exhaust system—20% escaped through the crankcase vent and 20% through evaporation of gasoline vapors from the fuel tank and carburetor.

EMISSIONS FROM A CAR WITHOUT CONTROLS

The major emissions from a car without controls are unburned hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide and oxides of nitrogen. Of these, the unburned hydrocarbons were recognized by GM and government scientists as being the major contributors to Los Angeles-type smog and were selected for emphasis in control. As in most technical advances, progress in controlling these emissions was made in a series of steps, not in a single dramatic leap.

CLOSING OFF THE CRANKCASE VENT

The first step was the development of the Positive Crankcase Ventilation (PCV) system. This system, which was installed in all cars sold in California beginning with the 1961 model (1963 model, nationwide), substantially eliminated the 20% of pollutants being emitted through the crankcase vent. This was done voluntarily prior to the existence of government standards.

EXHAUST CONTROL MEASURES

Next, systems were developed to control exhaust emissions. Exhaust control systems were installed on most 1966 GM cars produced for sale in California (all 1968 models, nationwide). These systems, along with the PCV control which previously had been made standard equipment, decreased the emissions of hydrocarbons by about 60% from the level emitted by an uncontrolled car.

CONTROLLING EVAPORATIVE EMISSIONS

Evaporative emissions from the fuel tank and the carburetor were the last of the three sources to be controlled. All 1970-model GM cars produced for sale in California have these controls. Beginning with 1971 models, GM will include evaporative controls on its production nationwide.

WHERE DOES GM STAND?

Certification tests, required by the State of California prior to production, showed that GM 1970 model cars, as equipped for California use, achieved reductions of more than 80% on hydrocarbon emissions and reductions of more than 65% on carbon monoxide emissions compared with 1960 cars without controls.

We think this is good progress toward our goal of a virtually pollutant-free car. While the goal is now in sight, the last mile will be the toughest part of the fight.

WHAT GM IS DOING

As we said, we're pursuing two roads toward our objective of cleaner air: better controls for the present engines and new power sources.

Our research on the current engine is looking into the possible modification of engine design, improved control systems and possibly fuel injection for more precise air-fuel ratios. This research also shows that the use of unleaded fuel would make possible advanced emission-control systems. After the results of this research were discussed individually with different petroleum companies, a number of these companies announced that they would soon offer an unleaded gasoline. With the availability of unleaded gasoline, long-life exhaust catalytic converters, exhaust manifold reactors and exhaust gas recirculation systems could become technically feasible.

We are also continuing to investigate alternative power sources aggressively and completely. We are not committed to the internal combustion engine and are investigating these power sources with an open mind. Steam, electric, Stirling, hybrid and gas turbine engines are being vigorously studied in the largest research program of its type in the world. We will have no hesitation in using a practical low-pollutant alternative to the internal combustion engine.

WHAT CAN THE CAR OWNER DO?

Car owners can actively join in the battle for cleaner air.

First, keep your car in efficient operating condition through proper maintenance. Studies have shown that proper engine maintenance can substantially lower a vehicle's emissions. You should do this anyway to keep your operating costs down and to make sure you are driving a safe car.

Second, GM dealers will soon be offering a low-cost emission-control system to be installed on 1967 models or older (1965 or older in California). The system will include an ignition control device and call for an engine tune-up to manufacturer's recommendations. Emissions are reduced up to 50%. The system will be available in California when certified by the California Air Resources Board and nationally, as soon as possible thereafter. Have it installed when it becomes available.

AT GENERAL MOTORS WE HAVE ACCEPTED THE CHALLENGE

Our society is rightly placing increased emphasis on the necessity for clean air. At General Motors we have accepted this challenge. Over the years we have made a substantial commitment in people, facilities and funds in order to solve our part of the air pollution problem. We will continue this effort until this goal is reached.

A GLOSSARY OF POLLUTION TERMS

Hydrocarbons: Compounds of hydrogen and carbon. Gasoline is made up of many different hydrocarbons. Both evaporative losses and exhaust emissions contain a variety of hydrocarbons. When baked by the sun they react photochemically with other gases to form smog.
Carbon monoxide: A colorless, odorless, tasteless gas resulting from the combustion of carbon with insufficient air.
Lead: An additive used in gasoline to reduce engine spark knock. A principal fault is that it fouls pollution control devices.

OUR OBJECTIVE: TO ELIMINATE AIR POLLUTION AS IT CONCERNS GENERAL MOTORS VEHICLES AND PLANTS.

COMPLETE CONTROL NEEDS YOUR HELP.

DO YOUR SHARE BY KEEPING YOUR CAR IN GOOD CONDITION.

Charles Gross Speaks To Rotary

Mr. Gross spoke on duties and responsibilities of a certified public accountant.

These include preparation of audits for banks, corporations, and local and state governments and preparation of tax returns for individuals and corporations. The importance of independence and uniformity of accounting procedures were stressed.

Several traveling Rotarians have returned from the Southland where they exchanged flags with other clubs. Added to Tecumseh Rotary's large collection were flags from Miami Shores and Marathon, Fla., by C. O. Butler; Patagonia and Tucson, Ariz., by C. M. Brown; Winterhaven, Fla., by Glenn Driscoll and Brooksville, Fla., by "Spec" Simmons.

Albion Show Scheduled

Annual Albion Antiques Show and Sale, sponsored by the Albion Masonic Building Association, will be held April 17-19 at the National Guard Armory, 1023 Clark St.

"Something for every collector", will be the theme of the show, with 21 quality dealers from four states presenting an array of antiques. Every item will be for sale.

The show will be open to the public on Friday and Saturday from noon until 10 p.m., and on Sunday from noon until 6 p.m.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

Aspirin

Did you know that scientists have classified 13 distinct types of headache — and they agree that simple aspirin is still the best way to relieve the pain, in most cases.

The biggest category (though not the greatest number) of headache is the migraine type, of which the "classic" group includes temporary disorders of vision and muscle activity. When these persist after the headache itself has gone, they are classed as "hemiplegic" and "ophthalmoplegic" headaches.

The "common" migraine includes those that occur at frequent, regular intervals and those associated with menstruation. The "cluster" headache is associated with flushing, sweating and runny nose. Then there's the "lower half" headache, which centers primarily on the mouth and jaw.

"Muscle contraction" headache results from sustained muscle tightening, and is sometimes called the "nervous" or "tense" headache. Some headaches are associated with the eye, ear, sinus, teeth or neck; some result from disorders of the cranial nerve.

Aspirin is not usually used for migraine headaches, but it may be combined with a sedative or tranquilier to obtain the greatest relief.

In a way, aspirin is something like electricity — we've had it around for years, without fully understanding just how it works. We're just grateful that it does work.

CONSUMERISM...

SUDDENLY EVERYONE IS AWARE OF IT

. . . and they should be.
For consumer satisfaction is today,
and always has been the only real basis for success of any product or company.

More than a century ago, our founders recognized this when they established A&P Policy.
That policy to this day hangs in every A&P Store.

Automated, computerized, streamlined as we are, we still live by that A&P Policy.

The difference is that today we give this sound basic policy broader dimensions.
Giving full measure means more to your modern A&P than just 16-oz. to the pound.
It means really caring about people,
about what you sell them,
about the price you charge them.
We do and always have . . . which may be the reason that this week over 20 million people will come to A&P to make their purchases.

THE A&P POLICY

Always to:

Do what is honest, fair, sincere, and in the best interests of every customer

Extend friendly satisfying service to everyone

Give every customer the most good food for her money

Assure accurate weight every time — 16 oz. to each pound

Give accurate count and full measure

Charge the correct price

Cheerfully refund customer's moneys if for any reason any purchase is not satisfactory

THEY HAD RED HATS

I have two bird pleasures to share with you this week. The first concerns the little birds whom I had given up for this year. Everybody else seemed to have them — well, no not everybody, but from all reports, it was a good winter for redpolls.

It as in mid-December or perhaps early January when the reports and questions started flying. People were seeing sparrow-like birds but they had red hats pushed to the front of their heads — who or what were they? With that type of description it could be nothing else but a redpoll.

Tecumseh must have enjoyed a small invasion because people were seeing them in yards, birch trees, other ornamental plantings and at feeders. Sometimes the group was large, sometimes small. Always, however, the red on the head was mentioned.

Well, needless to say, with redpolls in this part of the world we started watching and waiting — and waiting — and waiting. Hope had almost disappeared and we were trying our best to be philosophical with the not-too-convincing "perhaps next year."

Suddenly it happened and, how is this for perfect timing, it happened late in the afternoon on Good Friday. Gertie T. and I both rather casually noticed a pair of small birds on the feeder in front of the south window.

Because the already-changing goldfinches and the cute little pine siskins had been freeloading at the larger feeder all day, these newcomers did not immediately register as newcomers.

★

THE HEAVILY - STRIPED breast suggested siskins and the white wing markings could have been goldfinch. But, Marda, these little guys were too large for siskins and, except for the wing bars, they did not in any way resemble goldfinches.

A quick double take and hooray, — suddenly I was stammering to Gertie T., "They have red hats!"

The visit was much too short, there has been no repeat, but at least they were here once. Redpolls are now proudly recorded on our bird list. And, if twice in a row is any sort of an indication, it might just be that Fridays are going to be our good bird days.

It was exactly a week after all of the redpoll excitement that Gertie T. and I were checking a bird migration list to see who should be returning when.

Being especially fond of towhees, her eyes searched the column and almost lit up when they spotted — good heavens, as she raised her head and started to say something to me, she happened to look outside and there was a real live honest-to-gosh towhee on the creek bank. (If she has this sort of power, I may suggest that she often look at this list and concentrate on birds we would especially like to have visit.)

★

ALL MORNING we enjoyed Gertie T.'s towhee. He was in and out of the brush pile on the creek bank. He was in the yard; he was up near the house; he was under the yews by the feeder; he always returned to the shelter and protection of that big brush pile though.

There was still much snow on the ground and what a background it made for the bird's jet black head, rufous side of the breast stripes, and down the middle of his tummy white. Even the white markings on his wings showed up well. A handsome bird.

So it is that Fridays have been good lately, the towhees are back from their vacations in the sunny southlands and as for the redpolls, truly they had red hats.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHAT DO YOU DO WITH FOOLISH QUESTIONS?

Proverbs 26:5 "Answer a fool according to his folly lest he be wise in his own conceits." Titus 3:9 "Avoid foolish questions." Some questions do not deserve an answer. To do so would dignify stupidity. Others are unanswerable, so to seek answers is profitless.

We are left without answers to some questions. How old is the earth? Where is Moses buried? What happened to the Ark of the Covenant? Who are the two witnesses in Revelation?

Sometimes such questions are a guise to avoid answering questions which have answers and are of extreme, eternal importance.

Perhaps we should ponder the answer to some of these questions? Am I a sinner? Must I do something to be sure of Heaven? What must I do to be saved? Can a person be sure now, today? Does God hear Prayer?

No question will have meaning in Eternity unless we have made a preparation for Heaven.

We have only one life
'Twill soon be past
Only what's done for Christ will last!
Read Acts 16:30-31.

Hundreds Gather To Pay Final Respects at Services for Mrs. Ray W. Herrick

Funeral services for Hazel Marie Herrick, 81, were held here Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Herrick, wife of Ray W. Herrick, one of Michigan's best known and outstanding industrial leaders, died late Friday afternoon at Herrick Memorial Hospital. She had been in failing health for the past two years and had entered the hospital here on April 11.

She would have been 82 years old on Monday, the day of her funeral.

Mrs. Herrick was well known by many in the community and in nearby Adrian, where the Herrick family has contributed immeasurably through the Herrick Foundation to the growth and prosperity of Adrian College.

A resident of Tecumseh for 36 years, she acquired and made many friends here. Through philanthropy of the family, she became known in many communities and institutions.

While the Herrick name has been memoralized in many instances, Mrs. Herrick alone had several honors bestowed upon her. They included:

Hazel M. Herrick Residence Hall at Adrian College.

She was the first and only woman to ever receive an honoray degree from Howe Military School, Howe, Ind.

Mrs. Herrick was born on April 20, 1888 at Alda, Iowa, the daughter of David and Ida Grove Forney. While she was quite young, the family moved to Holland, Mich.

She married Ray Wesley Herrick at Holland on Nov. 29, 1911. During the next 17 years they lived at Pontiac, Detroit, Jackson City, Iowa and then Jackson.

In 1928 they moved to Hillsdale, where he organized the Hillsdale Machine & Tool Co., the forerunner of the Tecumseh Products Co. They moved to Tecumseh in 1934 and renamed the company.

Since coming here over 35 years ago, the Tecumseh Products has become the world's largest producer of refrigeration compressors. With its growth and prosperity, the Herricks have become widely known for their philanthropy, in which Mrs. Herrick herself played a part.

The Products enjoyed tremendous success under guidance of Mr. Herrick, who has been president and chairman of the board for the corporation. He is now chairman emeritus.

In 1961, she and her husband observed their golden wedding anniversary.

Survivors, besides her husband, include two daughters, Mrs. Donald (Catherine) Cobb and Mrs. Jean Marie Van Waveren, Greenwich, Conn.; a son, Kenneth, now president of the Tecumseh Products; two sisters, Mrs. Ernest Nelson, Spencer, Iowa, and Mrs. Lloyd Rhein, Boca Raton, Fla.; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A sister and two brothers preceded her in death.

The Rev. Blair O. Bashore officiated at Monday afternoon's service, a service at which hundreds paid their final respects. Attendance was one of the largest ever in Tecumseh, and included many who flew in or drove many miles to attend.

Interment was in Brookside Cemetery.

Memorial Fund for Mrs. Herrick

A memorial fund for Hazel M. Herrick was established at the United Savings Bank by friends of the family.

The fund will be used in her memory with details to be released at a later date.

Folks wishing to contribute should make out their checks, payable to Hazel M. Herrick Memorial Fund, and forward them to the local bank.

Church Plans New Building

Construction of a Christian Educational Unit at the First Presbyterian Church is scheduled to begin May 1.

According to the Rev. Edmond Watkins, the unit will contain six classrooms, office and study, kitchenette, lounge, parlor and mechanical room. A new boiler in the mechanical room will heat both the educational unit and sanctuary. A terrace and play area will be located in the rear of the unit.

The building will extend approximately 100 feet east on Chicago Blvd. and 40 feet north into the lot which is being used for parking.

The building which houses the offices is scheduled to be torn down next Wednesday. The offices will be located in the church until the new unit is completed.

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held following the worship service Sunday.

Bid from Krieghoff Co. was accepted with the estimated cost of the unit being $225,000.

The educational unit is scheduled for completion 190 days after construction begins, or in early November.

Charges by IRS Against Attorney

James C. Beardsley, 55, of 401 W. Chicago Blvd., appeared in U. S. District Court at Detroit Friday and entered a plea of Nolo Contendre to the charge of wilfully making and subscribing to a false personal income tax return which he filed for the year 1965.

He had reported taxable income of $2,264.70 for that year on which he paid a tax of $617.-59, whereas, his actual taxable income for that year was $23,-975.54 on which he should have paid a tax of $7,980.03.

Mr. Beardsley is a well known practicing attorney in Lenawee County. During this period he was a director of a local bank, attorney for the city of Tecumseh, attorney for many townships and villages in Lenawee County.

He was also a former president of the Lenawee County Bar Association and a member of the Probate and Trust Law Committee of the American Bar Association.

Federal District Judge Thomas P. Thornton released him on a $2,000 personal bond and referred the matter to the Probation Department for a presentence report.

Maximum penalty for the offense is a three-year prison term or $5,000 fine, or both.

The investigation was conducted by the Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service, at Detroit.

Trash Pickup May 4-15th

Annual city trash pickup for residents here will be held the first two weeks of May. Dates are May 4 through May 15 and were approved by Council Monday night.

The free pickup will include leaves, grass trimmings and small limbs, but not large items such as major appliances. Residents are expected to take large items to the Walker Landfill on Pawson Rd., just east of Sand Lake.

Meeting Is Held for Clinton Sewer

The proposed trunk sewer system between Clinton and Tecumseh has advanced into the planning stages and is gathering support.

Officials from both communities met Wednesday night of last week at city hall and discussed plans projected by Clinton's engineering firm. Reports of the firm's findings were distributed to Tecumseh councilmen.

Most of the discussion was headed by a representative of the Ann Arbor firm. He told officials that centralized wastewater plants were being favored by authorities over individual plans in each community.

Tecumseh councilmen indicated interest in the proposal and promised to study the report. The subject was brought up at Monday night's Council meeting, and it was decided not to delve into the report until after the city's 1970-71 budget had been approved.

The budget must be approved by the second Monday in May. Officials have most of the summer to study the Clinton-Tecumseh sewer project.

Estimated length of the sewer, an 18-inch pipe, is 29,000 feet. It would be a gravity line the entire distance as there is a natural decline from Clinton to Tecumseh's plant.

Cost of the trunk sewer would be approximately $650,000 with 55 percent, or $357,000, available through state and federal funds. Federal funds would amount to 30 percent and the state providing 25 percent.

According to City Manager Calvin Zorn, all sewage projects which have been submitted this year have been approved by the state.

Both Zorn and Clinton Mayor John Truesdale said there are several methods of financing the remaining 45 percent of the cost, approximately $293,000.

Several possible methods are, the Drain Commissioner can be petitioned under Act No. 342, the State Pollution Fund can provide monies, or Revenue Bonds can be approved.

A consulting engineering firm, hired by Clinton to study methods of improving waste water treatment, recommended that construction of such a system be considered over improvement of the existing plant.

Test Alert for Tornado Friday Night

A test tornado alert will be held Friday, April 24, at 6 p.m.

A two-minute steady blast of the fire siren will signal when a tornado that may be headed into this area has been sighted west of Tecumseh.

Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge said Tuesday, "Do not call the police or fire department as it ties up the telephone lines in case of an emergency."

"Take cover in the basement or next safest place and turn on your transistor radio," MacGeorge urged.

The "all clear" will be given by radio only as well as other important information concerning storm.

"If by chance we should have severe storm warnings Friday in this area," the chief said, "the test will be postponed."

Band Concert Next Week

Tecumseh's annual high school band concert will be held next week, April 30 and May 1, in the school's gym at 8 p.m.

A new twist to an old theme will be realized when the band performs in a night club setting with viewers seated at individual tables. Skits, under the direction of Betty Flanders, will highlight Thursday's production which will include numbers by the 80-piece band.

Friday's feature attraction will include the new high school stage band in a "swinging, sentimental mood."

Emceeing for the performances will be done by Paul Hamilton, senior.

Tickets are on sale at Flanders Music and from band members.

New Owners at Des Ermia

Charles "Chuck" Des Ermia and his wife, Marcia, have taken over the management of the Des Ermia furniture store on N. Evans St., just off Chicago Blvd.

He succeeds his father, Lyle Des Ermia, who died last year on Oct. 4. Since his death, the store was managed by Russell Thurlby, long-time employee and salesman for Mr. Des Ermia.

Chuck and Marcia have over 15 years' experience in the furniture business. He worked here for his father while in high school and then managed the Des Ermia furniture store in Pioneer, O., for nine years. For the past five years, they operated a furniture store at Milan.

They officially took over here April 1 and are just now putting the final touches on a remodeling program which gives the interior a new look. This includes carpeting throughout the first floor plus painting and wallpapering.

New carpet and bedding departments are planned, and all on the first floor. At the present, the new owners do not contemplate using the second floor as Mr. Des Ermia did.

Chuck says new lines of furniture are being added to the basic ones always handled by the store.

The new owners live at 808 Red Mill Dr., and have two youngsters, Kelly, 8, and Mark, age 7.

Board Petitions

Petitions for two positions on the Tecumseh School Board are now available at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd.

Voters will ballot on seats now held by William Macbeth and Dr. Donald Phelan. Both reportedly will seek re-election.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Tecumseh folks baked up a storm last weekend, and the resulting goodies netted $250 for the Howard Hyder Fund, according to sponsoring chairman for the Welcome Wagon, Mrs. Allen DeShano. Assisting all day were Mrs. Lawrence Bilkie, president of Welcome Wagon, and Mrs. Iva Caswell, membership chairman. Throughout the two-day event, Friday and Saturday, 21 other women took turns staffing the booth, where baked goods supplied by 25 local clubs, was dispensed. They were all sold out by 11:15 a.m., Saturday. Mrs. DeShano expressed appreciation to all who helped make it a success.

Do you have your IQ button yet? Betty Flanders says she's all buttoned up with Michigan Week buttons and IQ buttons.

Nine ladies of First Baptist Church attended the Spring Rally in Fairfield Tuesday. Mrs. John Westgate and Mrs. William Flanders sang a duet and Mrs. Westgate, a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Flanders. Others attending from here were Mrs. Richard Fielder, Mrs. Arthur George, Mrs. Grace Rehberg, Mrs. C. O. Baily, Mrs. Vern Manwaring, Mrs. B. O. Bashore and Mrs. Richard Carter.

Each year hundreds join the senior rank, and last week Dr. Robert Bowers joined the elite with the passing of his 50th birthday. Although now eligible to play in the old timers golfing events, his game has soured with age.

Club Is Selling Curb Numbers

Voyage en France Club members will be selling permanently painted curb numbers over the weekend.

Donations of $2 are asked with one fourth going to the club to help the members go to France this summer. The remainder of the money will go to the Tecumseh Jaycees, who are doing the actual painting.

Jaycee profits will go to clean up the Raisin River.

White numbers are painted on a black background on the curb in the front of the house. It is easily readable at night.

Curb numbers painted earlier have washed away due to the use of the wrong kind of paint, and these will be repainted without charge. New numbers will be painted with permanent paint.

Voyage en France is also offering the book, "Lines that Rhyme" by Clara Waldron, Tecumseh's historian. The book is a collection of three poems and poems about Tecumseh residents, written for special events. Donated to the club, the books are selling for $1.50. They are available from any of the club members or at The Tecumseh Herald, Gambles, or Jean Colgrove's.

Sue S. Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bates, 235 W. Chicago Blvd., Britton, has enlisted in the United States Air Force. Miss Bates, a 1969 graduate of Britton High School, will undergo six weeks of basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex., prior to attending technical training.

THS Dance Club Presenting Show

"Around the World in 80 Days" is the theme of the third annual dance show to be presented by the Dance Club of Tecumseh High School, affiliated with Girls Athletic Association.

Sixteen numbers representing 13 different countries will be presented Thursday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. each evening in the gym.

Leprechauns from Ireland, Can Can dancers from France, dancers from Arabia, Thailand and Africa will provide lively entertainment contrasting with music and hula dancing and the last number featuring cowboys and cowgirls.

All 75 girls will dance in the finale to music of the theme.

Large murals, painted by art students in the Club, enhance the numbers, colorful with costumes made and purchased by the GAA.

Donna Osburn and Mary Ann Wagner had charge of programs with Wendy Luce, Barbara Bock, Kim Hammang, Mary Jo Nykodym and Ruth Rudd handling tickets.

Nancy Dustin and Donna Osburn will take care of music while Kathy House, Carol Rebottaro, Jera Robinson and Sylvia Steele will do properties.

Mark Slagh, Ellen Zimmerman and Janice Christman wil handle the lights and Jean Bowser, April Cook, Debbie Fairbanks, Monica Hoffman, Brenda Johnson and Pam Purkey will seat the guests.

Mystery gift was won by Mrs. Robert Martin.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Work Out Solution

An 18-inch sanitary sewer from Clinton to Tecumseh? Sounds wonderful, if all the problems can be worked out and satisfactorily to both communities.

Such a sewer would be beneficial in the growth of the area between the two communities, and an area which someday will be developed as Clinton and Tecumseh grow closer together.

Are the problems insurmountable? We hope and think not, but before officials can possibly reach an agreement, future joint meetings should be planned after Tecumseh officials familiarize themselves with the Clinton engineering report.

Problems to be weighed are:

How are the costs of the $650,000 sewer to be split or shared?

Should Tecumseh pay any portion of the costs?

Who will maintain and control the sewer?

Can or will costs be partially financed by special assessment?

Will developers and users in the future be charged their fair share when connecting to the sewer?

If Tecumseh is forced to expand their wastewater plant in the future because of Clinton's waste, will that community share proportionately in plant expansion costs?

These questions and others must be answered and solved satisfactorily for both communities. In reaching decision, officials should take into consideration the overall benefits to be derived from a large developed area.

Clinton officials also should take into consideration an immediate benefit to their village and the tremendous potential to be realized by their school district. As that area is developed in homes and possibly commercial and industrial buildings, the Clinton school district's evaluation would soar as most of this area lies within its district.

We hope that Clinton and Tecumseh can work out a solution, one which may involve some give and take by both, but a solution which will help all of us in the Clinton-Tecumseh area.

Scouts to Present History of Scouting

All Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer Scouts are selling tickets for the Lenape District 1970 Scout Show to be held at the Madison High School, Saturday, May 23.

This year is the 60th anniversary of scouting and the theme is, "The History of Scouting" with a booth show held in the high school gymnasium. There will be a little theater in the band room with acts throughout they day by some of the units and the possibility of Indian dances.

Unit camping will be established at the school overnight on Friday, May 22.

Show time is 11 a.m. with an opening ceremony and closing at 8 p.m.

The show committee has made contacts in hopes of having the governor, an astronaut, or a sport celebrity.

There will be ten prizes for the boys selling the most tickets. First prize is a voyageur tent, second and third prizes are ranger sleeping bags, fourth, fifth and sixth prizes are frontier frame and packs, and seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth prizes are scout watches.

It is hoped that all 52 units in the district will be participating. Any one having any questions about the show may contact William Wright, chairman, at Bixby Hospital.

EAGLE SCOUT JIM CRANDALL

Jim Crandall Earns Award

Jim Crandall was presented his Eagle award Thursday evening following a potluck supper for Troop 73 Boy Scouts at Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church.

Leo Swinehart of the Lenape Advancement Committee, made the presentation. David Henning, also an Eagle Scout, read the Eagle poem.

Gary Wonderly and John Frownfelder were the honor guard escorting the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crandall, and Scoutmaster Tom Cook for the ceremonies, attended by 50 scouts families.

Scoutmaster Cook plans to take the troop, at least 23 boys, on the Pottawatamie Trail hike in the Waterloo area May 2 and 3. Two cabins have been rented for the 17-mile trip. Five fathers will accompany the boys.

The Nation's Beauty Shop

There it stands, the Nation's Beauty Shop. Millions of others like it are saying to us, "Give us your trash . . . let us help you beautify our country!" And all we have to do is to use this free beauty service — take a step or two extra to keep trash from becoming litter.

Each of us can do our part in giving our country a "facial" by patronizing these little "shops" set up for our convenience. Every litter bit hurts. So let's keep our face clean Michigan!

Self-Treatment

There's a medical maxim that runs: "The doctor who treats himself has a fool for a patient." The non-physician who treats himself is often in even more serious trouble.

I'm not talking about ordinary first-aid, or self-medication for a cold. After all, there are some things you don't need to bother a doctor about.

But there are many medical problems that grow worse when neglected, or not properly treated. Prolonged pain, for example, may be a warning symptom; a lingering rash or occasional bleeding may show that something else is seriously wrong. Several weeks of self-treatment in such circumstances is just plain foolish.

For example, a Denver man was in such pain that he chewed, daily, 10 tablets of a gum containing aspirin. He numbed the pain — and developed mouth ulcers as a result.

Or take do-it-yourself ear piercing. There are small devices with sharp points, now on sale which are supposed to pierce ears within a few days as they are worn. According to the American Medical Association, these can increase the chance of infection and the development of scar tissue.

You may not realize all the possible hazards, but a doctor won't pierce ears if there is any type of rash or infection, or if small cysts are present in the ear lobe.

Jonesville Man Arrested by Police

Ronald King, 27, of Jonesville, was arrested Friday by Roseville Police, and charged with check violations which occurred in September, 1968.

Checks involved were written on Hunt's Gulf, Clinton, and James Danforth, Tecumseh.

King waived examination in Lenawee District Court Friday pending arraignment in Circuit Court, April 24. His bond was set at $3,000 on each of the charges.

Jonesville Police also have a warrant for his arrest.

R. Dean Cunningham, president of Ayling-Cunningham Asphalt Paving Company, Green Hwy., has been elected president of the Michigan Asphalt Paving Association. The company has three additional plants, one in Hillsdale and one in Monroe and a portable one that moves around in lower Michigan. Mr. Cunningham, his wife, Nan, and their four boys, ages 2 to 11, live in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Hoover Rupert At Family Banquet

Dr. Hoover Rupert, senior minister of the First United Methodist Church of Ann Arbor, will be the speaker at the Family Fellowship Dinner Wednesday, April 29, at United Methodist Church.

Speaking during the observance of National Family Christian Week, Dr. Rupert will call upon his broad experiences as a source of material. Before serving his present 11 year duties in Ann Arbor, Dr. Rupert served for nine years in Jackson where he held the position of Senior Pastor.

He has served the Detroit Annual Conference as well as the General Conference of the United Methodist Church in many areas, presently as chairman of the Board of Ministry of the Detroit Conference.

Recently Dr. Rupert was elected as chairman of the Youth for Understanding International. In addition to these activities, he writes weekly articles for Michigan Christian Advocate, a magazine serving Michigan Methodists.

Families in the church wishing to attend this family supper, beginning at 6 p.m. are asked to bring dishes to pass, table service, and milk. In addition, reservations should be made by calling the church office (423-2197 or 423-2198) in the mornings or 423-4515 in the afternoons.

The observance has been arranged by the coordinators in the Council on Ministries, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beal, Mrs. Donald Rochaver and Mrs. Norbert Sedelbauer.

Tecumseh Players To Stage Comedy

The comedy, "Mr. Barry's Etchings" by Walter Bullock and Daniel Archer will be presented by the Tecumseh Players May 8, 9, 14, 15 and 16 at the Tecumseh Community Center. It will be the final production of the current season.

Guil Rothfuss of Wamplers Lake stars as Mr. Barry and is joined by his wife, Vesta, as the "busybody neighbor," Carrie Stanwich. Mrs. Mel Wegner portrays Mr. Barry's housekeeper-sister who remains exasperated by her brother's impractical antics.

Diane Steel, as the inept and bumbling crook, Sawbuck Sam, is a hilarious second banana to the schemes of his moll, Fifty Ferris, portrayed by Charlotte Parker of Clinton. Phil Campbell, also of Clinton, handles the role of Marvin, the "stuffed shirt" suitor.

Tecumsehites besides Mrs. Wegner and Mr. Steele include Phil and Randy Baker, Bertha Vallelunga, Lyle Dornan and Leigh Ann Schneider. Rene Crombez of Irish Hills and Jan Paige of Adrian complete the cast.

Kathy Bell brings a background of experience to her directorial chores. Miss Bell, of Adrian, has worked with the Meadowbrook Theater at Oakland University. Her credits also include stage managing for "Summer and Smoke," assistant directing "Once More With Feeling," and performing in "Oliver" during the summer theater program at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian. Technical Director of the production is John Day.

Tickets are available at Flanders Music Store and Sanchez Beauty Salon; in the Irish Hills at Rene's Donut Shop; or from cast members.

Spring cleaning, what's worse than spring cleaning and I do mean those things under the mattress that occasionally have to come in for a bit of dusting. There are times when, it's nice not to have one of those huge wall to wall beds.

Frances G. Rathbun, sister of Mrs. Bert Oosterhout, expects to return to Howell May 1 after spending the winter in Florida and Arizona. She has retired from her duties at Howell State Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Smith entertained at a family dinner Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. William Achersold and two children of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smith of Lansing and Mrs. E. J. Achersold were guests.

Among the many returning from Florida recently are Mrs. E. J. Achersold, Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, Howard Tynesdales, and the Clarence Beeches from Bradenton, the Frank McRaes from Palmetto, Mrs. Bert Oosterhout and Mrs. LeRoy Titley.

Mrs. Lillian Hoagland returned Saturday from a week's stay with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Beebe, and children in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. H. C. Munger is expected home the latter part of the week from St. Petersburg, Fla. Her son, Roger Van Valkenburg, flew down to drive her home since she has been suffering from a lame hip.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Green will fly to Zephryhills, Fla., Sunday to accompany his mother, Mrs. Elmer Green, home after she spent the winter there. Happy homecoming, Winnifred, the girls have the house all slicked up for your return.

Douglas Beasley has returned to his job at Peerless Gear and Machine Division of the Products Co. after serving his tour of duty with the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Gillespie, en route home from Newport Ritchie. Stopped in Atlanta, Ga., to visit their granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Veeser, nee Barbara Gillespie.

Becky Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Austin, and Mary Marz of Oak Park, Ill., returned Sunday by plane from Martinique Island in the Caribbean where they spent a week vacationing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lewis have returned to their home in Adrian from Lake Alfred in Florida.

Beth and Geneva Satterthwaite are home from California. We missed those cards so welcome from Beth other years. She said, "You always put them in the paper so I didn't send any." That, dear readers, is the reason we haven't had any "Beth' news this long winter.

Mrs. George Milosh entered Bixby Hospital Thursday and underwent surgery Friday. She and her husband, former Tecumseh residents, are living at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eschenauer of Adrian.

Mrs. Floyd Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Stanley Ford of Birmingham, returned by plane Tuesday from Englewood, Fla.

FRITZ FISHER

Fisher Addressing Lutheran Banquet

On April 28, 1970, at 6:30 p.m., the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will have its Father-Son Banquet. The theme of the banquet is, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

The speaker will be "Fritz" Fisher, former Adrian High School and U of M baseball star. Mr. Fisher later went on to the major leagues playing with noxville, Detroit Tigers, and Toledo. As a pitcher in professional baseball over a 5-year period compiled a record of 41 wins and 18 losses.

"Fritz" is married—one child age three and resides in Perrysburg, Ohio.

Topic of Mr. Fisher's speech will be: (3 parts): Baseball—what does it take to be a major leaguer. Sportsmanship—meaning of competition. Denny McLain Case—Its effect on McLain and on baseball.

Play To Be Re-scheduled

CLINTON — Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday agreed to require a teacher to continue production of the senior play and to advise the principal to re-schedule the play on the school calendar.

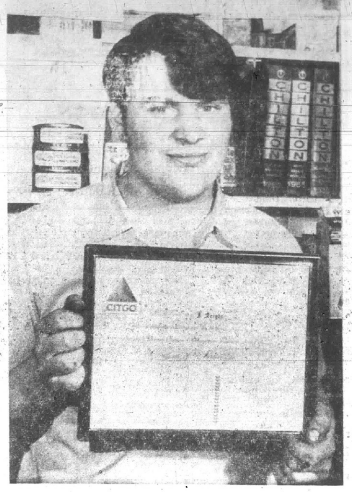
The play, which was scheduled for production this week, was cancelled last week by Mrs. Donald Geiger, director, after interruptions of rehearsals by another school function.

In other action the board named a negotiating team to represent the Board of Education in the collective bargaining process with the Clinton Teachers Association.

Included will be Supt. Richard Wegner, and both building principals, Hodley Cox, and Michael Walls, as advisors, along with board members Dr. Edwin Wight, Lester Proctor, Thomas Carlton and Harlon Ruhl.

Resignation was accepted with regret from Mrs. Allen Wise, who has taught for 47 years. She has taught first grade in Clinton Schools for 14 years.

Policies were adopted pertaining to driver education and married and pregnant students.



James Feight received a certificate at the conclusion of a two-week management course taken near Chicago, Ill., recently. He is a two-year employee at Ruhl's Citgo Service Station, W. Chicago Blvd. Course included study of the company, its products and bookkeeping, qualifying him for management of a station. Owner George Ruhl explained, "Maybe I'll be able to take a vacation now."

Rev. Hawthorne Speaks To Club

Mrs. Donald F. Smith welcomed 67 members and guests to the annual spring luncheon and final meeting of Monday Club, April 13, in First Baptist Church Youth House.

Spring flowers and candles were used on the tables with flowers and mints as favors.

Mrs. Smith presented the Rev. Frank Hawthorne who spoke on his life and ministry as "American Dean at Battle" at St. Mary's Parish Church in Sussex, England.

He started his program with a tape recording of a letter sent to St. Peter's Church here with the Bells of St. Mary's ringing in the background. The slides included Battle Abbey gateway, scenes commemorating Battle of Hastings, 1066, University of Sussex Chapel, thatched roof houses, town of Hastings, historically maintained church of England, flower gardens and Hawthorne family life.

Mrs. Hawthorne told of her participation in Women's Royal Volunteer service, providing transportation for retarded, handicapped, small children and retired people, along with helping serve "hot meals on wheels" to shut-ins three times a week.

Mrs. Ralph Comfort led devotions and Mrs. Smith presented her annual report and introduced new officers for the coming year. Silk scarfs marked the places of the officers, gift of Mrs. Smith.

MACON MAXIMS

By MRS. HAMILTON MOORE

Macon Women's Society of Christian Service will observe prayer and self-denial Monday, April 27. Mrs. Carl Hawkins is planning a special program. This is a change from the Tuesday date. Refreshment committee is Mrs. Herman Mehler and daughter, Hallie Jane, and Mrs. Lynn Reese.

The monthly church news letter will be written Thursday, April 30. All news is to be given to Mrs. Dean Moore or Mrs. Edward Clark early so material can be typed up.

Thursday, April 30, 12:30 p.m., there will be a Tasting Party at the Rollin Center United Methodist Church. Anyone wishing to go, should phone Mrs. Dean Moore or Mrs. Truman Jordan.

James Thomas, Sr., had a narrow escape with a chain saw April 14. He received a severe cut on his face and was in Herrick Memorial Hospital for several days.

Mrs. Peter Golema entertained 17 members of the Macon Woman's Club recently. Mrs. Mills Swick conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president. Many different projects were discussed, but no definite action was taken. A committee is working on plans for the roadside "clean-up". The group voted to retain the same officers another year. President, Mrs. Lyle Riddell; vice-president, Mrs. Mills Swick; secretary, Mrs. Merl Cross and treasurer, Mrs. Peter Golema. A fifty cent grab bag was enjoyed by all. Much merriment ensued when various bags were opened. Most agreed they received their 50 cents worth. The proceeds will be used to replenish the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore attended the Lenawee - Monroe Association Order of Eastern Star, Saturday afternoon and evening. Fairfield Chapter was host in the Sand Creek High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowe attended the silver wedding anniversary of his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Reau of Petersburg, in Deerfield Sunday afternoon.

Saturday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hawkins were his brother, Ted, and wife of Melvindale.

Mrs. William Gibson has returned home from Bixby Hospital, where she has been recuperating from a broken hip.

Mrs. William Gorton and her fifth grade from the Britton-Macon School and Miss Hull's fifth grade visited the Ford Museum in Dearborn, Friday. Mrs. Dean Moore, Mrs. Gerald Price, Mrs. Harold Lutz were among the mothers who accompanied the group.

Mrs. Lilburn Burleson entered Bixby Hospital in Adrian Wednesday, for eye surgery.

Mrs. Lyle Riddell, Mrs. Mills Swick and Mrs. Paul Kollar, attended the 5th Annual World Federation of Woman's Club meeting in Adrian. The United Church of Christ was the host.

Mrs. Herbert Morden, Mrs. Dean Moore and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore attended the Ann Arbor District Women's Society Spring Meeting at Milan United Methodist Church, Monday.

Annual Macon United Methodist Church mother and daughter banquet will be held Saturday, May 9, at 6:30 p.m. The program, "An Evening With Hats", will be presented by Mrs. Mabel Van Ordan, of Adrian. The menu will consist of ham and the rest pot-luck style potatoes, salad, vegetable and dessert. The various circles will be responsible for different items and there will be no charge for tickets. A donation will be taken. Everyone must get a ticket in advance. Contact Mrs. Terry Ross, Mrs. Harold Kuder, Mrs. Edmund Mueller or Mrs. Dean Moore before May 2 for tickets.

Donation Made to Village Council

BRITTON — Sum of $632.20 was presented to the Village Council at their regular meeting Tuesday evening. The retiring Britton Homecoming committee, consisting of Earl Griffin, Russ Spalding, Harold Jeffers, Dean Downing, Elwood Bush and Bill Spreemap, made the presentation.

The money has been designated for park improvements and the public is to be informed as to its use.

The Council gratefully accepted the donation and announced the purchase of new picnic tables to replace the old ones.

Realtors Hear Principal

He pointed out that many high school students can equip themselves for job opportunities by attending classes at the Center, thus becoming highly skilled which could mean high earnings.

Mr. Brown, a lifetime resident of Lenawee County, was graduated from Onsted High School, attended Western Michigan and Eastern Michigan Universities and University of Michigan, receiving a masters degree in education. He is presently working on a doctorate degree.

He said that the Lenawee facility is the second such training area in Michigan, has teachers with 25 years' experience and some with masters degrees.

Partitions inside the new building on M-52 are movable and can be changed as required according to needs.

Applications for the next school term are being submitted in great numbers, 94 in auto mechanics, 83 in building trades and lesser numbers in data processing, child care, diversified health occupations, etc. Co-op on-the-job training classes applications have reached 114.

Presently seven programs in six locations are operated.

Students will be primarily juniors and seniors in the school expected to be 80% operational by the 1970 fall term.

Evening adult classes will be available on a fee basis of about 50c per class hour.

Cornells Honored At Family Party

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Cornell of Ann Arbor were guests of honor Sunday at a family party at the Lyle Grigg residence on Allens Lake.

An afternoon of games followed by a spaghetti dinner with meat sauce made and served by Mrs. Norman Grigg was enjoyed.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cornell, Mrs. William Grigg, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Grigg and Merry Crista and Norman Grigg.

RESOLUTION

Meeting of the City Council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, held on the 20th day of April, 1970

Present: Mayor Holmes; Councilmen Bilkie, Knisely, McCombs, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

Absent: None.

The following preamble and Resolution was offered by Councilman McCombs and supported by Councilman Knisely.

WHEREAS Council deems it advisable to vacate and discontinue that part of a public street, to-wit: that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street; and,

WHEREAS it is the declaration of Council that proceedings be initiated to effect the vacating and discontinuance of the public street hereinbefore referred to.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved:

1. That it is the declaration of Council that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street, in the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, be vacated and discontinued.

2. That the description of the lands encompassing that portion of Pine Street declared vacated is as follows:

All that part of Pine Street on the Plat of Sunset Meadows and on Sunset Meadows Plat III, the North Line of which is described as commencing in the North line of Lot 8, said Plat of Sunset Meadows at a point 104.14 feet Easterly from the Northwest corner of said Lot 8 for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; and running thence East 114 feet, more or less, to a point in the North line of Lot 7, said Plat, which is located 100 feet North 89°23' West from the Northeast corner of said Lot 7; and the South line of which is described as being the Southern terminal of Pine Street as extended to its point of intersection with the South line of Lots 84 and 86, Plat of Sunset Meadows III.

3. That the City of Tecumseh, a municipal corporation of Lenawee County, Michigan, reserves and excepts therefrom a permanent easement for any lawful purpose over and across a strip of land 10 feet wide off and across each side of the North-South center line of the lands described in paragraph two immediately above.

4. That Monday, June 1, 1970, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., in the City of Tecumseh Council Chambers located at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan, be appointed and designated as the time and place that Council will meet and hear any objections to the vacating and discontinuance of the lands and the reservation of easements set forth.

5. That a copy of this Resolution shall be published weekly for not less than four consecutive weeks in The Tecumseh Herald prior to said meeting.

6 That objections to such proposed action of Council may be filed with the City Clerk in writing during the usual City of Tecumseh business hours.

Ayes: Unanimous.
Nays: None.

Resolution declared adopted.
Dated: 20 April 1970.

Attend Rally

A record number of delegates attended the Spring Rally of Lutheran Women's Missionary Society at the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church in South Lyons last Friday.

Mrs. Jack Silberhorn, Mrs. Gus Brenke, Mrs. Jay Ferman, Mrs. Lila Wintersteen, Mrs. Douglas Maves, Mrs. Guy Haviland and Rev. Kenneth Strack attended from the Grace Lutheran Church.

Representatives of 30 Wisconsin Synod congregations of southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio met under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alfred Renz of Ann Arbor.

New officers were installed and a prayer of thanksgiving was offered for the safe return of the Apollo 13 astronauts.

The next rally will be held at the Zoard Church in Detroit.

SEWER SYSTEM

According to Mayor Truesdale, construction of the trunk sewer would not cost much more than the recommended improvements of the Clinton plant. He said that although the initial cost may be slightly higher, the overall advantages offset the difference.

One of the biggest advantages is the opening of the entire valley between the two towns for sewage treatment.

Mayor Truesdale said he strongly supports the plan and would be ready to go ahead with the construction of the sewer whenever Tecumseh reaches a decision.

Tecumseh's City Council plans to meet with the city engineer to discuss the proposal. If results are favorable, other meetings with Clinton's Council will probably be scheduled.

Auxiliary Thanks Ridgeway School

Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary extends a special "thank you" to children of Ridgeway School for their support in the collection of coupons for Howard Hyder, they turned in a total of 8,100 coupons.

This brings the total to 43,000 coupons toward the goal of 50,000. The fund at the United Savings Bank, Tecumseh, now stands at $1,519.64. The fund at the Blissfield State Bank totals $963.98.

Members of the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary entertained their husbands Saturday night at a progressive dinner.

Sixteen couples started at the John Seays for cocktails, moved to the Don Escotts for juice, onto the Doug Osworths for salad, proceeded to the Darrell Stauns for dinner, over to the Walter Wonderlys for dessert, and traveled to the Terry Ridgways for the party afterwards.

Quilts and Robes Completed by Gals

CLINTON — Quilts and lap robes were completed by Friendly Gals at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Pence last Thursday.

Attending the planned luncheon were seven members and two guests, Mrs. Clarence Tirb and Mrs. Bruno Papsdorf.

The women have completed four quilts and 30 lap robes. Quilts are to be stored for use when needed in the area in case of emergency. Lap robes will be taken to Veterans' Hospital, Ann Arbor.

At the short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Floyd Odell, Mrs. Pence was appointed to plan recreation for the May 21 meeting to be held with Mrs. Fred Wegner.

Mrs. Edward Anglemyre and Mrs. Hattie Feldkamp were chosen as the nominating committee.

A trip is being considered for some time in June.

DAR Meets

Mrs. Fay Whelan conducted the meeting in her home Friday when Abi-Evans Chapter DAR members gathered to discuss national affairs.

Mrs. Earl Lindsley presented a lesson on National Defense.

Refreshments were served from a daintily-set tea table.

JOHN DUSTIN

Organ Recital This Sunday

An opportunity to hear an organ recital will be given Tecumseh area residents this Sunday, April 26 at 3 p.m. when John Dustin presents a solo recital at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

Music from Bach to Franck will be performed from the console of the three-manual, 26 rank organ built by the Reuter Company in 1967.

John, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dustin of 309 N. Union St., has appeared as substitute organist at both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches and recently played for the Easter sunrise service conducted by Tecumseh young people. He is a student of Mrs. Donald Bush, organist at the Methodist Church.

In addition to his musical activities, John, who is a junior at Tecumseh High School, is vice-president of the Student Assembly and a member of the French Club and National Honor Society.

Sunday's program, which is open to the public, includes: d'Andrieu: The Fifers; Bach: Toccata and Fugue in D Minor; Brahms: Two Chorale Preludes; Rheinberger: Pastorale; Dupre: Two Antiphone; Franck: Piece Heroique.

Class Sizes Are To Be Equalized

Although no decision is expected until after kindergarten registration, it now appears that additional sections will be required for grades three and six.

Some busing of students out of their normal, individual school district also may be necessary to equalize classes. Plans have been dropped to concentrate single grades in one elementary building.

Music Club Given Hawaiian Lesson

With Mrs. Edwin Walters as tour guide, Hawaii came to the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson and Dorothy Ruthruff for 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Robert Leggett, of the Tecumseh Music Club.

As Hawaiian music played in the background, Mrs. Walters, in authentic muumuu showed colored slides as well as displayed numerous articles she had collected while in Hawaii this past December.

Hostesses served a Hawaiian pineapple dessert for refreshments.

Election of officers was held with president, Mrs. James E. Danforth; vice president, Mrs. Edwin Walters; recording secretary, Mrs. William Flanders; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Fred Oberlin; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Brock; advisor, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson.

A dinner meeting will be held at the Country House May 12 at 6:30. Following the dinner, a program on Romeo and Juliet will be led by Mrs. Leggett, state chairman of opera promotion and workshop, from Royal Oak, at the home of Mrs. Flanders. Guests are welcome to the program.

Mrs. Allen Dunn Elected President

Mrs. Allen Dunn of Onsted is the new president of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, elected April 9 at the home of Mrs. Allen Graybiel in Adrian.

Serving with Mrs. Dunn will be first vice-president, Mrs. C. J. Frantschi of Manitou Beach; second vice-president, Mrs. Robert Kelty, Blissfield; recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur Freeborn, Hudson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Earls, Adrian, treasurer, Lucille Aprill, Adrian; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Gordon Garlick.

A memorial service was conducted for the late Mrs. Barbara Hall Watts, past president of Alpha Chi Chapter, who has served as first vice-president of the state organization.

Mrs. Graybiel presented the program, "Kaleidoscope of Musical Values".

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Arthur Brewer and Mrs. Gerald Brink presiding at the tea and coffee service.

Those on committee were Lousilla Lutz, Ruth Libbe, Eulaine Murphy, Iola Perkins and Mrs. Donald Swenk.

Next meeting will be held May 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the Country House.

Youth to Conduct Worship Service

CLINTON — Youth will be conducting the services at the Clinton Baptist Church Sunday.

Young people who will be in charge of the Sunday School service are Dennis McDonnell, Dennis Vaughn, Elaine Vaughn, Mary Felyow, Steve Wellman, and Fay McDonnell. Others are Stephanie Brooks, Debbie Watson, Cathy Watson and Jeff Cooper.

During the worship hour, testimony in song will be given by guests, Linda Zarate and Jack Elliott.

The Rev. Floyd Vaughn said, "Everyone is invited. Come, they will bless your heart as they tell you how they left dope and jail to be witnesses for Christ."

Lenawee Chiefs Capture Trophy

The Lenawee Chiefs hockey team has captured the first Championship Trophy of the New Jackson Area Adult Hockey League with an impressive 16-3-2 record.

Goaltender Doug Goldsberry of Tecumseh was voted rookie-of-the-year and John Parker of Adrian College was named the league's most valuable player.

Tim Fero of Tecumseh and Roger Hebert, both defensemen, scored 19 goals between them. Bob Jarrett of Adrian was rated the most consistent center with 20 points.

Valuation Figures

Assessed valuation figures, released earlier this week, shows that Lenawee County has an assessed value of $332,701,541. Individual and total figures were reported by the Assessment Rolls committee of the county's Board of Commissioners.

Faye Whelan of Tecumseh and Martin Halley of Clinton are local commissioners on this committee.

The Equalization Committee started its initial sessions Wednesday, and it will not be known until later whether John Bratton, equalization director, recommends plus or minus factors for city and township assessed totals.

Commissioners on this committee include T. J. Wagner of Tecumseh, and William Mackey, Raisin Township.

Breakdown of the assessed figures—supposedly 50% of actual value—is:

Among First to Record Winds

Tecumseh has made another first. Weather researchers have discovered that one of the first known instances in which tornado related winds have been recorded was during the Palm Sunday storm here April 11, 1965.

An anemometer at Meyers Airport recorded a maximum wind gust of 151 miles per hour during the first tornado to hit around 8 p.m. With radar photo of the two storms, meteorologists were able to draw illustrations of the windfield accompanying the first tornado which brought the strong gust.

Saturday, April 11, was the fifth anniversary of the destructive winds which leveled much in the pathway of the fearful tornado.

Robert Osburn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osburn of Tipton, an avid student of weather and a freshman at the University of Michigan, brought the "first" to the attention of Herald readers.

Bob is majoring in meteorology and has been an associate member of American Meteorological Society since 1966. He is presently a student member and regularly reads the "Weather Preview."

An enthusiastic 4-H Club member, he originally started "Project Rainfall" in May, 1968 in Lenawee County enlisting aid of other 4-Hers in measuring rain in every area of the county.

Enrollment in the project doubled to 44 persons last year and the 1970 data gathering will begin soon.

The aforementioned article by Tetsuya Fujita and Dorothy Bradbury of the University of Chicago and C. F. Van Thullenar of National Severe Storms Forecast Center, Kansas City, Mo., is the culmination of detailed five years of study of the Palm Sunday tornados. Diagrams were made of the damage paths of 37 individual tornados including those in Lenawee County. Numerous maps of meteorological features accompanying the tornados were prepared along with numerous pictures of funnels.

Also learned during the study were:

1. This was a tornado cyclone having an eye with a diameter of roughly one to two miles, the Airport being on the extreme southern border.

2. Circulation was counter clockwise about the tornado center. Influences of the circulation was experienced over an area of five miles in diameter.

3. Center of the tornado cyclone moved east-northeast at 60 miles per hour.

4. Maximum total wind speed was about 240 miles per hour.

From the data and mathematical calcuation, meteorologists determined an important characteristic of tornado circulation and structure—that the wind speed in a tornado cyclone increases in inverse proportion with the radius. Apparently inside there is a non-rotating vortex or eye of the tornado.

Bob will spend six weeks, May 10 to the end of June, in Clinton, Ill., on "Rain Scavenging Studies" undertaken by Prof. Dingle of the Meteorology and Oceanography Dept. at U of M.

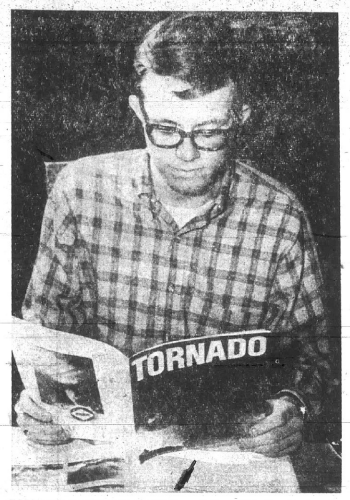
A tracer element is jettisoned into a shower and thunderstorms. Rainfall obtained by numerous rain collecting gauges will be evaluated for certain chemical properties.

The project is in cooperation with the Illinois State Water Survey, located at Campagne-Urbana. They have dense rain gauge network in the area surrounding Clinton, Ill., and complete radar coverage of within 250 miles of the area.

When a storm is sighted, researchers will go immediately to that area and set up the rainfall buckets. As soon as the storm passes and after chemicals have been injected into the storms, they return to collect the samples in the buckets.

The last two months of summer Bob will spend working on North Campus at the university.

He participated in a weather forecasting contest with 39 others recently at U of M and ended up third in precipitation and 33 in temperature. The top two were professors. One remarked that his low standing in forecasting temperature was understandable since his specialty is precipitation.



TORNADO BLOWS UP A FIRST — Robert Osburn, freshman at U. of M., studies weather like financiers study the stock markets. He was recently interested in the report of meteorologists telling of the tornado-related winds with a gust of 151 miles an hour recorded for the first time here.

PTO Officers Were Elected

Members decided to give Sutton School $100 and also to buy playground equipment for Ridgeway School.

Mrs. Harley Slick was elected president with Mrs. Carl Fletcher, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Kapnick, secretary; Mrs. Patrick Connors, treasurer; Mrs. James Rundell, corresponding secretary and Tom Meyer, teacher vice-president.

Jerome Kujawa's sixth grade east room won the kick ball for having the best parent attendance.

A film, "Freedom is Mightier Than Missile", was shown and refreshments were served by rooms six east and five west.

Wirick - Bournes Unite in Marriage

Paula Diane Wirick and James Paul Bournes were married March 29, at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Gordon Mitchinson of Northport.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wirick of Ossno and Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Bournes of Clayton.

The bride is employed at Tecumseh Beauty Salon.

Mrs. Darwyn Sexton of Onsted, was matron of honor and her husband served as best man.

A reception was held at the Eagles Hall in Adrian April 11 with a five-tiered cake, made by the bride's mother, served from a table decorated in white and lavender.

Mrs. Phil Piriczky, Mrs. Garild Bakewell, Mrs. David Cowell and Mrs. Harvey Dethloff assisted with the serving.

Her husband was graduated from Adrian High School and is employed at Ace Drill Co., in Adrian. They are living in Clayton.

Two Are Honored At Bridal Shower

Gayle Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duaine Hunt of Shenherd Rd., and Susan Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hunt of Occidental Hwy., were the honored guests at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Robert Hunt, aunt of the brides-elect, was hostess to the affair at her home. Co-hostess was Mrs. Charles Anderson of Saline.

Games were played by the 25 guests present with the prizes presented to the honored guests.

Sandwiches, cake, ice cream, punch and coffee were served. A floral centerpiece of lilies and pale blue mums, flanked by two bridal doll cakes, decorated the table. Two heart cakes with roses and doves were cut and served while the bride doll cakes were taken home by the nieces.

Guests were present from Adrian, Onsted, Clinton, Saline, Ypsilanti, Kentwood, Jerome, Dundee and Clayton.

Susan will become the bride of Albert Bailey, Jr., of Adrian, May 16 and Gayle will wed Jerry Hutchinson of Dundee, June 13.

Duaine Comfort WCTU Speaker

He told how the WCTU had influenced his life in early childhood and followed him through until the present. He also spoke of the responsibility of parents in guiding the lives of their children, physically, morally and spiritually.

Mr. Comfort is commissioned to serve as a missionary in Peru, South America.

Members voted to donate $6 to the World WCTU convention to help defray expenses of guests from foreign countries.

Mrs. Jennie Slater will be the hostess for the next meeting.

Jim Records Is Honored

Jim Records, 110 N. Union, was honored at a three-day convention for outstanding State Farm agents beginning April 13 at the International Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev.

Among the convention highlights was a special luncheon with the president and a buffet supper for leading agents. All agents and wives were guests at a hotel dinner show.

Rev. Couture to Speak

The Rev. Robert Couture of Racine, Wis., former Christian literature producer in India and now Central Representative of The Evangelical Alliance Mission (TEAM), will be guest speaker at the missionary conference at Grace Bible Church, M-50 at Carson Hwy., on April 22-26.

Mr. Couture began service in India in 1945. After a period of work in Indian villages, he became the first secretary of Evangelical Literature Fellowship of India (ALFI) which co-ordinates all Evangelical literature work in the country. He established and developed word of Life Publications in Poona, Maharashtra, inland from Bombay. This became the leading Christian publishing house for the Marathi language area.

Through the All-India Christian Book Club, initiated by ELFI, distribution of Christian books increased rapidly. Perhaps his largest project was that of being the first editor of the 14-volume "Indian Bible Commentary," the first of its kind in India.

"A literature program for all of India with its variety of languages is equivalent to a literature program for all Europe," he says. "But we found that by working together we could produce better quality literature in all of the major languages with greater economy and achieve wider distribution."

Also participating in the conference will be Shirley Sadler, a missionary nurse in Venezuela, who works among the primitive Yaruro Indians in the wild country there. Stewart Georgia, a missionary in Rhodesia, Africa, and Duane Merritt, a missionary appointee to France.

Two films will be shown: "The Trip That Changed the World" on Saturday night and "Fifty Million Frenchmen" on Sunday night.

Services will be at 7:30 each evening and 10 and 11 on Sunday morning. Pastor David M. Holly invites all to attend.

Rev. Semenchuk To Speak Sunday

BRITTON — The Rev. Andrew Semenchuk will be guest speaker at the Bethel Baptist Church Saturday and Sunday, April 25 and 26. He will show slides, taken during his latest visit to Russia, Saturday evening at 7:30. Sunday morning during the Sunday School hour and the worship service Mr. Semenchuk will speak.

The Rev. Semenchuk, missionary of the Slavic Gospel Association, just returned from a visit to Russia. He went as a tourist since this is the only way that visas to Russia are granted. However, during the three weeks that he was there he had opportunities to preach and sing in several evangelical churches.

At one unscheduled service when he spoke in the town where he was born, many relatives and friends gathered to welcome him. Over 1,000 people jammed "the little church. At another meeting on a Thursday night, 1,800 people crowded into a church way out in the outskirts of the town. On a Sunday morning in another church, 2,500 believers were present at a communion service that lasted three hours. "Believers take advantage of what limited opportunities they have," said Rev. Semenchuk. "They meet as often as possible, usually standing during the two and three hour service. Never before have I preached to such receptive audiences!"

Mr. Semenchuk, now available for missionary meetings and Bible conferences, has been the director of Russion Bible Institute in Buenos Aires, Argentina, for 12 years. This is the only Russion Bible School in the world. He and his wife, Pauline, went to South America in 1955. There the Semenchuks traveled extensively, reaching Slavic people in Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay and Argentina through evangelistic campaigns, Bible conferences and camps, radio, literature, summer Bible institutes and correspondence courses.

In 1951, the Rev. Semenchuk went to Europe on his first missionary assignment where he worked among Slavic refugees and the post-war youth of German, Austria, Italy, France and Yugoslavia. Then in 1958, the Semenchuks went to Alaska to replace a missionary family on furlough.

Andrew Semenchuk was born in Russia, but was brought to Canada as a child by his parents. He grew up in Canada and received his secular education there. Later, he attended the Slavic Gospel Assocition Bible Institute, which was then located in Toronto, and also studied for a year at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. After graduation from the Bible Institute, he received further college and seminary training in Chicago, Ill.

Since that time, the Rev. Semenchuk has been a missionary of the Slavic Gospel Association, an independent, interdenominational work of faith, founded in 1934 and supporting over 100 missionaries in 22 countries. The Russion Bible Institute in Buenos Aires, Argentina, was founded, and is supported by the Association.

Pastor Semenchuk has a challenging Bible-centered message with up-to-date, informative reports of the current missionary scene. He also has excellent colored slides illustrating missionary work in the countries where he has been including slides of the U.S.S.R. He is a bass soloist and a song leader.

"I remember Christians saying to me as I left Russia, 'Pray for us that we may be able to stand.' They ask us to pray with them that the Lord would indeed come quickly. We have no idea of the pressures that a true believer goes through in an atheistic and antagonistic society," comments Andrew Semenchuk.

The members of the church invite the public to attend and share this message of hope to the spiritually starved peoples of an atheistic nation.

Bishop Is Here for Confirmation at St. Peter's

Bishop Richard S. Emrich was present Sunday, April 12, at St. Peter's Episcopal Church for the celebration of confirmation by Saline, Clinton and Tecumseh Episcopal Churches.

James Lancaster and Margaret Truesdale were confirmed from St. John's Church, Clinton.

A reception for the Bishop and newly confirmed members was held in the parish hall."

Sgt. John W. Moody arrived home Sunday from Ft. Larson, Kitzengin, Germany. He surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Moody, E. Pottawatamie St., and his wife, Linda, who had returned from Germany in March. Sgt. Moody had served two years in the Army in artillery and communications and has received his discharge. The couple will reside here in an apartment on W. Chicago Blvd.

Ron Moore In Vietnam

BRITTON — CE3 Ron Moore spent a 15-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Myrlen Moore and family the latter part of March and has reported to No. 301 Construction Battalion, Maintenance Unit of Port Hueneme, Calf. After a brief training period he will return to Vietnam for a year's tour of duty. CE3 Moore spent six months in Vietnam previous to his recent leave. He is with the Navy electronics branch of the Seabees.

POWER PLUS — Edsel Brooks, 2154 E. Monroe Rd., hitched two Farmall 560 tractors together to give him plenty of power to pull a huge six-bottom plow last week. Using hydraulic cylinders, Mr. Brooks is able to operate the extra tractor clutch and the plow from his seat on the lead tractor. He was hopeful that he could turn over 50% more land a day, perhaps 30 acres. It takes five minutes to convert the first tractor to a single and about 30 minutes to get wheels back on the second.

UNEQUAL EQUALS

Prejudice. Most people talk about it, but never do anything about it.

Some feel they have been ill-treated long enough and seek ways to correct it. One of the most common methods is demonstrating. Unfortunately, the degree of effectiveness of a demonstration is never certain.

One of the most frequent reasons for demonstration is inequality. The Declaration of Independence states that all men are created equal. So why not demonstrate when this is not observed, practiced and believed?

Those are the key words — practiced and believed. It's easy for someone to say, "Sure, I think Negroes and all other minorities should have the same rights as I do." But to believe it is something else.

Unfortunately, the problem of prejudice is with us and will be for a long time. And it is not an isolated problem in one area of the country. It is nation-wide and seemingly, growing stronger in some parts.

Along with the problem of prejudice comes integration. Michigan is not exempt from this. There are several cities which seem to take pride in the fact that they have no Negroes living in their fair cities.

Last February, I had an interview for a teaching position in such a town on the west side of the state. At the time, I did not know such a condition existed there. After exchanging greetings with the superintendent, he began to tell me about the school and town.

As he sat back in his plush chair, he proudly told me that there were no Negroes in the town. He said, "We just don't allow any industries into the town which will hire Negroes."

He added that they did, however, accept federal funds to build open housing.

I could not help but think that the officials of the town were nothing more than bigots and racists. Incidently, I refused further consideration for the job that day.

Bigots, racists. Strong language to depict the people who are supposedly the leading citizents of the town? I think not. People who will take federal funds and not use them to the full extent of their intended purpose, screen their potential industries on the basis of personnel hired and then brag about it certainly do not deserve a better description.

I am not advocating total support for all minority organizations which claim they want to correct these problems only for good of the country. There are some organizations which do serve useful and worthwhile purposes. But there are others, such as those advocating violence as a means of change, which are being detrimental to their cause.

However, majority group organizations are basically the same. All have beliefs, some good for the country and some bad. The organizations which believe there really is such a person as a second-class citizen are as bad for the country as those minority groups that say violence is the answer.

How do you determine who is and who isn't second-class? By height, color of eyes, if they are right- or left-handed, or by the kind of car they drive?

You know how it's done and you should know what it's doing to OUR country. No longer can we afford to say that's not the way it should be or it must not be that way any longer.

We've got to work together. Work together until we can say that's not the way it is.

If you get the chance, listen to the record, "Everybody's Beautiful", by Ray Stevens. He sings, "Never mind the length of the hair or color of skin, don't worry about what shows from without, think of the love that lives within."

Love, that's what is needed to bring us all together. If you love your fellow man, you will want to see the day when we can all stand together as true equals. If you believe it, and practice it, it can happen.

We work for peace in a foreign war, why can't we work for peace here at home?

Rev. Hainsworth Speaks at Banquet

CLINTON — The Rev. William Hainsworth, Ann Arbor, entertained the 75 fathers and sons who attended their annual banquet at the United Church of Christ Saturday night.

Toastmaster was Charles Greenfield, Owosso, and toasts were given by George Heimerdinger and son Wally.

Tributes were paid to the oldest father present, Clyde Greenfield, Sr., 78; youngest son, Clinton Hoelzer, son of John Hoelzer.

Swiss steak dinner was served by the members of the Women's Fellowship. Tables were decorated with timely seed catalogs and baskets filled with seed packets and bulbs.

V. Davis, D. Stiess Exchange Vows

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were exchanged by Vicki Lee Davis and Daniel Mark Stiess in the United Church of Christ Friday evening before Pastor Earl Lawrence. The altar was flanked with bouquets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, 10337 Elmo Center Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stiess, Grass Lake.

Carolyn Girbach was the organist.

The bride wore an empire gown of mint green and white chiffon, trimmed with a satin bow at the waist. Her matching circlet veil was held with a bow. She carried a cascade of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. James Welch was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of peach batiste, with a matching circlet veil. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white daisies.

Rick Davis, brother of the bride, and Tim Stiess, brother of the groom, were the ushers. John Davis, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The bride is a senior at Clinton High School and also attends Alexandra School of Cosmetology, Ann Arbor.

Lions' Notwatske Banquet Speaker

A record attendance of 250 persons included Rotary Club members, faculty, coaches, team members, and their parents. Jim Roberts served as master of ceremonies.

EDITOR — MAXINE CALHOUN

Two Transfers Are Announced

CLINTON — Transfers announced by Col. Fredrick E. Davids of Michigan State Police troopers to other posts include, Eugene W. Jenkins, from Detroit to Clinton, and Carl J. VanTil, from Clinton to Warren.

Michigan State Police have added to their network for facsimile wire transmission of fingerprints, which expedites identification of persons involved in criminal and other investigations, according to Col. Davids.

A set of 10 fingerprints can now be transmitted in about 14 minutes though it is not always necessary to transmit a whole set. Photographs also may be wire-sent. Elapsed time in checking prints of suspects on this high priority system ranges up to an hour or so.

The leased facilities lessen the possibility of a wanted person being inadvertently released from custody for lack of ready access to records. They also help to quickly establish the innocence or non-record status of persons where circumstances may have involved them in investigations. The system also is useful in cases concerning unknown dead or amnesia victims.

Normal processing of fingerprints from ouistate points by mail or other delivery can take several days.

The facilities are available not only for State Police operations, but for other law enforcement agencies as well in the areas serviced by the terminals.

Receives Degree At Western Mich.

CLINTON — Donald Hoyt received his BS degree in electronic engineering at Western Michigan University, spring commencement, Saturday. He is a graduate of Clinton High School and DeVries Technical Institute, Chicago, Ill.

Attending the ceremony were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoyt, and daughter, Judy; son, John, of Grand Rapids and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Hoyt, Ann Arbor.

A family celebratiop dinner was held at the Holiday Inn, Kalamazoo, which also marked Judy's 18th birthday anniversary.

Miss Beal Feted At Bridal Shower

CLINTON — An impromtu wedding gown was fashioned of tissue and scotch tape on bride-elect Barbara Beal as a diversion at a shower held recently in her honor.

Seventeen neighbors who resided on Clinton-Manchester Rd., attended the miscellaneous shower Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jacob Bauer. Mrs. Gerald Marion was the co-hostess.

Miss Beal's marriage to Fred Withrow will take place in Macon May 2.

Another game required guests to memorize an assortment of household gadgets on a tray, which were later presented to the guest of honor.

Using the wedding color scheme, the gifts were arranged on an umbrella centered table, which was covered in linen. An overskirt of yellow net was tied with bows of apricot and green ribbon.

An apricot decorated cake and orange sherbet were served with punch and coffee.

Youngsters Take Area Farms Tour

CLINTON — Members of kindergarten classes and several visitors, totaling nearly 100 children were taken on bus trips to visit area farms Thursday.

Youngsters were shown sheep and baby lambs at the C. G. Heimerdinger farm, horses and a young colt, born on Easter, at the Jack Hartung horse farm, and dairy cows and calves at the Heimerdinger Bros. dairy farm.

They saw a barn full of little pigs at the Harold Calhoun farm, and were able to hold and pet one of the little squealers. They were also shown the beef cattle there.

Teachers are Mrs. George Heimerdinger and Mrs. Bruce Winder. Some of the mothers who accompanied the children were Mrs. David Hough, Mrs. Norman Belitz, Mrs. William Kroger, Mrs. William Nighswander, Mrs. Martin Popa, Mrs. Tracy Zick and Mrs. George Bowman.

Cancer Drives Ending Sat.

CLINTON — Cancer Drive canvassing for 1970 will end here Saturday.

Mrs. Paul Hawkins is chairman of the in-town volunteers. Assisting are Mrs. John Eddy, Mrs. Forrest Swift, Mrs. Jack Gibson, Mrs. William Caliguiere, Mrs. LeRoy Jedele, Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Byrdelia Hull, Mrs. Richard Peterson, Mrs. Oran Pulsipher, Mrs. Edward Hardley, Mrs. Charles Voll, Mrs. George Wolf, Mrs. Wilbur Reiser, Mrs. John Monaghan, Mrs. Tracy Zick, Mrs. Hans Schmidt, Mrs. Robert Schevtt, Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. James Wilson.

Mrs. Francis Faulhaber is chairman of rural Clinton Township canvassing. Assisting are Mrs. Virgil Escott, Mrs. Kenneth Myers, Mrs. August Brueckner, Mrs. Nora Beach, Mrs. Michael Grinnell, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. David Simpson and Mrs. Jack Hartung.

Anyone missed by the canvassers may send contributions to Mrs. Hawkins, 102 Bartlett Rd., Clinton, or Mrs. Faulhaber, Clinton.

Spanish Carnival Nets Large Profit

CLINTON — Recent Spanish Carnival, sponkored by Spanish Clubs at Clinton High School, netted approximately $2,400 from gross receipts of $4,000.

Hundreds of persons thronged through the gymnasium for the three nights, participating in the fun and assuring its success.

Four high school Spanish Clubs will equally share the proceeds for future trips to Mexico. It is planned that 15 members of the present senior Spanish Club will leave by plane June 30 to fly to San Antonio, Tex., then go by bus to Mexico City to remain until July 8.

The whole affair was managed by all the students involved as well as the Spanish teacher, Mrs. John Truesdale, assisted by her husband, making the most colorful event of the school year.

Trip To The Moon Subject of Film

CLINTON — "A Trip to the Moon" was the subject of a film shown by Don Houghton at the first Father and Son banquet held recently at the St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mr. Houghton served as toastmaster and son, Gary, recited a poem, "My Daddy".

Toast to the fathers was given by David Sturm and the toast to the sons was given by the Rev. Charles Sturm.

Those receiving special tributes were the oldest father present, Fred VanDeMark; the youngest son, Joey Kinney; family with most members present, Mr. Houghton and sons and father-in-law, Dwight Service. Father who came the greatest distance was John Walz, of Tecumseh.

A red, white and blue color scheme was used to decorate the tables for the ham dinner. Dinner committee included Mrs. Dan Goodman, Mrs. Don Houghton, Mrs. Glenn Kinney and Mrs. Anna Mae Waterman.

Careless Driving Summons Issued

CLINTON — Lee Walden, 36, 5217 Clinton-Macon Rd., was given a summons for careless driving Saturday afternoon when he lost control on a curve on Clinton-Manchester Rd., 250 feet south of Allen Rd.

The Walden vehicle left the road, went through a ditch, struck a culvert, then overturned.

MICHAEL ROHRER

Michael Rohrer Receives Degree

Michael Rohrer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rohrer, 604 Center Drive, will receive a D.D.S. degree from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry on May 2.

He was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1962, and received a BS degree from the University of Michigan in 1966. He also received a commission in the U.S. Army from ROTC in 1966.

While attending the School of Dentistry he was class president during 1967-1968; student council president during 1968-1969; editor of school newspaper during 1969-1970; a member of Taft Honorary Dental Society; elected Omicron Kappa Upsilon Dental Honor Society, and Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society.

He will enter the Army Dental Corps in July. His wife, Cecilia, received a BA degree from the University of Michigan in 1967. They have a son, Matthew Austin, born February 9, 1970.

Swine Producers Hear State Report

Meeting of the Lenawee County Swine Producers Association was held Monday, April 13, at the Michigan Producers Dairy in Adrian.

Bill Knisel, director of the Michigan Pork Producers Association reported on the state meeting which was held during Farmers' Week at Michigan State University. The State Association is moving ahead rapidly with many items that will be of benefit to the Michigan Pork Industry.

One of the most important items that will be in effect in the near future is a 5 cent per head check-off system affecting all pork producers in the state.

The money collected from this system will be used as follows: 2 cents for local and state associations to help produce hogs more profitably, 2 cents for national projects to sell the product to consumers and 1 cent to the meat board to enlarge its work.

Next meeting of the Lenawee County Swine Producers Association will be held in Adrian Tuesday, June 1.

Mrs. Fiaun Platt, Tipton, chairman of the Lenawee County Republican Committee, and Mrs. Fay Whelan were in Lansing April 7 to attend a gathering of the Michigan Republican Council of Senior Citizens and Retirees held at GOP headquarters in conjunction with a meeting of the Republican Task Force on Aging.

Through My Window

WHO KNOWS!

It always happens about now, each and every year it is the same thing and, thank goodness! As the days become longer, they also become busier — there is so much going on that it is almost impossible to keep track. And, the very nicest thing about the whole situation is that it will get worse. Would you care for a brief sampling of what I mean?

A newcomer is fast losing that status and becoming just one of our faithful old regulars. In every respect he is a nice addition, too. Quiet, friendly but not pushy, nicely mannered, even disspositioned, attractive, and he did not even send us to the bird books to find his name.

Although not distinctively marked, field sparrows are easy to know. Ours has the soft browns and grays of the whole family; the shadings, however, are subtle and the pinkish cast to his bill is unmistakable. So, too, is his pretty, unmarked light gray breast.

Every day we are amazed at the goldfinches. They are all showing spots and patches of bright yellow but there is one who is oh, so much more yellow than the others. He flew in one day and we could hardly believe our eyes.

Although he still looked ragged, almost all of his back, front, and head was lemony and he had even gone so far as to don his black summer cap.

★

THIS WAS EXACTLY the type of bird I need for the next to the last picture in my slide record of the goldfinches' change from winter drab to summer bright.

He came early in the morning, though, too early for good picture-taking. Oh well, I still need that closing picture of Mr. G. at his very brightest — who wants to completely close the files on such an interesting project, perhaps I might just as well need two pictures instead of one.

Robins are everywhere. The heavy all morning and afternoon rain of April 13 not only started the miracle of the yards greening up but it also triggered the first really good robin and worm tug-of-war fun. A big fat male robin, I would say he had an exceptionally bright breast and dark head except that it seems to me I say this about all male robins now.

I shall leave it this way, he was a handsome fellow. Anyway, he was doing battle in earnest and this was the first time that we had seen so much successful worm-pulling.

★

THERE WAS action during the rain, too. The poor little squirrel must have been frightfully hungry because, even during the hardest of the downpour, he was at the feeder. And he was wet — usually a squirrel's tail is a most effective umbrella but this poor little guy was so soaked that he could not keep his tail over his back and head, it kept slipping off.

About every two and one-half minutes the wetness "got to him"; he was drenched to the point that a mere shake did no good at all. Apparently the only way he could get any relief was by jumping up (up being high enough so that all four feet were off the feeder floor) and, while thus airborne, executing a number of swift shakes, wiggles, and bends.

Water flew in all directions. The quick "dry-off" did not last very long though. One should never laugh at another's misfortune but Getrie T. and I could not help ourselves, we laughed aloud at the sad plight of this squirrel. He was obviously miserable and yet, hunger was stronger than discomfort.

So it is that this is the exciting time of the year when there is always something happening; the todays are brimming-over busy and yet we know that tomorrow will be even moreso — therefore, when someone asks what is going to happen next, I can only smile and reply, "WHO KNOWS!"

NEXT WEEK:

"The Fun Continues"

Gus Bishop of Alma, formerly of Tecumseh, will perform in the hurdles for the Alma College track team this spring. Bishop, a sophomore at Alma, is a graduate of Tecumseh High School. He is the son of Mrs. Orville Bishop, of 113 Maple St. The Scots began Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association track competition with a dual meet against Calvin College at Alma, April 22.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet Stages by Juniors

BRITTON — Members of 1970 senior class faculty members and members of the Board of Education were guests of the junior class at the Junior-Senior Banquet held Saturday evening. The banquet was held in the high school study hall. A buffet ham dinner was prepared by the cafeteria staff.

Bill Rowe, president of the junior class welcomed the seniors and guests and the response was given by Dick Schroeder, president of the senior class.

The giftatory was presented by Michele Vershum, Peggy Taylor and Cindy Griffin.

The invocation and benediction was given by the Rev. Daniel Mathes.

Following the banquet dancing was held at the Siena Heights Ballroom, with punch and a decorated cake served to the guests.

Junior class advisors are Mrs. Marilyn Alexander and Mr. William Osak.

Cadet Skinner Attends Conclave

Richard W. Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max W. Skinner, 807 River Acres Drive, was among outstanding Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets who attended the 22nd National Arnold Air Society (AAS) Conclave just concluded in Anaheim, Calif.

The cadets represented their school squadrons of the honorary military society that was named for the late General of the Air Force Henry "Hap" Arnold. More than 1,400 cadets from 158 colleges and universities met to discuss the AAS program for the coming year and to hear addresses by top level aerospace leaders.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHAT IS MANNA?

It is interesting to note that Manna is a Hebrew expression which means 'what is it?" Manna was the food God provided for Israel in the wilderness of Sinai and in the desert wanderings. Manna fell daily for 40 years.

Manna was a wafer-like bread. Exodus 16:31. It tasted like honey Exodus 16:31 and oil. Numbers 11:8.

The meaning or significance of Manna seems to be seen by its composition. Oil is a symbol of the Holy Spirit. The Spirit gives assurance of God's presence and convicts as to God's leading.

Honey is a reminder of the promised land which flowed with milk and honey. Together, the oil and honey, pictures God graciously moving the Israelites to go on to the Promised land. No wonder they became bored when they refused His constant ministry.

The wafer aspect would show they were to be sustained but never satisfied outside of Canaan.

If the Bible, the church, the Christian life in general becomes monotonous to us, we are probably in the wilderness. Let us go on. See Colossians 2:6.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Do you put a higher price on an Olds than we do?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Olds costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with so-called low-priced cars. See your Olds dealer. He'll prove that you're closer to Olds than you think.

Cutlass S: The sporty Olds—one of nine Olds models priced under $2995*—right down with a lot of low-priced names. But Cutlass really widens the value gap with standard features like these: Regular-gas Rocket V-8 ☐ Nylon-blend loop-pile carpeting ☐ Foam-padded seats ☐ Deluxe steering wheel ☐ Belted tires ☐ Door side-guard beams ☐ Recessed windshield wipers ☐ Hidden radio antenna.

Oldsmobile 4-4-2 Indy Pace Car 1970

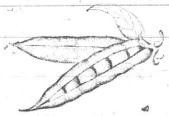
Peas in a Pod?



All men are created equal! But their mothers see it differently. And their fathers don't hand out cigars simply to attest to their part in the population explosion.

Surely he has our love to start him off, our good sense to guide his development and our convictions to mold his.

Yes, our convictions! Are they stale religious cliches remembered vaguely from Sunday School lessons years ago? Or are they fresh, vigorous beliefs and commitments acquired through regular worship and spiritual searching?

Our child is different from all the others. His immediate heritage is a home built on our religious foundation.

You Can Cut Food Costs... We Care

WITHOUT SACRIFICING QUALITY, WITHOUT RISKING A PENNY

There are about 200 Comparative items listed on this page. Half of them are popular National Brand products. They represent a fraction of the many National Brands we sell. The other half are famous A&P Brand products.

No matter what you buy on this page, you can be sure of getting a quality product and an excellent value. We at A&P guarantee your complete satisfaction without reservation. The choice is yours . . . famous National Brands at prices we believe will save you money or quality A&P Brand products at prices we know will save you money . . . meaningful savings without asking you to sacrifice quality.

We feel a responsibility to remind you of this choice . . . this significant way to cut food costs. We think knowing this is important to you . . . today.

ANN CREGER

Ann Creger Named Teacher of Year

BRITTON — Ann Creger, third grade teacher at the Britton-Macon Area School, was awarded the loving cup as Teacher of the Year at the 65th Annual Meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday.

Superintendent William Saxton recommended Miss Creger as an outstanding teacher and one who is respected and admired by her students and fellow teachers and is highly respected throughout the community of Britton.

Miss Creger has been in the Britton teaching system longer than any other teacher, having taught for 15 years with an excellent attendance record and 10 years at other schools. She has a BS degree from Siena Heights College and extra work credits from Adrian College and Eastern Michigan University and a member of the Britton-Macon Teacher's Club and a member of the Grace Lutheran Church of Tecumseh. She resides at 111 S. Wyandotte St., Tecumseh.

Miss Creger said about the honor, "I have enjoyed every day of my teaching career. I have had wonderful people to work with and I am most grateful for this honor."

Vincent Honored by Birthday Party

BRITTON — Vincent Svihl was honored with a party Friday, April 17, on his sixth birthday, which was given by his mother, Mrs. Don Maschino.

A mock circus tent was set up in the living room where the games were played. Cake, ice cream and soft drinks were served.

Those attending were Norman Anspach, Jeff Vernon from Clinton, Timmy Warner, Michael Harriott and Allen Wiefaert from Britton.

Vincent received many gifts. Vincent's brothers, Steve and Dale, also helped with the birthday party.

Topic of Meeting

BRITTON — The Ridgeway Garden Club entertained at the home of Mrs. Julian Strong Tuesday, April 14 with 18 members and one guest present. Roll call was answered by "Know Your Flags and How To Display It."

Mrs. Doris Timmons, program leader, demonstrated and displayed a large variety of artificial corsages that could be worn for several different occasions.

The hostess, assisted by co-hostess, Mrs. Mae Willis, served a luncheon to the ladies.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Bowers for a potluck dinner.

Pictures, Clippings

When completed it will be made available to the public. They are now looking for old pictures of the town and surrounding areas.

Anyone with pictures, news clippings of which copies could be made contact Mrs. Lee Benedict, 7003 Britton Hwy., phone 451-2394, or Mrs. Gerald Price, 10860 Ridge Rd., phone 451-4055.

FFA Banquet Staged

BRITTON — Local FFA Chapter held its annual Parent-Son banquet Tuesday evening, April 15, at 6:30 p.m. in the high school.

Rev. Edwin A. Mueckler gave the invocation.

The meal followed which featured a roast pig, weighing 200 lbs. (160 lbs dressed) was cured for 14 days and roasted for 24 hours by Carlton's Freezer and Processing Service of Blissfield. This pig was raised by the local FFA Chapter boys during the past year.

President Dick Schroeder, program leader, introduced the Senior Officers who opened the ceremonies by the roll call of the officers.

President Schroeder then gave recognition to special guests, Supt. and Mrs. William Saxton, Principal and Mrs. Donald Bussler, the school board members, FHA Advisor and Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Nelson Barry, Ronda Cheever, FHA President and American Farmers, Ken Bortel, Dick Cox, Larry Wagner, Don Dickerson, Barry Brablec and James Squires of the Milan Chapter. Representatives from the Tecumseh and Sand Creek FFA Chapters were also recognized. Howard Heath, farm editor for radio station WPAG, Ann Arbor, was also a guest of the evening.

Guest speaker of the evening was Larry Wagner, who showed slides of his "World Agriculture" tour of over 13 European agricultural countries. Mr. Wagner, with 49 other young farmers, traveled 25,000 miles in 33 days. His trip was sponsored by the Kellogg Foundation for young farmers.

Trophies and awards were presented to the following:

Proficiency Awards for outstanding jobs in certain areas of agricultural fields were: Dick Frazier, agriculture business; John Gilbert, agriculture production (on Kitty Kurtis farm); Bob Gilbert, livestock farming (on Kitty Kurtis farm); Ed McCarty, agriculture mechanics; Rodney Taylor, crop farming; Chuck Irwin, dairy farming and Gary Hintz, poultry industry.

Highest Corn Yield, Rodney Taylor, presented by Clarence Roy of Sohigro Service Co. Most Profit Per Acre, Doug Wilfaert, for cucumber acreage (sponsored by J. J. Walper & Son Elevator.)

Special awards were presented to Paul Marks, vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor, as follows: Chapter Star Greenhand, Nick Rowe and Chapter Star Farmer, Bob Gilbert.

President Schroeder gave special thanks to Mr. Marks, Mrs. Fred Long, Bob Rowe and Dick Bruce for their special help during the past year. Cafeterial staff and the FHA girls that served were also thanked.

The senior officers led the pledge to the flag for the closing of the ceremonies, and the Rev. Mueckler concluded by giving the benediction.

Honor Society Installs Ten

BRITTON—Seven seniors and three juniors were installed as active members of the National Honor Society Wednesday at the high school during an honors program.

James Brown, Donna Bruce, Judy Kotlarczyk, Mary Loomis, Rebekah Maschino, Judy Prochaska and Douglas Fielfaert were the senior members inducted. Deborah Maschino, Karlene Prielipp and Michele Vershum were the junior members to be inducted.

Sophomores Anita Downing and Cheryl Vallie received provisional membership cards. They are not active members but will be voted on again next year. To receive a provisional membership a student must have a 3.5 or higher average and be elected by the faculty.

The high school band, under the direction of Dan King, opened the ceremony as they played "Chorale".

Opening remarks were given by Sue McWilliams, president of the society, on the theme "Pathways to Peace". Interpretations of membership qualifications were given by each of the charter members.

Rita Vershum, vice-president, led the pledge of the National Honor Society.

Afternoon speaker was Principal Donald Bussler who also was in charge of induction of new members.

After signing the membership book, each new member was congratulated by Mr. Bussler and the charter members were presented a certificate, a pin and a long-stemmed yellow rose.

Mr. Bussler led the entire audience with the singing of the school "Alma Mater" to close the ceremonies.

The parents of the honored students were special guests and were invited to the cafeteria for refreshments.

...but how does it compare to XL-45?

When a highly advertised new corn variety comes along, farmers are bound to make the comparison: just how does it stack up against XL-45? The sensational performance of DeKalb Brand XL-45 has made it the most popular single-cross in the country. Farmers have found that short, tough XL-45 thrives at high populations, narrow rows and high fertility. XL-45 has some record for big corn yields.

"DEKALB" is a Registered Brand Name. XL-45 is a Variety designation.

Tories Drop Two Games

BRITTON — During the past week the Tories were defeated in two ballgames. On Wednesday, April 15, on their home diamond the Tories were beaten by the Deerfield Minutemen by a score of 10-5. The Minutemen scored in every inning except the fourth. Deerfield is now 2-0 and Britton 0-1.

On Thursday, the Tories were again on the losing end when they played Summerfield. The Bulldogs downed the Tories 10-4. In the fifth inning Summerfield got a run to break the 4-4 tie. The loss for Britton dropped their record to 0-2 in league and overall play. Summerfield is now 1-1 in the league and 1-2 overall.

Pre-Registration For Kindergarten

BRITTON—Kindergarten pre registration for the 1970 - 1971 school year will take place Thursday, May 7, in the kindergarten room. Parents may register their children from 8:30 a.m. unti 3:30 p.m.

Kindergarten children entering school in the fall must have reached five years of age before December 1, 1970. Parents of children whose birthdays are later than September first should give serious consideration as to whether their child is ready for school. It takes more time for some of the younger children to adjust to school.

Parents are invited to bring their child with them when they register. It is important to bring the child's birth certificate.

Please register children at this time as it will enable the school to organize their kindergarten program for the coming year.

Michigan Week Events Planned

A schedule of events to include everyone in Tecumseh was prepared by the Michigan Week committee at their meeting Tuesday night.

Activities will be kicked off Saturday, May 16, with a bike race from Tecumseh to Adrian. All boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 15 are eligible. Boys and girls from Adrian will also be participating in the race.

A new city regulation requires that all bicycles be licensed. All kids who are going to ride in the race can have their bikes checked the morning of the race beginning at 9:30 at Nelson Field. Bikes not in the race can be inspected and licensed at the Community Center the same day. Cost of licensing is $1.50 for two years.

The race, approximately 15 miles long, will begin at the Pony League Field on Russell Rd., and end at the Fairgrounds in Adrian.

There will be check points and rest areas along the route with Boy Scouts and the Raisin Valley CB's stationed at them. They will have the right to take any one out of the race due to fatigue or mechanical trouble.

Lenawee County Sheriff Richard Germond has given approval for the race and will provide patrols along the route.

Sunday, 20 Neil Hansen Scholarships will be presented to Tecumseh seniors at the Commun-

Local Businessman Hurt in Accident

Delbert King, local businessman, suffered a broken collar bone last Thursday afternoon when his automobile was rammed from behind, just north of Wauseon, O.

He was taken to a Wauseon hospital and held overnight before being released Friday afternoon.

The other driver, ticketed in the mishap, also was hospitalized.

The two Tecumseh men had been in Wauseon in regards to a sign for their new restaurant, the Cedar Shack.

Budget Approval by Council Near

City Council held a lengthy meeting Monday night, reviewing and studying a tentative budget for the fiscal year, 1970-71.

Officials report the tentative budget is nearing approval.

A special meeting will be held May 11 for a public hearing, and at which time the budget must be approved.

Schools Bussing Some

By James McDowell

Two important reasons for overcrowding in the Tecumseh schools are the closing of the 7th and 8th grades at St Elizabeth School last fall and the growth within our school district.

Next fall many changes must be made to remedy the overcrowded conditions in the grades, and some children will not be able to attend classes in the same building as they did this year.

Due to the necessity for space for the junior high last fall, we had to close the kindergarten room which was operated in the basement of the public library and establish the junior high vocal music department in its place.

We had no other school district owned rooms so we placed up to 37 or 38 children in some of our kindergartens. We simply cannot do this another year with the same children in the first grade.

There was also a need for an additional second grade and fifth grade, both of which were badly overcrowded in all locations. However, we had no space available.

In the fall, the new Sutton School will be open and school rooms will be available but not in the city. The city schools have been most effected by the growth both in the city of Tecumseh and in the Tecumseh urban areas, because large numbers of children are bussed from the urban areas to the schools in the city.

Since the new Sutton School has a kindergarten room which it can share with Tecumseh Acres, the Tecumseh Acres children who now walk to Tecumseh Acres to kindergarten will be bussed to Sutton.

These children will be bussed for one-half day sessions only for one year, whereas if we put the additional third grade room at Sutton, children who can walk to Tecumseh Acres for third grade would have to be bussed to Sutton for the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade, a total of three years, full time.

The kindergarten room at Tecumseh Acres will be used for a first grade room and an additional third grade room will be opened. The children will be walkers who have been at some of the other location snear Tecuseh Acres.

It is also necessary to open an additional sixth grade, which will be housed at Ridgeway. Children who have been bussed to Tecumseh Acres, Herrick Park, or Patterson from outside the city will now be bussed to Ridgeway.

It is very important that these overcrowded groups of children in the fifth grades this year be broken down into smaller groups for 1970-71.

Some classes this year ran 38 and 39. When class loads exceed 30, educational advantages decrease rapidly for the children.

The Tecumseh Education Association has been lenient in the past in regards to accepting children in excess of 30 in their classes, because there were no rooms available. However, both the Board and the Association agree that children should now be bussed to the new rooms available so that teaching loads may be equalized and more equal opportunities for learning be be given each child.

The overcrowding of this year in some grades was not conducive to good educational opportunities for the children.

Kindergarten estimated 240—8 classroom.

First, 230—8 classrooms—30 to St. Elizabeth.

Second, 251—8 classrooms.

Third, 270—9 classrooms.

Fourth, 237—8 classrooms.

Fifth, 239—8 classrooms.

Sixth, 275—9 classrooms.

It is extremely important that the parents of kindergarten children either attend the Kindergarten Round-up on May 12th or enroll their children on this day. We must be able to plan bus routes to accomodate these children with as little travel as possible for each child each day.

Further notice of the Round-up will appear shortly.

$2.5 Million Hike Shown

Assessed evaluation for the Tecumseh School District will jump 4% or approximately $2.5 million for the 1970-71 school year, according to figures reported by Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent and business manager.

The new district evaluation will be $55,581,376, compared to $53,397,013 for last year. These figures could be changed if factors for various townships and city are recommended and approved.

	1969-70	1970-71	% Increase	Dollars
Tecumseh	$30,515,000	$31,164,200	2.12	$ 649,000
Adrian Twp.	90,200	113,400	25.7	23,200
Clinton Twp.	360,700	385,700	6.9	25,000
Franklin Twp.	2,818,214	2,934,007	4.1	115,793
Macon Twp.	1,988,200	2,054,000	3.3	65,800
Raisin Twp.	13,459,450	14,517,650	7.8	1,058,200
Ridgeway Twp.	818,400	912,900	11.5	94,500
Tecumseh Twp.	3,346,849	3,499,519	4.5	152,670

Overall increase amounts to 4%. If factors are to be applied, they will probably be released Thursday or Friday of this week.

Players Rehearsing for Next Comedy

Have you ever seen General Grant smile?

He does benevolently in the hilarious story of "Mr. Barry's Etchings," being presented by the Tecumseh Players at the Tecumseh Community Center May 8, 9, 14, 15 and 16.

Perhaps the most honest counterfeiter the world has known, Mr. Barry — portrayed by Guil Rothfuss — discovers the warm feeling obtainable by helping those who need it and makes the most of it.

Phil and Randy Baker, theatrical father-son combination, Jo Wegner, Vesta Rothfuss, Rene Crombez, Bertha Vallelunga, Leigh Ann Schneider, Phil Campbell, Lyle Dorman and Jan Paige complete the cast.

Tickets are by reservations only and are obtainable from cast members, Mary Sanchez Beauty Salon and Flanders Music Store in Tecumseh, or Rene's Donut Shop in the Irish Hills.

THS Band Concert Thursday, Friday

Annual high school band concert is scheduled this Thursday and Friday evenings in the school gym.

Performances will start at 8 p.m. each night. Tickets may be purchased from band members or at Flanders Music Store.

City Trash Pickup Starts Monday

Free trash and refuse pickup by the city will start here next Monday with collections scheduled to run through May 15.

Large items, such as major appliances, are not included in the free pickup. Residents are expected to haul large items to the Walker Landfill on Pawson Rd.

Construction On Increase In Tecumseh

Biggest building boom in Tecumseh in over five years has started here with total construction for the year almost certain to double the 1969 total of $618,539.

Robert Hamden, building inspector, reports permits have been issued for three apartment projects, a commercial building and four houses.

Breakdown of his report is:

Complex of 32 apartments by HODCO of Adrian at Russell Rd. and Adrian St. — $350,000.

Complex of 36 apartments by Robert Holmes on Occidental Rd. near W. Chicago Blvd. — $350,000.

Four permits for houses — $60,000.

Total estimated construction so far this year is $748,000.

Not included in the inspector's report is the planned construction of a $225,000 educational building for the Presbyterian Church, which would hike the total figure to over $970,000.

Other known construction will increase the total beyond $1 million.

Jim Fridd To Oppose Bob Stites

James H. Fridd, Jr., Adrian businessman, has petitions circulating for running against Robert Stites for State Representative in the August primary.

Mr. Fridd is a well known businessman, a veteran of World War II, former president of the Adrian Kiwanis Club, director and president of YMCA, president of Lenawee County Fair Board, trustee of Adrian School Board, president of Lenawee Country Club, trustee of Adrian Presbyterian Church, past commander of National Guard in Adrian and has held positions and memberships in other organizations.

Mr. Stites has served two terms in Lansing and is seeking a third.

May 3 will be Humane Sunday, commencing annual Be Kind to Animal Week, May 3-9, the 56th to be observed by the American Humane Association of Denver, Colo., and their many subsidiaries, of which the Lenawee County Humane Society is a member. Mrs. Glenn H. Peck, chairman of poster distribution suggests, "Animals and birds need regular feeding times and water available at all time. Much illness and veterinarian bills may be avoided by this regularity. In the dog house, place paper and straw, and/or old blanket or cloth on the floor. Face dog house east to avoid most of cold winds. Have dog chain, not less than six foot and be sure no tree, bush or post is near enough for your dog to become entwined. Give dog shade in the heat of summer, and clean out the dog house regularly. Do not let him run loose on other people's property, pay its yearly tax, and give some time daily to pet and brush him. His disposition will improve—remember how good it feels to you to have a back rub? Ten minutes per day is little to give for the loyalty and protection a dog gives us. No small bones, please, animals like a change of diet just as humans do."

Parents of five young people in Coachlite Drive area were surprised this week when the kids got letters from the Police Department. Their shock turned to smiles of relief and pleasure when they found out the letters were of thanks for "caring." Mike Winzler, Steve Ford, Dave and Robin Keys and Vicky LaVoy filled a huge carton, 9 ft. x 4 ft. square, with cans, bottles, paper and trash from along a two block stretch on Russell Road Saturday. Mrs. Kays called police officers to get some help in getting the carton hauled away and Doug Aylesworth and Bill Mini did same in the Aylesworth pick-up after getting off from duty. Three cheers. They all "care."

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance placing emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water, and other related resources, will be celebrated locally, May 3-10, according to Jack Ehlert, chairman, Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

The Lenawee SCD will distribute, upon request to churches of all faiths, program blanks, bulletin inserts, posters, and booklets created particularly for this year's observance.

BAND TAG DAYS — Bill Holmes, new mayor, purchases the first tag from Lyle Harper initiating Band Tag Days, May 1 and 2, from 9 to 5 Friday and from 9 until noon Saturday. Mr. Harper said that more mothers of band members are needed to sell tags.

Tracksters Win Easily

Tecumseh's track team virtually ran away from Airport in a league meet Tuesday afternoon by the score of 88-33.

The Indians collected 11 first places in coasting to their easy victory. Dave Biscupski was a double-winner, taking firsts in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard low hurdles.

Tecumseh took all three places in the long jump, pole vault and two-mile run. The win upped their record to 3-1 in the Huron League and 5-2 overall.

Results of the meet are:

Shot put — Keller (A), Brown (T), Thews (T); 44'1¼".

Long jump — Thews (T), C. Brown (T), Biscupski (T); 18'-6¾".

880-yd. relay — Biscurski, Hannibal, Goodacre, Cole, (T); 1:39.1.

April 25 — Marie A. Hoffman, 16, of 504 E. Logan, was cited for defective equipment after her car struck the rear of an auto driven by George D. Douglas, 43, Cement City, on W. Chicago Blvd. Douglas' car was pushed into another operated by R. J. Nicholson, 42, Toledo, O., and Nicholson's car then struck one driven by Joyce A. Dale, 20, Toledo, O.

April 23 — John H. Travis, 17, Tipton, suffered a broken leg when his motorcycle rammed into the rear of a car driven by Ricky K. Nobach, 19, Eaton Rapids, on W. Chicago Blvd. The youth, taken to Herrick Hospital, was charged with violation of speed restrictions.

April 25 — Carl A. Nichols, 19, Clinton, backed into a car operated by David L. Gramling, 17, of 116 N. Division, in a parking lot at Rusty's Drive-In.

Barb Beal Feted At Linen Shower

Among the friends present were guests from Ann Arbor, Margaret Carr and Mrs. John Ransom.

Moss green and yellow color scheme was carried out in a bride doll-centered gift table and on the refreshment table, which was decorated with small bride dolls.

Decorated cake, punch and ice cream were served.

MICHIGAN WEEK

ity Center.

Monday, May 18, city officials will travel to Sturgis to take part in their Mayor Exchange Day. Officials attending the festivities are Mayor William Holmes, City Manager Calvin Zorn, Police Chief Murrell Clark, Recreation Director Ward Eardley and members of the City Council.

Tuesday is Heritage Day and Library Day with an open house and coffee hour held at the library.

High school students will assume the city offices Wednesday, Student Day. A mock city council meeting is also being scheduled. The high school will hold Turn-About Day with the students and teachers changing positions.

Tecumseh will celebrate Mayor Exchange Day Thursday, with the mayor of Sturgis coming here. He will be greeted at the Hawley House, then taken on a tour of the city.

The Little Garden Club will present a flower show at St. Peter's Episcopal Church beginning at 1:00 p.m. A parade is scheduled for later that afternoon, beginning approximately at 5.

The Mayor Exchange banquet at the Tecumseh Union Hall will begin at 7 p.m., with Bud Guest of WJR in Detroit as featured speaker.

The Welcome Wagon is handling the activities Friday, Hospitality Day. People coming into Tecumseh will be greeted at the city limits.

A teen dance has been scheduled for Saturday, Youth Day, at the Community Center. Ceremonies will also be held to officially close Michigan Week.

In addition to these activities, downtown merchants have donated their store windows for the week to advertise local industries.

Hats Are Featured

Officers of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs were guests of Business and Professional Women's Club Monday evening at First Baptist Church.

Nearly 38 members and guests enjoyed dinner, with both ladies and tables decked out in beautiful hats.

Present from the Federation were President Mrs. Oscar Hauch, First Vice-President Mrs. Clarence Brock, Second Vice-President Mrs. Stanley Goodale, Treasurer Mrs. Melvin Ruetting-er, Parlimentarian Mrs. Therol Brittain and Past President Mrs. Warren Van Orden.

Mrs. John Robinson, leader of Girl Scout Troop 329, sponsored by the club, presented Helen Benjamen, Julie Quigley, Michele Filber, Jana Robinson and Meg Beardsley who told of their activities.

A book of Clara Waldron's original poems was presented to the club from Miss Waldron by Lillian Service.

Naomi Sallows gave a short report on the spring Federation meeting.

Twenty-five dollars was donated to the Cancer Fund. Individual members joined Goodwill Auxiliary, as a means of raising money for that organization.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the ensuing year. President, Olive Ruettinger; vice-president, Gerry Pobuda; second vice-president, Katherine Dickinson; recording secretary, Charlotte Boyes; corresponding secretary, Margaret Leighton; and treasurer, Vera Zarnow.

Past president Cecile Smith presided when the slate was accepted.

Mrs. Robert King presented Mrs. Van Orden, better known as "the Hat Lady," who gave a delightful and whimsical program on hats.

To music played by Mrs. William Flanders there was a hat parade, with Purnell Osburn, Janet Robinson, Ella Mary King, Gerry Pobuda and Ruth Wright.

Devotions for the evening were given by Myra Teufel and the hostesses were Majel Holden, Josephine Wegner and Judy Vanzo.

Leaders Finish Training Program

Herb Simon and Dean Craig of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church were among adult leaders of River Raisin District Lutheran Pioneers who completed a course in leadership training at the National Lutheran Pioneers-Leaders' Training Clinic held at Camp Mac Lean, Burlington, Wis., April 24 through 26.

Courses in instructing wilderness survival, handicraft, first aid, outdoor devotions and compass were among the various subjects covered during the training session.

A new handbook on handicraft and recreation, and a booklet of sermonettes, which leaders may use for outdoor camping when the services of a chaplain are not available, were among the many training aids leaders brought back with them to aid them in instructing the Lutheran Pioneers of their respective units. A special program on how to hold an evening camp fire was presented.

The clinic closed with a banquet dinner, when certification of attendance and the "L.T.C." emblems were awarded to members who completed the course of instruction.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Family Is Thankful

A note of appreciation for Tecumseh folks has been received from the Herrick family for the "outpouring of affection and sympathy" for the family at the time of the death of Mrs. Ray Herrick.

The note is grateful: "we were overwhelmed" and the "gesture on the part of the Tecumseh merchants in closing their stores during the funeral service, was totally unexpected."

"Will you please, through your newspaper, thank these wonderful people for us?" Sincerely, Ray W. Herrick (C.C.).

Local expressions of sympathy, a feeling of sadness, was the least that folks here could do for a family which has done so much for us—and Hazel M. Herrick was a friend and neighbor to many, a lady who helped to make our community a bettter place in which to live.

The fact that folks could give the family some comfort at the time of need is meaningful. This family, accustomed to giving, should know that the community is appreciative in being able to do satisfaction in giving something for them.

The Herrick family is held in the highest respect and esteem and not just for their generous philanthrophy, but for being a friend and a neighbor, a part of Tecumseh.

If the community could have done more, it would have been done, in respect for a fine lady and for a fine family.

Food Stamps Available

The Department of Social Service will begin issuing food stamps in Lenawee County May 4 to low income familes and persons who might need assistance, such as those living on welfare or Social Security.

Persons can register for the program at the County Building on Front St., across from the Court House in Adrian. Registrations will be taken any time before or after May 4.

Persons eligible for the program will pay a pre-determined cash amount for the stamps and then also receive a bonus number of stamps.

According to Chris Phillips of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, family size and income must first be verified. This will determine the amount which has to be paid and the number of stamps received.

Stamps can be purchased only at the Bank of Lenawee County's Branch Office on North Main St., in Adrian.

Stores in Tecumseh which will redeem the food stamps are A&P, Kroger, Vescios, McCarty's Market and The Party Shop.

4-H Top Notchers Hold Clean-up Day

Tecumseh Top Notchers 4-H Community Clean-up Day will be held at Patterson Park Saturday from 10 a.m. Rain date is May 16.

This is a contribution to Michigan Week observance. Those attending are to bring rakes, plastic bags and sack lunches.

Mrs. Carlton Cook, leader of the group, is chairman of the project.

Mrs. William Flanders addressed the group at their meeting Monday at the Community Center on the subject of Michigan Week. She related many little known facts of Michigan history and explained the purpose of Michigan Week to the youth.

Zip Codes Are Required

Only zip coded mail can be accepted for the following states with the zip codes shown below. This includes first class mail.

New York State — 100 to 119 inclusive.

New Jersey State — 070 to 089 inclusive.

Connecticut State — 060 to 069 inclusive.

Pennsylvania State — 189 to 194 inclusive.

Minnesota State — 540, 550 to 554 inclusive.

Michigan State — 480 to 482 inclusive.

Wisconsin State — 530 to 534 inclusive.

Illinois State — 600 to 606 inclusive.

MICHIGAN BOOSTER — Betty Flanders addressed the Top Notchers 4-H Club Monday on the importance of Michigan Week. She came bedecked in a resplendent original hat trimmed with the State flower, apple blossoms, a pin depicting the State bird, robin, earrings fashioned of Petoskey stone, and a Michigan-shaped necklace. Earlier in the evening, the hat was one of several "originals" worn by members at the Business and Professional Women's Club Hat Party dinner.

Board Approves New Dress Code

By NEVILLE HART

Tecumseh High School Principal

Tecumseh Board of Education unanimously approved the new guide lines for student dress and appearance in a meeting held recently.

It is their hope, as well as the hope of the administration and faculty, that these guidelines will prove acceptable to all members of the student body, and that few, if any of our student body, will find it necessary to ignore them.

I believe that as a result of the many meetings with student assembly members, the student affairs committee, dress code committee, the faculty, administration and the Board of Education, a stronger feeling of mutual respect has been engendered.

This mutual respect can go a long way toward improving the morale of all of us, as well as to improve the reputation of this institution and its membership.

I sincerely hope that it will not be necessary to invoke either of the provisions concerning parents notification of a guideline violation, or the suspension of a student for disruptive appearance or behavior. How well the students exhibit their sense of responsibility will determine their readiness for further acceptance by their peers as a full-fledged, participating member of our democratic society. Their rights will always be considered as long as their sense of fair play continues.

Project Rainfall

Project Rainfall for 1970 will soon be under way with Steve Church of Tipton taking over the duties of coordinator with Neil Galloway, Adrian 4-H'er, assisting.

Bob Osburn, past coordinator and originator of the project, will assume an advisory role since he is presently a student at University of Michigan.

Church, of the Tipton Jets 4-H Club, is seeking more people, 4-H'ers or otherwise, to record the rain in their area of Lenawee County each day. Thus far about 50 are participating and mail reports to the county extension office to be forwarded for charting to the Church residence on Carson Hwy.

All that is required is a modestly-priced rain gauge placed in an open spot where a reading can be taken twice each day, morning and evening.

Anyone interested in participating may get more information by contacting Bill Walter, 4-H youth agent at Cooperative Extension Service at the Court House in Adrian.

Copies of the "Report of Project Rainfall: '69" are available at the same office.

Mr. Osburn determined that last year's project was much more successful than the 1968 one, doubling to 44 persons participating with rainfall recorded from April to October rather than from May to July as the previous year.

"Rainfall patterns last year were similar to those of '68 but several more years of data will be necessary before long-term features of Lenawee County rainfall can really be determined," Osburn stated recently.

As a result of a report of Project Rainfall which appeared in the National 4-H News, a five-county area in Kentucky is undertaking a similar project. Bob has intentions of visiting the area later this summer after he returns from Champagne-Urbana, Ill., where he will be researching weather with Professor Dingle of the Meteorology and Oceanography Dept. of U. of M., from May 10 to the end of June.

Scouts Plan Field Trip

CLINTON — Cub Scouts were shown a film by Charles McCalpin at their pack meeting Tuesday night. The film story was about the Arabian horse, in connection with a field trip to a horse show in July, which the pack plans to attend.

Edward Schmidt was sworn in as a new member.

Mike Williams, Eric Pratt and Gary Henry graduated to Webelos. Robert Voorhees and Thomas Sell graduated from Webelos to Boy Scouts. Thomas Sell also was awarded a three-year pin.

James Mattis, of Den 4, was presented with a Den Chief award.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Love were special guests for the evening, and were presented with a gift from the pack in appreciation for their donation of a truck to use on paper drives.

Cubs receiving awards were Robert Simpson, wolf badge, gold arrow and silver arrow; Robert Wolf, three silver arrows; Gary Henry, bear badge, gold and silver arrow and Mark Dettling, wolf.

Webelos received the following awards:

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The time of bumps, bruises, blisters, scratches and various and sundry hurts has arrived along with Beautiful Spring. It's also time for gardening and yard work. Tecumseh Products Broadcast latest edition suggests using the city's most popular product, ice, to relieve the pain and soothe the hurts.

As close as your refrigerator is a wonder drug made by Tecumseh's own refrigerator compressors, ice is useful for relieving pains of slivers in the finger, brain tumor, strained backs and cracked legs. Let's remember this summer that ice is an all-around pain reducer, bleeding stopper and burn killer and it's readily available when you need it.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Van Valkenburg returned Saturday from Mesa, Ariz., where they spent the winter. Mrs. V. said that Mrs. Lavern Seizert is a bit better but finds it difficult to keep a sugar balance, consequently she has to watch her health continuously. The Vans and the Seizerts spent a happy winter together.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roekle attended the four-day Rotary International recently in Cincinnati, O. Mrs. Roekle went twice recently to the east to visit her daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Miller were hosts recently to their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Russell and children, who have made their home near London, England, for the past two years. Mr. Russell is employed by the Chrysler Motors division in London. Mrs. Russell is the former Joyce Miller. They returned to London last Saturday.

Dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kennel were Mrs. Ernest Kennel and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kritler, Kenton, O., Mrs. Robert Saireurn, Lima, O., and Mrs. Purnell Osburn.

Four members of Tecumseh Music Club attended the Friday banquet at the state convention of Michigan Federation of Music Clubs in Flint. They were Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, Mrs. James E. Danforth, Mrs. Edwin Walters and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson. Dr. George C. Wilson, vice-president and director of National Music Camp at Interlochen, was the speaker.

School Children Take Field Trip

A Gem and Mineral field trip was taken April 17 by 100 children of Patterson School. Two third grade classes and one fifth grade class attended the 8th Annual Gem and Mineral Show at the Armory in Jackson.

Among the 240 displays on view was some moon rock. Attending were 4,500 persons who paid admission and 900 children the first day.

The group was accompanied by teachers, Gary Myers, Mrs. Frank Lasky and Mrs. James Lincoln.

On the way home, the group toured Hidden Lake Gardens.

Betzoldt in Japan

Glen Betzoldt is in Japan after leaving Subic Bay, Philippines, aboard the USS Shangri-la CVS-38. He said in a recent letter to The Herald that he enjoyed talking with Glen Barton there. Betzoldt hopes to go to Expo '70 while he is in Japan.

Betzoldt was initiated in the usual crossing the equator ceremonies with a rash of kidnaping, short sheeting and other pranks.

Sewage Water a Resource?

Might sewage water be a precious resource? Women attending College Day, April 30 will hear Dr. Howard Tanner, director of Michigan State University Division of Natural Resources, tell about a MSU research project which if successful will convert sewer water, which now pollutes rivers and streams, into a servant of man.

Dr. Tanner's slide presentation of the project shows how the nutrients in the water will be utilized for growing pond crops harvested for animal feed, and for irrigation and fertilizing of field crops. At the same time there would be clear, clean water for boating, fishing and swimming.

College Day, an annual tri-county event of the Family Living Education Program of the Cooperative Extension Service also features classes of particular interest to homemakers. Any interested homemaker from Washtenaw, Monroe or Lenawee counties is invited to enroll for the one day program scheduled to begin with coffee and registration at 9 a.m. April 30 at the Zion Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor.

Class choices include something to interest almost every homemaker no matter what her age or family stage. Those who have children may wish to hear what Mrs. Gail Imig, extension family life specialist, has to say about the importance of play in a child's development.

Homemakers with older children might choose to hear Gustav Leinbach, school social worker, discuss today's youth. Edward Kidd, Monroe County agricultural agent, offers helps for home vegetable or flower gardeners in a class he calls "Plat a Plot for Pleasure, Profit and Practicality."

Norman Bless, district extension farm management agent, explains how to transfer property and plan estates so as to accomplish what one wishes and save tax dollars.

Mrs. Sharon Walker, extension home economist, takes a look at the wide range of choices for retirement living and discusses their pro's and con's. Carlton Edwards, extension housing specialist, offers helps for choosing a travel trailer. Mrs. Irene McNamara shares the history surrounding her 40 year collection of antique dishes.

Expanded Nutrition Program Aides from all three counties tell what is happening to families as a result of their work.

Classes are scheduled for 10:45-12 noon and again from 1:30-3 p.m. Those who wish may make reservations for a salad luncheon served at Holly's Restaurant. Brochures and registration forms are available from the Lenawee County Cooperative Extension Office. Costs, according to Mrs. Fairman are a registration fee of 25c and an additional $2.33 for those who attend the luncheon.

Impressive Win Posted by Golfers

Tecumseh High School's golf team defeated Blissfield Monday afternoon by the score of 153-179. This score was the best by a Tecumseh team on the Country Club course in recent years.

Frank Geisenhaver shot a 36 to lead the scoring and was followed closely by Bill Gibson with a 37. Other scores were Ralph Miller, 39, Bob Miller, 41, Bill Damon and Tom LaFerriere, 43.

The Indians now are 3-0 in league play and have an overall record of 4-3. The win was the 25th against a league school in two years and the 34th against only three losses in the last three years.

Bill Gibson has been the outstanding golfer this season, followed by Frank Geisenhaver and Ralph Miller. Bill Damon and Bob Miller have shown the greatest improvement since last year.

Next match for the golfers is today at Ann Arbor Huron. The Indians were placed in the Monroe regional this year with all other Huron League schools, which will be held at the River Raisin course in Monroe May 15.

Temple Selects Convention Staff

Minnehaha Temple No. 43 of the Pythian Sisters met Monday evening at the Temple Hall with 19 members present. The Most Excellent Chief, Mrs. Albert Gilhouse, presided over the meeting.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given and approved. Reports were given on sick members and altruistic work.

Mrs. Gilhouse announced that they had a staff of 12 preparing to participate in the convention at Detroit May 5. The staff is composed of Mrs. Charles Driffill, Mrs. Grover Swarts, Mrs. Lyle Bailey, Mrs. Victor Shadbolt, Mrs. Roy Willnow, Mrs. Charles Keil, Mrs. Roy Benedict, Mrs. Howard Kronberg, Mrs. Lyle Whelan, Mrs. Rollo Theilan, Mary Theilan, Mrs. Dwight Service. Mrs. Swarts and Mrs. Driffill are the leaders of the staff.

It was voted to donate $5 to the Cancer Fund. Discussion was held on having a joint celebration with the Knights to honor members eligible to receive honorary certificates or pins. No date was set for this event. Also discussed and voted upon was to order the flags for the various cemeteries.

Luncheon committee was Mrs. Lloyd Burnett, Mrs. Charles Keil and Mrs. Verle Miller.

Conklin Running for School Board

Joseph Conklin, local attorney, has taken out a petition for the School Board and insures a race at the June election.

Incumbents Dr. Donald Phelan and William Macbeth also are circulating petitions. Two seats for four-year terms are on the ballot.

Deadline for filing is May 11 at 4 p.m., at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd.

Obituaries

● MRS. JOHN D. WHITE

Services were held in Clinton Monday for Mrs. John D. White, 73, of Clinton who died Friday at Bixby Hospital where she had been a patient since Jan. 19.

She had lived in the Clinton area for 35 years.

Born June 2, 1896, near Saline, she married Mr. White June 23, 1923, in Clinton. He preceded her in death in 1960. Also a son and daughter.

Mrs. White was a member of St. Dominic's Roman Catholic Church, and the Altar Society. She was also a member of the American Legion Auxiliary of Clinton.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Christine Faulhaber, of the Hillhaven Nursing Home in Adrian; a daughter, Mrs. James (Alma) Woodward of rural Clinton and three grandchildren, Marianna, James and Jane Woodward.

The Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy officiated and burial was in the parish cemetery. A rosary service was held at Proctor Funeral Home.

● LA VERN B. DOVE

Services were held Monday at Dunn Funeral Home for LaVern B. Dove, 76, of 302 E. Pottawatamie St., who died at 12:30 p.m., Friday at Herrick Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient for one week.

Mr. Dove was born Feb. 26, 1894, in Clinton Township. He was a former employee of Tecumseh Products Co.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Starkey and Mrs. Alma McKenzie, both of Tecumseh; a son, Lyndal, of Phoenix, Ariz.; 11 grandchildren; several great-grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Alma Austin of Tecumseh.

A brother and three sisters preceded him in death.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● KENNETH WHEELER

A funeral requiem service was held Sunday at St. Peter's Episcopal Church for Kenneth Wheeler, 59, of Manitou Beach who was killed in a traffic accident Thursday night in Rollin Township.

The funeral was held Monday at Proctor Funeral Home with the Rev. Jack Warner officiating.

Born Oct. 24, 1910, in Lansing, he married June Seymour Dec. 3, 1938, in Lansing. She survives.

Mr. Wheeler was graduated from Eastern High School in Lansing and attended Michigan State University. He lived in the Manitou Beach area for the past five years and before that lived six years in Tecumseh, moving here from Lansing.

He operated a chain of paint stores for 16 years there before moving to Tecumseh. He was employed at Addison Products Co. at the time of his death.

Mr. Wheeler was a member of St. Peter's Church and a former member of Eagles Lodge here and was a member of Masonic Lodge F. & A.M., in Lansing.

Besides his wife and mother, he is survived by three sons, Chris, of Tecumseh, Kermit, Lansing and Douglas of Manitou Beach; a daughter, Mrs. Myron (Constance) Lewis of Saline; and four grandchildren.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● MRS. CLARENCE L. BOWMAN

Services were held Monday at Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton, for Mrs. Clarence L. Bowman, 82, of rural Manchester, who died Thursday at Bixby Hospital where she had been admitted in February.

She was a member of Assembly of God in Clinton.

Seven sons including George, of Clinton; a daughter, Mrs. Harry (Annabelle) Spencer of Clinton; 36 grandchildren and 36 great-grandchildren are among the survivors.

Burial was in Rich Cemetery at Mayville.

● SAMUEL ROBISON

Funeral services will be Friday at 1:30 p.m. in Proctor Funeral Home for Samuel Robison, 74, of 409 Burton St., Clinton. He apparently suffered a heart attack at his home, and was dead upon arrival at Herrick Memorial Hospital, at 7:10 a.m., Tuesday. He had been in failing health for the past year.

He was born March 16, 1896, in Macon. He was self-employed as a carpenter and in latter years was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. He retired a few years ago.

He was married to Ruth Anna Thomas on Oct. 29, 1921, in Clinton. Mrs. Robison survives.

Mr. Robison was a member of the Clinton Masonic Lodge and was a former past worshipful master of the lodge.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four sons, Robert T., of Flint, John F., of Torrance, Calif., Samuel E., of Fountain Valley, Calif., and Charles B. of Spokane, Wash.; a daughter, Judy Robison, at home; a brother, Ernest Robison of 307 S. Evans, Tecumseh; a sister, Mrs. Lora Hasted, 13474 Saline-Macon Rd.; 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be conducted by Earl Lawrence, pastor of United Church of Christ. Masonic graveside services will be held at Riverside Cemetery.

● MRS. CORA WINTERS

Services were held Friday in Adrian for Mrs. Cora Winters, 71, of Toledo, O., who died at Herrick Memorial Hospital April 21.

Mrs. Winters was born in Onsted. She was visiting her sister, Mrs. Nora Cool, in Adrian when she was taken ill.

Other survivors include a son, Arthur Winters, 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Lewis.

● MRS. GEORGE FOGELSONG

Services were held Saturday in Adrian for Mrs. George Fogelsong, 75, mother of Graydon Fogelsong, of Tipton, who died April 22 in Bixby Hospital.

Born in Raisin Valley July 7, 1894, she has been in ill health for some time.

Other survivors include her husband, a patient in Hillhaven Convalescent Center, a daughter; six grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery.

● GEORGE R. PETERS

Funeral services will be Friday at 3:30 p.m. at Proctor Funeral Home for George R. Peters, 98, who died Tuesday at 9:50 p.m., at Hillhaven Nursing Home, Adrian, where he was admitted last September. He was in failing health only the past year.

He was a long-time resident of the area, and a self-employed farmer before retiring several years ago. He had resided at 603 S. Evans St.

He was born Feb. 9, 1872, in Redford Twp., Wayne County, to Alexander and Clista Jane Snyder Peters. He married Hattie Peterson in 1909. She died in 1960. He had two brothers and one sister who preceded him in death. Only survivor is one niece, Mrs. Delbert (Ione) Weaver, 2217 E. Monroe Rd.

The Rev. Alfred Sheley will officiate. Burial will be in the Brookside Cemetery.

Attends Workshop

Sharon Furgason, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Furgason, 506 W. Kilbuck St., went to Tustin for the 4-H Foods and Nutrition Workshop at Camp Kett April 15 and 16.

Sharon has just embarked on teen leadership assisting with group activities in Top Notchers 4-H Club.

Victory String Snapped at 24

Tecumseh's dual meet victory string was snapped at 24 by Monroe Catholic Central last Thursday by the score of 72-46. The last dual meet lost was to Flat Rock on April 21, 1966.

Tecumseh trailed Monroe CC by three points, 40-37, going into the 440-yard dash, but Monroe swept all three places and the Indians never challenged again.

Tecumseh's record now stands at 4-2.

On Saturday, Tecumseh traveled to Jackson Parkside for the Eagle Invitational. They scored 10½ points and finished ninth among the 12 teams entered.

Gary Hannibal placed third in the 120-yard high hurdles and fifth in the 180-yard low hurdles with times of 15.15 and 21.9, respectively.

Tony Lisenbee was timed at 4:43 in the mile run, good for fourth place. In the pole vault, Scott Dalton cleared 12 feet and placed fourth and Bruce Costigan tied for fifth with a vault of 11'6".

The 880-yard relay team of Gerry Girbach, Brian Thews, Mark Goodacre and Bob Merz finished fifth with a time of 1:37.

The mile relay team of Girbach, Lisenbee, Goodacre and Bob Sanchez was clocked at 3:38, also good for fifth place.

Tecumseh will host Monroe Jefferson today at 4 p.m. and run in the Albion College Invitational on Saturday.

RESOLUTION

Meeting of the City Council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, held on the 20th day of April, 1970

Present: Mayor Holmes; Councilmen Bilkie, Knisely, McCombs, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

Absent: None.

The following preamble and Resolution was offered by Councilman McCombs and supported by Councilman Knisely.

WHEREAS Council deems it advisable to vacate and discontinue that part of a public street, to-wit: that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street; and

WHEREAS it is the declaration of Council that proceedings be initiated to effect the vacating and discontinuance of the public street hereinbefore referred to.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved:

1. That it is the declaration of Council that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street, in the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, be vacated and discontinued.

2. That the description of the lands encompassing that portion of Pine Street declared vacated is as follows:

All that part of Pine Street on the Plat of Sunset Meadows and on Sunset Meadows Plat III, the North Line of which is described as commencing in the North line of Lot 8, said Plat of Sunset Meadows at a point 104.14 feet Easterly from the Northwest corner of said Lot 8 for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; and running thence East 114 feet, more or less, to a point in the North line of Lot 7, said Plat, which is located 100 feet North 89°23' West from the Northeast corner of said Lot 7; and the South line of which is described as being the Southern terminal of Pine Street as extended to its point of intersection with the South line of Lots 84 and 86, Plat of Sunset Meadows III.

3. That the City of Tecumseh, a municipal corporation of Lenawee County, Michigan, reserves and excepts therefrom a permanent easement for any lawful purpose over and across a strip of land 10 feet wide off and across each side of the North-South center line of the lands described in paragraph two immediately above.

4. That Monday, June 1, 1970, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., in the City of Tecumseh Council Chambers located at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan, be appointed and designated as the time and place that Council will meet and hear any objections to the vacating and discontinuance of the lands and the reservation of easements set forth.

5. That a copy of this Resolution shall be published weekly for not less than four consecutive weeks in The Tecumseh Herald prior to said meeting.

6 That objections to such proposed action of Council may be filed with the City Clerk in writing during the usual City of Tecumseh business hours.

Ayes: Unanimous.
Nays: None.
Resolution declared adopted.

WIN OR LEARN?

It's a never-ending cycle. Every fall, young boys pick up their footballs, only to exchange them for basketballs when winter rolls around. And when spring and summer come, the basketballs are replaced by baseballs, gloves and bats.

It's also a never-ending cycle for the parents although it differs strikingly. While the boys change balls with the seasons, the parents don't change at all. They retain their question which knows no season, but is appropriate for the entire year, or so they seem to believe. That is, "Did you win?"

The start of the Little League baseball season is almost here and it is important for everyone to begin with the real purpose in mind.

Ask yourself which is more important in Little League, a good won-lost record or the developing of good baseball skills. Think it over.

You probably can truthfully say that you want your son to learn to play good baseball. But ask your son, or nephew, or even the neighbor kids this, "Do you want to learn to play baseball or do you want to win?"

I would suspect that his answer would be to win. Somehow the real purpose of the Little League has been replaced, in terms of emphasis, by a secondary reason.

It would be impossible to place the blame for this on any one person or reason. The boys like to see their team in first place, the parents like to see their sons do well and the coaches like to have winning teams.

So the kids like to win. That's fine, everyone does. But how are they going to be able to play the quality of baseball required to win if they have not had the training, practice and coaching which should be available in the Little League?

I am not criticizing the Little League program, only that which is given the most attention and is an reality of minor importance.

The elimination of games is not the answer. Practice is affective for only so long and then the players become bored and disenchanted. Although the playing of games is important, is the outcome important, especially in the Little League? Can't the boys be taught the fundamentals without the pressure of worrying if they are going to win or lose?

What is needed is a re-evaluation of purposes. Should we continue to have boys who have a strong desire to win but may not be able to play up to their wishes?

Or should we work with the boys, teaching and honing the skills which produce good ballplayers? I believe that if the boys are well versed in the necessary skills, the desire to win will develop itself, without outside pressure, because they will be confident that they can win.

Coaches tell the boys that if they will try a little harder they can win. We all need to try a little harder to de-emphasize winning in the Little League and emphasize the game itself and how to play it.

Let's not force the boys to win and hope that they will make good ballplayers. Instead, let's work with the boys to make good ballplayers, and know that they are very capable of winning.

An old adage says, "Everybody loves a winner and nobody likes a loser." But won't you still love your son even if his team loses a ballgame?

Cub Scout Pack Sees Magic Show

Cub Scouts and Webelos of Pack 207 attended the cartoon and magic show April 18 at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian. Boys present were Donald Sterling, Jeffery Maynard, Randy Rousselo, Kenneth Judson, Duncan Judson, Jeffery Ives, Mike Casey and Bruce Morley.

The Pack held a kite-flying contest Saturday afternoon at the ball field on Russell Rd. Judges were Calvin Zorn and Raymond Puffer. Winners were Jeffery Ives, highest flying; Donald Sterling, smallest and Bruce Morley, largest. Refreshments were served for boys, judges and parents at the scout cabin.

Monday evening was the Pack meeting with Wayne Morley, acting cubmaster. Colors were presented and retired by the Webelos Den. Bear badge award went to Randy Rousselo, presented by Leo Judson, who also distributed registration cards to the boys present.

Announcements were made, all boys and parents are invited to Tiger Stadium June 13; bike race and parade during Michigan Week; 60th Boy Scout Show May 23 at Madison High School, and Webelos Den is making plans to camp overnight at the school May 22.

Calendar Adopted by School Board

Pre-school conferences for the staff will be held Sept. 8, day after Labor Day, with first day of school starting on Wednesday, Sept. 9. Last student day will be June 11.

Since school will be starting later than usual, Easter vacation was shortened in order not to run too far into June.

The calendar is:

Sept. 8 — Pre-school conference.
Sept. 9 — First day of school.
Oct. 23 — Local inservice day.
Nov. 26-27 — Thanksgiving Day.
Dec. 22 — End of school day, Christmas vacation.
Jan. 4 — School resumes.
Jan. 29 — no school, records.
Feb. 1 — Begin second semester.
March 19 — Local inservice day.
April 8 — End of day, Easter vacation.
April 14 — School resumes.
May 31 — No school, Memorial Day.
June 10 — No school, records.
June 11 — Last student day of school.

Captain Awarded Letter of Thanks

Marine Captain James M. Kent, husband of the former Patricia A. Liekfelt of Tipton, was awarded a Letter of Appreciation in ceremonies with Marine Medium Helicopter Training Squadron 302, at the Marine Corps Air Station, Santa Ana, Calif.

He was cited for his outstanding performance as the Logistics Officer for the 27th Marine Regiment at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Banquet Has Aprons Theme

Mrs. Henry Howard, assisted by circle members of First Baptist Church, arranged decorations for the recent mother-daughter banquet emphasizing the kitchen theme of tea pots and aprons.

At Mrs. Howard's insistence, Mrs. Blair Bashore burned some midnight oil composing the poem below for the pleasure of some 180 women and children attending the event.

Many ladies brought their tea pots which were filled with floral arrangements for the tables also decorated with nut cup favors fronted with miniature tea pots and programs attached to dainty miniature aprons complete with pockets and strings.

Aprons adorned the Youth House walls and served as an appropriate setting for the unique style show presented.

Mrs. Thomas Brooks, president of the Women's Society, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. John Westgate, mistress of ceremonies, narrated the fashions modeled by Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. William Rader, Mrs. Eldon Mumme, Mrs. Stanley Cook, Mrs. Richard Fielder and daughter, Polly, Mrs. Calvin Rickard, Jr., and Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Brooks wore a waffle pique dress of actual breakfast waffles with dolly duzits for buttons; Mrs. Mumme, a paper box with nylon hose secured to the back; Mrs. Rader, the 14-carat gold dress with 14 raw carrots attached and a plunging neckline, a toilet plunger around her neck.

Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Fielder and Polly were in garden garb fitting the occasion; Mrs. Rickard wore nite mode with a dust cap and Mrs. Howard's ensemble was completely of colored tissues. "Please don't squeeze the ——"

Mrs. Floyd Barrett had charge of the dinner served by men of the church under the direction of Robert Taylor.

Mrs. William Flanders gave the toast to the daughters and her daughter, Bonnie, responded.

Mrs. Richard Lewis gave a tribute to deceased mothers.

Mrs. C. O. Baily gave the invocation and Mrs. Bashore the benediction.

Mrs. Vern Manwaring presented awards to Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett for the longest church attendance; Mrs. Betty Smith, mother under 50 with most daughters (four) present; Dawn McKenzie, youngest daughter (11 months) present; Mrs. Jack Barrett, oldest daughter with her grandmother present; Mrs. Grace Underwood, 88, oldest mother present.

APRONS

By MIRIAM BASHORE

Aprons come in many sizes
Just like we girls all do.
Some win fancy prizes,
Most are useful, too.

Grandma used them many ways;
So just to name a few . . .
They held her eggs when hens did lay,
And often she used to "shoo".

Her apron served her hands to dry,
And baby's nose to wipe,
And many tears they dried from eyes;
Dusty furniture got a swipe.

So whether they be cute or plain,
Of gingham or of silk;
Aprons work, so don't complain
When they wipe up spilled milk.

God bless all aprons and their users
And keep them warm with your love,
And make all women Thy Doers
Till we work with Thee above.

Luncheon Nets $380 for Auxiliary

Herrick Hospital Auxiliary realized $380.38 from their annual Salad Luncheon held April 8 at St. Elizabeth School. Attending were about 275 persons.

Chairmen for the event were Mrs. James Barton, Mrs. Richard Platt and Mrs. Kenneth Munger.

An appetizing array of salads were prepared by Auxiliary members.

Mrs. Robert Bonner and her co-chairmen, Mrs. Paul Hadsell, were in charge of the dining room. The tables looked spring-like with yellow snapdragons and white place mats.

Mrs. Barton said, "We wish to thank everyone who worked so hard to make this a pleasurable occasion. St. Elizabeth's, which always cooperates with us so beautifully, the Auxilians who donated and all the girls who spent the day helping in the dining room, kitchen, dishwashing and the publicity committee, ticket chairman, and all others who helped in various ways."

All proceeds will be placed in the treasury and used to buy equipment for the hospital.

Harveys Moving

Capt. Taylor Harvey returned two weeks ago from a year's service in Vietnam. His wife, Sue, and son, and his uncle, Lester Rogers, who have been living in Marlboro Ct. apartments during his absence accompanied Capt. Harvey to a new home in Alabama Wednesday. Their new address is 3639 A Morton Dr., Ft. McClellan, Ala.

Choir Members Receive Chords

During the worship service in Gloria Dei Lutheran Church 33 children members of the Junior Choir were awarded and recognized Sunday for devoted service.

Mrs. Earl Mason, choir director, with the assistance of Mrs. Herman Steuwe Jr., president of the choir mothers, gave recognition cords to the children:

For one full year service: Susan Bless, Cheryl Brumm, Marc Colson, Kelly Des Ermia, Bradley Dunn, Rebecca Eidson, Philip Gamer, Earl Gerno, Kerry Jo Hamilton, Sandra MacGeorge, Erik Mason, Lance Sheldon, Sheryl Smith, Lisa Steuwe, Karen Wisner and Tom Wright. They received a blue cord and Lutheran emblem.

For two full years service: Milton Appel, Judy Brumm, Karen Brumm, Sandra Dunn, Judy Phibbs and Laura Steuwe received the black cord.

For three full years service: Denice Christman, Lori Gamber, Scott Macbeth, Elaine Mason, Gale Mullins, Amy Phibbs, Sharlent Rentschler, Cheryl Sheldon, Teri Todd, John Van Valkenburg and Cindy Wright were awarded red cords.

They sang two anthems, "O sing Unto the Lord" and "Lord's Prayer" giving more beauty and meaning to the service.

May 2, Rogate Sunday, the Chancel Choir will sing. The entire service will emphasize the necessity and meaning of prayer for peach with God and among men.

Bids received were:

Benedict & Cheever, $13,746.
Goodrich Const., $14,700.
Krieghoff - Lenawee Co., $16,800.

Council Invites TV Representative

A request by GTEC Cable TV for establishment of a rate commission was tabled by Council Monday night until officials here had an opportunity to review their proposed rate increase.

An invitation has been extended to the company to have representatives attend the May 4 meeting and explain the request.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

Spring is here at long last and where once we heralded her arrival with poems of songs and odes to her glory, we, in our time, 1970, face her grimly — searching our consciences and reviling ourselves for the blighted world we present to her viewing.

In observance of "Conscience Week," May 2 - 9, what may you and I do, the common man caught in this unnerving dilemma? First, we must realize that our role is one to be counted when legislation must be passed to effect change by law. We must realize that by controlling these problems in our own little world we help the "whole".

We are the polluters in no small measure. We have been indiscriminate in flaunting the rules of cleanliness in our own homes and communities. We have failed to insist that our children follow them in their individual behavior — as concerns littering at home and abroad — on our roads, in our parks and public places. The schools have failed to insist on a standard, which should not be defied without proper penalties. We have caused America to have some of the dirtiest roads — some of the dirtiest cites where once cleanliness and beauty existed.

Another way in which we may help is to be informed about and use products recommended as a result of studies made, to reduce and alleviate pollution. Newspapers and publications, radio and television are publicizing many of these. Ask your grocer, druggist or gas station about these.

Examine your "Conscience" and clean up anywhere and everywhere. Begin at home and include your entire family in this effort to make a cleaner world. Make your town, your village, your city beautiful! Unite and do your thing! This much you can do now!

Mother - Daughter Banquet Staged

BRITTON — The Grace United Methodist Church of Ridgeway and Britton held their annual Mother and Daughter Banquet Saturday evening. The men of the church served 150 ladies to a three course meal. The dining room was beautifully decorated in keeping with the theme by Mrs. Steward Niblack.

Mrs. Miel Henry was the toastmistress for the evening. The invocation was given by Mrs. Luren Strait. Mrs. Henry introduced Barbara Johnson, who toasted the mothers. Mrs. Norman Johnson gave the toast to the daughters, followed by Debbie Johnson giving a toast to the grandmothers.

Presentation of awards were given to Mrs. Nellie Grandstaff, the oldest mother; Tanya Crutchfield, youngest person; Mrs. Kirk Crutchfield youngest mother; Velma Spence of Elwell, Mich. for traveling the farthest; Mrs. Fred Myers for having the most daughters and grandchildren present.

Fellowship in song was led by Mrs. Strait. The group then adjourned to the sanctuary for the highlight of the program, where Mrs. McCullough of Blissfield showed her unique collection of dolls.

Benediction was given by Ellen Strait.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

BEHIND THE COUNTER FIRST AID—ANY TIME

As medical science progresses, we are learning much better ways to provide first-aid treatment for burns, cuts and poisonings. Unfortunately, not all textbooks have been revised yet and many first aid instructors haven't learned the newer concepts of treatment.

For example, it was once taught that the best treatment for a burn was to cover the area with a baking soda solution, butter, or an ointment to keep the air out. This may still work if you just burn your fingertip, but the newer treatment is immersion of the burned area in cold water — not ice cold, but below room temperature.

Quickly submerge the burned area and keep it under water until it can be taken out without pain. Or apply a series of cold packs to the burn, changing them steadily. But if the burn is severe, don't even waste time with these measures. Speed the patient to a hospital. The doctors there would rather treat the burn without having to remove non-sterile ointments and other compounds.

Other wounds shouldn't be covered with an antiseptic, but should be gently washed out with soap and water which cleans out the wound and isn't harmful. The same can't be said even of the familiar iodine that's been in your medicine cabinet too long; when the alcohol evaporates from that solution, the residue can harm living tissue.

We strongly support those in our community who provide first aid treatment, and sympathize with the difficulties they have in keeping abreast of new medical advice. If you haven't taken such a course in several years, it might be wise for you to "brush up" and be brought up-to-date on these new therapies.

Extension Club Makes Donation

In the absence of the president, the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ed Kanous. It was agreed to make a donation to the Cancer Fund. A nominating committee was appointed.

The lesson was on "Safety with Power Machinery and Equipment," given by Mrs. Orris Tubbs. Household hints were exchanged by the club women, and an expanded nutrition program of Lenawee County was discussed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Martin Ivan May 28.

Shower for Bride

BRITTON — In honor of the forthcoming marriage on May 2, to Gary Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Dunham of Britton, the bride-elect, Mary Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt of Tecumseh, was complimented Thursday evening with a bridal shower. The hostesses were Mrs. Delmar Dunham and Mrs. Fredrick Fanslau. The party was at the Dunham home on E. Chicago Blvd. in Britton.

Games were played in keeping with the occasion. Refreshments were served to sixteen relatives and friends. The honored guest received a corsage from her hostesses and opened many lovely gifts.

Family Celebrates Three Birthdays

BRITTON — Birthdays celebrated at a family gathering at the Virgil Bortel home Sunday were in honor of Virgil Bortel, his son Ken, and grandson, Kirk.

Additional guests at the party were Mr and Mrs. Roger Bortel and daughter, Robin Rence, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bortel and girls, and Mrs. Ethel Miller of Britton. Weekend guest was their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bortel and sons of Caro.

C F Girls Visit Centennial Farms

BRITTON — In completing some of the requirements for the American Heritage patches, the fifth grade Camp Fire girls are visiting Centennial farms.

The first one visited last spring was the Ray Gilmore farm. Mrs. Rosemary Niblack invited the girls on a wild flower hike in the woods on her grandparents' farm. She also showed the girls many antiques, including a spinning wheel.

Last week the girls visited the George Price farm. Mrs. Price took the group through her home, showing and telling them many stories about her family ancestors. As the girls were preparing to leave they were surprised with homemade cookies and ice cold root beer.

This week the girls went to the Mills Swick farm. Mr. Swick told the girls about some of the early settlers in the Macon area. The Swick home was acquired by the family in 1832, which makes it 38 past the 100 Centennial year.

After leaving the Swicks the girls went to the Dave Squires place, where Mrs. Squires showed the girls around, which was the centennial farm of John Ladd. They saw horses and other farm animals while there.

From there they went across the road to the scenic O. K. Eldredge home. Mr. Eldredge took the girls through the mill, showing them antique cars and telling how his sons restore these cars. Also of interest was an antique motorcycle which the boys were in the process of restoring.

Another active group is Mrs. Walter Furgason's fourth grade Camp Fire Girls who visited Dora's Ceramic Shop at 9556 Milwaukee Rd., and worked on Mother's Day gifts. They were given instructions on ceramics by Mrs. Joseph Hall, instructor at the shop.

Seagerts Host Philathea Class

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seagert were hosts for the Baraca Philathea Class meeting held at their home Sunday evening, when 22 members and one guest met for a cooperative turkey dinner.

Business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Patterson. A report was read on the rural RMTC, Ridgeway, Macon, Tecumseh, Clinton Teacher's Club supper which was held last Monday evening at the Congregational Christian Church, which the Baraca Philathea Class served a swiss supper.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Harley Watson from Soloman, Chapter Two, on the topic of "Spring." Mrs. Watson also spoke on an article, "And the Fullness Thereof."

Rev. G. O. Hannevik entertained the group by singing a solo, "In the Garden."

The Lawrence Hoaglands were in charge of the program and gave a reading and poems on "Friendliness."

The next meeting will be held at the parsonage with Rev. and Mrs. G. O. Hannevik, Sunday, May 24.

Two Attend Convention

BRITTON — Mrs. Henry Brown and Mrs. Wesley Gilmore of the Britton cafeteria staff attended the Michigan School Food Service Association's Sixteenth Annual State Convention in Traverse City, April 23, 24 and 25. The convention was held at Park Place Motor Inn.

Guest speaker for the banquet was Dr. Adolph Klautsch, professor of psychology at General Motors Institute.

Special sessions of interest that Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Gilmore attended were "How to Utilize Commodities to Reduce Food Costs," and "Basic Kitchen Techniques."

Entertainment was provided by the musical group "The Madrigals" from Traverse City Junior High School under the direction of Mr. David Parrish.

Michigan's land area is larger than Greece and nearly five times the size of Belgium.

Specialist 5/C Walter Korican, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Korican, Britton Hwy., received promotion to his present rank while serving with the U. S. Army as company clerk with the 101st Airborne Division in Thu Bia, Vietnam. SP/5 Korican has been in Vietnam since Oct. 29, 1969, serving a 12-month tour of duty. He enlisted in the Army Oct. 7, 1968, and took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Scott Bower Is Baptized

BRITTON — Scott Matthew Bower, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower, received the sacrament of Holy Baptism Sunday during the morning worship service at the Grace United Methodist Church in Ridgeway, administered by the Rev. Luren Strait.

Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bower and sister and brother, Andria and Todd, entertained at a dinner in honor of the occasion.

Sponsors were Mrs. Lynn Austin and Carl Bower.

Places were set for the sponsors and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Austin and children, Denis, Dawn and Jeff of Colon, and Carl Bower. Other special guests were Mrs. Claude Crutchfield, Scott's great grandmother of Adrian, William Condiff, Sr., great grandfather of Britton and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bower and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield.

Seniors Receive Check from Herald

BRITTON — The Senior Class of Britton-Macon High School received a check for $163.50 from Jim Lincoln of the Tecumseh Herald for money earned in a recent subscription drive. The money will be used toward their trip to Washington, D.C., which they will take May 4.

Other monies received for the senior class treasury were from a recent car wash, bake sale and candy sale on which they made profits.

Chorus Presenting Moon Round-up

BRITTON — The junior high chorus of Britton-Macon School will present an operetta, Round-up on the Moon, in the school gym on Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Lively entertainment and a bit of mystery surrounds the building of a space ship by three school boys, Joe Cabla, Craig White and Mark Bush.

To add to the fun and the mystery, several people unexpectedly find themselves on the way to the moon while making an inspection tour of the space ship.

The mayor, Steve Gilmore, his wife, Pauline Prielipp, a school teacher, Jeanne Dulinski, and the sheriff, Doug Bush, are among the surprised moon tourists. With them are three school girls, Debbie Moore, Sandy Lorenz and Sharon Schroeder.

On hand to greet the visitors are the Man in the Moon, Mike Servoss, his assistants, Doug Shiels and Alan Reau and June Moon, Cindie Maschino.

Also featured are two large insect spies, Paul Bush and David Judkins, and a group of dancing fireflies. A humorous horse and cow and the chorus complete the cast.

Mrs. Donald Bush is the director. The operetta is open to the public without charge.

Troop 73 Hiking This Weekend

Troop 73 of Boy Scouts with Scoutmaster Tom Cenk and other fathers of the boys will leave Saturday for Pinckney where they expect to hike the Pottawatamie Trail.

Pottawatamie Trail is a 17 mile hike in Pinckney Recreation Area located in Livingston and Washtenaw Counties, northwest of Ann Arbor.

The trail is almost completely in undeveloped territory where Pottawatamie Indians utilized the area near Pickerel Lake as their summer hunting and ceremonal grounds.

The trail crosses creeks and streams which were segments of the Indian canoe route across Southern Michigan. Other Indians of the area were the Huron, Chippewa, Algonquin and ox.

The "Little Mackinac Bridge" crossing the channel between Watson and Half Moon Lakes was constructed by the Portage Trails committee. The trail is within one-half mile of Hell, the University of Michigan 10-story radiotelescope and George Game Preserve are visable from the trail.

The area abounds in wild life from chipmunk to white-tail deer. Canada geese winter and nest in the area.

Driver Education Classes to Start

CLINTON — Classroom phase of the Driver Education Program for Clinton High School will begin Saturday, May 2, 8 to 10 a.m. and will continue on Saturdays through June 13, except Memorial Day, May 30.

In addition to this, classes will meet each Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. starting Monday, May 4, through June 15.

Driving phase of the program will start June 15 and will continue for approximately seven weeks. Each student will be involved in the driving phase for 18 hours. This will include both driving and observation.

Students are selected on the basis of age for the driving phase. However, the school will make every effort to accommodate students in providing for their vacation plans.

Non-school residents of the Clinton School District who have not attained the age of 18 may enroll in driver education.

If interested, enroll at the High School Principal's office by Friday, May 1, at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Caldwell Presents Program

Mrs. Beulah Caldwell presented a program for Daughters of St. Peter's Church April 21 when Mrs. Carl Lindsley conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Caldwell gave quotes from several books of the Bible and a number of members gave their own favorite Bible verses.

Mrs. Cecile Smith gave devotions using Norman Vincent Peale's sermonette on "Courage."

During the business session, the meeting date was changed from May 10 to May 5 in deference of Mother's Day. Flowers were sent to Mrs. Agnes Guy in the hospital and a sympathy card to Mrs. William Wright.

Mrs. Harold Sisson was acting secretary due to the absence of Mrs. Purnell Osburn.

Mrs. Smith closed the meeting with the reading of Psalm 23. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Guy Nixon and Mrs. Smith.

Careless Driving Summons Issued

Magdalen Gibel, 57, Oregon, O., was given a summons for careless driving Sunday when she lost control of her automobile and struck a mail box owned by James Gooding, 4496 W. Monroe Rd., and a guard post and guy wire.

Bride-To-Be Is Honored

Janice Sinkey of New York City was honored at a bridal shower April 12 given by Mrs. Richard Sheldon and Mrs. James Dart at the Sheldon home in Adrian.

Nineteen guests were present for games with the prizes awarded to Mrs. James Meade, Mrs. Lowell Evers, Jacklyn and Nancy Sinkey.

Decorations were in peach and white including a decorated cake served for refreshments.

Miss Sinkey will become the bride of Frank D'Erasmo May 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Finkbeiner, 7735 Willow Rd., Clinton, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, May 3, at an open house from 2 to 5 p.m., at Saline Township Hall, 5731 Braun Rd. Warren Finkbeiner and Alberta Williams were married May 3, 1945, at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. O. E. Priest. The open house will be held in their honor by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Finkbeiner, Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilson, Adrian, and Charles and Pattie at home.

Fourteen Installed By Honor Society

CLINTON — Fourteen new members were installed in the National Honor Society at a banquet attended by members and parents Monday night.

The new members are Lynn Hawkins, Roxanne Merritt, Jim Claus, Randy Redman, Pam Pyzik, Laurie Linch, Megan Feldkamp, Larry Hill, Don Olson, Don Gibbard, Michael Moon, Timothy Busch, Timothy Bowman and Kim Rhoades.

Wilsons Return Home from South

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson returned home recently after spending the winter in the southern states. They visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Wilson, at Boulder, Colo., early in December, then spent the Christmas holidays with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson at Ponca City, Okla.

Next they stayed for a month in the Rio Grande Valley at Mission, Tex. The remainder of the time was spent in Florida where they remained to watch the Apollo 13 launching from just a mile away.

Safety Award Won By Traverse Post

CLINTON — Traverse City district of the Michigan State Police has been announced as the winners of department's Olander fleet safety award for 1969 by Col. Frederick E. Davids, director.

The rotating trophy was presented by Lt. Col. Melvin G. Kaufman, deputy directeor for field services to Capt. Marvin O. Krans, commander of the winning eight-post district, as part of the luncheon program April 23 at the annual Michigan Safety Conference in Lansing Civic Center.

Capt. Krans is a former member of the Clinton post and his wife's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Randall.

School Children Observe Earth Day

CLINTON — School children in Clinton Community Schools were released for about one hour Wednesday afternoon in observance of Earth Day to pick up debris about the village.

In just a short time they retrieved about a pickup load and left school yards and streets throughout the village, looking much better when they had finished. The green, green grass even showed through on the school lawn.

Mrs. Roberts To Entertain

CLINTON — Mrs. Ted Roberts, Manchester, will entertain at the annual Mother and Daughter banquet at the United Church of Christ Saturday, May 9.

Mrs. Roberts illustrates her amusing program with original sketches of the famous Peanuts cartoon characters. Mrs. Charles Steffens is chairman of the program for the Mary-Martha Class.

The dinner will be prepared by the Priscilla Class and decorations will be provided by the Philathea Class.

Reservations are limited and should be made immediately with Mrs. Martin Hoelzer, 456-4483.

LAUGHTER AT MY WORRY LINES

The kingfisher is responsible for several of the new worry lines in my forehead. Back in winter-locked mid-February I heard a familiar loud and raucous rattle. There was snow on the ground, however, and the creek was ninety-nine and forty-four one hundreds per cent frozen over. I knew though that the rattle could belong to no one else, we had a kingfisher around.

He was in for rough times I feared. The two small holes in the ice, which the muskrat was trying so hard to keep open, certainly did not even begin to be large enough for fishing holes. Besides, whoever heard of a kingfisher turning into an ice fisherman? For several days we heard him rattle by and I knew it was my imagination which made him sound hungrier every day.

Worry number one and two: why was this poor, misguided soul patroling Evans Creek in the dead of winter and what was he eating?

When suddenly we realized we were no longer hearing that hungry rattle, it was almost a relief. We were quite happy to speculate that our out-of season visitor had come to his senses and gone where all smart kingfishers go in the winter.

★

HE MIGHT NOT have made a long trek to the deep south but we hoped he had at least moved far enough to find a life-supporting bit of open water. After the fasting he must have endured here, he needed a few weeks of diving into a well-stocked larder.

Worry number three: where was he?

Time has a way of flying: days and weeks disappear, months are ripped from the calendar, and all at once we realized that it was long past the time when we should have seen and heard the first kingfisher of spring. There had not been the briefest glimpse though nor the faintest rattle.

A very unreliable list of migrating bird return dates says we should expect to see kingfishers March 2. Our whole March calendar for 1970 carries not one kingfisher sighting. Can you see why we became worried?

It was not until the 5th of April that we heard the long-listened-for noise. Again, however, there was not the slightest doubt — the kingfisher was back! Several days later we saw him, or more correctly, her.

Almost as if trying to make amends for the late return, she perched on a small branch of the maple tree which grows closest to the window and there she stayed. This was the morning I almost did not get a bath. Seldom does one have such a good close-up look at a kingfisher and Gertie T. enjoyed it to the hilt.

★

WE ARE NOW in the midst of a good kingfisher season. Both male and female have been seen, several times together, too. Usually, of course, either he is on patrol or she is. Both are identically marked with big heavy bills, ragged and tousled top-knots, immaculately white, starched-stiff-looking neck bands, lovely dusty blue backs, and ridiculously short tails.

Both also have the blue band across the top of their white breast but the female sports a second band. Immediately below the blue she wears a russet red stripe which crosses her breast and extends down on either side to well under her wings. Happily for us, four of their favorite and well-used fishing sites are easily seen through my window.

One is a tree in Royal's back yard, the second is the little maple where she first made such a nice stop, the third is rather high in one of Carmean's trees on the other side of the creek, and finally they use an old dead elm limb which hangs over the creek way up on the bend in back of Gertie S.'s house.

So it is that as usually happens, my worrying was completely unnecessary — the kingfishers are performing exactly as they should and I wonder if some of their rattling could be laughter at my worry lines.

Officers Elected by Teachers' Club

April meeting of the Ridgeway, Macon, Tecumseh, Clinton Teachers' Club was held at the Britton Christian Congregational Church Monday evening. A swiss steak dinner was served to the 28 present by the members of the Baraca Philathea Class.

Among those in attendance was Mrs. E. T. (Bessie) Armstrong of Adrian, who was Lenawee County Commissioner of Schools when the club was organized in 1936.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected for next year: Mrs. Thelma Frayer, president; Mrs. Bessie Wise, vice-president and Mrs. Lorene Edelbrock, secretary-treasurer.

For the program, a history of the club, prepared by Thelma Younglove, was read. Mrs. Doris Tonneberger spoke of some of her experiences in one-room rural schools of the county.

Many articles of historical value brought by those present were displayed. Each owner spoke briefly telling something of interest about each article.

MUSIC MAKERS WIN — Two Music Makers Club members were awarded gold cups at the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs convention April 18 at Flint. Paula Brantingham won a gold cup for her work in piano and one for vocal studies and Lynn Peck, seated at her own organ, was given gold cups for organ and vocal presentations. Miss Brantingham is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Brantingham and Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Peck.

Awarded Gold Cup

Lynn Peck and Paula Brantingham were each awarded two gold cups at the convention of Michigan Federation of Music Clubs Saturday in Flint.

Lynn's were for 15 points each in organ and vocal music presentation and Paula's for vocal and piano work.

Others attending the event were Jamie Danforth, Janet Heesen of the Music Makers and nine Half Notes Music Club members, Joe Murphy, Bruce Steele, Tim Packard, Cathy Hall, Valerie Egli, Lorraine Stevens, Karen Satterla, Tammy Downing, Lori McLoughlin and Pam Hall, a guest.

Miss Danforth, vice-president of the state Junior Music Club, presided in the absence of the president.

She also sang three soprano solos, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Other adults attending were Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, counselor for the Music Makers, Mrs. James E. Danforth, counselor for the Half Notes, Mrs. Warren Peck and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith of Adrian.

Help Control Pollution

Housewives are concerned today about polluting lakes and streams with the use of detergents. A recent query in Detroit Free Press was how to tell which detergents contain phosphates presumed to do the damage.

Answer was: By using this list (from an independent consulting firm) to choose low-phosphate detergents.

Detergent, manufacturer and phosphate percentage was:

Michigan Out-of-Doors, official publication of Michigan United Conservation Clubs recently suggested that "People Pick Poison Carefully."

From the January 1970 issue comes this advice:

". . . While farmers tend to get blamed for the loose use of hard pesticides, the real culprit has finally been pin-pointed as the ordinary housewife and home gardener. They spray or apply almost any kind of chemical on their flowers, garden or lawn that can be bought in a store.

The run-off from these home endeavors finds its way into streams and lakes and has compounded annually into one of the most serious situations facing mankind today. . .

Thoughtful gardeners should choose the least toxic control available. If it is a poison, they should buy the smallest quantity necessary, then use it with extreme care and never in larger amounts than the directions recommended.

Above all, home gardeners should swear off using the deadly chlorinated hydrocarbons. These are:

DDT, Heptachlor, Aldrin, Dieldrin, Lindane, Chlordane, Endrin, Endrin and Toxaphene.

Less persistent pesticides, which may be used according to directions, are:

Methoxychlor, Malathion, Naled or, Dibrom, Pyrethrin, Rotenone and Cygon."

So, let's read the labels on the pest controls that we consider using and make our personal contribution toward improving our environmental quality.

Magnificent tapestries, sometimes taking years to complete, decorated the walls of many homes and churches in the Middle Ages. Woven with richly colored strands of silk and wool, they often pictured scenes from the Bible. To create a beautiful tapestry required patience . . . skill . . . devotion.

Today each of us weaves a tapestry — the fabric of our lives. We sit at a loom, wondering whether the pattern of our lives will be of bright rose, green or golden threads, or whether the events will show as somber, dark colors.

A weaver in the Middle Ages worked on the reverse side of his tapestry. By looking up at a mirror, he could see how the entire design looked on the right side.

When we look up to God in worship, we can see with clarity the pattern of our lives. Attend the church of your choice for perspective on your life's tapestry.

Players' Comedy Starting

Friday is opening night for the comedy "Mr. Barry's Etchings," the Tecumseh Players' final offering of the current season.

Lee Ann Schneider of Tecumseh and Rene Crombez of Irish Hills, complimented by Phil Campbell of Clinton, create the humorous triangle of young love against the experienced backing of Guil Rothfuss—as Mr. Barry; Jo Wegner, Charlotte Parker, Duane Steel, and Vesta Rothfuss in major rolls.

Supporting players include Phil and Randy Baker, Lyle Dornan, Bertha Vallelunga and Jan Paige.

Kathy Bell's direction of this amusing story of the escapades of Judson Barry gives evidence of her multitude of talent. John Day, as technical director, is performing his usual magic of hard work on a most attractive set.

Successive performances are on May 9, 14, 15 and 16.

Tickets are by reservation only and are available from cast members, Flanders Music Store and Sanchez Beauty Salon in Tecumseh or the Gamble Store in Manchester.

MEDICAL TEAM — In what is probably a first for Tecumseh, a husband and wife are in medical practice here. Dr. Elli Moeller, her professional name, has opened a practice and joined her husband, Dr. Ferenc Fabok, in the new medical building next to Herrick Hospital and nursing home. He has been in practice here since last summer, and she joined him this spring upon completion of the new building.

Breaks Back in Home Fall

Harold Kempf, 9175 Billmyer Hwy., is a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital suffering from a broken back he suffered in a fall April 28 at his home.

Mr. Kempf, custodian for Herrick Park School, was attempting to put up a bird house.

He expects to be flat on his back for six weeks. Mr. Kempf was formerly a bus driver.

Bids Sought for Rogers

Cal Zorn, told councilmen that maintenance, curb painting, street repairs, refuse collection and other work has prevented the city from doing the work.

He said the highway will be lowered by as much as two and a half feet, just south of E. Chicago Blvd.

Three Apartments for Ottawa St.

The building, somewhat unique in design, will have three apartments with approximately 800 square feet each. Parking is at ground level and within the building itself.

Firemen Answer Two Calls Here

Tecumseh firemen responded to two fires this week with only a Tuesday blaze amounting to much damage.

Tuesday the department extinguished a car fire on M-50. A 1963 auto, owned by a Cement City resident, was lost in the fire.

Wednesday morning, firemen were called to a rubbish fire behind the Les Dallas auto agency.

Board Deadline Is Next Monday

Last day to file petitions for School Board is next Monday at 4 p.m., at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd.

Incumbents William Macbeth and Dr. Donald Phelan have filed, and a petition for Joseph Conklin, attorney, is being circulated.

Round-up on Tuesday for Kindergartners

By Supt. James McDowell

Annual kindergarten round-up for parents of children who will be five years of age on or before Dec. 1, 1970, will be held next Tuesday, May 12.

Two enrollment opportunities will be given, one from 8:30 a.m. E.S.T., to 9:00 p.m., in the office of the Board of Education at 304 W. Chicago Blvd., and the other at 7:30 p.m., E.S.T., in the Tecumseh Acres Elementary School.

The daytime enrollment is only for those who do not care to attend the program given in the evening.

It is extremely important that all parents enroll their kindergarten child early as kindergarten classes will not be offered at Tecumseh Acres next year due to the need for additional space to house other grades.

The new kindergarten room at Sutton will replace it and will be taught by Mrs. Joseph LeFevre. The children usually attending the Tecumseh Acres kindergarten will be bused to Sutton. However, if the Sutton enrollment is too large, those from the area served by the Tecumseh Acres-Sutton schools will of necessity be taken to other kindergartens.

In addition to the usual kindergarten round-up program to acquaint parents with the kindergarten curriculum and information, which can materially assist parents in giving their children a good start in formal education, there will be closed circuit TV tapes shown of kindergartners from our schools in their own classrooms. These will help to interest you in the wonderful world of the kindergartner.

Whether you enroll your child during the day or evening of May 2, please bring his or her birth certificate and records of immunization which the child has had to date.

According to the Michigan school laws, a child must be adequately immunized for whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, polio (Salk), polio (Sabin), smallpox and measles.

A current T.B. test result must be presented at the time school starts, and also the child must have had a vision and hearing screening test. Our school nurse, Mrs. Mildred Bauer, will be on hand at the evening meeting to assist you with problems relating to these matters.

If you attend the meetings and enroll your child on May 12, there will be ample time to complete the youngsters' required entrance conditions before school opens in September.

Program for the Round-up is:

Welcome — Supt. James McDowell.

Health information—Mrs. Mildred Bauer, R. N.

Speech clinic — Mrs. Bonnie Berkley.

Kindergarten program: — Mrs. Evelyn LeFevre.

Presentation of kindergarten booklets.

Registration—Tecumseh Acres School foyer.

Open house — Kindergarten room.

Refreshments — Gymnasium.

Closed circuit TV of kindergartners, halls — Wayne Kaiser.

CITY BEAUTIFUL BRIGADE — Fifteen THS juniors and seniors turned out here last Saturday to gather up some of the papers and trash littering S. Evans St. Among them were, left, Sue Beardsley, Sue Curran, Jay Baugh, Carol Schneirla and Ann Quigley. It was their own idea, and a good one. They ask any other young people who would like to get involved in keeping Tecumseh beautiful to show up any Saturday and lend a hand. There is trash enough to keep everyone busy.

Offer Made To Buy Pond for Recreation

An offer to purchase Globe Mill Pond and related property acquired by the city from Perry Satterwaite was made to Council Monday evening.

Jack Osburn, local real estate broker, offered the city $15,000 for the 59 acres for health and recreation purposes. The offer, made by letter, included a $1,000 down payment.

Cal Zorn, city manager, said he understood that the businessman's plans included construction of snowmobile trails, bridle paths and other recreational facilities.

Such plans would eliminate any hopes of rebuilding the dam and filling the basin with water. Residents adjoining the property have sought construction of a new dam, but turned down a special assessment plan by the city.

No immediate action was taken on the offer as officials requested further investigation, and referred it to the Planning Commission for a recommendation.

Last week, Council, in reviewing the 1970-71 budget, moved $15,000 from a Globe Mill Pond fund into the parks and recreation fund.

Mr. Osburn says his plans are not complete for the area, but they would probably include park and picnic sites with tables and grills along with the snowmobile trails and bridal paths.

He also says the trails and paths could be used for minibikes in the summer time.

The area includes just over 59 acres and stretches from the Community Center and E. Chicago Blvd. to Burt St. Council is presently buying the property on a land contract.

Engineering studies and plans to rebuild the dam were made shortly after it was washed out in the June 1968 flood. Estimated costs for the dam are $42,000.

Jaycee Relays Here Saturday

Twelfth annual Tecumseh Jaycee Relays will be held this Saturday, May 9, with 18 schools entered.

Class "B" schools entered are Blissfield, Grosse Ile, Hillsdale, Milan, Ovid-Elsie, South Lyons, Lincoln, Tecumseh and defending champion Riverview.

Teams entered in Class "C" include Addison, Clinton, Hudson, Adrian Madison, Morenci, Napoleon, Onsted, Ann Arbor St. Thomas and Novi, defending class champion.

Field events are scheduled for the afternoon, beginning at 3:30 with the class "B" pole vault and long jump and the class "C" high jump and shot put. The other class will follow when the events are completed.

The 120-yard high hurdles and 100-yard dash preliminaries are scheduled to start at 4 p.m. with the distance medley relay slated for 4:30.

All other finals in the running events will start at 7 p.m. and will include the following relays. Tecumseh medley relay of 110-110-220-440 yards, the two mile relay, 480 shuttle hurdle relay, 880-yard relay and the mile relay.

Individual running events will include the mile run, high hurdles and 100-yard dash.

Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring the meet with Donald Brazee, director; Bill Hammerstein, referee and starter; and Vic Lawson, clerk.

Four Injured in Accidents

Four persons, including a bicycle rider and a pedestrian, suffered injuries here during the past week when Tecumseh police investigated eight accidents.

Cindy House, 13, of 9439 Macon Rd., received minor injuries Friday when she was struck by a car while crossing from the high school to the junior high on E. Shawnee. Driver of the car was Bruce R. Baaske, 17, of 502 Parkway.

Anne M. Bowen, 7, of 1017 River Acres Dr., suffered minor injuries Sunday when she rode her bike out of a drive and into the path of an auto driven by Gordon K. McElroy, 17, of 1020 Red Mill Dr. Accident occurred on Red Mill Dr.

Clifford F. Purple, 20, of 509 S. Evans, suffered minor injuries and sought his own treatment Saturday after running into a vehicle operated by Robert V. Hess, 46, Onsted, on N. Evans St. Hess turned in front of Purple and was cited by the police for failure to yield the right of way.

In a chain reaction type accident Wednesday morning, Helen Morley, 32, 6953 Green Hwy., suffered bumps and bruises when her car was hit from behind by a truck driven by David Faling, 41, of 322 Park St. She was taken to Herrick Hospital in a sheriff's ambulance.

Mrs. Morley's auto was pushed into another car, operated by Nancy Work, 22, of Clinton, who was waiting to make a left turn. Faling was cited for failure to stop within a clear assured distance.

A resume of other accidents is:

May 1 — Damages to yard, shrubs and trees were inflicted at the Arthur Geisenhaver home at 1017 Red Mill Dr., by an automobel owned by Lillian M. Buttolph, 63, of 1018 Red Mill. She had backed her car out of her garage, left it to close the garage door and upon returning, discovered her car backing in circles on the Geisenhaver property. The gear shift had apparently dropped into reverse after she left the car to close the garage door.

May 2 — Melvin J. Travis, 61, of 11946 Macon Rd., scraped a parked auto owned by Frank Robinette, 505 S. Pearl St., in Herrick Hospital parking lot.

May 3 — John Moody, 120½ W. Chicago Blvd., backed into a pole behind Lamb's Pharmacy.

May 4 — William H. Miller, 23, of 202 W. Pottawatamie St., was cited for a stop sign violation after an accident with Charles A. Staples, Jr., 37, of 1202 Shady Lane, at the intersection of E. Logan and N. Oneida St.

Teachers Needed in Local Schools

Several teaching vacancies are now open in the Tecumseh schools, Supt. James McDowell reports.

These positions include sixth grade, Sutton; fifth grade, Tecumseh Acres; physical education, male, elementary; English, high school; social studies and sociology and Spanish and guidance, junior high.

RON SPAGNOLI: TO COACH BASKETBALL

Ron Spagnoli Is New Coach

Spagnoli, a graduate of the University of Dayton, has been a very successful coach in Lenawee County with an impressive six-year record of 71 wins and 23 losses, an average of almost four wins for every loss.

He served as head coach at Hudson High School this past year and recorded a 13-5 season.

Spagnoli spent eight years at Adrian Catholic Central, seven as head football coach and five directing the basketball team. His record as head basketball coach there was 78-18.

In 1967, his Catholic Central team advanced to the semi-finals in the state tournament only to be defeated by Ewin in four overtimes.

Spagnoli will also serve as assistant varsity football coach and teach in the physical education department.

Besides coaching at Hudson, he also was assistant principal.

Supt. James McDowell says approximately 20 applicants sought the coaching vacancy, created by the resignation of Vic Lawson in March.

Kiwanis Sale Starts Today

Dr. George Burkhard, chairman of the third annual Kiwanis Used Merchandise Sale, reports that all is ready for the sale to begin.

The sale, held at Les Dallas, Inc., 2805 W. Chicago Blvd., will be May 7, 8 and 9 and will be open to the public 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Items will include antiques, refrigerators, freezers, washers and dryers, television sets, sewing machines, appliances, lawn equipment and many others.

Proceeds of the sale are used to finance the club's youth, civic and community programs of service during the year.

Jim Gillespie on Commission

W. J. "Jim" Gillespie, executive at Fisher Body Plant, was appointed to succeed John Zeigler on the city's Planning Commission by Council Monday evening.

Dr. William Adams and Richard Eggleston were re-appointed for another term.

Two Re-Appointed to Hospital Board

Paul Hohenstein was appointed to a six-year term and William Wright to a five-year term by Council Monday night to the Herrick Hospital Board.

Both are currently serving on the board.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Did you now that Michigan's public school districts in the past 25 years have decreased by 5,385, an average of 215 per year? During the 1944-45 school year, there were 6,029 districts, but this year, 1969-70, there are only 644.

Holland will celebrate its annual Tulip Festival May 13-16. This year's attractions include authentic Dutch costumes, traditional daily street scrubbings, Klompen dancers, parades, and of course, a quarter million tulips. The closing day parade will feature 50 bands and 600 Klompen dancers, costumed units and floats.

The Lenawee Braid Dairy, 1430 Sutton Rd., is also participating in the food stamp program. Their name did not appear in the food stamp story last week.

Church Women United of Lenawee County are seeking homes to host 11 visitors from India, May 23 to June 20. The four women and seven men, all over 24 years old, are not students. They are mainly attorneys or accountants who are interested in observing American family life and the community. They are married and have families at home in India. Anyone interested may contact, immediately, Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, 263-1727.

A record 33 contestants are entered in the annual Baby Contest sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary. Canisters with penny-a-vote contributions will be picked up from locations in Tecumseh business places May 19 so fond relatives had better scurry around and cast their votes for thir favorite little tots. Boy and girl chosen as King and Queen and the two runners-up will ride in the Mayor's Exchange Day parade during Michigan Week, Thursday, May 21, and will be crowned at the end of the parade. Proceeds are used to purchase dolls for the needy children at Christmas.

Mrs. John Seay, chairman of the Jaycee Auxiliary project to sell identification bracelets for the Howard Hyder Fund, reminds parents to inspect the pockets of their school children this week for order forms, which are being distributed to elementary students.

Challenge. Can anyone beat Tim Packard's record? He hasn't missed Sunday School at First Baptist Church since April, 1961. This past weekend, even though he was hiking the Potawatomi Trail, he came back Sunday morning for church school.

TRACTOR SAFETY WINNER — William Walters, County 4-H agent and Fred Long, leader, congratulate Keith Schafer (center) for his skill in operating a tractor safely. Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schafer of 10685 Tecumseh-Macon Rd. The contest was held at the Britton Park recently and open to anyone in the county participating in 4-H tractor operation. Keith will participate in the state 4-H contest in August. A written test with emphasis on safety and driving skill were required of the contestants. Those competing were all members of the Britton-Macon Community 4-H Club. The trophy was donated by Sam Vreeland of Britton. Ralph Schafer and Paul Marks are also leaders in 4-H tractor operation.

But Where's the Hot Water??

Under the direction of Mrs. James Hedley, six Girl Scout leaders from Tecumseh spent 24 hours learning troop camping skills at Camp Tuckabatchee on Lake Adrian last weekend.

Mrs. Bill Armstrong, Mrs. Douglas Dunn, Mrs. Donald Escott, Mrs. Richard Egli, Mrs. Wayne Morley and Mrs. James Rigoli took part in the actual camp-out after they attended two planning meetings held at the Scout cabin the previous week.

In preparation the women learned how to make trail candles, hobo stoves, dribble buckets and buddy burners. At Camp Tuckabatchee, Mrs. Hedley taught the leaders how to cook a one-pot meal, a dinner in foil and a multi-pot meal.

Between cooking lessons she taught them how to lash a table, how to care for camp equipment, how to build a grease pit, how to build a wash pit with a two foot square piece of plastic and numerous other skills needed for comfortable, safe and clean camping.

The afternoon was highlighted with an adventurous nature hike when they learned to recognize many wild flowers.

The Girl Scout leaders were divided into two patrols, "Mike's Mummies" and "Achin' Backs." Work was divided equally between the two groups so each one received practice in every phase of troop camping from fire-building to ceremonies.

Despite the cool weather which descended suddenly, the overnight camp experience was termed a great success because it was not only educational but fun, which is what troop camping should be for the Girl Scouts themselves.

Initiate Members

At the weekly meeting Friday about 15 new members were initiated into membership in the Lenawee County Board of Realtors.

Meetings normally held each Friday during the year, will be held on the second Friday during June, July and August.

The July meeting will be held at the Tecumseh Country Club and all interested Real Estate Brokers and their salesmen, lawyers, banking personnel and newsmen are invited to attend the noon luncheon meeting.

Those in attendance from Tecumseh area last Friday were Cliff Jackson, Larry Carpenter, Glenn Kohler and Vern Manwaring.

Receives Degree

Members of the newly formed Chapter Ki Delta Gamma of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority received the exemplar degree at Founder's Day, April 30, at the Elks hall in Adrian.

They are Mrs. Orville Cook, Mrs. John Korican, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. D. J. Martin, Mrs. Richard Purkey, Mrs. Harley Slick, Mrs. Jack Whelan and Mrs. Howard Wilson.

Society Luncheon

Mrs. Thomas Brooks, new president of Women's Society, welcomed Church Women United of Lenawee County to First Baptist Church Friday for the May Fellowship luncheon in the Youth House.

"Dissolve the Distance Between" is the theme for the year.

The Rev. Blair Bashore gave the invocation. Mrs. John Westgate was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. William Flanders. Mrs. Bashore led the worship.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fox of Ann Arbor was the guest speaker.

Lt. Bill Wallace Earns 'A' Average

Lt. William J. Wallace, son of Mrs. Leo Wallace, 8950 Carson Hwy., is among those at University of West Florida, Pensacola, Fla. to earn a perfect (4.0) average for at least 12 quarter hours credit.

"He had to beat his wife's 3.7," remarked his Mom when queried about Bill's excellent record.

It seems Mrs. Wallace is studying nursing at the same school where her husband seeks a degree in chemistry.

Born Feb. 10, 1887, at Tuscola, Ill., he lived there until 1911 when he moved to the Clayton area where he stayed for many years. He moved to Pequot, Minn., where he lived until 1965 when he returned to Cadmus. For the past two years, he has lived with his sister, Mrs. Etta Schulze, here on Maumee St.

He never married. Besides his sister, Mr. Biggs is survived by several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by four brothers and one sister.

Burial will be in North Dover Cemetery.

Letters to the Editor

The Tecumseh Herald
Evans Street
Tecumseh, Mich. 49286

I am sure that your paper has carried various articles concerning the pollution problems which face us, today, but I know that not very much attention is being paid to these communications and there should be. Our environment is dying and we are the killers.

I feel that the pollution problems are every human's problem and people must realize their responsibility to save our dying world. Solutions to problems begin at home and I would like to see more TRUE interest taken by the citizens of Tecumseh.

Sincerely,
Mary Stuart

It's Time Again For "Specialists"

It's springtime, and while the fancies of young people may be turning to thoughts of love, homeowners are thinking about the repairs needed on their property.

This is also the season for swindlers, posing as home remodeling specialists or representatives of utility companies, to begin making the rounds of residential areas plying their "trade." These fast-talking individuals offer to add a new room, repair supposedly damaged electrical wiring or check gas leaks.

"We've had instances," says Mr. A. F. Brewer, Jackson division manager of Consumers Power, "where persons identifying themselves as 'wiring inspectors' for Consumers Power or representatives of the 'gas company' have victimized homeowners.

"The company does not solicit to inspect interior wiring in any building," says Mr. Brewer, "nor does it offer any kind of rewiring service."

He noted that all Consumers Power employees carry complete identification. The company issues identification cards to all employees which are light green in color, have a black border, black printing and contains a photograph of the individual.

Any householder having any doubt of the authenticity of an individual who calls at their home claiming to represent Consumers Power or any other company, should deny them entrance and call the company immediately.

Manchester Speedway Opens

By Nancy Martin

The weather was a little cool for our opening race of the 1970 season, but the nip in the air did not affect the cars, which seem to be running faster than ever. This being our "Spring Championship" a trophy was presented to the winner of each event. We have a change in our format this year, as we are running two classes of cars, the old favorites Sportsman Modified and the newer model Super Stocks. In all 42 cars qualified with Dick Thiede fastest at 19:02 in the Sportsman, and an ex sportsman driver, Billy Younkin in his new Super Stock at 20:99.

In the Sportsman class the first heat took the green flag, only to have three cars collide in the first turn, causing a complete restart. Butch Moull took the lead on the fifth lap and stretched it out to take the win over Jr. Gary, Don Eggles, and Thiede. The second heat saw Bill Heeny quickly take charge. Jim Martin stayed close in pursuit, but had to settle for second place. Third was Bill Cattell and fourth, Gary Rhoades. Paul Whitaker walked away with the third heat, besting out Buck Lo-Kimball.

The fourth heat of the evening was the Super Stocks with Billy Younkin showing his experience on this track, by coming from the back to take the checker over Joe Dorer, Don Dunn, and Harold Heisler.

The Pursuits were fast and furious with the Sportsman win going to Bill Kopka, followed by Marv Carman. Thiede, and Rhoades. The Super Stock winner was Joe Dorer, being pushed by Younkin, who took second. Third and fourth went to Dunn and Mike Grindle.

The Sportsman Semi had one caution flag when rookie, Ken Liedle, hit the fourth turn retainer wall. He was "OK," but the car was bent. Bob Paul built up a huge lead that never was threatened, to win his first trophy. Runner-up positions went to Whitaker, Dick Beazley, Quenton Taylor, and Bernard.

In the Super Stock feature it was a close battle, with Dunn winning by a hair over Dorer. Third was Paxton and fourth, Grindle.

The Sportsman feature was run straight through, with Jim Martin jumping into the lead and driving a beautiful race, only to have two of the faster cars pass him with only four laps remaining. Dick Thiede came from the back of the pack and passed all the cars for the win, followed closely by Kopka, Martin, Carmen, and Larry Leidle.

"Patience is something you admire in the driver behind you but not in the one ahead."

A flight above the clouds gives one time for reflection on God's great goodness to his creatures. At 29,000 feet up in a plane, a car appears to be the size of a tiny pin point and the dark colored ones show not at all on the broad network of highways wending through the green foliage.

Homes, millions of them, dot the landscape and yet He cares for each individual in each little, smaller than a matchbox, dwelling. Puffs of cotton, sometimes an entire blanket of fluffy white cotton candy seems to cover the entire earth. It's hard to resist the impulse to jump up and down on the clouds—if one could escape the safety of the prane's cabin.

How rich our lives, how filled with opportunity. Flying is an excellent time to re-evaluate and determine how best to use the talents God has given to each of us.

Beth Frownfelder and Nancy Ford will leave Tuesday by plane for five days in New York City where they will tour fashion spots including Saks Fifth Ave., Macy's, Radio City Music Hall, Statton Island, Empire State Building and have lunch in the United Nations Building. Both are fashion merchandising students at Patricia Stevens Career and Finishing School

VFW To Sell Buddy Poppies

Commander Carroll Conklin of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4187 urges all citizens to wear a VFW Buddy Poppy on Memorial Day as a symbol of respect and appreciation for the men who have given their lives and health in the service of their country.

The poppies will be sold by VFW volunteers Friday and Saturday, May 15, 16. This will mark the 9th consecutive year of their sale by the veterans.

The poppy, as the "Memorial Flower," was inspired by the opening words of Col. John McCrea's immortal poem, "In Flanders Fields", which paid tribute to the men who lost their lives among the fields of poppies in one of World War I's historic battlefields.

In 1922, the veterans conceived the idea of selling poppies made by disabled veterans in U. S. hospitals to support a national veterans' welfare program. The funds derived from the sale under VFW rules, must be used exclusively for welfare of disabled and needy veterans and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

Disabled veterans of the Vietnam war are now sharing in the benefits of the annual sale of the VFW Buddy Poppy. More than one-half of the net proceeds received from the sale remains here in the community to meet the calls from needy veterans.

Wear a VFW Buddy Poppy with pride.

Card of Thanks

The family of LaVern Dove wishes to express their heartfelt thanks to Dr. Bachman, nurses, nurses' aides at Herrick Hospital. The Moody Nursing Home, friends and neighbors for gifts of food, flowers and memorials. Also the Rev. Bashore for his comforting words, the pallbearers and the Drehn Funeral Home. 5-7c

Thank you to all those who remembered me in any way during my stay in Herrick Hospital in January and in University Hospital in April. The following poem by Helen Lowery Marshall expresses my feelings.

WORTHY OF MY FRIENDS

If I could have but just one plea,
I think that one prayer would be,
With all that such a prayer portends—
"Lord, make me worthy of my friends."
Help me to be the kind of woman
That loyal friends believe I am.
Help me to be as true and fine
As they believe—these friends of mine.
Give me the courage under stress
That they expect me to possess;
And when they smile and look at me,
Oh, let me be, Lord, what they see!
Help me all pretense to forego,
And simply, without pomp or show,
Repay with true sincerity,
The loyal faith they have in me.
And if, sometimes, I may have erred
In any thought, or deed, or word,
Then, help me, Lord, to make amends—
Lord, make me worthy of my friends.

Sincerely,
Letha Parker. 5-7c

I wish to thank Drs. Bureh and Phelan, the nurses and aides for their care while I was hospitalized, also the Revs. Porteous and Hawthorne for their visits and the good friends and neighbors for their cards, flowers and visits. All were very much appreciated.

Mrs. George Green, Sr. 5-7c

THE family of Kenneth E. Wheeler wishes to thank their neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses and sympathy extended them during this difficult time. 5-7c

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends and relatives for the many cards, flowers, gifts and visits I received while I was in Bixby Hospital and since I have returned home. I also want to thank the nurses, nurses' aides, orderlies and Drs. Gascoigne, Wolfe and Eddy for the wonderful care given me. Thank you, too, to the Revs. Hannevik and Oyer for their visits and prayers. Thank you one and all for your thoughtfulness.

Touch of the Past

1960

Mary Seager, 17, Tecumseh High School senior, has won a first prize in America's biggest creative writing competition for high school students. She gained top ranking in senior drama division of the Scholastic Writing Awards. Prize was $35 and sponsor's Shaeffer Pen.

Russell P. McKenzie, utilities man second class, USN, son of James McKenzie and Mrs. Naomi Martin, Tecumseh, won the Navy-Marine Corps medal for heroic conduct as a member of the initial rescue unit of the U. S. Naval Air Station, Port Lyautey, Morocco, during the Agadir earthquake disaster.

Dr. Robert Laidlaw was named Outstanding Jaycee of the Year and was presented with the Richard Beemer Memorial Award. He is retiring president of the organization.

Largest bus order in history of Tecumseh schools, for seven buses, to cost approximately $42,000, was approved by school board.

Tecumseh's population now stands at 7,008, quit a jump from 4,020 in 1950. County population has climbed to 12,649 since 1950.

Style Show, staged by Altar Society, was attended by 300 at St. Elizabeth's Church auditorium. Profit topped $200. Clothes shown were from Watkins Shop.

Eardley at 423-2107, extension 25.

PIPED OFF AFTER 20 YEARS — CSI Robert Cote, a native of this area, is piped off the USS Hunley at Charleston, S. C., where he expects to remain with his family as manager of a McDonald Restaurant.

Golfers Set New Record

Tecumseh's golf team was defeated by Ann Arbor Huron last Thursday by a score of 285-312, but broke a 13-year record for low team score in an 18-hole match.

The old record of 314 was set by the 1958 team which went on to win the state golf title.

Ralph Miller led the scoring Thursday with a fine 74, followed by Bill Gibson and Bill Damon with 79's Frank Geisenhaver, who shot an 80.

The Indians downed Monroe Catholic Central Monday to up their league record to 4-0 and 5-4 overall.

Bill Damon was medalist with a round of 38, which included two birdies. Bill Gibson and Ralph Miller carded 39's and Frank Geisenhaver and Bob Miller each shot 43.

The junior varsity team was defeated by the Adrian JV's in a practice match by the score of 189-177. Marc Brown and Art Cervis were co-medalists with 45's.

Janice Sinkey, Frank D'Erasmo Marry

Janice Jean Sinkey and Frank D'Erasmo were united in marriage May 2 by the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley at St. Elizabeth Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sinkey, 1001 Murray Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Philip D'Erasmo of Bronx, N.Y.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length Victorian style gown of white satin with Chantilly lace made by Mrs. Mary Labate of New York, aunt of the groom.

It had a long train and long lace beaded sleeves. She wore a beaded Camelot hat with a shoulder length bouffant veil and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Michael Wolf of Ypsilanti was her sister's matron of honor in a floor length empire style gown of peach chiffon over taffeta. She carried peach and white roses.

Jacklyn and Nancy Sinkey, sisters of the bride, were attired similarly to the matron of honor in lighter peach dresses.

Susan and Sandy Cole, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cole, were flower girls dressed as the other bride's attendants and carrying baskets of flowers.

Daniel Mutino of New York served as best man and the guests were seated by John Tufone of New York and Michael Wolf.

Mrs. Wolf was soloist accompanied by Mrs. Donald Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Thompson, Flint, aunt and uncle of the bride, were hosts for the reception in the parish hall, decorated in the bridal colors.

Mrs. Daniel Jannuzzi of Saline was in charge of the buffet lunch and decorated the cake table with white net and flowers.

Mrs. Lowell Eyers registered the guests. Lee Specht assisted by Diane Donovan cut and served the cake. Kathy Donovan served the groom's cake.

Mrs. Richard Sheldon and Mrs. Timothy Rinehart served punch and coffee, assisted by Karen and Barbara Jannuzzi.

A 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School, the bride attended Weaver Airline School and is employed as communications agent by American and Kennedy Airlines.

Her husband attended Bronx College, served in the army and is employed by TWA. He is also staff administrator for Senator John Callanda.

The couple will live in New York City.

Band Presenting Musical Evening

Cadet Band of Tecumseh High School will present "Spring Fling" an evening of music Friday, May 8 in the gym at 8 p.m.

Band members issue a cordial invitation to families to attend. There is no admission charge.

The Cadet Band's Stage Band, Gerry Bach and His Playboys Plus Three, will also play during the concert.

Mrs. George Green, Sr., returned recently from the Rev. and Mrs. Allan Ramsey's home in Trenton, where she has been recuperating from hospitalization. Mr. and Mrs. George Green have returned from Florida to their home in Pentwater.

Shower Honors Mrs. Kirkendall

Mrs. Rolan Kirkendall was the guest of honor at a cradle shower given by Mrs. Leon Richardson in the Richardson home on Ford Hwy., Sunday afternoon.

Games were played and prizes awarded to the guest of honor. Mrs. Kirkendall received many gifts for the nursery.

Mrs. Kirkendall is the former Sandra Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Richardson.

MRS. GARY DUNHAM

Vows Recited by Schmidt - Dunham

Mary Marie Schmidt and Gary Lee Dunham were united in marriage by Pastor Edwin Mueckler in a double ring ceremony in Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Saturday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt, Sr., 208 W. Cummins St., and Gary Lee Dunham, Chicago Blvd., Britton.

The bride chose a floor length organza princess silhouette gown with Venice lace appliques trimmed the bateau neckline and cuffs of the bishop sleeves. Her chapel train was attached from the waist in back.

A double crown of pearls and crystals held her shoulder length veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of cornations and stephanotis.

Kathleen Kopka was maid of honor. She wore a long gown of pink dotted swiss styled with an empire waist and high neckline trimmed with white lace, and sheer long sleeves.

Attired identically to the maid of honor were bridesmaids, Linda Dunham, Britton, and Pam Haines. Their colonial bouquets were daisy pompons, carnations and stephanotis.

Nieces of the bride, Jodi and Jill Schmidt, Saline, were the flower girls.

Harold Stewart of Clinton was the best man. Ushers were Dale Close of Jackson and Harvey Schmidt, and junior usher was Gregory Fanslau, Britton.

Reception at the church, following the ceremony, was attended by 350 guests.

Bride is a 1969 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at D & C Store. Mr. Dunham is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School, served in the Army, spending one year in Vietnam. He is employed at Peerless Gear Division, Clinton.

Upon their return from a trip to Northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Dunham will reside at 124 S. Ottawa St.

Barbara Beal and Fred Withrow Speak Vows

CLINTON—Nuptial vows were recited by Barbara Beal and Fred Withrow in the Macon United Methodist Church Saturday evening.

The Rev. Thomas Badley performed the ceremony. A kissing candle was placed on the altar, which was flanked by lighted tier candelabra, trimmed with greens and white bows. Lighted tapers, trimmed in greens also decorated the aisles.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beal, 11575 Clinton-Manchester Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Withrow, Sr., 9424 Tipton Hwy., Tipton.

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride was attired in a floor length skimmer of white organza styled with long bishop sleeves trimmed with Venice lace cuffs. There was a panel of matching lace extending from the high neckline down the front to the hem.

A Camelot headpiece held the bride's floor-length veil of illusion, also trimmed with lace. Her jewelry was diamond earrings, a gift of the groom.

Phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy formed the bridal bouquet.

Bridal attendants were identically gowned in long sheaths of apricot organza, with spider-web lace bodice, long sleeves. Cowl necklines and cuffs were trimmed with floral applique in moss green and white.

Each carried a topiary bouquet of apricot carnations and roses.

Mrs. Gary Korte was the matron of honor and Mrs. Howard Hunt, bridesmaid. Kay Beal, sister of the bride was junior bridesmaid.

Arnold Withrow, brother of the groom, was the best man. Guests were seated by Wayne Tucker of Adrian, cousin of the bride, and Eugene Withrow, Adrian, brother of the groom. Pete Dermyer, Tecumseh was the attendant and Tab Withrow, Clinton, was junior attendant. Both are nephews of the groom.

Reception at the church was attended by 250 guests.

Topiary bouquets of the bride at attendants decorated the reception table.

Mrs. Bernard Tucker served the wedding cake; Mrs. Harold Kopka, groom's cake; Mrs. Pete Dermyer, coffee; and Mrs. Paul Beal, punch.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School and attended Elite Academy of Beauty Culture and is employed as a receptionist at the Artiste Salon, Arborland, Ann Arbor.

Groom is a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School, served four years in the Seabees and is employed at General Motors Hydramatic plant, Willow Run.

Q How can the public be sure that nuclear power plants are safe?

A All nuclear plants must meet the rigorous standards of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. Before a construction permit is issued to an electric company, the AEC regulatory staff must approve the prospective site and the design of the plant.

Q Does the AEC staff act independently of other experts in the field?

A No. Before issuing a construction permit, two more steps are taken. First, the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards — a group of scientists independent of the AEC regulatory staff — must review and report on the location and plans. Then a public hearing is held, conducted by a three-man Atomic Safety and Licensing Board. The Board's decision is reviewed by the five commissioners of the AEC, whose chairman is Nobel Prize winner Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg. After construction of the plant, and before an operating license can be issued, the AEC staff and the ACRS must again review the plant design, and there may be a public hearing at this stage also.

Q Once a plant is in operation, how is the public assured that it will continue to conform to safety standards?

Q Who checks on the AEC?

A There are five commissioners of the AEC. Each is appointed to a five-year term, subject to U.S. Senate confirmation. The chairman of the AEC reports directly to the President of the United States. In addition, the AEC is under the surveillance of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, a special committee of both houses of Congress. This committee keeps watch over the development, use and control of nuclear energy. It holds frequent public hearings on the regulatory process and radiation standards. Basically, AEC standards must conform to the policies set by the Federal Radiation Council, which relies on the findings and recommendations of the National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurements and the International Commission on Radiological Protection.

Chuck's "bundles" are composed of metal tubes containing uranium. After being used in Consumers Power Company's nuclear reactor at Big Rock Point, they are lowered into a special "cooling" tank to allow radiation to decay. Then they are shipped away to be reprocessed. ■ This is one of the ways that we safeguard our nuclear operations. Safety devices are built into the design of every nuclear plant, in duplicate and triplicate. A containment system is built around the reactor as an added protection. At Consumers Power, safety is a prime concern, as it is for every electric light and power company.

Everybody is looking for a bargain.

Here's one you can believe in.

What makes the Buick LeSabres we sell such bargains?

We're dealing, for one thing. Spring is here and we're making up for lost time during those cold winter months when everybody stayed home by the fire.

We're going to make it real easy for you to get into a Buick and celebrate Spring.

What about the car? Can you believe in it?

Every Buick is built with integrity.

You get things like a cooling system that should never overheat, even with air conditioning.

You can even order a 360 cubic-inch V8. With four-barrel carburetion. That delivers 285 horsepower. Yet runs on regular gas.

So, let's put it this way. If you want a bargain, we've got the ingredients. The car. And the deal.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for Tecumseh readers at their public library:

ADULT

PEDLOCK SAINT, PEDLOCK SINNER, by S. Longstreet. This is another testimony to S. Longstreet's abiding concern with the Jewish experience in America. In it you are in the company of a fascinating cast: a rabbi who lusts after women, power and real estate; a young Army chaplain who can't settle into his family's country club life and a beautiful gentile whose fascination with Judaism leads her to apostasy.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY is one of Hercule Poirot's most challenging cases. A child boasting of having witnessed a murder and a few hours later was found dead. One of the respectable guests at the party given in the quiet town of Woodleigh Common must have "got away with murder". Need I mention that the author is Agatha Christie.

IN SOMEONE'S SHADOW is one of the most direct, touching and beautiful collection of love poems by an American poet. This book underscores the reason why Rod McKuen has become one of the best-selling poets of our time.

COME INTO THE KITCHEN COOK BOOK. This beautiful book of Mary and Vincent Price's will entice you into the kitchen, apron in hand.

ANDERSON TAPES. Duke Anderson, a 37-year-old ex-con from the hills of Kentucky, was visiting a wealthy friend in a New York apartment. He had a "wild idea", robbing each and every apartment in the building over the long Labor Day weekend when no one was around. It is superbly planned with one little exception which could spell defeat. This is Lawrence Sanders' first novel.

FIONA. Set apart since childhood by the gift of second sight, was haunted by premonitions of the future, puzzled by phantoms from the past. Another novel of suspense by Catherine Gaskin.

ROSSHALDE, by H. Hesse. Johann Veraguth, world-famous painter is bound to his wife and Rosshalde, by his son through his love. It is tragedy that finally liberates him and he becomes a committed wanderer.

STUNT MAN, by Paul Brodeur. Through a series of accidents, Cameron, AWOL from the army, becomes involved in murder and in movie-making as a stunt man.

CARDS ON THE TABLE, by Agatha Christie. Five people in one room; four of them absorbed in a game of bridge, the fifth sitting quietly by the fire with a thin steel dagger in his heart. This becomes one of Hercule Poirot's favorite cases.

YOUNG ADULT

TEEN CUISINE, a beginner's guide to French cooking, by Abby G. Kirsch.

SPACE HOSTAGES, by Nicholas Fisk.

SALT-WATER FLY FISHING, a guide to the rods, lines, lures, casting and retrieving methods, and stalking tactics for each of the major species, from bluefish and striped bass to tarpon, sailfish and sharks, by George X. Sand.

I DIDN'T COME HERE TO ARGUE. Are you tired of some of the things going on in the lives of you and your friends — the everyday commonplace things? Take comfort and joy in the experiences and thoughts of this charming comrade in arms and alarms, Peg Bracken.

ART OF TABLE SETTING AND FLOWER ARRANGEMENT, by S. Hirsch.

YOUNG UNITED STATES, 1783 to 1830, by Tunis.

DORIS BRYANT'S NEW CAT BOOK. Among items covered in this practical and helpful book are the raising of a kitten, the feeding of all pets, grooming, neutering, illness, etc.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING THROUGH MUTUAL FUNDS. Here is a complete guide to the fastest growing investment phenomenon in the United States today — mutual funds. By Robert Frank.

FLOWER OF THE ADONIS, by R. Sutcliff, is a novel of the Peloponnesian War, a magnificent historical narrative that tells the life of Alkibiades, the glorious Athenian military hero and one of the most paradoxical figures in Greek history.

FOGARTY, was a 23-year-old law school dropout. You might say that he was lazy and didn't amount to much . . . you might, that is, until his play was produced. By E. C. Neville.

CASE OF THE DIAMOND EYE, an altogether thrilling tale of international espionage, this book will win A. Walden even MAN EXPLORES THE SEA. "Our home was atop a volcano. The doors were made of water and at night we watched the floating stars". Thus, according to Malcolm E. Weiss, is how four divers might have described their 10 days on the floor of the Caribbean Sea in July, 1964.

FOREST FIRE MYSTERY, an excellent mystery set in the Colorado Rockies and written by Franklin Folsom.

OLDER ELEMENTARY

KITTENS AND THE CARDINAL, by Charlotte Baker. The Kindness Club contained the Kittens (girls) and Cardinals (boys), their purpose was kindness to animals. Through sympathy for animals, they learn much about living with people, even adults.

HOTEL CAT, by E. Averill. A tender, humorous story about Tom, a hotel cat who puts himself in charge of the cat guests of the hotel.

LIGHT PRINCESS. Children of today, with their awareness of the world of science, will delight in the problems of the lovely princess of Logobel who lost her gravity. By G. MacDonald.

Speedway Tours Available at MIS

Beginning Sunday, May 10, Mother's Day, the public will have the opportunity to take guided tours of Michigan International Speedway.

Tours of the modern multi-million dollar auto racing facility will be conducted daily, Wednesday through Sunday, noon to sundown.

Spectators will be driven around the 2-mile oval and 3-mile road course board a covered tractor-train. An announcer will describe points of interest during the half-hour tour.

4-H Studies Entomology

The study of entomology is one of many educational 4-H programs pursued by boys and girls wanting to learn more about bugs, bees and butterflies.

Even the youngest 4-H'er can start an entomology project, according to 4-H Club leaders. A nine-year-old can catch an insect and look at it under a microscope.

Volunteer 4-H leaders help the children find answers to questions such as how do insects eat? What do they like? How do they reproduce? How can the bad guys like spiders and ants be exterminated? And good guys like bees be protected?

Older club members help to improve the health of the community by searching out insect breeding places, studying the life cycles and learning methods to control or exterminate the pests.

Farmers Urged to Check Agreements

Farm program participants are urged to check their agreements to determine that there is no excess of the acreage of wheat and feed grains permitted on their farm.

With the enrollment period in the 1970 Wheat and Feed Grain Programs concluded, Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan agricultural stabilization and conservation state committee reminds the participants of their obligations to earn the payments provided for under these programs.

Government agreements impose restrictions on farmers requiring them to lay idle income-producing cropland. He noted that payments are contingent upon a farmer setting aside acreage equal to their intentions to divert and not utilize this acreage for the production of any crops in 1970. They are also restricted in using this set aside acreage for pasturing through August 31.

The average acreage normally in conserving crops must also be maintained. This restriction is imposed to prevent program participants from limiting their wheat and feed grain production and devoting acreage normally into conserving crops to the production of other grains and possibly create a surplus of such crops.

One last restriction that is imposed requires a participant to comply with the wheat allotment and feed grain base on any other farm in which he has an interest. To do otherwise would, in effect, be defeating the purpose of the program.

Smith concluded that failure to comply with any of the program requirements could result in the loss of a participant's entire payment.

CARLA GIRBACH DEMONSTRATES NEW COPIER

Library Obtains Copying Machine

CLINTON — A new copying machine is located at the Clinton Township Library for public use.

The Olivetti Underwood Copia II copies almost anything, including single sheets, rigid materials, bound volumes, three dimensional objects, typewritten, handwritten or even from colored originals.

Up to 25 copies at a time can be turned out, seven seconds apart.

Provision is made to accommodate a book on a slant, to protect its binding, or to lay it flat to copy two pages at once.

Roll paper is provided for the copier, and the machine can be set for variable sizes, with no waste.

Copier is available to anyone, however, it must be operated by authorized library personnel only, during library hours.

Cost will be 25c per copy, and less for larger quantities.

Vice-president of the Clinton Library Board, Robert Braden, said the board has obtained the machine on a trial basis, with the intention of buying it. He said it was a part of the continuing effort of the board to improve the services and materials available to the public.

Open House Set for Michigan Week

CLINTON — Michigan Week activities are being planned in Clinton High School with an open house scheduled for Thursday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m.

Parents of junior and senior high school students will follow their child's schedule through a miniature school day. Teachers will be in their rooms to give brief descriptions and answer questions about the courses they teach, however there will be no personal conferences.

Attendance contest will be held and the class section with the greatest number of parents present will be rewarded.

There will be Michigan Week decorations throughout the school.

Mahrle Named Lay-Minister

CLINTON — Ben Mahrle II became the first lay-minister to be recognized by the Ann Arbor-Jackson Association of the United Church of Christ April 26.

The recognition service was at St. Andrews United Church of Christ, Deyter, with the invitation and scripture read by the Rev. Ralph Kuether.

The Rev. Paul McKenna, former pastor of the Clinton United Church of Christ, conducted the public examination and gave the charge, outlining Mr. Mahrle's responsibilities as a lay minister. Rolland Steeb, association moderator, presented Mr. Mahrle with the certificate of recognition.

Recognition is the result of a supervised course in reading over a period of years with the Church and Ministry Committee of the Association giving periodical examinations. He will now be available as a relief pastor to speak at area churches which have need of his services.

Attending the Association meeting from Clinton were the two delegates from the Clinton church, Mrs. David Heimerdinger and Mr. Mahrle. Mrs. Mahrle, association secretary; Mrs. Earl Lawrence, alternate delegate; Pastor Earl Lawrence; Mr. McKenna, ministerial member of the association; Mrs. McKenna, and four members as visitors, Mrs. Thomas Pence, Mrs. Linn Weaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Mahrle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mahrle I. Also attending was Ben's aunt, Mrs. Sylvia Chandler of Ann Arbor.

Couple Honored at Dinner Party

CLINTON — A pre-nuptial shower honored Patricia Galecki of Detroit and her fiance, Robert Tallman, Sunday afternoon at Roma Hall, Livonia. Their marriage will take place in Detroit June 13.

Miss Galecki is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Galecki, Detroit.

Hosted by four aunts of the bride-to-be, the buffet dinner party was attended by 140 relatives and friends. Attending from Clinton were Mr. Tallman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tallman, Sr., sister, Mrs. Russell Handy, and aunt, Mrs. Harold Calhoun.

The honored couple opened a variety of household gifts. They were assisted by members of the wedding party, including Robert's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Tallman, of Chelsea.

Mrs. Allan Wise Retires As Teacher

CLINTON — Mrs. Allan Wise is retiring from teaching after 47 years of service. For the last 14 years, she has taught first grade in Clinton Community Schools.

She resides with her husband on Clinton-Macon Rd. They have one son, George, who is studying Aviation at Alpena Community College.

"I never intended to be a teacher — I thought I'd be a nurse," Mrs. Wise said.

She explained how friends talked her into attending six weeks of summer school at Ypsilanti Normal College in 1922, right after graduation from high school.

All she had to do then was pass a teacher's examination, which she did with no trouble. That fall she began teaching in the one-room red brick Service School on Clinton-Macon Rd.

She taught in several other rural schools in Lenawee and Washtenaw Counties and earned a life certificate to teach. Later the life certificates were no longer accepted and Bessie Wise started back to college evenings, Saturdays and during the summers.

She even took a leave from teaching one year and attended college full-time. In 1938, she earned her BA at Ypsilanti Normal College.

"It's a satisfaction to see the children progress," she said. It pleased her to note that some of the young people who were recently named to the National Honor Society had been in her first grade class.

She doesn't know just what she'll do when she doesn't have to go to school anymore. She recalled that she has been in school ever since she was five years old — a noteworthy lifetime of service.

RESOLUTION

Meeting of the City Council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, held on the 20th day of April, 1970

Present: Mayor Holmes; Councilmen Bilkie, Knisely, McCombs, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

Absent: None.

The following preamble and Resolution was offered by Councilman McCombs and supported by Councilman Knisely.

WHEREAS Council deems it advisable to vacate and discontinue that part of a public street, to-wit: that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street; and

WHEREAS it is the declaration of Council that proceedings be initiated to effect the vacating and discontinuance of the public street hereinbefore referred to.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved:

1. That it is the declaration of Council that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street, in the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, be vacated and discontinued.

2. That the description of the lands encompassing that portion of Pine Street declared vacated is as follows:

All that part of Pine Street on the Plat of Sunset Meadows and on Sunset Meadows Plat III, the North Line of which is described as commencing in the North line of Lot 8, said Plat of Sunset Meadows at a point 104.14 feet Easterly from the Northwest corner of said Lot 8 for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; and running thence East 114 feet, more or less, to a point in the North line of Lot 7, said Plat, which is located 100 feet North 89°23' West from the Northeast corner of said Lot 7; and the South line of which is described as being the Southern terminal of Pine Street as extended to its point of intersection with the South line of Lots 84 and 86, Plat of Sunset Meadows III.

3. That the City of Tecumseh, a municipal corporation of Lenawee County, Michigan, reserves and excepts therefrom a permanent easement for any lawful purpose over and across a strip of land 10 feet wide off and across each side of the North-South center line of the lands described in paragraph two immediately above.

4. That Monday, June 1, 1970, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., in the City of Tecumseh Council Chambers located at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan, be appointed and designated as the time and place that Council will meet and hear any objections to the vacating and discontinuance of the lands and the reservation of easements set forth.

5. That a copy of this Resolution shall be published weekly for not less than four consecutive weeks in The Tecumseh Herald prior to said meeting.

6 That objections to such proposed action of Council may be filed with the City Clerk in writing during the usual City of Tecumseh business hours.

Ayes: Unanimous.

Nays: None.

Resolution declared adopted.

Dated: 20 April 1970.

TWO BY — OOPS, FOUR

Long before the weather decided to catch up with the calendar, the birds knew what time it was. They started their springtime business on schedule—thank goodness, just see how far behind their nest building and family raising would be had they waited for the bright sunny days and the warm, balmy temperatures. They progressed according to their own "internal clock" and therefore our watching has progressed, too.

First, of course, it was listening more than watching. The bird chorus started at dawn, even on the coldest of the most blustery mornings. And you know, I am more and more convinced of the rightness of the theory that much of the male's springtime singing is directed not at their ladies but is instead man to man talk.

The menfolk establish a territory and then invite in gals in. Why is it not quite logical to believe that a smart lady would be more attracted to a good provider than to just another pretty face? Anyway, we enjoyed the singing and then we noticed and started enjoying the courting antics.

The little black-capped chickadee the trim tufted titmice, the funny upside down nuthatches, and the formal black and white garbed downy woodpeckers all started coming to the near-my-window feeder in pairs.

Even the blue jays got into the act. Papa and Mama Cardinal were the star performers, of course, what a joy it is to watch their courteous and careful passing of sunflower seed from bill to bill.

A male and female song sparrow shared the creekbank and the creek itself was the territory of the kingfishers, the subject of last week's article.

★

THE BIG AND handsome hairy woodpeckers shanned the suet on the feeder, but oh, how they did enjoy that which was in the suet feeder on the mulberry tree.

Not all of the birds, of course, were so busy finding mates. As recently as last week the yard was full of juncos. Scads of them.

All winter we entertained a more than usual number of robins. They started "bunching up" in preparation for their flight north, we really had patrons. And complete is a word to use for the robin's role, soldiers all to himself, he sang little red headed muttonhead. Oh but he did enjoy himself at the suet though—day after day we watched as he patiently waited until the bigger birds left and then, quick as a wink, zoomed in for a little quick snack.

For more advanced than the juncos with their flocking together and the other birds with their mind pairing off, were the truly cockbird robins and grackles. Even before Old Man Winter gave his last gasp and passed that shocking all day Saturday snowstorm at us, the robins and grackles had started nest building.

For several days a female black thief (I wonder if she would be called a gun moll?) seemed overjoyed with a sugary mess of paper which had blown into and become entangled in a clump of bushes on the creek bank. She made trip after trip carrying long streamers and shreds of this prize house building material to the top of our neighbor's tall pine tree.

In the meantime, Mrs. Robin was concentrating on the dry weed stems in our yard. Gathering large billfulls, she almost bristled with stems sticking out in every direction. Sometimes she would grab a stem which was still fastened at one end, what a pulling and tugging act this could prompt.

★

THE TINY PINE siskins have been busy, too. At first you know we had four of them. Then suddenly three started coming together and the fourth dared to drop in only after the others had gone. Now the triangle has been dissolved and just the two are around. We like to think that it is a pair.

One is much more aggressive than the other and, by the way, when his disposition shows and he darts at the unknowing bird who dares try to share the feeder, there are very noticeable splashes of yellow on his tail and wings.

The flickers are almost beside themselves with springtime. For weeks we have heard one across the creek. His loud maniacal laughter teased us for several weeks before he finally decided to let us see him. Then one day he made up his mind to investigate our yard and apparently the ant-eating was good because the next day he brought his friend.

In a few more days another friend arrived but, even before we could commence wondering about a flicker threesome, a fourth joined the crowd. And believe me, four flickers all together in the same tree is "some" sort of a sight!"

So it is that springtime fun is in full swing — the arrival of the last flicker prompted the title change from TWO BY TWO to TWO BY — OOPS, FOUR.

NEXT WEEK:
"Please Watch That Spray Gun."

Summons Issued For Fast Driving

William C. Burch, 22, 406 S. Maiden Lane, driving an automobile owned by Gerald A. Carpenter, 202 W. Michigan Ave., Clinton, swerved to miss a small animal and the car struck a tree.

Mishap occurred at 7:15 p.m., Sunday on Mulvaney Rd.

Burch was given a summons for driving too fast.

Michigan has more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 36,000 miles of streams.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

Caffeine

We often read about how "dangerous" such-and-such a drug is, if it's misused. The truth is, there's no drug that is absolutely safe under all conditions and for all people. Mothers know that even aspirin must be kept out of the reach of children who might swallow too many.

This is also true of many things we no longer think of as "drugs"—tobacco and alcohol are good examples. And now coffee and tea have been blamed for physical disorders, when drunk to excess.

For example, Dr. Hobart A. Reimann recently reported the case of a woman who seemed to suffer from a continual cold over a six-month period. She had a low fever and chills, couldn't sleep, and felt irritable. After losing 20 pounds, she was admitted to a hospital — where her symptoms disappeared within a few days.

Her problem, Dr. Reimann said in recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, was that she drank up to 18 cups of coffee a day. This represents something like two grams of caffeine — twice as much as would be expected to produce mental confusion, vomiting, diarrhea, shivers and tremors.

Coffee and tea contain chemicals known as xanthine alkaloids and these, taken in too great a volume, can induce symptoms that are mistaken for more common illnesses.

Teacher is Key to Success

The success of the teaching of reading begins with a dedicated teacher, members of the Lenawee Reading Council were told last Thursday night at Methodist Church, Adrian.

Dr. Bill Martin Jr., author of the "Sounds of Language Readers," held his audience of 350 captive with his stories and message.

"What the heart knows today the mind will know tomorrow. What a child's tongue and ears know today, his mind will know tomorrow," stated Dr. Martin.

"Aren't children wonderful?" asked Martin. "History has never known a generation of young people to do so much for humanity as today's generation. In many large cities teenagers spend their weekends living and working in ghettos to help better their conditions."

"Language is a tool. If we are going to teach children to read we must use the words in his house." On the wings of words, children can free their thoughts," concluded Dr. Martin.

Mrs. John Becker, director of the remedial reading program at Tecumseh, was elected president of the Lenawee Reading Council. Mrs. Becker succeeds Mrs. Nellie Swenk as head of the 225 member council.

Also elected at last Thursday's meeting were Mrs. Margaret Brewer, reading teacher in Morenci Area Schools, president-elect; Mrs. Alice Raymond, remedial reading teacher at Sand Creek, recording secretary; Mrs. Vedna Wiginton, presently working on an Educational Specialist Degree at Eastern Michigan University, corresponding secretary; Edgar Eriesson, director of remedial reading program at Britton-Macon Area School, treasurer.

The group was entertained with musical selections by the "Canticle Singers" of Blissfield High School, under the direction of Mrs. Larry Merx.

This was the final meeting for this school year. Meetings will resume in the fall.

Pastor tell me

SHOULD A CHRISTIAN GO TO WAR?

A Christian has a responsibility to live righteously and soberly in this present world. Titus 2:12. We are told to expect persecution and trouble. We are told to bless them that curse us and pray for them that despitefully use us. We are also told to live peaceably with all men. Romans 12:18. This verse shows that it is not always possible to live peaceably, notice the phrase "as much as lieth in you."

On the other hand a Christian has a responsibility to his government. Romans 13:1-7. The government is ordained of God and we should obey it as much. If we could make the passage say "don't be a soldier" we could also make it say, "don't pay taxes." A Christian should be an exemplary citizen.

A Christian has no right to take matters into his own hands. However, in matters of war, a Christian acting under regularly constituted authority is no more murder than the duties of a policeman.

Also we might note that Jesus and His followers dealt with soldiers and nowhere told them to leave their post. They are admonished to be faithful. See II Timothy 2:3, 4.

Grandma Kotts Is Flying Again

Flying grandmother, Mrs. Rhoda Kotts has done it again.

She boarded a prop plane, Nov. 16, from Metro Airport to Kent-Akron, Ohio airport, where Lee Vescelius, her grandson from Talhmadge met her. He is a research man for Firestone.

After a week's visit, Mr. Vescelius arranged for Mrs. Kotts to fly by jet first class, non-stop from Cleveland to International Airport, Los Angeles, where her daughter, Mrs. Mary Louise Chase, and children, Michael and Michelle met her.

During her five month's visit there, she called on Ralph Joseph in a nursing home in National City, Calif., spent a weekend with Charles and Gladys Smith, formerly Gladys Woodcox, of Tecumseh; visited Sea World in San Diego, Calif., and the Knotts Berry Farm.

She also went to Anaheim to see the Los Angeles Lakers play basketball with the New York Knickerbockers in the big Forum. She also saw Wayne Newton in person in the Forum.

While in California she attended church in East Whittier, which is President Richard Nixon's church, and many other places of interest.

If she had saved all her tickets for trips to California, she would have 16, for eight round-trips.

Shes visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Kotts for the next few months.

LETTERS OF MERCY

No matter what your personal attitude toward the Vietnam War happens to be; support, dissent or indifference, a movement has come to my attention which needs, and should receive, the whole-hearted support of all Americans.

The American Red Cross is launching a new "Write Hanoi" campaign urging citizens to write the President of North Vietnam to express concern about the treatment of U. S. prisoners.

This Friday, May 8, is World Red Cross Day and the birth of this movement's founder, Henri Dunant, a Swiss financier and philanthropist, is being commemorated. The appeals to Hanoi are being centered around this day. Its purpose is to strip the issue of political and all other partisan considerations.

Although the Hanoi government signed the agreements at the 1949 Geneva Red Cross Conference it has refused to carry out its obligations, according to the Red Cross.

The latest U. S. reports show that 413 Americans are being held prisoner and 918 are missing and believed to be captured.

1 — Afforded adequate diet and medical care.

2 — Permitted to communicate with each other and the outside world.

3 — Protected from abuse and reprisal at all times.

4 — Promptly repatriated if seriously sick or wounded.

5 — Promptly identified.

It also was agreed that a neutral intermediary, such as the International Committee of the Red Cross, should be afforded free access to the prisoners of war and their place of detention.

The government of North Vietnam has purposefully refused to acknowledge the Geneva Conference and has been very callous in all attempted reprimands. It is difficult to understand the reasons behind this action, but one can only guess that the treatment of the prisoners is very inhumane and does not even attain the minimum requirements set forth in the agreements.

Perhaps they feel that because there is such an anti-war sentiment in this country, Americans have the same feelings about their countrymen who are being held prisoners Or worse, perhaps they believe that we have forgotten about these men entirely.

It is important that we do not confuse our feelings toward the war with our feelings about fellow countrymen who are attempting to exist and maintain a level of pride and dignity in an atmosphere which must have unnerving and hideous consequences.

Show your support for this worthwhile and meaningful campaign. Tonight, shut the television off for a while and write a letter. Let the Hanoi government know that we are appalled at the treatment our servicemen are receiving and demand its end.

Which is more important, an extra half hour in front of the 'boob tube" watching a Dean Martin re-run or helping the American servicement held prisoner in North Vietnam?

I doubt if anyone can say watching television is more important and really mean it. Let's hope not.

Send your letters to:

The President, Red Cross Society

Democratic Republic of Vietnam

Hanoi, North Vietnam

If the letter weighs less than ½ ounce, it can be sent airmail for 25c. A quarter and a little time, is that asking too much for something so important?

S/SGT. TED KEMPF

S/Sgt. Ted Kempf in Missile Meet

U. S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Theodore C. Kempf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Kempf, 319 N. Maiden Lane, is participating in the Strategic Air Command (SAC) 1970 combat missile competition at Vandenberg AFB, Calif., this week.

Sergeant Kempf, a missile maintenance technician in the 90th Strategic Missile Wing, Francis E. Warren AFB, Wyo., is competing with other top missile men from SAC's six minuteman and three Titan missile wings.

He is representing his minuteman unit as a member of the wing's missile maintenance team.

The purpose of the competition is to increase SAC's ability to perform its mission of providing an effective nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Sergeant Kempf is a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School. He and his wife, the former Betty L. Andrews, have four children.

Senior Citizens Meet for Singing

For several weeks the Goldenaires of the Tecumseh Senior Citizens have been meeting in Community Center on Wednesday afternoons for programs of a varied nature, assembly singing, conversation while enjoying refreshments. The Senior Citizens who wish to play cards meet on Thursday afternoons.

Both sessions are open to all and begin at one p.m. This week, Mrs. Richard Gage (Iris), teacher of the art classes sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department of the city, gave a demonstration of polymer painting. Assembly singing was led by Mrs William Flanders with Mrs. Frank Gray as accompanist.

Mrs. William Grigg and Mrs. Lillian Hoagland were the hostesses. Mrs. Robert Gillespie and Ken Eichhorn were honored with a special birthday cake baked by Mrs. Ward Eardley.

The Goldenaires will hold open house during Michigan Week on Wednesday, May 20, from one to four p.m. at the Community Center. It is hoped that all Senior Citizens and friends will drop in for a cup of tea or coffee and chat a while and also join in the assembly singing. For further information, call Ward Eardley, superintendent of Parks and Recreation, telephone 423-2107.

To Demonstrate Safety Equipment

Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34 of American Legion Auxiliary will hold its meeting Thursday on May 14 in the Tecumseh High School at 7:30 p.m. instead of at 8. The teachers of the Industrial Arts and Science Departments will have students demonstrate new special safety equipment received recently.

Mrs. Robert Koffron, chairman of the Child Welfare Department of the unit, announces that the Auxiliary has contributed $160 toward the cost of this equipment.

All interested members are asked to drive to the back of the building via James Street where they may park and will be directed to the shop.

Church Holding Revival Meeting

Tecumseh Lower Light Church will hold a revival meeting, May 7-10, with services nightly at 7:30 p.m. There will be a special Sunday afternoon service at 2 p.m., May 10.

The Rev. David Chaffin will be the visiting evangelist.

MRS. HARRISON RETIRES — Mrs. Chauncey Harrison, 210 N. Pearl St., and J. W. Meadows, chairman of the board of United Savings Bank, stand by the decorated cake served to 35 members of the staff at a party honoring her birthday anniversary and retirement. An employee for 15 years, Mrs. Harrison was a teller and handled "E" bonds. "She was extremely well liked by everyone and did a fine job here," Mr. Meadows stated Wednesday. April 30 was her last day at the bank.

Don Wiley Elected VFW Commander

Don Wiley was elected commander of Hall Slater Post 4187 VFW at the Wednesday night meeting at the Post Home last week. Other officers are Richard Eisenmenger, senior vice-commander; Carl Wilson, junior vice-commander; Harlon Boyes, quartermaster; Earl Smith, chaplain; Kenneth Cochrane, surgeon; Carroll Conklin, post advocate; Ray Sisty, club board and Richard Perry, three-year trustee.

Commander Carroll Conklin announced that Norman Sisty is chairman of Poppy Days, May 15 and 16.

Past Commander Gaza Kish presented a flag to Ridgeway School May 4 with Aubrey Schroeder and Jeff Steiner, sixth grade, accepting for the class who witnessed the presentation with teacher, Jerome Kujawa and principal, Mrs. Lois Fleming.

A school of instruction for all new officers will be held at 1:30 a.m., May 17 preceding Sixth District Rally at the Veterans' Section of the Lansing Civic Center at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller recently visited her parents, Mr and Mrs. Walter Beck of Ansonia, Ohio. Mr. Beck is able to be about the house and lawn.

Hospital to Join Nat'l Observance

Herrick Memorial Hospital will join over 7,000 hospitals throughout the country in observing National Hospital Week beginning May 10.

Theme for the observance, "Your Hospital Cares", emphasizes the efforts hospitals are making to meet increasing demands for health care in an era of spiraling costs.

The new Intensive Coronary Care Unit at Herrick Memorial has five beds which are equipped with the latest devices for specialized heart care. In 1969, 143 patients received care in the unit.

The Hospital Auxiliary will give a silver spoon to the first baby born and a small token to each mother during Hospital Week.

Auxiliary Tours Training School

A tour of Girls' Training School cottages was taken by members of the Jaycee Auxiliary who held their regular meeting at the school April 29.

At the meeting which followed the tour, the Auxiliary discussed plans for a fashion show to be staged at GTS Friday, June 19, with Mrs. John Seay, chairman.

Mrs. Douglas Osworth is chairing a project to circulate petitions for Tecumsehites to sign, in regard to treatment of prisoners in the hands of the Hanoi government and urging the release of the names of prisoners.

Mrs. Sidney Adams was elected president of the Auxiliary.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. Donald Escott; treasurer, Mrs. Earl Crabtree secretary, Mrs. Terry Ridgway and directors, Mrs. Clark Nichols and Mrs. John Seay.

The Auxiliary entertained all the Jaycees and their wives and guests at a bowling social Saturday at Airport Bowl.

Especially these Keds. They come with oval, round or tapered toes. In colors like Spice Pink, Jeans Blue, Crimson and a dozen more. You can mix 'em, match 'em with anything you own. Keds—the easy-going, easy-clean sneakers you wouldn't be without.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Staged

BRITTON — Mother and Daughter Banquet of the Congregational Christian Church was well attended Saturday night, May 2, when a delicious chicken dinner was served in the high school study hall.

The table decorations and programs carried out the theme "Cruise to Ceylon." Nut cups were made in the shape of sailing ships and palms and orchid arrangements added to the festive occasion. Decorations of stuffed animals, reptiles, chiming mobiles enhanced the setting of the hall, resembling the island country. Decorating committee included Mrs. Jim Kniffen, Mrs. Keith Swain, Mrs. Ned Brown, Mrs. Don Judd, Mrs. Lola Hall, Mrs. LaVern Weyher and Mrs. Elden Reeck.

Toastmistress for the ceremonies was Mrs. Martin Ivan.

Toast to the daughters was given by Mrs. Leland Bush and Mrs. Keith Swain responded with the toast to the mothers.

"Song of India" was presented by Nancy Lorenz and Tracy Benedict.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Raymond Kahle and Mrs. Leslie Downing.

Prizes were awarded to the following: Youngest mother, Mrs. William Bailey; youngest daughter, April Renka; oldest grandmother, Mrs. John Underwood and youngest grandmother, Mrs. John Costello.

Jan Ruesink of Adrian, an international foreign youth exchange student who spent several months in Ceylon was the special guest of the evening. Miss Ruesink showed slides and shared her experiences with the mothers and daughters at the banquet. She also showed many articles that were made in Ceylon that she brought back with her.

Invocation and benediction were given by Mrs. G. C. Hannevik.

BHS Homemakers Convention Bound

BRITTON — Michele Vershum, Debbie Maschino, Cindy Griffin, Anita Downing, Cheryl Vallie, Kathy Henry and Penny Hicks, students at Britton-Macon High School, will attend the twenty-fourth annual Future Homemakers of America State Convention, May 4, 5 and 6 on the campus of Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

Michele Vershum is going as state officer candidate of Region three and Debbie Maschino as region three secretary.

This convention, with four general sessions in WMU's University Auditorium will draw 1,500 FHA delegates, members and advisers from 263 chapters throughout Michigan.

FHA Convention is sponsored by the Home Economics Education Service, Division of Vocational Education, Michigan Department of Education, Lansing. Mrs. Thelma L. Graper serves as state adviser.

Following the theme of "FHA Echoes Around the World," the major purpose will be to stress two of the national projects, "To Dare Is To Care" and "Our World a Growing Heritage."

The seven members of the local FHA of America Chapter will be accompanied by their Home Economics teacher and FHA advisor, Mrs. Mary Ann Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Vanderbush announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Elaine, to Michael Andre Ritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil H. Ritz, of Waynesboro, Va. Miss Vanderbush is a graduate of Michigan State University College of Education. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi honor society in education. Mr. Ritz is a senior in chemistry engineering at North Carolina State University in Raleigh, N. C. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. A June 20 wedding is planned.

Pack Presents Circus Skits

The Pack meeting opened with a grand circus parade by all the dens as they marched in.

Achievement awards were presented by Cub Master D. J. Frayer, to the following cubs. Jim Gibler, 2-year pin Ken Plank, traveler badge and naturalist badge; Carey Bruce, athletic badge; Scott Niblack, artist badge; Phillip Vallie, wolf badge, gold arrow and three silver arrows; Ricky Pilbeam, assistant denner; Randy Smith, webelo award; David Stewlow, webelo braid.

Five new members accepted into the Pack are Chris Kimerer, Brad Smith, Mark and Bruce Towne and David Bruce.

The boys were given a list of summer activities to be voted on and to be given to their den mothers.

A skating party is scheduled for the boys and their families at the Adrian Skate-A-Dium May 25.

Each boy was given a membership card and tickets to be sold for the Scout Show, which will be held May 23 at Madison High School.

Den three received the Cubby Award for perfect attendance.

Cub Scouts were given Good-will bags to be filled. They are to fill as many as possible and deposit them at the Boy Scout building on Wednesday, May 13, at which time they are to be present to have their pictures taken by the Goodwill Industries.

The Webelos were also in the act with John Hintz riding his unicycle and Larry Lorenz clowning around.

The closing ceremony was presented by the Webelos as Randy Smith graduated from Webelos to the Boy Scouts with full honors. He received a special scarf from Scoutmaster, Neal Judkins, of Boy Scout Troop 23, which was designed by Greg Dunbar. Randy was the first boy to receive such honors in two years.

This concluded the last pack meeting for the summer with regular meetings resuming in September.

Donation Raises Coupons to 70,500

Mrs. Terry Ridgway, chairman of the Betty Crocker coupon collection for Howard Hyder, for the Jaycee Auxiliary, reports a recent donation of 17,700 coupons from the Blissfield area, has swelled the local total to 70,500.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hyder brought the coupons to Tecumseh Saturday. They reported recent correspondence with General Mills, which explained how the coupons can be exchanged for cash, $300 for 60,000 coupons, to offset the cost of the water softener which the Hyders had to purchase from donated funds in the Blissfield Savings Bank.

Mrs. Ridgway is presently corresponding with General Mills to learn how all the other coupons on hand can be exchanged for cash to add to the Hyder Fund.

Mrs. Ridgway said the collection of coupons will continue since it may be possible to redeem them for one-half cent each, which would make a continuing way to aid Mr. Hyder in the cost of operating his portable kidney machine, estimated at $3,000 per year.

Contract Signed for Landfill Use

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. William Walker were present at the regular meeting of the Clinton Township Library Board Monday. A contract was signed for use of the Walker Landfill by Clinton Township.

Under the contract, all householders of Clinton Township may use Walker Landfill for residential refuse disposal without charge. However, they must obtain a card from Ben Mahrle, clerk, which will show they are authorized to enter the Landfill.

Mrs. Clarence Walden requested permission to operate a three-bed home for care of the aged. The home has already been approved by State and County Health Department. Tentative approval was granted.

Supervisor Harold Calhoun presided at the meeting. County Commissioner Martin Halley was a guest.

BRITTON HISTORY SOUGHT BY CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Hotel Is Village Landmark

BRITTON — One of the first established places of business in Britton was built in 1882 by George Exelby and called the "Forest Hotel" because of the many surrounding trees. He also operated a livery stable in back of the hotel. Later he sold the business to his brother, John, and moved to Detroit. It then became known as the "Exelby Hotel."

In 1900 it was operated by the Underwood family and called the "Colonial House". It furnished meals for 41 boarders.

Over the years it has changed hands many times, even being operated at one time by the man the town was named after, John Britton.

Until 1881, Britton was called Balch. Today the original structure still stands in the same location and is called "The Britton Hotel," owned and operated by Mel Simecek.

Above is one of the pictures obtained by the Britton Camp Fire Girls, which will go into a book on the history of Britton. The girls are seeking more information and pictures of such places of interest as this.

Anyone having any such information, contact any Camp Fire leader or Mrs. Lee Benedict, 7003 Britton Hwy., phone 451-2394, or Mrs. Gerald Price, 10860 Ridge Rd., phone 451-4055.

Shower Honors Janet Venske

BRITTON — Miss Janet Venske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Venske of Plymouth, was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given Saturday evening by Mrs. Louis Venske and Mrs. Stephen Forgacs at the Forgacs home on North Britton Hwy.

Miss Venske is a student nurse at Foote Hospital in Jackson and is a 1967 Tecumseh High School graduate.

Mr. Forgacs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Forgacs, is a draftsman for Universal Tool and Die of Parma, Mich. He is a 1965 graduate of Britton-Macon High School.

The refreshment table was centered with a lovely white sheet cake with pink and white roses and pink bride doll cakes on each side of the cake. Pink and white colors of the future bride's wedding was carried throughout in decorations. The decorated cake was made by the bride's future mother-in-law, Mrs. Stephen Forgacs.

Miss Venske opened many gifts.

Guests were from Westland, Jackson, Plymouth and Monroe.

Miss Venske will become the bride of Mr. Forgacs on Saturday, May 23.

Cub Pack 73 Hunting Lions

Cub Scouts of Pack 73 met for their monthly meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, April 28. Webelos Scott Crabtree, Gregg Forsthoefel, Mark Hoffman and Dan Tarvey conducted the Flag Ceremony.

Mrs. Earl Mason led the Pack in singing Cubbing songs. Guests introduced to the Pack were Mr. and Mrs. Davis. New parents were Mr. and Mrs. Cubberly and Mr. and Mrs. Varnor.

Cubmaster Walt Wonderly gave a recipe for a Good Cub Scout helped by Cub Scouts Barry Barnhart and Jim Stormes. After the stirring and baking two new Good Cub Scouts were inducted as Bobcats, David Cubberly and John Varnor II.

Everyone went on a Lion Hunt led by Committee Chairman John Deming. The boys joined in with much knee slapping, foot stomping, a loud BANG and much laughter.

Awards Chairman Ray Oliver presented the following awards: denner bars, Robert Elliott, Kent Morris and Jeff Rendel; assistant denner bar, Kirk Oliver; 1-year pin, Robert Snyder.

Two silver arrows, Gregg Mason; wolf badge, one gold and two silver arrows, John Betzoldt; bear badge and one gold arrow, Bob Peterson.

The Webelos Award, Arrow of Light, was earned by Mark Oliver. Mark Oliver and Ron Williams advanced into Boy Scouting, the boys were presented to Scoutmaster Tom Cook of Troop 73, who presented them their Boy Scout neckerchiefs.

Announcements were given by Assistant Cubmaster Harry Snyder concerning the Scout Show on May 23 at the Madison School, Memorial Day parade, a Tiger ballgame in June and a picnic in July were discussed.

Pack 73 received a $50 donation from a friend of Scouting through the Scout Cabin Committee.

Lawnmower Theft

Clinton State Police are investigating the theft of a riding lawn mower, valued at $500 from Jack Hintz, 11705 Ridge Hwy.

Theft was reported Saturday by the owner who told officers the mower was in an unlocked shed which had the doors closed.

This is Oldsmobile's year at Indy.

Isn't it your year for an Olds?
The knowing folks at Indy just named Olds 4-4-2 official pace car for this year's 500.
For good reason. Olds is not only an excellent performer, it's a winner in looks and ride as well.
The fact is, every 1970 Olds is a pacesetter. And it goes far deeper than performance.
You find it in great engineering. In exceptional comfort. In ride and handling that are outstanding. And in the solid quality and dependability you've come to expect from Oldsmobile.
In fact, it's this quality that leads many people to believe that Olds is priced out of their reach. A mistaken notion that might keep you in an ordinary car, instead of an Olds.
The truth of the matter is that many Olds models are priced right down with the low-price names.
Now that you have the facts, isn't this your year to go Oldsmobile? You can probably do so for no more than what you've been paying. See your nearest Olds dealer!

Telephoto Lenses

By Paul Cunningham

Is one picture worth really 1000 words? Sometimes this may be true. This column will attempt to give the reader an insight into photography and give him some tips on how he might take that picture worth . . . A Thousand Words.

Photography is certainly one of the world's most popular hobbies. We see evidence of this all about us in the vast numbers of 35mm cameras, and Polaroids. Photos bring us the news, show us fashion, entertain us, reflect our tastes, adorn our desks.

One way to get that better picture is to get close to the subject. When you, the photographer, can't go to the subject, why not bring the subject to you—with a telephoto lens?

A telephoto lens magnifies the image in your camera, just like a telescope would. The subject seems so close you could reach out and touch it.

Cameras come with a "normal" lens, one with a focal length of about 50mm to 80mm. Telephotos, however, come in the range of 100mm to 300mm with some telephotos running up to 3000mm to 4000mm. These lenses will make moon look like a beach ball in your view finder.

Telephoto lens are made for all cameras, wit hthe exception of most Polaroids and some simple box cameras. With the correct adapters, nearly any telephoto lens made can be fitted to any camera. Buying a telephoto lens is a real chore, because of the dozens of models available. Our advice is to consult a reputable camera dealer.

What advantage would you have with a telephoto lens? Did you ever sit in the stands during a baseball game and wish you could get a good close-up of your favorite player? Did you ever go to a zoo to take pictures of the animals only to find them far away from the fences? Did you ever want to take a really candid picture of your friends without them knowing it? Then the telephoto lens is the answer.

What can the telephoto do? It'll bring the subject closer, of course. Because of its shallow "depth-of-field," distracting foreground and background will be out of focus and, therefore, eliminated. It produces a rather unusual perspective, because the subject seems compressed.

Some tips: buy your telephoto lens carefully: seek expert assistance. Focus carefully; hold the camera steady—lean against a tree or post or prop your arms up on a railing or your knees. Or, best of all, use a good tripod. Squeeze the shutter slowly, like a trigger. Use a "fast" film and a short shutter speed whenever possible. Good luck! Next week, how to shoot the peak of action. (Note: do you have a question or photo topic you want discussed? Write to Paul Cunningham, c/o Tecumseh Herald).

Comforts Moving to Mexico in Fall

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Comfort and children, Donnie and Cindy, left Wednesday for Newburg, Ore., where they will spend the summer. In September the Comforts will go to Mexico to study language.

For the past seven months the Comforts have been staying in the residence of Mr and Mrs. Amos Wilson, N. Adrian Hwy., while serving a missionary internship at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Sunday evening the Quaker Fellowship class entertained at a farewell reception for the Comforts. Punch and cookies were served to the members of the congregation attending.

Mr. Comfort said, "We certainly enjoyed our stay here."

Campvention Comes to Juniper Hills

In July, a young camper's fancy likely turns to thoughts of travel. The paraphrasing of Tennyson's famous line is especially true for the families of the National Campers and Hikers Association. For all campers are young in spirit and July is the month of their biggest event of the year — the Annual Campvention.

This year's conclave, the 11th, is expected to be the biggest yet, and NCHA has had some large gatherings in the past. Like last year, when more than 4,100 families trekked to Rocks Pond Campground near Orangeburg, S. C.

Girding for this year's onslaught of recreational vehicles is the Juniper Hills Campground at Cambridge Junction in the heart of Michigan's beautiful Irish Hills.

Early registrations indicate that a total of 6,000 to 8,000 families will gather for the event . . . and that's nearly 35,000 campers as NCHA families average 4.3 persons.

The biggest problem facing Campvention Chairman Don Woolworth of Clio, and his committee is providing enough accommodations for the campers. Space is the largest hurdle, but, the campground has plenty of flat and rolling grasslands so that every family will have his own 30 x 30 foot homestead. Other details to be resolved include drinking water, toilets, showers, communications and food supplies.

The total logistics for this "instant city" is an awesome job. But, the miracle of resolution will be handled by a group of dedicated campers working together for many hours without thought of pay or reward. That's the way it is with the volunteers of the world's largest family camping group and explains why they are called, "the friendliest people in the world."

This event is billed as the annual general membership meeting of NCHA. And, indeed, it started out that way back in 1960 at the first annual meeting at the Manhattan Hotel in New York City. In 1961, the Campvention went outdoors and has stayed there ever since. Each year the Campvention is rotated from state to state. Next year, the event will take on international importance as it moves to Brantford, Ontario, near Hamilton. In 1972, Indiana will host the gathering. This annual event is awarded two years in advance . . . it takes that much time to get everything shipshape.

The NCHA still holds meetings at these massive campouts, but, the general order of the day is fun and fellowship. With nearly 2500 individual clubs spread from Maine to California and in Canada, Alaska and Hawaii, the total association membership has climbed to 58,000 families since its inception back on October 29, 1954. It has outstripped every other camping or recreational vehicle club in the world and is still growing at a fantastic rate of better than 16% each year.

The week-long agenda is filled with a variety of activities that range from games for the tiny tots to just plain chatting around the campfire.

Funds Budgeted for Lake Projects

$160,000 has been budgeted in a pending Senate appropriation bill for two state park projects in Lenawee County, according to State Senator James G. Fleming, R-Jackson.

A grant of $150,000 is proposed for the development of the W. J. Hayes State Park in the Irish Hills to provide for the construction of a modern bathhouse-toilet - change court - concession building and expansion of the parking area, which is already under way.

This would also include development of a boating lagoon-concession dock at Wamplers Lake, and a launching site on Round Lake.

Funds amounting to $10,000 are earmarked to permit the continuation of the restoration program under way on the buildings at Cambridge State Historic Park.

Girl Scout Council Plans Color Wheel

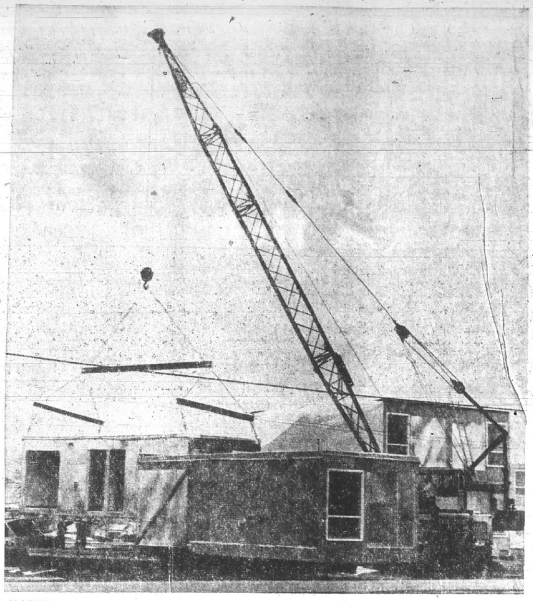
Saturday, May 16, is the date set for the second Color Wheel of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council.

The event will be held at Jackson's Parkside High School from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Water ballet and Girl Scout demonstrations will be combined with professional exhibits and stage demonstrations to contribute to the central theme of "Home and Community."

Girl Scouts from Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson counties will be participating in what may prove to be a biannual event. The first Color Wheel drew thousands of spectators from throughout Michigan.

The public is invited to attend and enjoy the many activities. Tickets are available from any Girl Scout or at the door. For further information call Mrs. Richard Egli, 423-4557.



MODULAR—New two-story brick apartments are being constructed on the corner of Russell Rd. and Green Hwy. Completion is scheduled for late summer.

Pueblo Radioman Speaks About Captivity, America

"We never violated the 12 mile limit," said Lee R. Hayes, radioman on the ill fated USS Pueblo, captured by the Communist North Koreans.

"We were never closer than 13 miles to the forbidden shores," continued the speaker at the National Guard Armory in Jackson Monday evening, sponsored by the TRAIN committee.

Former crewman Hayes spent 11 months of 1968 in North Korean prisons along with 81 other crewmen and Captain Lloyd Bucher of the Pueblo, before they were released.

He told of the brutal beatings the crew underwent on an average of every third day during the 11 months, of the terror of the enemy of religion, the military and the hate they have of the United States and capitalism.

Hayes opened his talk asking that the audience write congressman and the president stating their beliefs. He thanked the people for "what you did for us" referring to the many letters written concerning the fate of Pueblo crewmen. He mentioned the servicemen who are still captives of North Korea asking that efforts be extended in their behalf.

Upon his release from Communist captivity and his return to the United States in December of 1968, Hayes determined to learn why the Pueblo had been sacrificed; why the most powerful nation on earth signed a false confession to get the crew released; and why the United States continues to stumble from disaster to disaster while the Communist world grows in power and prestige.

Because of his conviction that more Americans must become aware of the threats to their freedoms, Hayes decided against re-enlisting in the Navy, and instead joined The John Birch Society. As he explains, "I join the Society because it is the most effective organization working to oppose the dangers we face and to offer a positive program for all concerned Americans."

Hayes believes that "my year of captivity will have been worth every minute if I can help to restore Americanist principles to our foreign policy." Once this is accomplished, there will be no more Pueblos, no more 'no-win' wars, no more betrayal of our friends, and, in time, no more Communist threat to us."

The TRAIN Committee, To Restore American Independence Now, is part of a nationwide network of loyal groups formed to examine the purposes and conduct of U.S. foreign policy. TRAIN agrees with the late General Douglas MacArthur that "appeasement but begets new and bloodier war," and is dedicated to an educational effort in support of the principles which have made the United States such a great nation.

Scholarships Available

There is nearly $10,000 in eight scholarships awaiting 4-H members who plan careers in animal science, crop production or forestry.

The grants are part of the national College 4-H Scholarship fund for 1970 arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, and awarded by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Two $800 scholarships will be awarded to 4-H boys who will be college juniors this fall and who plan to major in animal science. Candidates must have completed at least one year of 4-H membership. Allied Mills Foundation, Chicago, provides these scholarships.

Two 4-H members enrolled this fall as college freshmen in agriculture will be awarded $800 scholarships offered by Chevron Chemical Company—Ortho Division, San Francisco. Candidates must have completed at least one year as 4-H members.

Homelite, a Division of Textron Inc., Port Chester, N.Y., provides four $1,600 scholarships to 4-H members enrolled this fall as college freshmen who plan to major in forestry. To be eligible for the grants candidates must have completed at least three years of 4-H membership.

Interested candidates should contact their local or state 4-H office for further details. Winners will be announced at the 49th National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 29-Dec. 3.

Cruise Allegheny River

RIVER RATS ON THE MOVE
By Glenn Driscoll

In late April Skipper Moore's computer became active and started formulating a river-boat trip for such time as the required number of men and a period of propitious weather might appear.

This did materialize, and on Sunday, April 26, five, men with itchy feet and wanderlust in their eyes, began a trip to Pittsburgh and the Allegheny River.

Aboard were four more or less dignified Rotarians, C. M. Brown, R. H. Moore, Spec Simmons and Glenn Driscoll, plus an advanced Junior Exchangite as a chaperone by the name of Clarence Beach. He was in almost full command most of the time.

We put in at New Kensington, Pa., Sunday p.m. and began a pleasant cruise down the Allegheny, through Pittsburgh, the Ohio River and ended at Cincinnati. The river was about ten feet above normal pool stage, causing certain problems such as no marinas open, carrying the gas to the boat by car and brawn, too much debris, etc.

Three men were in the boat at all times, with the other two reconnoitering by car for lodging, points of rendezvous and restaurants. The scenery was gorgeous as we viewed dogwood, redbud, azalias, flowering crab and Mayapple already in bloom.

One unusual sight was a three level courthouse at Pomeroy, Ohio, which was featured by Ripley a few years ago. Level one was at street level, level two opened for the courthouse business to walk out on a second "plateau" and number three opened for the auditor's and custodian to walk out on a hill where the birds and squirrels lived.

I will close before you accuse me of loquacity, however, the river was teeming with activity. Coal, blast furnaces, power generating plants, chemicals, to mention just a few, helping one realize that with all the industry, there is pollution.

Thus ended a 500 mile boat trip which took us through five states in five days. I recommend it for anyone as a relaxing change from daily routine.

Rear-end Collision Kept In Family

A rear end collision occurred at 12:30 a.m. Sunday on Silver Lake Hwy., one mile north of US-12.

Dean Lee, 21, 1850 Twin Lake Rd., was driving an automobile owned by Barry Lee, same address, and Barry Lee was following closely behind in another vehicle, owned by Dean Lee.

When Dean stopped suddenly to avoid hitting a deer crossing the road Barry was unable to stop and the second vehicle struck the car ahead.

Vicki Langoski, 18, a passenger in the first car, sought her own treatment for minor injuries

SPEAKER AT CEREMONY — Hon. Joseph Satterthwaite, former ambassador and assistant Secretary of State will be the principal speaker Sunday at the Community Center when Niels Hansen Memorial Foundation grants are presented.

18 To Receive Grants Sunday

Fourth annual presentation of grants awarded by the Niels Hansen Memorial Foundation will be held Sunday, May 17, at 3 p.m., at the Community Center. Eighteen high school students, who will be living abroad this summer, will be receiving the grants. A total of 39 grants have been given over the past four years, according to Arthur J. Collingsworth, chairman of the Board of the Foundation.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception for the honored students, their families and Foundation guests will be held in the Parish Hall of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony and to hear the speech given by the Honorable Joseph Satterthwaite, former U. S. Ambassador to Burma, Ceylon, and South Africa; Director General of the Foreign Service; and Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. The Hon. Mr. Satterthwaite is a native of Tecumseh, and this will be an opportunity for members of the community to hear an address by one of its most distinguished citizens.

The Hon. Eleanor Lansing Dulles will also participate in the presentation of grants. Other members of the Board of Directors are: Robert J. Bonner; Mrs. Lois Service; Mrs. Katherine Heebler; the Rev. Frank Hawthorne; and Dr. Michael D. Rohrer, member-at-large.

The following are the 1970 grant recipients and the countries which they will be visiting: Julie Kay Hewlett, daughter of John R. Hewlett, 7166 Pennington Rd., Clinton, Ecuador; Natalie J. Hopson, daughter of John Hopson, 413 E. Shawnee, France; Dianna Lynn Joachim, daughter of Wesley Joachim, 275 W. Russell Rd., France; Arthur S. Lewis, son of Richard N. Lewis, 503 Seminole Dr., Japan; Sonya Y. Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Elmer M. Lewis, Sr., Adrian, Brazil; Lawrence M. Mallory, son of Richard M. Mallory, Fresno, Calif., Switzerland: Merritt A. Dalton, Jr., son of Merritt Dalton, Mensey, N. Y., Sweden.

Mary McGheehan, daughter of Mrs. C. J. McGeehan, Bay City, Chile; Donald W. McVay, son of John McVay, 306 N. Van Buren St., European Seminor; Rod Eugene Niner, son of Harry E. Niner, Southgate, Philippines; Rita Pace, daughter of Proctor Pace, 605 Stacy St., France.

Kelly Porter, son of Kelly S. Porter, Spring Valley, N.Y., Germany; Dale M. Posthumus, son of Earl M. Posthumus, Alto, Sweden; Rosalind Rickert, daughter of Roland Rickert, Wapakoneta, O., Argentine; Mark P. Schroeder, son of Mrs. Vear Schroeder, 110 Cairns St., European Humanities Seminar.

Anna J. Steele, daughter of William J. Steele, Wapakaneta, O., Uruguay; Sylvia Jean Steele, daughter of Duane F. Steele, 6988 Green Hwy., Finland and David Vaillancourt, son of Robert E. Vaillancourt, 1007 River Acres Dr., European Seminar.

Race Kicking Off Michigan Week

A 13-mile bike race from Tecumseh to Adrian will signal the start of Michigan Week activities this Saturday at 1 p.m.

Miss Tecumseh, Vicki Carpenter, and Lenawee County Sheriff Richard Germond will preside at the opening ceremonies which will take place at the Pony League Field on Russell Rd. They will then go to the Adrian Fairgrounds, via the race route, to await the racers.

The race is open to all Tecumseh and Adrian boys and girls who are 12 to 15 years old. Trophies will be awarded to the first and second place finishers in each age group with ribbons presented to all participants.

There will be check points approximately every two miles along the route with Boy Scouts stationed between each. Sheriff Germond has also provided patrols.

All bikes, regardless of riding in the race or not, must be inspected and licensed Saturday morning beginning at 9:30. Those participating in the race will have their bikes inspected at Nelson Field on South Union St.

All other bikes will be checked at the lower level of the Community Center. Cost of the licensing is $1.50 for two years.

Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., 18 Niels Hansen scholarships will be presented to Tecumseh High School seniors at the Community Center. Ambassador Joseph C. Satterthwaite, a native of Tecumseh, will give the main address. He is the former ambassador to Burma, Ceylon, Morocco and South Africa and former Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs.

Dr. Eleanor Lansing Dulles, who worked in the State Department for more than 20 years, will also be present.

City officials will travel to Sturgis Monday to take part in their Mayor Exchange Day. Tuesday is Heritage Day and the library will hold an open house and coffee hour between 1 and 3 p.m.

Wednesday, May 20, students will assume the city offices and be taken on a tour of local industries. The high school will have Turn-About Day with students and teachers exchanging positions.

Attention pie-eaters — The Goldennaires of the Senior Citizens will hold an open house at the Community Center from 1 to 4 p.m., and have baked 150 pies for the occasion. Everyone is invited to drop in for a few minutes.

Earle S. Wagner, mayor of Sturgis, and City Commissioner Fred Charlton will be here Thursday for Mayor Exchange Day. They will attend the Little Garden Club Flower Show at St. Peter's Episcopal Church at 1 p.m., and be part of a parade scheduled to begin at 5.

Jaycee Auxiliary Baby Contest King and Queen will ride in the parade and will be crowned after the parade, Thursday.

Bud Guest of WJR in Detroit, featured speaker at the Mayor's Exchange Banquet, will be greeted at City Hall at 4 p.m.

The banquet will be at the Union Hall beginning at 7 p.m. Musical entertainment will be provided by Betty Flanders and the Alley Cats and a 16-piece band under the direction of Elwood Brown, recreation director at a VA Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The Welcome Wagon will be in charge of festivities for Friday, Hospitality Day. Cars with out-of-state licenses will be stopped and presented gifts.

VFW Auxiliary will sponsor a "Hunt the American Flag" contest May 22 for all children 12 years old and younger. Ten small flags will be placed in conspicuous spots throughout the downtown area. The boy or girl reporting the location of the 10 flags first will call 423-2778 or 423-2345 and receive a check for five dollars.

The Girl Scouts are sponsoring a teen dance at the Community Center from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Girl Scouts Troop 329 are sponsoring the Youth Day Dance to raise funds for their 1972 trip to Switzerland. Band will be "Southline Brand". Tickets are 75c, and are available from Girl Scouts or at the door.

A gymnastics and baton twirling demonstration will be given in the high school gym at 1 p.m. Public is invited to attend.

Vicki Carpenter was crowned by Mayor William Holmes Tuesday to reign over Michigan Week activities in Tecumseh. Vicki is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carpenter of 1441 W. Chicago Blvd., and a junior at the high school. She will officially open Michigan Week at the bike race Saturday afternoon. Members of her court are, Denise Criss, Pat Weigle, Donna Springer and Ruth Rudd.

Bike-Car Crash Fatal for Brian Ruttkofsky

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Brian Edward Ruttkofsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ruttkofsky, 317 N. Pearl St.

Brian, who was nine years old, was riding his bicycle on Green Hwy., early Thursday evening when struck by a car driven by Larry Marvin, 17, 1802 E. Valley Rd., Adrian.

Marvin told sherrif's deputies that he saw a boy on a bicycle and slowed down. He said that he was going up a hill when Brian rode out of a driveway and into the path of his car. He swerved, but was unable to avoid the collision.

Mr. Ruttkofsky, who was working in a nearby field, witnessed the accident, but did not know Brian was involved until he approached the scene.

BRIAN RUTTKOFSKY

Brian was born Aug. 25, 1960, and was in the fourth grade at Patterson Elementary School. He was a member of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Surviving members of the family are, his father, mother, Treasa; two brothers, Earl and Ricky; and two sisters, Mary Ann and Delores, all at home.

Services were held at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church with Rev. Laszlo Gero officiating. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Boy, 9, Hurt by Tractor

Stewart Jones, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jones, 6643 Pennington Rd., is recovering from a broken pelvis he suffered in a tractor accident May 6 at his home.

The boy was holding the draw bar on a farm implement as his father backed the tractor toward it when the hand clutch slipped and the boy was pinned between the machinery.

He was pinned for nearly an hour before he was freed by the use of a lift truck.

Mobile Residence Destroyed by Fire

Fire nearly destroyed mobile home residence of Mrs. Carolina Loop Baldwin at 3745 W. Michigan Ave., five miles west of Michigan Tuesday night.

Clinton fire department was called at 9 p.m. and were on the scene for about two hours.

Mrs. Baldwin told firemen she had shut off the furnace, however she heard it crackling just before she saw the flames. She was not injured. Mrs. Baldwin resides alone.

Teacher Suffers Heart Attack

Mrs. Elray Finnegan, 44, third grade teacher at Sutton Elementary School, suffered a heart attack Monday morning while teaching her class.

She was taken to University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Candidates Seek Posts

CLINTON — Eight candidates have filed the necessary petitions for the two four-year terms on the School Board of Clinton Community Schools.

Candidates are Lester D. Proctor and Donald Geiger, incumbents, and Harold O. Brown, Glenn R. Clark, William A Stout, Jr. Robert J. Way, Robert F. Werner and George R. Wolf.

Millage requests to be placed on the June 8 ballot are to be determined at the regular meeting of the Board, May 19.

Youngsters Must Enroll

Officals are estimating that 250 will eventually be enrolled and urge parents to enroll their youngsters now at the Board of Education office, if they missed the annual Kindergarten Roundup.

Enrollment now is a necessity if a child is to take a state vision and hearing test here later this month and early June, and this test is required by law.

4 In Race for Board

Four candidates will seek two four-year terms on the Tecumseh School Board at the June election.

Those in the race are:

John J. Kish, purchasing agent at Faraday.

Joseph J. Conklin, local attorney.

William Macbeth, Tecumseh Products executive.

Dr. Donald Phelan, local dentist.

NEW RESTAURANT — Cedar Shack restaurant opens its doors this Thursday after two months of extensive remodeling. The steak house will seat 64 in its dining room, excluding the bar.

Cedar Shack Opens Today

Tecumseh's newest restaurant will open this Thursday when owners will open the doors for the first time at the Cedar Shack on W. Chicago Blvd.

The building, former home of Supt. James McDowell and later a laundromat, has been completely renovated for the steak house.

The dining room, completely carpeted and paneled with a large fireplace, will seat 64 at a single setting. A divider of cedar and louvered paneling separates the dining room from a bar.

Colonial type chairs and tables, covered with cloths, are enhanced by candlelight. The rustic setting also is set off by colonial print wallpaper and beams.

Owners Delbert King, Duane Bihlmeyer and Richard Ford have purchased all new equipment, including ranges, charcoal grills, refrigerators and preparation tables for the kitchen.

Work started on the building in March. A new vestibule-type entry was constructed, new floors installed and restrooms added along with a fireplace.

A garage, located near the rear of the property, was connected to the main building. It now serves as the kitchen.

The owners plan on serving lunches and dinners with hours running from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m.

Planners Vote Against Sale

Planning Commission, via motion, has recommended that the city retain ownership of Globe Mill Pond and that it be put into a capital improvement program as a recreation area.

This action was taken Tuesday night and resulted last week from Council forwarding a letter from Jack Osburn, local real estate broker, who wanted to buy the property.

Mr. Osburn attended the meeting and told the Commission and approximately 10 residents present that his proposal was strictly a business venture. He told Council last week that he would pay $15,000 for the pond property, comprising nearly 60 acres. He planned snowmobile trails, bridal paths, picnic areas and other recreational activities.

Council has been stuck with the property since purchasing it from Perry Satterthwaite. He sold it to the city on a land contract after the June, 1968 flood washed out the dam.

Officials have completed engineering plans for rebuilding the dam but have failed to come up with the necessary money. Federal or State aid is not available, and residents have objected to a special assessment program.

Budget Approved, Millage Increased to 14.5 Mills

Tecumseh's fiscal budget for 1970-71, amounting to $1,116,737 in anticipated income and expenditures of $1,124,224, was approved by Council at a special meeting Monday night.

The new budget will hike millage here by a half mill, raising city revenue from 14 mills to 14.5.

City Manager Cal Zorn pointed out that 1.11 mills of the total were voted by the people for revenue bonds for the waste water plant, leaving the city 13.39 mills for operation.

Tecumseh, according to its charter, can levy up to 15 mills, excluding voted millage. This leaves city officials 1.61 mills for operation before going to the polls and seeking additional millage from the residents.

Senior Citizens' Officers Elected

New officers, recently elected by Senior Citizens, had charge of the drop-in session Thursday.

Officers are: Charles Osgood, president; Mrs. Alva Rice, vice-president; Mrs. Roy Cadmus, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Gray, treasurer.

Cards were the diversion. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hunt and Mrs. Ida Youngjove.

Attending were 6 members and friends.

Next regular meeting will be May 14 with euchre and bridge games for diversion. Committee will be Mrs. Harriet Gallant, Mrs. Henrietta Lindsley and Mrs. Clara Wright.

Cyclist Is Injured

Four accidents were investigated the past week by Tecumseh police- including one which sent a motorcyclist to Herrick Hospital with a compound fracture of a leg and facial lacerations.

William G Snell, 33, Adrian, suffered these injuries after his motorcycle crashed into a car driven by Janice L. Damon, 23, of 116½ N. Maumee St., as she was crossing E. Chicago Blvd, at Wyandotte St., Wednesday night of last week.

She was cited for failure to yield the right of way and for no Michigan operator's license.

A resume of other mishaps is:

May 10—Richard E. Compton, 19, Newport, was charged with speeding after slamming into a stop and do-not-enter sign on S. Evans St.

May 12 — Wallace D. Brown, 44, of 207 Iroquois, bumped into the rear of a car operated by Robert A. Hackett, 18, of 509 Cairns St. Damage was minor. Brown, local fireman, was en-route to the station at the time and had his emergency light blinking. Hackett, due to traffic, was unable to get out of his way.

May 12 — Charles E. Perry, 22, Adrian, was cited for speeding after crashing into the guard rail on N. Ottawa St. at high school athletic field. He also was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control. He told officers that he was passing another motorist on the right and a tire blew out.

No Coaches, No Baseball

There is an urgent need for coaches and managers in the junior baseball program sponsored by the Recreation Department.

If more coaches are not found, the program will have to be eliminated.

There will be a meeting for prospective coaches on May 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center. If interested, contact Ward Eardley, recreation director, at 423-2107, ex. 25.

Two Are Hired for 1970-71 Term

Two teachers, Mrs. Jean Anderson and James L. Kingon, have been hired by the schools for the 1970-71 term.

Mrs. Anderson will teach third grade at Tecumseh Acres. She is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

Mr. Kingon, a June graduate at Adrian College, will teach fifth grade at Tecumseh Acres.

Blossoms Opening For Flower Show

Flowers will bloom in St. Peter's Church next week.

Late-flowering tulips and daffodils, early-blooming peonies and iris, myriads of spring blossoms will grace the church rooms as the Little Garden Club presents "Tribute in Flowers." The show will honor the late Edgar A. Guest, using bits of his verse to weave a tapestry of words and blooms.

The show is open to the public, with tickets available at the door from 1 to 8 p.m. Thursday, May 21.

The horticultural division, including both cut flowers and branches and house plants, is open to any amateur flower grower, with the deadline for entries Wednesday, May 20.

Those wishing to enter the show may contact Mrs. Richard Carmean or any member of the Little Garden Club.

Shower Honors Betty Leighton

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, assisted by hostesses Mrs. Donald Judd, Mrs. Patrick Bolen and Mrs. Willard Exethy, entertained for her niece, Betty Leighton, with a miscellaneous shower Saturday, from 4:30 to 8:30.

Miss Leighton received many lovely gifts for her sun-burst gold kitchen in her new trailer home. She was assisted in opening them by her sisters, Susan and Peggy Leighton.

Games were played. Prize winners selected their gifts from a shower of scarves and chose a gift from a basket for the honored guest. Door prize was won by Mrs. Robert Mayfield.

A buffet supper was served at 6:30 from tables decorated with pink rosebuds and lighted tapers.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lorell Davis and Mrs. Harley Watson of Adrian, Mrs. Harry Weakly, Mrs. John Tuefel, Mrs. Harry Crosby, Mrs. John Costello, Mrs. Carl Thompson, Mrs. Muriel Clark and Mrs. Margaret Leighton of Tecumseh and Mrs. Robert Mayfield and daughter, Sharon, of Ann Arbor.

Senior Citizens Hear Experiences

Twenty-six Goldenaires of the Senior Citizens gathered at Community Center Wednesday when several retired teachers told of interesting experiences they had during their teaching careers.

Four guests from Deerfield were present, hoping to gain information for starting a club there.

This group is open to anyone 50 years or older. Hobbies are most welcome and those already attending urge that others come for an afternoon of singing, dancing, shuffle board, etc.

Cards are played on Thursdays by the group meeting that day.

Lily Beagle and Mrs. George Green Sr. will be hostesses for this week.

Girl Scouts Stage Color Wheel Show

A water-ballet will be a portion of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council's Color Wheel program presented May 16 at Parkside High School, 2400 Fourth St., Jackson.

Janine Schneider, Lynn Murphy, Ann Backle, Hiliary North and Karen Klaassen will participate in swimming. Professional exhibits and shows will fill the day from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Tickets available at the door or from any Girl Scout.

WORK FOR FUND — Actively supporting the Howard Hyder Fund is Tecumseh's Welcome Wagon Club, with five of the members seen here with a $250 check for the Fund. The Club, which welcomes newcomers, works voluntarily for the Bloodmobile and hosts Hospitality Day during Michigan Week, has raised a total of $290 for the Fund. In the photo are Iva Caswell, Mary Bilkie, president; Karl Bates, vice-president; Marilyn DeShano, chairman; and Linda Borton, publicity.

You Told Us

Purnell Osburn has Mother's Day every Sunday morning. We think she is richly blessed and fully deserves it, too. As many as can of her adult family stop for coffee after church each Sunday and have for so many years that Purnell can't remember when it started.

She rationalizes, "When they married, I knew there was another side of the family to go to, too, but I wanted them to come once a week at least and I could make coffee even when I was teaching." This was a stint of 39.6 years, plus.

The Jack, Chuck and Jim Osburns, the Carl Kennels and Lowell Edwards are among the regulars and frequently the grandkids come along, too.

Neighbors are kind and leave Maiden Lane empty for the callers. This is appreciated by one and all.

We think Mother's Day is a great institution and this family has a really fine way of telling Mom they love her.

Carson House, Jr., returned home Monday from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he underwent surgery last week. He is improving daily.

√

Mr. and Mrs. George Van Camp, Jr., entertained 23 members of their families Sunday in observance of Mother's Day and their son's birthday anniversary. Craig was 17 Tuesday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Easton, Mr. and Mrs. James Harddrill, nee Marilyn Van Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Don Van Camp, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Camp, Sr., and Shirley Van Camp. The Harddrills have recently purchased a home on Kaiser Rd.

√

Mrs. Francis Packard had the cast removed from her right ankle May 4 but will be unable to walk on it until June.

√

Mrs. Albert Caesar will join her husband in Stone Mt., Ga., next Wednesday. In other words, they are moving. Boo Hoo!

√

Mrs. Laine Holden was pleased to have her entire family home for Mother's Day weekend. Joyce and Jill spent some time with their cousin, Stewart, who is seriously hurt at the local hospital.

Bill Whiting finally met his match. He's down with the dreaded mononucleosus at the MSU Health Center in East Lansing. Physicians expect to keep him in bed for two weeks according to his mom, Mrs. Wallace Whiting. We didn't think anything could get our favorite redhead down, but peers like he just is doing too much, as usual.

Pfc. Gillis Turner recently spent five weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reno Turner, 1205 Shady Lane. He has been sent to Chu Lai, Vietnam. While he was on leave Pfc. Turner was married to a girl in California. His address is:

Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Smith of Clinton-Macon Rd. plan to move to Caldwell, Idaho, June 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Noble and family of Wheaton Ill., were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and family.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kennel accopanied his mom, Mrs. Ernest Kennel, of Kenton, Ohio, back to her home Sunday after she had been their guest the preceding two days.

√

√

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Farley and son, Timothy, David and Patrick from Honor were guests over the weekend of Mrs. Dorothy Farley. Patrick was baptized by the Rev. Donald Portelous at United Methodist Church Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Farley, Daryl, Vonna and Michael of Sylvania, Ohio, were in attendance. All went to the Farley home after church where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCollum and daughter, Ruth, from Fenton for dinner.

√

Mrs. Ed Heilman, Mrs. Sally Pope and Bill went to Sevierville, Tenn., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Gaston Burridge Monday.

DUANE ARNOLD

Evangelist to Hold Revival Services

The Church of God, a Pentecostal church, at 202 S. Van Buren, will observe Pentecost Sunday May 17 with all-day services beginning at 10 a.m. At 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Rev. Duane Durham will speak on the Significances of Pentecost and the Pentecostal Baptism.

Duane Arnold, Church of God evangelist, will conduct revival services at 7:30 p.m.

Pentecostals subscribe to the traditional doctrine of the Trinity affirming that three Persons exist in one Godhead, coequal in substance, power and eternity.

The urgent need for believers to receive the Holy Ghost is specifically stated by Christ and is utterly believed by Pentecostals who also believe that speaking in tongues is the initial, empirical evidence of the baptism of the Holy Ghost.

They do not hold that speaking in tongues is the only evidence but simply that glossalalia is the first overt and audible evidence of the baptism.

Mr. Arnold is a senior at Lee College, Cleveland, Tenn., majoring in biblical education. His wife, the former Carolyn Spence of Hamilton, presently serves as executive secretary to the Church of God General Overseer.

Hyder Fund Over $1,800

18 Young Adults To Be Confirmed

One of the high spiritual moments of every year in the life of a Lutheran congregation is the hour when the catechumens approach the altar of God for the confirmation of their Christian faith, according to the pastor.

Next Sunday, May 17, the following young adults will be confirmed and admitted to receive their first Holy Communion in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church: Stephen French, Royal Gentz, Greg Illeck, Paula Macbeth, Sharon MacGeorge, Linda Pace, Sue Rufner, Tim Rutherford, Phil Rumpf, Paul Turlukowsky, Jean Wegner, David Wilson, Dixie Fowler, Roxan Kimpel, Marjorie Fry and Teresa Bohannon.

The Chancel Choir will sing "Beloved, Let Us Love One Another," under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Mason.

Public is cordially invited to this confirmation service starting at 10:30 a.m.

Board Members Elected by Church

Total of 314 ballots were cast last Sunday at St. Elizabeth's Church in the election of Parish Board and Education Committee.

Following were elected to the Parish Board, Robert Sage, Dr. Donald Phelan, Michael McCann, James Robideau, Wallace Whiting, Eulalio Pizana Jr., Gregory Porsthoefel, Catherine Roe and Patrick Connors.

Elected to the Education Committee were, Thomas Fagan, Fred McCrate, Mary Ann Phelan; Lois Hendricks, Jerome Kujawa and Mrs. Jack Ries.

All registered parishioners, 18 and over, will receive ballots in the mail to elect members to the remaining three committees of the Parish Council; Buildings and Maintenance Committee, Public Relations-Parish Services and grievance Committee and Liturgy-spirituality and Ecumenism Committee.

Deadline for voting is Sunday.

1902 school house is among the collection of village history being compiled by the Britton Camp Fire Girls.

News of Britton

Village History Compiled

BRITTON — The first of three schools in Britton was a wooden structure built west of the main four corners on the top a rise of 1839. It was called the "Van Tuyle" school after the first settlers in Britton.

In 1879, a two story brick school was built on the same lot. This was a ten grade school with lower grades on the first floor and high school on the second. Gertrude Knifen was the first graduate.

In 1902 a new school was built. This is part of the present school (pictured above as it was in 1902). In 1915, a gymnasium was added. In 1951 ten country districts were added, this is when the school became known as Britton-Macon. Many changes and additions have taken place since then.

Anyone having more information pertaining to the history of the Britton school, or other historical places, please contact any Camp Fire leader or Mrs. Lee Benedict, 7003 Britton Hwy., phone 451-2394 or Mrs. Gerald Price, 10960 Ridge Rd., phone 451-4055.

To Install Officers

BRITTON — The Women's Society of Christian Science of the United Methodist Church was entertained for its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth Robison.

President Mrs. George Forsyth opened the program by reading a thought provoking article on "Mothers."

The business session included regular WSCS reports and plans for an officer training school in Jasper on July 8, and the Mission school held at Adrian College, June 22 through 27.

A fitting memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Stutevant was given by Mrs. Clifford Southard.

Mrs. George Forsyth presented the study of the month on "Great Mothers of the Bible."

Thoughts of outstanding women of time were also noted, including their own mothers.

Essay Contest Award Winners

Three Britton-Macon students earned first, second and third place school awards for their entries in the third Annual Freedoms Foundation Eighth Grade Essay Contest sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

They will receive antique parchment reproductions of historical documents, presented by representatives of the sponsoring firm.

The Declaration of Independence reproduction for first place was awarded to Bill Bennett, Osborne St., Britton. The second place award, a replica of the Constitution, was presented to Diane Kotlarczyk, Clinton-Macon Rd. A copy of the original Indian Treaty giving Mackinac Island to the British was the third place award received by Mark Smetka, Hoagland Rd., Britton.

Over 200 schools and 3,500 students participated in this year's contest which was conducted through 52 Farm Bureau Insurance Group offices around the state. Last year, 68 schools and 900 students competed.

The school awards represent an important first plateau in the statewide contest. Student essays earning a first place school award are placed in statewide competition for the top award, a full expense-paid, four-day, three-night trip to Washington, D.C. with accomodations at the Statler-Hilton Hotel for student, parents and teacher.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

MEN'S HAIR GROOMING PREPARATIONS

There are numerous brands of men's hair grooming and conditioning products on the market. These products will help to hold the hair in place, impart sheen, make the hair feel smoother, and act as a conditioning agent for the scalp. However, they cannot affect hair growth or change the basic texture of hair. These are predetermined characteristics that cannot be changed.

Hair grooms and conditionings for men can be grouped into the following types: (1) liquid and solid brilliantines and pomades, (2) alcoholic lotions, (3 emulsions, (4) clear gels, and (5) aerosols.

Brilliantines and Pomades: These products are heavily marketed to both men and women. They impart a high degree of sheen and lubricity. The solid or semi-solid preparations have greater "grooming" qualities than the liquids. Products of these types have been on the market since before the turn of the century, but the modern forms are cosmetically more elegant and easier to use.

Alcoholic lotions: These are very popular. They are essentially an oil in solution with alcohol, and are most often clear solutions. The alcohol evaporates upon application to hair, leaving an oily film which acts as a light grooming aid. For many years castor oil was extensively used, but it has now lost popularity to synthetic oils. The synthetics do not become rancid or discolor as castor oil products do. The alcohol hair lotions are less greasy than brilliantines or pomades.

Emulsions: Emulsion and cream hair-dressings were introduced during World War II when alcohol for lotions became unavailable to the cosmetic industry. The emulsion types in liquid and semi-solid forms quickly became popular and dominated the market up until recently. The emulsions are available in two basic types: oil-in-water emulsion and water-in-oil emulsion. The basic difference is that the former can be diluted with water, and is readily rinsed from the hands or hair. The latter is not dispersed in water, and must be removed by soap or shampoo.

The creams, whether liquid or semi-solid, are easy and pleasant to use, without the oily or greasy feeling of many brilliantines or pomades.

Mineral oil still is the basic ingredient in most of these emulsions, but it is used with many other ingredients.

Clear gels: A recent development has been clear gel hair dressings. These are, for the most part, transparent gels that are packaged in tubes. These have all the desirable attributes of a good hair dressing, plus a high degree of esthetic appeal.

They are delicately balanced transparent compounds that are actually oil-in-water emulsions. The oil, which may be mineral or vegetable, is dispersed as submicroscopic particles. The gels also contain some water and may contain other ingredients.

A modification of the clear gel is the water-based gel with a low solids content. Gels of this type consist primarily of a high molecular weight, water-soluble, synthetic polymer, with additives to plasticize and modify the film that is left on the hair. After the water evaporates, the hair is left with a light, flexible transparent coating. These gels are greaseless and have excellent hair grooming qualities with particular appeal to men. They are usually crystal clear, with small bubbles suspended throughout.

You may have to experiment with several different brands and types of products before you find the type of product that is most suitable for your needs.

Britton Circles Hold Meetings

BRITTON — The four circles of Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Christian Church met last Tuesday, May 5 at 7:30 p.m.

The Mary-Martha Circle met at the home of Mrs. Robert Bush with 11 members and one guest present.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Douglas Palmer. It was reported that the flower arrangements had been taken to the Herrick Nursing Home for the patients. Mrs. Gerald Benedict gave the devotions with an article from the Farm Journal, entitled, "To a Son on Mother's Day." Mrs. Lillian Buttolph gave the program by presenting Mrs. Paul McKenna, who gave the Mary Todd Lincoln story, "Love Is Eternal." Mrs. Lowell Bush was the co-hostess for the meeting.

Twelve members and ten guests of the Sunshine Circle met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Seagert Tuesday evening with Mrs. Russell Pilbeam as co-hostess as well as program leader.

Mrs. Henry Brown gave the devotions and Mrs. G. O. Hannevik led the group in prayer.

The guest for the evening was Miss Donna Murphy, who showed slides of her trip to Belgium and Paris.

At the next meeting, which will be held in October, the women are to bring articles for kits to be sent to World Vision International, who will then send them to Vietnam.

A white elephant and bake sale was held with Mrs. Ivan Olds as autioneer. A sum of fifteen dollars was made from the sale and will go into the treasury.

The Priscilla Circle met at the home of Mrs. Murell Clark of Tecumseh, with eight members and one guest present.

The business meeting was conducted by the president Mrs. Harold Rohrback. The nylon stuffed comforters were finished and will go to the State Hospital. Mrs. Frank Kniffen gave the devotions on "Keeping of Spring and Flowers Within Our Daily Lives." Mrs. Margaret Leighton had her daughter Betty as guest, who is a beautician at the Golden Lady Beauty Salon in Ann Arbor. She gave a most informative lecture and demonstration on "Spring Beauty Tips."

Next meeting will be held in June, at which time all circles meet at the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church.

Mrs. Terry Faust was hostess to eight members of the Golden Rule Circle which met last Tuesday evening.

Roll call was answered by naming a woman of the Bible. The secretary and treasurer report was read and approved. Purchasing a new item for the church kitchen was discussed.

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt asked each member to participate in the devotions by handing out prayers for them to read. Mrs. Eberhardt was also in charge of the program. She showed slides of religious shrines and religious paintings of their recent visit to Quebec.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by the co-hostess, Mrs. Donald Judd.

Mrs. Merton Gillen Speaks to WCTU

President Mrs. Floyd Bryan, home from Florida, opened the WCTU meeting at the home of Mrs. Percy Slater Tuesday with prayer.

An original poem by Mrs. Emma Day, "The Fool Hath Said In His Heart," was read. It is based on Psalms 53, the beginning line reads, "You say there is no God, my son?"

A letter from Michigan Council on Alcoholic Problems was read by Mrs. Lillian Hoagland with the members voting to give $5 toward that work.

Mrs. Merton Gillen presented a program on "Our Family in the Community."

She told of the floating college of 25 students her granddaughter attends. The school visits colleges all over the world to learn about them. They study aboard ship and were told that anyone using dope would be put off at the next port. Five were dismissed for such behavior and parents could get their children home as best they could.

She told of visiting a WCTU meeting in Johnstown, Pa.

Mrs. William Grigg invited the group to her home for the June meeting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron with emphasis from J. Edgar Hoover's article stating that youth problems today are much the fault of their parents.

Mrs. Lynn Hubbard presented a program on "Mothers" for 11 members attending the meeting of Daughters of St. Peter's Church May 5 at the church.

Mrs. Hubbard read "What Is A Mother" and closed the program with a poem, "What a Little Girl Said."

Mrs. Cecile Smith led the devotions and read from St. Luke.

She also read a story from "Women of the Bible" followed by quotes and a discussion of the book.

Mrs. Earl Lindsley presided and she and Mrs. Hubbard served tea, coffee and cake.

Gray Manufacturing Sold

Gray Manufacturing Company, former owners of Faraday, Inc., has announced the sale of its dictation machine manufacturing business to Lanier Business Products, subsidiary of Oxford Industries, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

Faraday, Inc., bought by Gray Manufacturing Company in 1963, was sold by Gray to its present owners in August of 1968. At that time Gray moved its dictation business to Dover, New Jersey, and a number of Tecumseh residents moved to the new location.

Some of the former employees have accepted positions with the new owners and are moving to the Atlanta area.

They are Albert H. Caesar, named vice-president of Lanier Business Products, and Andre Derveaux, Ronald Fleming and John Howell.

Rudolph Grua has been named sales manager for the south-east district and will remain in New York with his family.

The Caesars are moving to the Atlanta area next week and will reside at 950 Garfield Court, Stone Mountain, Ga. 30083.

52 Cars Run At Manchester

By Nancy Martin

Fifty-two cars were timed Friday evening at Manchester Speedway. The quickest around the ¾-mile oval was Sportsman Modified class. Marv Carmen and the Super Stocks, Jim Stemen, who was driving in both classes of cars.

The heat races were run off quickly and smoothly. The first heat going to Don Earles, followed by Dick Theide, Sam Hensen and Carmen. Paul Whitaker took the lead in the second and held on for the win over Art Kimball. Ray Barnard and Bean Mackey. The third winner was Bob Paul by a big margin ahead of Jim Shook, John Weinhardt and Jerry Johnston.

There was one caution flag in the fourth as Bob Mckibbon really clobbered the back retainer wall. Nick Nichols did a real good job, coming from the back of the pack to take the checkered flag followed by Roger Ruff, Dick Taylor and Gerry Lippert.

The fifth heat was the Super Stocks and Jim Stemen made quick work of it, as he started in the back and took the lead on the third lap for the win over Don Dunn, Harold Hesler and Ed LaRoe.

The Sportsman pursuit had only three cars left by the seventh lap. Earles, Theide and Louie J Stemen, and they finished in that order. The Stock pursuit was short and sweet with Jim Stemen coming through again, passing everyone. Second was Dunn and third, LaRoe.

It always seems as if the heats run smoothly with no trouble, look out for the rest, and that's the way it was! The Semi was under the caution flag several times and the red flag twice.

The most serious being when Dave Marcum and Bob Paul went up the bank on number one turn, with Paul's car rolling several times. He was taken to the hospital for a check-up. Jim Shook finally came through the melee for number one place, followed by Gary Rhoades, Johnston, Lippert and Ken Liedel.

The Feature started out fine, with Jim Martin taking the lead for the first nine laps, when two cars spun on the fourth turn bringing out the yellow flag. On the green, Martin lost a radiator and Mackey took over the lead with four cars in close pursuit. As they came into the front straight, all five hit the front wall, causing the race to be stopped. The "lucky" winner was Dick Theide, being chased across the line by Dick Slade, Carmen, Larry Leidel and Louie J. Stemen.

It was a hectic finish to a good start, but we'll see them all back in action next Friday night.

Awarded Medal Of Commendation

Sp/5 John P. Hayden, was awarded the Army Commendation Medal, March 2 "for distinguishing himself by exceptionally meritorious performance of duty while assigned as a member of the United States Army during the period August 5, 1968 to December 23, 1969.

"Throughout his assignment he consistently demonstrated outstanding qualities of ingenuity, integrity and professional competence. The energetic application of his extensive knowledge and experience, coupled with his reliability for completing projects of great importance, contributed in large measure to the successful accomplishment of this Agency's highly complex mission.

"His dedicated sense of responsibility and genuine interest in his work served as an example for other personnel to emulate. The increased unit effectiveness and command prestige which resulted from his sustained efforts won for him the deepest respect and admiration of his associates. His initiative, unswerving loyalty, exemplary achievements and selfless devotion to the military service reflect utmost credit upon himself and the United States Army."

He is the son of Mrs. Perry Hayden and the late Mr. Hayden.

Navy Journalist Stationed in Tokyo

Journalist Third Class Petty Officer Robert D. Proctor, USS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Proctor, 209 Jackson St., Clinton, is now assigned to the Tokyo Head/quarters of the Far East Network at Asaka, Japan. He was promoted to his present rank on April 8.

JO3 Proctor, 21, joined the Navy in May, 1967. He is a 1966 Clinton High School graduate. Since joining the Navy, JO3 Proctor has been assigned to journalism-related duties in Sanford, Florida and Albany, Georgia. His present assignment with the Far East Network is an administrative specialist.

Far East Network is a part of the American Forces Radio and Television Service (AFRTS). Staff members of FEN from Army, Air Force, Marine Corps and Navy journalism and radio-television media. FEN supplies U.S. Military and civilian communities within Japan with the only 24-hour English language radio and television service.

Four Are Baptized

The sacrament of Christian baptism was performed Sunday morning during worship service at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Donald Porteous observed the rite for Douglas Franklin and Cynthia Edna Irene, children of Mrs. Marilyn Aylesworth; Kevin Anthony, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hill; and Patrick Matthew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Farley and grandson of Mrs. Harry Farley.

DAMAGING MISTAKE

According to some people I know, who like to be referred to as financial wizards, it is important to have several creditors who are able to provide good references.

I agree with this idea, especially if someone wants to borrow money from a bank or apply for a charge account at a store. This store has several methods available to check the credit rating of the individual applying for the account.

They can contact the stores or banks listed as references. And two, they can check with a credit bureau to determine whether the application should be accepted or rejected.

Friends of mine, I will call Jim and Joyce, recently applied for a charge account at a large department store. Of the three places which they already have accounts, one is paid and the other two amount to less than $15. They don't even make car payments which really surprised the lady in the credit department because she thought, "Everybody is paying for a car."

Jim, therefore, was confident that the application would be approved quickly. He was sadly mistaken.

When they returned to the store on a Wednesday night, five days after making the application, it was learned that it had been denied. The girl working that night said she was unable to tell them why it had been denied, but if they would like to come back the next day, the credit manager would be glad to explain why.

The next morning, they received a brief note from the store in the mail expressing their regrets over the denial, but hoping they would continue to shop at their store, ". . . taking advantage of our everyday low prices and grant us the privilege of serving you again."

So that afternoon Jim and Joyce once again returned to the store. They were told that the application had been denied because of outstanding debts with the credit bureau. Jim's stunned and disbelieving response was, "We do?"

They haven't been married long enough to build up even some little debts, let alone outstanding ones.

It seems there is another person in town with the same name as Jim's. It also seems the information which was responsible for the credit denial came from the credit bureau.

Putting these two together produces a result of neglect and careless handling of facts by personnel in the bureau. Since his middle initial and the other person's are not the same, confusion of material does not seem justifiable.

So Jim and Joyce paid the credit bureau a visit. After explaining the reason for the denial to a secretary, they were taken to the manager, who was given the other Jim's file and his.

After the manager had leafed through both files, he turned to Jim and asked, "Now, what's your problem?" On a rating of one to ten points for dumb questions, that one, with luck, might reach .5. That's about equal to the question, which way's up?

The people who sit around all day and clip little items out of newspapers for the bureau files had paid no attention to middle initials. The only item they had which pertained to Jim was the marriage license notice. And that was in the wrong file.

Before any information is released by the bureau, they should be absolutely certain that it is correct. Suppose Jim's name had been placed in their bulletin under bad credit risks and circulated thoughout the county, or even the state.

Wonder if that "mistake" falls into the realm of libel?

As they were leaving the bureau, the manager bade them farewell with, "Tickled that you came in so we could get this straightened out." Yes, Jim was really tickled too.

Some people were unsympathetic with the problem, which I felt was very important. One person said, "Well, everybody makes mistakes." My reply would be that mistakes like that should not be made because they can prove to be very damaging.

It would be a real shame to be saddled with a poor credit rating because somebody wasn't concerned enough to look at middle initials, or social security numbers, or birth dates, or any positive identifying feature.

One of the journalistic ethics which I learned in college is to print only the truth because you're dealing with people's reputations. A false statement can be so damaging that no number of retractions can correct it.

I wonder how the credit bureau's ethics read?

Mrs. H. F. Moore Attends Assembly

Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore, Britton, was among 10,000 United Methodist women from all 50 states and overseas who attended the 1970 Assembly of the Women's Society of Christan Service and Wesleyan Servce Guild in Houston, Texas, May 7-10. The theme of the Assembly was "Choose Life."

The Assembly brings United Methodist women together for inspiration, study, discussion and fellowship and to focus attention on their work in missions, Christian social relations and other areas of church life and work.

Alumni Banquet To Be Presented

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon Alumni Banquet and Dance will be held on Saturday, June 6, at the high school cafeteria and gym. Starting time will be 6:30 p.m. for the banquet and 9 p.m. for the dance.

The program will include Mike Prochaska as toastmaster and singer Mary Shepard with the Lamplighters providing the dance music. Mrs. Henry Brown will be the chief cook for the roast beef dinner.

The classes of 1945 and 1920 will be specially honored this year.

This year's officers are: Larry Ivan, president; Louis Loesh, vice-president; Judy Crittendon, secretary-treasurer; Nina Bowers, assistant secretary-treasurer; Ken and Shirley Ivan, program committee and Suzanne Smith, general arrangement committee.

Any alumnus interested in attending the festivities are asked to send three dollars per person, to Mrs. Larry Crittenden, 3926 Boyd St., Tecumseh, Mich. 49286.

Michael House Given Mention

Michael House, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson House, Jr., received honorable mention in National Scholastic competition recently.

Mrs. Mervyn Boltz, his teacher for the past four years, was given notification recently that one of his entries in Detroit News Writing Award contest was sent to national competition but it was not learned which one. Mr. House entered in both poetry and light verse...

Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of my dear mother, Mary P. Jones, who left us eleven years ago, May 12, 1959

Eleven years ago I said goodbye;
My love for you will never die;
The beautiful years while you were here,
I will always cherish, oh so dear,
God has you now in heaven above,
I'm sure He has told you, "I send my love."

Loved and remembered everyday by her loving daughter Lee Horton and family.

Card of Thanks

Players Present Comedy as Finale

By Virginia Murray

"Mr. Barry's Etchings" is the story of a man with innumerable talents who finds life full of sham and foolishness. He builds an apartment over the stable on his father's estate, and spends his life as a full-time "friend of man." He helps everyone, the mayor, the townspeople, building model airplanes for the boys, and repairing dolls for little girls, even finding time to listen to young people, their problems and dreams.

He is enjoying a rich, full life, when fate deals him a handfull of spades; the pleasures of a simple, happy life are indeed too good to last. How Mr. Barry handles himself in the clinches, is the basis of the drama. To tell more of the story would spoil the surprises; even the title, a "Double Entendre," is indicative of the author's fine hand with comedy.

Mr. Barry is played by Gail Rothfus, supported by his stage sister, Jo Wegner. Their skill in holding together the main action of the play, allows some deft scene stealing on the part of the other members of the cast. Kudos to Charlotte Parker, Dwane Steele for their deft handling of the "gangster" roles. Again, the "Vallelunga" shows that there is no such thing as a small part, turning the minor roll of the undertaker's wife into a personal triumph.

Randy Baker, the male juvenile, showed surprising stage presence; his entrances brighted every scene. Unfortunately, the author did not give the minor players any great comedy or brilliant dialogue, and they struggle to build their parts to balance the leads. The set was well-designed and executed by Don Wetter, and the make-up exquisite.

The young romantic leads, Lee Ann Schneider, Rene Crombez, and Jan Paige are developing into fine artists, and should be able to provide the Players with a backlog of talent. Lyle Dorman adds strength to the final scenes as a flamboyant Hollywood director. Phil Campbell, the conservative suitor, gets a rave notice for the exquisite handling of his role, and the fine job he did designing his make-up and costumes.

It is most unfortunate that in the air-conditioning capitols of the world, both patrons and actors should have to swelter in an over-heated and badly ventilated Glass Room. It seriously affected the energy level of the players, and the enjoyment capacity of the audience.

Slagh Appointed Junior Councilor

District 12 Order of DeMolay, held the annual meeting in Monroe May 9. Attending from Tecumseh were Mark Hayford, Michael Morse and Mark Slagh.

The day-long meeting included workshops, conferring of Jock DeMolay degree, selection of the district sweetheart, a banquet in the evening and finally installation of new district officers.

Included in the state priory installing team was Michael Morse as senior deacon. He also escorted Nancy Roy of Madison, Lenawee DeMolay sweetheart.

Mark Slagh was installed as district junior councilor. At the close of the service, Michigan State Dad Advisor Jack Myers and State Master Councilor Gary Lukovich, recently elected to international master councilor joined in presenting Mark with his Representative DeMolay certificate and pin.

Attending the installation from Tecumseh were Dad and Mrs. Clair Morse and Cathy, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Slagh and Judy.

District 7 of Jackson entertained District 12 Monday evening. This event was attended by Dad Morse, Mark Slagh, Phil Otter and Mark Hayford.

Young Mothers Shown Ceramics

Mrs. Lola Hall, Britton, showed many interesting pieces of ceramics and explained how they were made at the Young Mothers Club annual tea held Wednesday evening at the Country House.

Mrs. Hall is the instructor, along with Mrs. Dora Ruhl, at Dora's Ceramic Shop.

Mrs. Kenneth Bortel gave the invocation.

Mrs. Allen Wagenschutz, president, was the toastmistress.

After dinner, 15 members and 20 guests sang four songs, led by Mrs. Richard Bruce and Mrs. Harry Keller.

Artificial floral centerpieces were won by Mrs. Clifford Southard, Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Mrs. Elmer Burleson.

Flower pot programs were made by Mrs. Bortel, Mrs. Wagenschutz and Mrs. Bruce. Each one attending received an artificial corsage, hand-made by members.

Next meeting will be June 16 instead of June 3.

Tories Bombed By Minutemen

BRITTON — The Britton Seniors were on their senior trip and Deerfield took advantage over the sophomores and juniors, beating them 24-5. The Tories tried three different pitchers, but couldn't stop the Deerfield bats. The loss leaves Britton with a 2-5 league record. Deerfield is now 5-3.

Britton	001	031	0— 5
Deerfield	713	535	x—24

Golf Team Wins

Tecumseh's golf team easily defeated Gibraltar Carlson last Wednesday by the score of 162-198 at the Lilac Brothers course in Newport.

Ralph Miller and Bill Damon were co-medalists with 38's, followed closely by Bill Gibson with a 39 and ob Miller, who shot 40.

The Indians extended their winning streak to six Monday afternoon as they downed Grosse Ile, 166-171.

Bill Damon was low man again with a fine round of 40, which included two birdies. Ralph Miller and Bill Gibson both checked in at 41, with Gibson missing a hole-in-one by six inches. Bob Miller rounded out the scoring with a 44.

Tecumseh has now won 16 league dual meets in a row over the last two years and has a three-year league record of 37-3.

The next meet is the regionals this Friday at the Raisin River Course in Monroe.

Poppy Sale

Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge, chairman of Poppy Days for the Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34, says that preparation is well under way for poppies to be available to the public on May 22 and 23.

Poppies are made by disabled veterans in government hospitals across the country. Supplies are free to veterans for this purpose and they receive 2½ cents per poppy.

The American Legion Auxiliares purchase poppies for their volunteer members to distribute in convenient places for the public to purchase and wear in honor of the fallen soldiers of all wars.

Many living disabled veterans and their families are helped through the proceeds derived from the contributions to the poppy fund.

Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34 has purchased 7,500 poppies and members are proud to be entrusted with disbursements of the Rehabilitation and Child Welfare funds.

No Lite-A-Bike Project by VFW

Auxiliary to Hall-Slater VFW Post 4187 and the Girl Scout Troop No. 100 which they sponsor, will not be taping bicycles Saturday, May 16, at the Community Center.

Notification by National Headquarters that due to government restrictions and economic conditions within the country, the 3M Company can no longer provide the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States with reflective tape for the Lite-A-Bike Program.

As co-sponsors of the Lite-A-Bike project, the 3M Company has furnished reflective tape to the VFW Posts and other units, free of charge, for the past seven years.

Lynne Schultz and William Hawley Wed

Lynne Marie Schultz became the bride of James William Hawley Saturday evening at United Methodist Church in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Donald Porteous.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schultz, 411 W. Brown St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hawley of Walbridge, O.

Mrs. Donald Bush was the organist and Mrs. Robert Billings of Walbridge, the soloist.

The bride wore a floor length gown of satapeau designed in an empire silhouette with beaded Chantilly lace appliques on the bodice, fashioned with scoop neck, long puffed sleeves, A-line skirt and chapel train.

A double Dior bow of organza trimmed with tiny lace appliques studded with seed pearls and rhinestones held her elbow length veil of illusion.

She carried a cascade of two cymbidium orchids and pink and white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Donald Martin, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor in a pale pink chiffon floor length gown over taffeta accented with lace and shocking pink ribbon at the high neckline and sleeves and at the back waistline. She carried a colonial bouquet of white pompons and pink carnations.

Mrs. William Chambers, sister of the groom, of Walbridge, Lucille Osburn and Mrs. Harold Warner were the bridesmaids, all attired the same as Mrs. Martin.

James Robinson of Millbury, O., was best man and the guests were seated by Larry Sigler, Rick Hawley, brother of the groom, John Allensworth, cousin of the groom, Rev. Blair and Ray Medlin, all of Ohio.

Bridal colors were carried out in the decorations at the reception at United Products Workers Union Hall. Those assisting with the serving were Diane and Mary Schultz and Debbie Hawley.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Tecumseh High School and was formerly employed at University of Michigan Medical Center.

The groom, a 1966 graduate of Lake High School, who attended University of Toledo, is employed at Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., in Toledo.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Country House.

Following a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Va., the couple will live in Millbury, O.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES W. HAWLEY

RETIREMENT PARTY — Mr. and Mrs. George Hubert of Monroe were honored April 30 at a retirement party at Tecumseh Country Club. Mr. Hubert retired May 1 as hearing referee for Bureau of Workmen's Compensation for Michigan, an office he had held for the past 34 years. Nearly 175 friends, attorneys and state officials from all over the state gathered for the informal event attended also by Rep. Ray Kehres and Barry Brown, chairman of Department of Labor.

Brooks and VanSickle Speak Vows

Pamela Kay Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Jr., 501 Parkway Ct., and Richard Allen VanSickle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. VanSickle, Sr., 8968 Tipton Hwy., were united in marriage Friday evening at First Baptist Church by the Rev. Blair Bashore.

White gladioli were used in the altar vases and two full candelabra formed the setting for the wedding with bows and flowers on the pews.

Mrs. Fred Dickinson was the organist, accompanying Mrs. George Brenner, soloist, of Clinton.

Escorted down the carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of peau de soie made by her mother and designed by the bride herself.

It had long tapered sleeves and a chapel train falling naturally from the empire waist. It was appliqued with re-embroidered Brussels lace on bodice, sleeves, skirt and train with a sprinkling of candlelight seed pearls.

A Juliet cap matching her dress secured her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a Bible topped with white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. John Clark was matron of honor in a navy blue chiffon gown over taffeta styled with empire waist, round collar and full sleeves accented with red buttons.

She wore a matching circlet of navy with red and white illusion layers on her hair and carried red gladioli florets with red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Ned Tucker of Kalamazoo, Mary Lynn Blumerick, Ann Arbor, Polly Fielder and Debbie VanSickle were the bridesmaids with Tracey Wiseman, cousin of the bride, of Owosso, as flower girl.

All were attired as the matron of honor. Miss Wiseman carried a basket of white rose petals to drop.

Dan VanSickle served as best man for his brother and Larry Shea, Timothy Baker, Harvey Schmidt and Craig Simon of Waterford, seated the guests.

Jeffrey Sheldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sheldon, served as ring bearer.

Lighted tapers and red and white floral arrangements with navy trim were used at the reception at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sheldon, aunt and uncle of the bride, of Dundee, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loveland, aunt and uncle of the groom, were hosts for the reception.

Those assisting were Mrs. Troy Clawson, Mrs. Homer Betz, Mrs. Timothy Baker, Beth O'Neil, Kathy and Kandy VanSickle, sisters of the groom.

The bride attended Eastern Michigan University for two and one-half years and is employed at University of Michigan in the accounting department.

Her husband, a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School, spent four years in the United States Marine Corps, and is employed at Tecumseh Products Co. under the apprenticeship program.

Mr. and Mrs. VanSickle entertained for the rehearsal dinner at Luce's Dining Room in Tipton.

MRS. RICHARD A. VAN SICKLE

C. Strand, M. Whelan Were United in Marriage Saturday

Carol Louise Strand and Michael Dale Whelan were united in marriage Saturday afternoon in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Henry Strand, 1205 Murray Drive and the late Mr. Strand and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Whelan, 207 Democrat St.

Mrs. Donald Johnson served as organist.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Henry Strand III, the bride wore a street length gown of white whipped cream crepe with cowl collar and sleeveless long lace coat.

Her brief veil was attached to a flower formed with ribbon and accented with seed pearls and lace matching her coat. She carried white orchids and carnations with pink rose buds.

Sonja J. Strand, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in a dress of pink nylon with pleated skirt, white lace sleeves and overall to the dropped waistline.

She wore pink flowers in her hair with a brief veil and carried one white orchid and pink carnations.

Phillip Mobley was best man and the guests were seated by Donald Whelan, brother of the groom, and Louis Banoai of Ypsilanti.

Pink and white carnations were used in decorating the IOOF Hall for the reception for 150 guests.

Both young couple are graduates of Tecumseh High School. He spent two years in the Army and is employed at Rawsonville plant of Ford Motor Co.

They will take a trip through northern Michigan before making residence at 407 E. Pottawatamie St.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom at their home.

Forthcoming marriage of Diane M. Lake to Richard H. Gerten is being announced by her parents, Lewis Lake of Adrian and Mrs. Betty Frederick, Tecumseh. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gerten, 9586 Tonneberger Dr. Both young people are students at Western Michigan University. An August 14 wedding is planned.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHAT IS THE UNPARDONABLE SIN?

This title is not in the Bible. In some senses there are no sins which cannot be forgiven.

The Scripture which brings this subject to light is found in Matthew 12. The situation demands we limit our answer to two possibilities.

Some Bible scholars think one could only do what Jesus said here, while He was on earth. The attributing of the power of Jesus to the Devil was unpardonable.

Secondly, there is an attitude which cannot be forgiven. Men and women are condemned to hell because they reject Jesus Christ and His sacrifice on Calvary. If one dies without salvation through Jesus' name there is no possibility of pardon.

We must be careful to distinguish between the above and sins which Christians commit that result in their being taken home to Heaven.

Salvation is available to all — John 3:16 - John 6:37.

Memorial News

Sp/4 Keith E. Auten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Auten, 7547 E. Monroe Rd., received his discharge from Ft. Hood, Tex., recently after serving two years in the U. S. Army. Before returning home, he spent 10 days vacationing with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Auten, in Bradenton, Fla. After his stay, Keith drove his grandparents back to Britton, concluding their winter stay in Florida.

Auto Stolen by 2 Youths

Suzette Luckhardt, Brooklyn, reported her automobile stolen from the Tecumseh Country Club at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Clinton State Police apprehended two juvenile boys in the vehicle on Clinton-Macon Rd. about one-half hour later. the 15 and 16 year old boys, one from Clinton and one from Tecumseh, were turned over to Probate Court.

Alumni Banquet Preparations Made

Kay Rickard Cubberly and Sally Vincze Korte, co-chairmen of Tecumseh High School alumni banquet preparations, urge that grads come to the event June 27 to see Tecumseh's "own Charlie Weaver," as master of ceremonies.

A punch hour will be held at 7 p.m. preceding the banquet.

Dinner will be served by Macon Methodist Churchwomen in the school cafeteria. Theme of the evening will be "Remember When" and roll call will be a highlight of the program.

Resumes will be given by representatives of the classes of 50, 25 and 10 years ago. Dennis Bryan will sing.

Invitations have been sent to class members in the even years and all others are urged by the chairman to attend.

Volunteers for decorating are needed even though a good many of the class of 1960 have been working on the arrangements.

A meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cubberly on Herrick Park Drive Sunday, May 17, at 3 p.m. for more planning.

Tickets at $4 per person and reservations are available at Gambles, Don's Beef Buffet, Lamb's Pharmacy or Jean Colgrove's Gift Shop.

Camp Fire Girls Visit Miller Farm

On May 5, the Kez hi kone, wik mun kee wee Camp Fire Girls of Ridgeway and their leader, Mrs. Jorge Galindo, visited the Centennial Farm of Otto Miller located on Tangent Road. The farm is a Homestead Farm originally deeded to Oliver Miller by the United States government in 1835.

Among the many interesting items the girls were shown was a Biographical Album dated 1888 and an antique wall telephone which was in use until the present dial system.

After seeing the house the girls were taken into a woods on the farm and there they picked many wild flowers to study later at home. Before leaving the farm Mrs. Miller served the girls Kool-Aid and home grown popcorn.

P.O. Russ Miller Finishes 2 Weeks' Reserve Training

Petty Officer Third Class Russell H. Miller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Miller of 12560 Tipton Highway, completed two weeks of active duty training with the Naval Air Reserve at Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

As a member of Anti-Submarine Squadron 64Y2, attached to Naval Air Facility Detroit at Mt. Clemens, he drills one weekend every month and trains two weeks every year to maintain his readiness as part of the overall Naval Air Reserve structure.

Project Rainfall

4-H RAIN WATCHERS IN ACTION

By ROBERT OSBURN

Project Rainfall has existed as a warm-weather project for Lenawee 4-H'ers since 1968. The 4-H'ers have recorded the daily rainfall with the objective of learning more about the weather and what rainfall patterns exist in Lenawee County. This is the first in a series of articles which discusses the lives of those from the northeastern part of the county who are participating in the project.

ELFIE BUELL

Elfie Buell, 17, is a third year participant in Project Rainfall, having joined the project when it was begun in 1968.

Like most Project Rainfall participants, she has kept complete records of the rainfall. In 1968, Elfie had the maximum recorded rainfall in the county for the May 4 - July 7 period, with 24.55 inches. That was a wet year, as we all probably well remember.

She has been a 4-H member of the Tipton Jets for seven years. During those years, she has been active in many projects: clothing, two years; sheep, four years; baking, last five years; knitting, last six years; photography, last two years; horses, last three years; goats, last three years; teen leadership, last two years as well as Project Rainfall.

An 11th grader at Tecumseh High School, Elfie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Buell. The family lived in Springville until Elfie was two years old, then moved to their farm two miles north of Tipton where they now live.

For Elfie, Project Rainfall has been a challenge to be more observant of the weather. She says she "notices the weather more", and wants to see if it turns warmer or colder after a rain. She notes that on one day a month or so ago we had hail, snow, rain, wind and sleet. What a conglomoration!

The Buells raise many goats. They've purchased "Toggenburg" goats from the Lutz family in Saline, probably the nation's most famous breeders of this breed of goat. The "Toggenburgs" have deer-like markings, and are always some shade of brown. Mrs. Lutz will be judging goats at the county fair this year.

Elfie wants to go to Michigan State University after she graduates. She hopes to study Spanish and possibly animal husbandry and veterinary science.

A May basket was hung on Pamela Wisner Friday. The children that participated were Dave and Mike DeGroot, Steve, Tom, Bonnie, Mary, Jim, Allen and Judy Brosamer, Janice Whelan and brothers and sisters of Miss Wisner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wisner held a birthday anniversary dinner for their daughter, Pamela, whose birthday anniversary was May 2. They celebrated Sunday with a family party. Godparents attending were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rathke and children, Tommy and Steven; aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Les Bowden and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sweeney and Pamela's uncle, William Wilke. A birthday cake was served.

Raisin Center Friend's Church held a Mother and Son banquet May 7. Teen-age girls served 120 present. Men prepared the food. Program toastmistress was Mrs. Lela Ladd. Special music was presented by the boys' ensemble. Ladies' trio, Mrs. Elsie Basinger, Mrs. Helen Bennett and Mrs. Jean Shreve, sang. Several girls presented a fashion show. Speaker for the evening was the Rev. Herbert Burch who showed slides of his recent trip around the world. Theme of the banquet was "All For Jesus".

Mrs. Allen Reister was guest of honor Monday evening at a stork shower at the home of Mrs. Wilson Sawyer. She was assisted by the honored guest's sister-in-law, Mrs. Arnold Reister. Twenty guests enjoyed games with prizes won by Mrs. Dale Redfield of Onsted, Connie Case of Blissfield and Fern Staup of Nashville, who in turn gave them to the honored guest. Angel food cake, ice cream, nuts, mints, punch and coffee were served from a table decorated with a sweetheart cake flanked by yellow candles. Mrs. Rolland Reister, of Adrian, sister-in-law of the honored guest, cut the cake. Fern Staup and Mrs. Helen Case of Blissfield, aunts of Mrs. Reister, poured beverages. A bassinet filled with gifts was given to Mrs. Allen Reister.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Calvert and daughter, Lynn, of Lansing spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Walter German.

Mrs. Mamie Gritzmaker and Mrs. Agnes Judson had Sunday dinner with Mrs. Ruth Rappold of Blissfield.

Summons Issued

Carl E. Walker, 24, 4127 Allen Rd., was ticketed by Clinton State Police for driving too fast, when his automobile blew a tire and he lost control and swerved off the highway.

Mishap occurred at 12:10 a.m. Sunday on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., at Allen Rd.

Positions Open for Goodwill Tour

Several Michigan Farmers and their wives will embark by jet August 25 to visit farms in Europe including the Soviet Union, as members of an official People-to-People Goodwill Tour.

There's still a chance for interested individuals or couples to sign up for the tour if they act within the next few days, according to tour leader Stan Quackenbush, deputy director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. He can be contacted at his office in the Lewis Cass Building, Lansing, or by telephone, 517-373-1098.

Purpose of the visit will be to learn methods and working conditions in lands abroad, as well as to visit with people in many lands in the interest of international goodwill.

People-to-People is an internationally-approved, privately sponsored program. Quackenbush said that many doors in foreign lands, ordinarily closed to travelers, will be opened for this official group.

RESOLUTION

Meeting of the City Council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, held on the 20th day of April, 1970

Present: Mayor Holmes; Councilmen Bilkie, Knisely, McCombs, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

Absent: None.

The following preamble and Resolution was offered by Councilman McCombs and supported by Councilman Knisely.

WHEREAS Council deems it advisable to vacate and discontinue that part of a public street, to-wit: that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street; and

WHEREAS it is the declaration of Council that proceedings be initiated to effect the vacating and discontinuance of the public street hereinbefore referred to.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved:

1. That it is the declaration of Council that portion of Pine Street that extends South of Willow Street and North of Park Street, in the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, be vacated and discontinued.

2. That the description of the lands encompassing that portion of Pine Street declared vacated is as follows:

All that part of Pine Street on the Plat of Sunset Meadows and on Sunset Meadows Plat III, the North Line of which is described as commencing in the North line of Lot 8, said Plat of Sunset Meadows at a point 104.14 feet Easterly from the Northwest corner of said Lot 8 for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; and running thence East 114 feet, more or less, to a point in the North line of Lot 7, said Plat, which is located 100 feet North 89°23' West from the Northeast corner of said Lot 7; and the South line of which is described as being the Southern terminal of Pine Street as extended to its point of intersection with the South line of Lots 84 and 86, Plat of Sunset Meadows III.

3. That the City of Tecumseh, a municipal corporation of Lenawee County, Michigan, reserves and excepts therefrom a permanent easement for any lawful purpose over and across a strip of land 10 feet wide off and across each side of the North-South center line of the lands described in paragraph two immediately above.

4. That Monday, June 1, 1970, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., in the City of Tecumseh Council Chambers located at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan, be appointed and designated as the time and place that Council will meet and hear any objections to the vacating and discontinuance of the lands and the reservation of easements set forth.

5. That a copy of this Resolution shall be published weekly for not less than four consecutive weeks in The Tecumseh Herald prior to said meeting.

6. That objections to such proposed action of Council may be filed with the City Clerk in writing during the usual City of Tecumseh business hours.

Ayes: Unanimous.

Nays: None.

Resolution declared adopted.

Dated: 20 April 1970.

Banquet Theme Is 'Ladies Hats'

MACON — United Methodist Mother-Daughter Banquet was attended by 150 guests Saturday. The invocation was given by Mrs. Thomas Badley. Mrs. Donald Young was the toastmistress for the evening.

Julie Hewlett gave the toast to the mothers and her mother, Mrs. John Hewlett, responded with the toast to the daughters. Gifts were given to Mrs. John Taylor for the oldest mother, she also received a gift for oldest mother born in Lenawee County.

Robin Swisher was the youngest daughter present. Highest total ages of mother and daughter combined was given to Mrs. Helen Robinson. Mrs. Kate Thompson of Kesh, Ireland, was given the gift for the mother born the farthest from Macon. Mrs. Thomas Swanston and Mrs. Gerald Thomas tied for the grandmother with most granddaughters present. Mrs. Gerald Thomas also won the prize for the largest family present.

Mrs. W. P. Van Orden presented the program, "An Evening With Hats".

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt and son, Stephan, who reside near Bonn, Germay, and a friend, Marie Gockeln, of Brussels, Belgium, are visiting for three weeks with Mr. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Schmidt.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Holland were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Howard Hause, and Neil Hause. Mrs. Hause returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Richard Hilderly and daughters, Janet and Virginia, of Mason, attended the Mother and Daughter banquet at the United Methodist Church, Saturday, with her mother, Mrs. Wesley Proctor. Mrs. Proctor was the featured speaker and displayed her collection of dolls.

A daughter, Sheryl Ann, was born May 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Porter at Rockingham, N. C. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Treat are visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Norcross were dinner guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Esterbrook and family, Mother's Day.

Mrs. Robert Warzynski and children, Jeff and Robin, of Dayton, O., spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Artz. Sunday guests included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bogedain, Karla and Bridget, of Milan, and Mrs. Artz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stubbe, of Jackson, who recently returned from a winter in Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bryan entertained at a dinner party on Mother's Day for their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dinius, of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bryan, of Britton, and Dennis' grandmother, Mrs. Floyd Bryan.

Sunday evening 15 guests were present from Tecumseh, Britton, Tipton and Clinton, for a birthday observance honoring Dennis Bryan. Mrs. Bryan served ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Jay Adrion of Jackson attended the banquet at the Methodist Church with her mother-in-law, Mrs. John Adrion.

Linda Corwin returned home Friday from St. Joseph Hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Adams, Scott and Greg, entertained for Mother's Day and also celebrated the first birthday anniversary of Greg. Guests included great - grandmother, Mrs. Maude Creger, of Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Creger, Ron and Jim, Ms. and Mrs. Harold Adams, Mrs. Jack Ketchum, Doug and Barbara of Ypsilanti Evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clemans, Larry and Tracy. Homemade ice cream and cake was enjoyed in the afternoon. Gregory was remembered with many cards and gifts.

Approaching marriage of LuAnn Marie Rhoades to Carl Edson Schwab is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoades, Clinton-Macon Rd., Clinton. Miss Rhoades is a graduate of Clinton High School in 1966, attended Lois School of Cosmetology and is currently managing LuAnn's Beauty Salon in Clinton. Mr. Schwab is the son of Mrs. Russell Schwab, Tecumseh St., Clinton, and the late Mr. Schwab. He graduated from Clinton High School in 1964 and received a BA degree from Michigan State University. He is currently attending the Detroit College of Law and is employed by the public accounting firm of Richard D. Crittenden, CPA, Southfield. A June 26 wedding is planned.

New Books

JUNIOR READERS

WE REACH THE MOON. This is a shorter version of the best-selling adult title, by John N. Wilford.

MORMONS, by K. Elgin. This is the second book in the Freedom to Worship series. Miss Elgin tells a thrilling story of men and women who contributed to the growth and development of America.

ADULTS

CROOKED HOUSE, by Agatha Christie. There was a killer in the normally pleasant home of the late Aristide Leonides. It was impossible that one of the family could be a murderer . . . or could it?

SHE WAS ONLY THE SHERIFF'S DAUGHTER, but it was a tragedy to a sweet sixteen who had never been kissed. What boy in his right mind would take out the sheriff's daughter? Lulu Cantrell, a rich cattleman's daughter, had lots of boy friends, but then Lulu and her father were brutally murdered and Patsy, decided to solve their murders. By Stanton Forbes.

TEMPTATION OF ANGELIQUE. Another in the Angelique series by Sereanne Golon.

JIM KANE. J. P. Brown tells the story of the modern cowboy and his way of life in Arizona and Mexico. The author was himself a cowboy and mule packer and still lives in Arizona.

DEFIANT AGENTS, another science fiction story by Andre Norton, an author well-known to all readers of space stories.

THE DEFECTOR, is a thrilling spy story in the best C.I.A. tradition with the setting in Vietnam, and written by Charles Collingwood.

Twelve Members To Be Confirmed

CLINTON — Twelve members of the confirmation class will be confirmed at the morning worship service in the United Church of Christ Sunday at 10 a.m.

Deaconesses and members of the Youth Fellowship will serve at a reception honoring the confirmants after the service.

Julia Schwartz Receives Masters

CLINTON — Julia Schwartz recently completed work on her master of science degree at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. She has been teaching science in Kalamazoo public schools for 2½ years. Miss Schwartz is a graduate of Clinton High School and earned her BS at Western Michigan University.

Following a few weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Ellsworth Rathke, here, she will go to Louisville, Ky., where she has a National Science Foundation grant to study on her doctorate during the summer.

P.O. 2/C Johnson Finishes Training

Naval Petty Officer 2/C Jaces M. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Johnson, 614 N. Evans, and husband of the former Brenda K. Golat, 220 W. Patterson, completed two weeks' active duty reservist training at Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, Pa.

His unit, Helicopter Squadron 66Y2, is home-based at Ct. Clemens Naval Air Facility, Detroit.

Joyce Wallace Elected Prexy

Others elected are Mrs. Dandell Smith, first vice-president; Mrs. Jean Stauffer of Tecumseh, secretary; Mrs. Junior Feldkamp, treasurer; Mrs. Roscoe Parker, chaplain; Mrs. Charles Voll, historian; and Mrs. Kenneth Meyers, sergeant-at-arms.

Nancy Lindh was announced as the winner of the Poppy poster contest held at the school, by Mrs. Meyers, poppy chairman. There were 179 posters entered in the contest.

Poppy Days will be held in Clinton May 22 and 23.

Plans were discussed for the Memorial Day parade on May 30.

Members of the Auxiliary and the American Legion will attend the worship service at the United Church of Christ, May 24, at 10 a.m.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Moragon, Mrs. Fray Manchester and Mrs. Murphy.

Sp/4 Lancaster Gets Discharge

CLINTON — Sp/4 George Lancaster received his discharge from the U. S. Army, May 1. For the past 14 months he has been stationed at SHAPE headquarters, Maurage, Belgium.

Mrs. Lancaster and their infant twins, George E. and Christine, who were born in Belgium in January, accompanied Mr. Lancaster on a four-day visit to London, then flew home on the huge new 747 jet, arriving in Clinton Wednesday.

They will be staying in an apartment at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lancaster, E. Church St., until fall, when George, Jr., expects to resume his studies at Michigan State University.

A son-in-law and daughter, Marine Lance Corporal Robert Ford and his wife, Jeane, are expected home this weekend from 29 Palms, Calif., to spend a two-week leave at the Lancaster home.

Club Sponsoring Fund Campaign

CLINTON — A fund raising campaign is being sponsored during May by the Clinton Varsity Club.

Student council and the entire student body is cooperating with the Varsity Club. They will climax their fund raising campaign with the showing of a film at the Clinton Theatre, "A Night of Old Time Comedy," featuring W. C. Fields, Bob Hope, Marx Brothers, Abbott and Costello, Mae West, Bing Crosby and others. Showing will be the week of May 25-29 and tickets are one dollar.

Fountain of Love Theme For J-Hop

CLINTON — Fountain of Love is the theme for the annual J-Hop to be held Saturday from 8:30 to 11 p.m. at Clinton High School.

A colorful fountain on a terrace will be a feature of the decorations.

Refreshments will be served by girls of the eighth grade.

Snoopy Entertains At Church Banquet

CLINTON — More than 100 mothers and daughters were entertained by Mrs. Ted Roberts' illustrations at their banquet in the United Church of Christ Saturday night.

Mrs. Roberts, of Manchester, cleverly sketched "Snoopy and His Friends" as she related some of the amusing anecdotes from the well-known cartoon sketches.

Mrs. Richard Cadmus, toastmistress, read a poem by Helen Steiner Rice entitled, "Mothers Were Once Daughters."

Poetic toasts to mothers were given by Linda and Ruth King, and their mother, Mrs. Robert King, responded with a toast to daughters.

Carolyn and Marilyn Girbach sang a duet, "Where Are You Going, My Little One?" Carolyn accompanied on the guitar.

Table centerpieces were made by the Philathea Class and featured hand-fashioned decor flowers of colorful, shredded burlap, which were presented to three persons receiving special recognition: oldest mother present, 95, was Mrs. Howard Hause; youngest daughter present was Julia, nine-week old daughter of Mrs. David Heimerdinger; mother with most daughters present, 3, was Mrs. Milton Grossman.

Swiss steak dinner, arranged by Priscilla Class, was served by the men and boys of the church.

Millions Know The Secret Of Getting The Best Food Values! Do You?

The secret is in knowing what you are getting for what you are paying. Most shoppers know the quality and value of the popular National Brands. They also know that supermarket's own brands cost less, but they know very little about the quality of the products.

No matter what you buy at A&P we guarantee your complete satisfaction without reservation. Whatever you choose to buy . . . the famous National Brands at prices we believe will save you money or quality-famous A&P Brands at prices we KNOW will save you money, you can be sure of getting a quality product.

We tell you about this choice of food values because we think it's important to you . . . today.

Through My Window

THE WINTER EVENING

If no dates are mentioned then it will not be so apparent how very far behind I am. On the other hand though, this is the time of year when there is never even any catching up and besides, with no dates, this exciting lateness of the visit could not be appreciated. Therefore —

It happened the 30th of April. Fortunately it was a Thursday so Mom enjoyed the visitors, too. Even before she came home, Gertie T. and I had what we considered a red letter day. Mrs. Kingfisher, on her frequent patroling trips up and down the creek, had made stops at several of the best looking limbs — best looking for us, I mean.

Her long, heavy bill, her ridiculously short tail, and her big oversized head with its shaggy Everett Dirkson-type crest never ceases to amaze us.

The first-of-the-season sighting for the day was a glamorous Lady Baltimore Oriole. She was a doll — she was also a fashion plate. Not at all contented to wear the somber garb ascribed to her by some bird books, she had a pretty yellow front, a soft brown head, and a rich russet tail.

On the 29th the Baltimores had returned to the General's woods, and so we were keeping an eagle eye out for them here. She was very nice to oblige. (A pair of scarlet tanagers that the General and his Lady also reported, have not been so thoughtful. One made it to River Acres but, as of now, no tanager sightings along Evans Creek.)

*

THE 30th HAD been busy with the usual springtime happenings, too. By three o'clock we were, as mentioned before, completely satisfied that it had been a good day. Would you believe that the sudden appearance of four birds knocked that evaluation right out the window?

Even though the temperature was at a record-breaking high, we were blessed by a visit, the best visit this year, of birds usually considered to be winter birds. Big, handsome, gaudy, evening grosbeaks! Rose-breasted grosbeaks are spring birds, evening grosbeaks come with the snow and cold winds of winter.

The first sight was one of the bird thrills I am sure I shall never forget. Gertie T. and I had been watching Lady Baltimore Oriole as she rested for a quick moment on the little branch quite near the window.

Suddenly I started stuttering and stammering — it took a second for it to register but the bird who had flown to a close-by perch had a short black tail, black wings with white markings, a bright yellow body which gradually shaded into a dark burnished bronze-brown head, a brilliant forehead stripe which swept back at either end into above-the-eye stripes, and a large heavy light in color bill.

An evening grosbeak and a female oriole sitting on spindly limbs of a small maple tree.

*

THE TINY MAPLE leaves were that delicate new green which only happens in early springtime and the sun was far enough to the west so it filtered through giving a perfect back lighting effect. An unforgetable scene.

Just as Mom and Dad came into the room, the oriole flew away and the evening grosbeak dropped to the ground. He was immediately joined by two males and a much less brilliantly colored female. Another memorable sight. These four beautiful birds on a carpet of spring-green grass.

For some time the birds seemed happy just picking up scratch feed which had been sprinkled on the ground.

Then they flew back up into the tree and oh, for the longest time they rested there. And it did seem like resting — could it be that they were migrating north and, near the end of a long day's flight, this was the spot they picked for R. and R. The rest they had and I assume that food could be a form of recreation.

So it is that spring is indeed full of surprises; always near the end of April or the first of May we expect to see grosbeaks but they have always before been the rose-breasted, not the winter evening.

30-YEAR 4-H LEADER — Mrs. Robert Ries was presented an emerald pin for her 30 years of dedicated leadership in 4-H work at the Senior Miss Style Revue held recently in Adrian. Beth Frownfelder, charter member of Tecumseh Top Notchers, one of two clubs Mrs. Ries has organized in Lenawee County, made the presentation. Starting as leader when she was 16, Mrs. Ries worked in Sanilac and Antrim Counties before coming to this area. Lawrence Kutzle of Morenci, right, received a 20-year award with Mrs. Ries at State Show from Lowell Bothert, 4-H program leader from Michigan State University.

Half Notes Hold Tea for Mothers

Tecumseh Half Notes Music Club held a Mothers Tea for their last meeting of the season May 8 at United Methodist Church.

President Pam Watters welcomed the guests. All members presented selections for the program, two played clarinets, four sang and six played the piano.

Mrs. James E. Danforth, counselor, encouraged all members to bring a perspective member with them at the first fall meeting in September.

Meeting May 19

Due to Mayors Exchange Day at Sturgis on May 18, Council voted to hold its next regular meeting on May 19. Officials normally meet the first and third Mondays of each month.

OES Chapter 51 Honors Mothers

Mr. and Mrs. Ote Hartgrove, worthy matron and patron of Morenci, and Mrs. Edith Thiel, page of Lenawee-Monroe County Association, were welcomed and introduced at the meeting of Chapter No. 51, OES, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore presided, welcoming the guests with a poem on "Pansies."

The Chapter was draped in memory of Kenneth Wheeler, who died in a tragic accident, April 23. Mrs. Moore read a memorial verse as Mrs. William Flanders played "Beyond the Sunset."

Communications were read from the Worthy Grand Matron and Grand Secretary, General Grand Chapter, Villa Day will be June 7 in Adrian at the Villa, invitations for a dinner and reception honoring Elizabeth Tucker, Grand Warder, May 23 at Rose City. Past Matrons and Past Patrons honored at Monroe May 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Slagh were escorted to the East and presented their proficiency cards. Mrs. Howard Truesdale was presented a life membership, but was unable to be present and will receive it in the mail.

Mrs. Moore gave a report of the recent Spring Lenawee-Monroe County Association meeting at Sand Creek.

Announcements were made for the Rainbow Installation at Adrian, May 23, and a special meeting at Morenci June 19.

Mothers were honored with Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Raymond Nichols, Mrs. Harold Hicks and Mrs. Wilmer Kiser each reading a poem on mothers. All mothers received a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Moore as Mrs. Patti Mull sing, "May You Always."

Refreshments were served from tables decorated with wild spring flowers by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beland, Mrs. George Gould, Mrs. LeRoy Titley and Mrs. Edward Aebersold.

Our Readers Write

To the Editor:

"Women are the weaker sex," at least that's what we are told. You wouldn't think so if you could see us toting a child on one shoulder while steering a cart with four or five bags full of groceries with the other. And if you're lucky you'll get one of the carts that run smoothly as opposed to one you have to "drag" around the corners. I'm sure you women know what I'm talking about because I've heard you make comments out loud while you struggle with your carts.

I was extremely angered several months ago when I was nine months pregnant and was offered no help at the local "friendly" grocery store so I took out my own groceries, which consisted of five bags miscellaneous and a twenty-five pound sack of flour.

Even though I buy no beef, (being a dairy farmer, we have our own) it still costs about twenty dollars a week for two adults and a small baby to eat, which is over $1,000 a year. What percent of YOUR income is that? It really is too bad, with all the money we leave at our local grocery, they can't afford a couple of boys to pack and carry out groceries for the women who patronize their establishments. Wouldn't it be nice if some week in the grocery ads with all the coupons we found one that read —"VALUABLE COUPON" — WITH COUPON AND $5 PURCHASE OR MORE—GROCERY CARRY OUT SERVICE— FREE —LIMIT ONE COUPON PER CUSTOMER—(of course)?

Come on women, let's hear from you. Do you think it's too much to expect help to carry out our groceries, especially when we have small children?

Respectfully,

Mrs. Gary C. Korte

P.S. This refers to no one store in particular but all of them!

Globe Pond Offer Rejected

Council rejected a purchase offer of $15,000 for the Globe Mill Pond area Tuesday evening after residents of the Herrick Park area had protested and raised questions about the city's intentions.

Local real estate businessman, Jack Osburn, offered to pay $15,000 for the site and intended to develop recreational facilities over the 59 acres. His offer was made earlier this month and had been referred to the Planning Commission for its recommendation.

Mr. Osburn told the residents and Council that his offer was made only on a business basis, and if the residents wished to purchase the property, they only had to top his offer by $1.

The city has already spent over $14,000 out of the general fund for the Pond, including $8,580 in buying the site on a land contract. Council has suggested that the expense of replacing the dam be done through special assessment of property owners adjoining the Pond and race.

The special assessment proposal has not been receptive to most of the Herrick Park land owners and the city has explained that it does not have sufficient funds to put the dam back in.

The Commission proposed that the city retain ownership and put the area into a capital improvements program.

What does Council plan to do about putting the dam back in and flooding the basin again?

Why did Council buy the property?

Was Perry Satterthwaite going to put the dam in?

Did Mr. Satterthwaite offer the property to the city free?

These were only a few of the questions raised by residents at the meeting.

Council bought the area after the June, 1968 flood washed the dam out. At that time, Mr. Satterthwaite indicated to Council that he did not intend to replace the dam, and offered the property to the city at the assessed value of $15,000.

City Manager Cal Zorn told officials then that it was possible that state or Federal funds might be available to help replace the dam. With this possibility and the fact that Mr. Satterthwaite as an individual could not possibly qualify for outside funds, Council agreed to buy the land.

When Tecumseh's applications for financial assistance were rejected, Council proposed a special assessment of adjoining property owners. This was rejected and left the city owning the property and without funds for a new dam.

In his report to Council, Mr. Zorn showed a balance due on the property, July 1, of $7,350 and an estimated dam cost of $45,000, for a total project cost of $66,690.

Total amount budgeted to date is $25,000. In a tentative budget before adoption last week, Council had $15,000 in a fund for Globe Mill Pond. It was eventually transferred to a parks and recreation fund.

Parade Today

Tecumseh's first parade of the year will be held this Thursday afternoon at five o'clock with the annual Michigan Week Parade.

Parade route will be from city hall west to Union St., and then back to city hall. Police Chief Murell Clark is grand marshal.

Parade units will include the mayor of Tecumseh, visiting mayor from Sturgis, other city officials, and Tecumseh's Michigan Week Queen, Baby King and Queen, Mr. and Mrs. Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. Senior Citizens.

Also included are the Tecumseh High School Band, cadet band, eighth grade band, Cub Scout Pack 73, Camp Fire Girls, Baton Class, Church of God float, radio cars of the Lenawee Emergency Radio Volunteers, and others.

Michigan Week Baby King and Queen will stop at the judges' stand on the return trip through the downtown section and be crowned by the visiting mayor.

Public Hearing Set

Donald E. Mitchell reports that a public hearing will be held at 11 o'clock a.m. Friday morning, May 22, to consider public opinion on a petition to clean and improve Evans Creek in the city of Tecumseh between N. Evans St. and Occidental Highway. The meeting is scheduled to be held in the open at the Evans Creek bridge on North Union Street.

The petition provides for extending Evans Creek as a county drain improvement downstream to N. Evans St. It was previously established and improved only

Floral Tribute to Edgar Guest

The most imaginative floral arrangements — and the largest, best grown plants and flowers anywhere around will spring forth Thursday in a Michigan Week highlight.

The public is invited to visit "Tribute in Flowers" from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday in St. Peter's Church.

Twelve classes of artistic arrangements will take their themes from lines of verse by the late Edgar A. Guest. They will include tea tables, informal tables, informal buffet tables — and a gay punch table for serving refreshments to those visiting the show.

Other arrangements will be suitable for use on a patio or living room or family room floor. Some classes will be shown on pedestals, to be viewed from all sides. Others will be shown against a background suited to the period or style of the arrangement.

The periods included will range from Early American to modern Oriental in flavor. Some will use fresh flowers and greens, some will be all dried plant materials and others will be mixed in a "designer's choice".

The horticultural exhibits will include all types of flowers, flowering branches, evergreens, house plants of all descriptions. All will be labled with botanical and common names, for the benefit of those visiting the show. There are 27 classes, with many subdivisions.

A junior division will include both artistic and plant exhibits.

Model homes and landscaping exhibits, done by students at Tecumseh High School will be displayed, as will hand-crafted floral and decorative items. Orders will be taken from persons who wish to purchase the craft items, which are made to order in a variety of colors and designs.

Proceeds from the $1 admission will be used for scholarships in environmental studies and for park development.

Earle S. Wagner, mayor of Sturgis, is in Tecumseh for Mayor's Exchange Day as part of Michigan Week. Among the activities scheduled for Thursday are a tour of the Little Garden Club Flower Show; a parade and the Mayor's Exchange Banquet. Accompanying Mayor Wagner from Sturgis are his wife, Irma, and City Commissioner Fred Charlton and wife, Jean.

Youths Sentenced, Fined for Thefts

Michael Walden, 16, Clinton-Macon Rd., Clinton, and Harold Turner, 18, Pennington Rd., were sentenced recently by Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court, Adrian.

Charged with breaking and entering of some 18 area business places and the Britton-Macon High School, the youths were found in possession of a quantity of the missing merchandise early in April.

Juvenile Court waived jurisdiction on Walden, and each has been sentenced to serve four months in Lenawee County Jail, five years probation and will pay $300 court costs and make restitution of $1,131.

Ask Millage Renewal; Schools Could Close

Although negotiations with the teachers and other employees have not yet been finalized, the School Board Monday night voted to keep operating millage at its present level of 14 mills.

School authorities say the present millage will enable the board to provide the regular increments for teachers, and with a balance expected from the current budget and an anticipated increase in state aid, teachers will realize a hike in pay but apparently not to the extent they want.

Approximately 40 teachers attended Monday evening's session and asked the Board numerous questions following an executive session of boardmen. They were told that the Board didn't feel the voters would approve more than 14 mills.

It was also pointed out that election controls would probably prohibit another election between June 8 and the beginning of school in September. If an increase in millage was sought and lost, the schools would be short of operating funds and would not qualify for a full share of state aid.

Supt. James McDowell says a losing vote in June would close the schools, and even though another election was held in September and the voters approved the millage, it would be too late for placing it on the tax rolls for this year.

A statement approved for publication by the Bd. of Ed. is:

"Tecumseh Schools, just as all other schools in Michigan, must again ask the school electors to provide millage to operate the schools for 1970-71. This need is greater than ever before because the legislature promised to review school needs and provide adequate financing for schools through the fiscal reform over a year ago.

Tecumseh Schools last year requested from the electors only the minimum millage needed to operate for one year, and thus, all of the Tecumseh voted millage again runs out.

To date, although there have been a number of educational bills introduced in the legislature and much reform talk no money has been voted by the legislature to finance schools adequately through increased state aid and an accompanying reduction in local property taxes.

Both Democrats and Republicans agree that it is not expedient on their part to raise the income tax or add new taxes to back educational needs because this is an election year. Both parties are afraid of losing votes needed to return their members to their jobs.

Tecumseh schools are in a real crises this year because the Board must request voted millage to operate on June 8, and if the electorate fails to pass the amount requested, the schools will not receive even its full share of state aid funds.

At least 10 mills of local property tax must be levied in the school district. The Board of Supervisors allocates only 8.5 mills within the 15 mill limitation. Therefore, if the requested millage is voted down, the schools would have 1.5 mills less than needed to share fully in state aid funds.

Tecumseh would receive only a portion of its aid and could not operate unless millage was approved before September.

Local schools might not open in September if the millage is turned down on June 8th for yet another reason. The legislature, in addition to dragging its feet on fiscal reform, has given tremendous powers to a county election board which controls all elections. They passed a new law setting up a county election board, which must approve all elections in the county and canvass the results. This was previously done locally.

This election committee is made up of the county clerk who is also the chairman, Mrs. Patricia Johnson; a school board member, Fred Morse of Onsted; a city clerk, Adrian clerk Mr. Roberts; and a township clerk, Ben O. Marble of Clinton.

These committee members are appointed by the Board of Supervisors and must approve all regular and special elections and canvas same.

They have set up a schedule of elections for the year and have told the Tecumseh Board of Education that Tecumseh can not, according to the election board's schedule, set up a special election for another vote on the school millage before September 1, 1970, which is not in time to get the millage, even if passed, on the tax rolls for the 1970-71 school year.

Thus, if the election committee did not reverse its decision the Tecumseh schools would have no voted millage and receive only a portion of its state aid and could not open in September, since deficit financing has been declared illegal by state law.

The increased evaluation of our district from $52,397,103 to $55,581,376 will allow the district to receive additional revenue from local taxes, but will result in a decrease in state aid because the greater the evaluation behind each child in the district the less the Board receives in state aid.

Since the Board does not yet know the amount of state aid which will be allocated per child, the amount of this loss cannot be determined at this time.

Of the twelve public schools in Lenawee County, Adrian levies the most millage for schools, 31.2 mills, and six schools exceed Tecumseh whose total millage is 23.74 mills.

Of the twelve schools in Lenawee County, Tecumseh which levies 22.5 mills for operation, is third to Adrian and Madison, at 25 mills, and the millages range from a low of 12.5 at Morenci to a high of 25 at Adrian.

Of the twenty schools in our group, 3,500 to 3,999 pupils, in Michigan, Tecumseh which levies 22.5 mills for operation, is tied with St. Johns for seventh. The millages range from a low of 13.28 at St. Morris to a high of 32.86 at East Grand Rapids.

Russell J. Cooper Appointed Minister

Appointment as resident minister of St. John's Episcopal Church in Clinton, has been made on behalf of the Rev. Russell J. Cooper, 514 Seminole St., by the Bishop of Michigan, the Rt Rev Richard S. Emrich of Detroit.

Mr. Cooper, who is in the deacon's orders, has been a "worker-minister" since his ordination in St. Peter's Episcopal Church on Oct. 4, 1966.

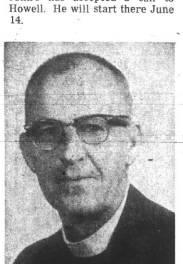
He will continue his regular, full-time employment at the H. W. Tuttle Company where he is a tool-maker. He and his wife, Betty, will move into the rectory of St. John's June 24.

His regular duties on Sundays will begin with a 10 a.m. service of morning prayer June 14.

A reception is planned here June 7 for the Coopers on his last official Sunday in Tecumseh, following the 10 a.m. celebration of the Holy Communion Mr. Cooper expects to continue to assist here from time to time at the Sunday 8 a.m. service.

Mr. Cooper is a graduate in the program for perpetual deacons of the School of Theology of the Diocese of Michigan. He has assisted the Rev. Frank Hawthorne since his ordination.

The Rev. Charles Sturm of St. John's has accepted a call to Howell. He will start there June 14.



THE REV. RUSSELL COOPER

Millage Renewal On School Ballot

CLINTON — Proposal to renew four mills for operation for a period of three years will be placed on the June 8 school election ballot Clinton's Board of Education determined at its meeting Tuesday night.

The present four mills for operational monies will expire this year.

At this time, state aid allotments are still awaiting legislative action and faculty negotiations are incomplete, adding uncertainty to the school budgeting situation.

As soon as state aid is determined, the board will re-assess the situation to decide if the schools can operate on money available.

Clinton School district is now raising 10.5 mills, including debt retirement and new building bonding funds. Since the district's assessed valuation has increased approximately 20% this year, it may be possible that this millage can be reduced to perhaps 8.3 mills, and the Board could then ask the voters to approve a 2.4 mills for operational money, if adequate state aid is not forthcoming, Supt. Richard Wegner explained.

As state aid is presently distributed, Clinton stands to have aid reduced from $247 per child to $219 because of the increased assessed valuation of the district.

"What we have gained as a local assessment, we tend to lose on state aid," Mr Wegner said.

Any registered voter in the Clinton Community School district will be eligible to vote on the four mills operational renewal proposal.

Also on the ballot will be two positions on the Board, with eight candidates seeking the offices.

Two Rescue Runs Made By Firemen

Two rescue runs were made by Tecumseh Fire Department Tuesday.

They responded to a call at 6:20 a.m. from the Elmer Abshire residence at 6967 Green Hwy He had returned from the hospital on Monday and was beginning to bleed from surgery performed while there. Abshire was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

At 1:15 pm., the Fire Department was called to 212 S. Van Buren. Mary Wilson, approximately 71 years old, was having trouble breathing and was taken to the hospital.

Award License

Wes Haeussler, local contractor, was awarded a city sidewalk contract's license Tuesday night by Council, pending a required bond established by the city.

City Officials Visit Sturgis

Tecumseh delegates including Mayor and Mrs. William Holmes, Councilmen and their ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Puffer, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Knisely, Mr. and Mrs Lawrence Bilke, George McCombs, City Manager Cal Zorn, Chief Murell Clark and wife and Ward Eardley, Michigan Week chairman, were warmly greeted Monday by Mayor Earl Wagner, Miss Sturgis, and other city officials at the Sturgis civic center.

During the stay, delegates went on several tours including a junior college, a senior citizens housing complex and the city office and library. There was lunch and more entertainment during the afternoon.

An evening dinner was served when Mayor Wagner presented Mayor Holmes with a key to the City of Sturgis. Tecumseh delegates went home knowing they had been shown a very enjoyable and hospitable day.

Officers Elected by Commission

LeRoy "Buzz" Betzoldt has been re-elected chairman of the city's Planning Commission.

Other officers, also re-elected, are Tom Morgan, vice-chairman and Dr. William Adams, secretary.

Go-Cart Track On Russell Rd?

Discussion of a go-cart track for Tecumseh was discussed briefly at a recent Planning Commission meeting.

The subject was brought up before Council Tuesday night, and Cal Zorn, city manager, told officials that a site just south of Russell Rd. was being considered.

Jim Harrell Takes Second In MIS Race

Tecumseh race driver Jim Harrell finished second in a national points race, sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America Sunday at the Michigan International Speedway track in the Irish Hills.

Harrell, aiming for a spot in the Club's national run-off at Dallas, Nov. 28-29, is shooting for a total of 54 points to qualify. His finish Sunday gives him six points toward the total.

He averaged approximately 94 mph in the 30-minute sprint over the MIS road race track. Forty-seven drivers started.

Harrel drives a Formula Ford and is sponsored by an Adrian resident.

There will be a fashion show at the Lenawee Youth Center, 2910 Airport Hwy., Adrian, Tuesday, May 26, at 1:30 p.m. Clothes which the girls at the center have made will be shown. Members of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs are invited in appreciation for the help they have given the children at the center.

Kroger Co. is "doing their thing" to fight malnutrition. The company recently announced a major program to provide more nutritious products for the consumer's food dollar. Enriched flour will be used in all 10 regional bakeries; outside food manufacturers are being contacted regarding use of enriched flour in Kroger products. Low-cost, nutritionally-balanced recipes will be featured in advertising and research into development of entirely new foods, high in nutrition, has been instituted.

June 19, 1970, will mark a 50-year point in the life of one of Tecumseh's most prominent hairdressers. It was in June of 1920 that Anna Blesing left France to come to the United States. We're very glad you came, Anna. Many here remember that it was you who made that great transition for them, the permanent wave.

"You can get there by train" applies to Upper Michigan's Copper Country where the "Northern Michigan Special", a name passenger train has returned to begin operations on the Keweenaw Central Railway May 30. "Getting there" means taking the 13-mile, 75-minute-long, round trip connecting Calumet with Lake Linden. Whoopee! A real train ride. What fun for the summer.

N. Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club members have arranged a thought-provoking window display on the subject, "Stop Pollution and Litter in Michigan," for Michigan Week. Display at Holmes Pharmacy was prepared by Lynn Winzeler and Fran Vincent, Susie Richardson and Bob Winzeler.

Credits omitted from recent review of "Mr. Barry's Etchings" include John Day, who designed and executed the set, and two cast members, Phil Baker and Vesta Rothfuss.

Pfc. David Beaty, APO San Francisco is not receiving his paper as it has been returned to the Herald for lack of a zip code number. There is no way of obtaining this in the directory. Does someone in the family have the number so we can send his paper on to him?

Mrs. Robert Ries sent us the following pertinent quote from the Central Lake Torch, Antrim County newspaper, "Abolishing ROTC because you don't like wars is like abolishing Fire Departments, because you don't like fires."

The engagement of Janice Louise Cook to Thomas Peter Schumm is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Cook of Mendon. Mr. Schumm is a nephew of Mrs. Elizabeth Wing and grandson of Mrs. George Schumm, both of Tecumseh. Janet is a senior at Alma College and a member of Kappa Iota Sorority. She is majoring in English and minoring in Art. She student-taught in Alma and plans to teach senior high English in the Detroit-Ann Arbor area. Mr. Schumm is a senior at Alma College and a member of Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary. He is editor-in-chief of the college newspaper, The Almanian, and was selected Most Outstanding Man in the senior class. He will be attending graduate school in Business Administration at the University of Michigan next year. An August wedding is planned.

Engagement of Sally Marie Griewahn to Albert L. Oliver, of Tecumseh, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Griewahn, Deerfield. Miss Griewahn is employed by W. T. Grant Co., Adrian. Mr. Oliver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Oliver, Elizabethton, Tenn. He is employed by Kroger Co., Tecumseh. A July wedding is planned.

Glenn Williams Attends Conclave

Glenn Williams, pastor of Open Door Bible Church, Hudson, former resident of Tecumseh, has returned from a four-day meeting in Tulsa, Okla., where he attended the Third Annual Preachers Convention sponsored by Christian Crusade, conservative, anti-communist ministry of Dr. Billy James Hargis.

More than 30 active preachers and evangelists attended the sessions from May 12-15, where more than two dozen lectures were delivered by a 14-man faculty, including speakers from various sections of the country, as well as by selected members of the Christian Crusade staff.

Working throughout the day and into the evening, preacher-delegates to the meeting discussed a wide variety of subjects, including urban disorders, revolutionary groups, sex education, drug addiction, Christian education, personal and church evangelism, church-sponsored day schools and colleges, foreign missions and the National and World Council of Churches.

Purpose of the convention, according to Pastor Williams, "was to provide active conservative, orthodox preachers and evangelists with inspiration, knowledge, guidance, challenge and determination to assume positions of leadership in the fight against apostasy, apathy, atheism and communism, and their destructive influences on New Testament Christianity."

"It was one of the most enlightening Christian experiences in my life in the ministry," said Pastor Williams.

Pastor Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams of 111 South Maumee Street in Tecumseh.

Girls Softball Practice Set

Practice for the senior girls softball team will be held Saturday at 1 .m. at the high school athletic field.

All girls 16 and over interested in playing are urged to attend. Theresa Wells is the manager and Diane Helms, coach.

In case of rain, practice will be held May 27, at 6:30 p.m.

School Bus Hit By Motorcycle

Tecumseh school bus was involved in an accident at 8:30 this morning with a motorcycle on North Raisin Center Hwy.

The bus, driven by Mrs. Ernest Hammack, 49, of 410 Brown St., turned north onto Raisin Center Hwy. from Boyd St. Mrs. Hammack said she looked and it was clear before she pulled out.

The motorcycle was operated by Otis Whittemore, 27, of Crockett Hwy., Blissfield. According to Clinton State Police, Whittemore came around a curve at a high rate of speed traveling south.

Whittemore was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Hammack and children on the bus were not injured.

Hearing

to N. Union St.

The petition, signed by thirty-two local property owners including city council, requests cleaning out sediment and debris as well as some channel improvements to control erosion in about two miles of the creek.

A drainage board of determination, appointed to decide the necessity of improvements after holding a public hearing, will be composed of Lewis Ruesink, supervisor of Adrian Township; Harry Dusseau, supervisor of Palmyra Township; and Ralph Comfort of Raisin Township.

MRS. KENNETH HUBER

Dunbar and Huber Exchange Vows

A double-ring ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Robert Cosgrove at W. Memphis, Ark., April 25, united in marriage Diana Jean Dunbar and Seaman Kenneth Craig Huber, both of Tecumseh.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wayne Dunbar, 216 W. Logan, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Marilyn Huber, S. Pearl St., and Charles Huber, Arizona.

Attendants were Pamela Zorn and Pvt. Richard Meade, both of Tecumseh.

A white lace daytime dress was worn by the bride with a short white veil and accessories. She wore a pearl necklace and a corsage of yellow roses, white and yellow daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Huber are graduates of Tecumseh High School. Prior to her marriage, the bride was a secretary at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Seaman Huber is stationed with the Navy at Millington, Tenn.

Bride's mother is Mrs. Mamie Henson, 710 W. Chicago Blvd.

The Hubers are making their home in Mumford, Tenn. They are expected to arrive here for a 10-day leave, May 29, and upon their return, they will be stationed at Meridian, Miss., for the next 18 months.

Church Honors 30 Senior Citizens

Thirty Senior Citizens were honored at Church of Christ on Pentecost Hwy., Sunday during the worship services and later were entertained for barbecued beef dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Eardley.

Twenty members of the Goldenaires decided to serve pie Wednesday at Community Center for Michigan Week. Mrs. Howard Brooks arranged a window display at Helms Furniture with some new and many antique items.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron were selected as Mr. and Mrs. Senior Citizen to be feted at Mayor's Day banquet and to ride in Michigan Week parade.

Mrs Ralph Peotter and Mrs. Lily Beagle served cup cakes and coffee at the meeting.

Jacklyn Sinkey and Mark Perrin Marry

Jacklyn Beth Sinkey wore a floor length gown of organza over taffeta Saturday as she was escorted to the altar of Friends Church by her father to become the bride of Mark Steven Perrin.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sinkey, 1001 Murray Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Perrin, 215 E. Logan St.

The bride's gown was a demi-bell silhouette with natural waistline, high neck and long bishop sleeves. Organza flowers accented with pearls and satin accented the bodice, sleeves and hem of the skirt.

Her bouquet was yellow roses, white carnations, daisies and baby breath.

Nancy Jo Sinkey was maid of honor for her sister in a floor length empire gown of white eyelet over light green taffeta with short, puffed sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

Michael Hensen served as best man and the guests were seated by Michael Wolf of Ypsilanti and Neil Nas, Plymouth.

Mrs. Wolf was the soloist and Mrs. Ashley Chase, organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Donovan were hosts for the reception in the church parlors decorated in the bridal colors.

Mrs. Daniel Jannuzzi of Saline decorated the cake table with white net and yellow roses.

Anne Curran registered the guests, Marsha Perrin cut and served the cake, Cindy Perrin, the groom's cake and Shirley Griffith, ice cream. Lonna Hensen and Debra Lavender served punch and coffee.

Both young people are graduates of Tecumseh High School. The groom attended University of Michigan for one year and Northern Arizona University for one semester. They are both employed at Stauffer Wacker Co.

Following a wedding trip to Northern Michigan, the couple will live in Blissfield. Rehearsal dinner was given at Rock Inn by the groom's parents.

Mrs. Frank DErasmo, nee Janice Sinkey, accompanied by Debra D'Eramo, was home from New York City for her sister's wedding.

MRS. MARK PERRIN

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

DO THE SCRIPTURES SPEAK OF THE DOOM OF RUSSIA?

We believe so. In Ezekiel 38, 39 there is a story of a tremendous military expedition upon the land of Israel by a vast coalition of nations located to the north (Ezekiel 38:15, 39:2). The time is evidently after the events of Ezekiel 37 which graphically portray the restoration of the nation of Israel to their own land in the latter times. This restoration has taken place, with official recognition coming in our generation.

Apparently what happens is that Russia casts envious eyes upon the fabulous wealth of this new nation which is unarmed, and suddenly decides to ruthlessly seize it. Although the nations of the world feebly protest, the raid takes place and the monstrous Russian force violently descends, upon the defenseless mountains of Israel.

There God Himself comes to the aid of His ancient people and with unprecedented heavenly artillery, He destroys five-sixths of the invading force with rain, hail, lightning and earthquake. Most Bible students feel this event will come in the first 3½ years of the Tribulation.

Recital Presented by Local Students

About 130 people attended the piano and accordion recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Chester Blaska on May 17 at 3:30 p.m. in the Tecumseh High School cafeteria.

Local students participating were Frances Kujda, Ann Wilson and Marsha Gadek, of Tecumseh; Julie, Melanie, and Valerie Way, Amy Zick, Diane and Susan Brown and Gordon Satterla, of Clinton; Jim and Marsha Bale, Kathy Roberts, Debra and Judy Gooding, Diane Gebarowski, Sally Mason, Randy Stein, and Owen Bailey of Tipton; Lisa Goll of Britton; Betsy and Mary McHugh and Carla Rothfuss, of Brooklyn; Frank Kovac, Cathy and Robyn Bittinger, Linda Sovjar, Cheerese Bramer, and Marie Halberstadt of Onsted; Cathy and Marlene Winkleman, of Blissfield; and Wesley Smock, Daryl Gritzmaker, and Theresa Trettin, of Adrian.

Mrs. Blaska teaches piano, accordion, and organ Monday through Friday in her home and Saturday in Flanders Music Studio.

Extension Club Presented Lesson

Mrs. George Dinius was hostess for the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club meeting May 5 when 10 members were present.

Mrs. Ellsworth Robison was nominated as International Chairman for another term.

Mrs. Raymond Bird and Mrs. Robison presented the lesson on "Be Prepared When Sorrow Strikes," with suggestions that those making the arrangements not tell the funeral director the amount of insurance of the deceased.

Other things to be concerned about are a will, bank account, safe deposit box, savings bonds, social security, death benefits and an inventory of legal papers.

Roll call was answered with a favorite quote, gem or proverb.

Mrs. Robison will be hostess for the next meeting. Refreshments were served.

The Honorable Joseph Satterthwaite was a caller Saturday evening of Clara Waldron and Mrs. John Keeney soon after arrival here for the presentation of Niels Hansen scholarships the following day.

Mrs. Porter Relates Trip

Mrs. Milton Porter told of her unusual travel experience at the meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority held at the Country House.

She showed pictures taken on a comparative education tour with her husband. They traveled in Mongolia where the nomads follow their flocks and the teachers, many of whom move with them, have less than sixth grade education.

In Mongolia, Mrs. Porter said, the people are paid $120 for each child and a reward of $30 if the mother has four babies. Many families have 12 children. Climate is extreme, going from 40 degrees below to 120. Food is highly seasoned and they drink mare milk.

In Kabal, Afghanistan, people are poor, the speaker stated. Annual income is $90. There are no railroads and entrance is obtained by plane or by caravan. There are no tourists. Due to poor food and unsanitary conditions, the American Embassy packed lunches for the group.

Mrs. Porter showed pictures of the Blue Mosque where women are not allowed to worship. Natives believe that women can pray anywhere.

Mrs. Porter was presented by Mrs. W. E. Benham, chairman of personal growth, and services committee. She told of the four areas the committee is responsible for—self improvement, leadership, intercultural relations and service.

Mrs. Howard Emrick, chairman of scholarship committee, reported that recipients of scholarships will be Muriel Perkins, a teacher in the Lincoln School, who will attend Siena Heights College this summer; Carol Heer, Carol Johns, Sharon Dunham and Debbie Keefer, students at Adrian College this fall.

New officers were installed with Mrs. Arthur Brewer presiding. Officers are Mrs. Owen Dunn, president; Mrs. C. J. Frautschi, 1st vice president; Mrs. Robert Kelty, 2nd vice president; Mrs. S. L. St. Clair, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Earles, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lucille Abrill, treasurer and Mrs. Gordon Garlick, parlimentarian.

Spring flowers and candles enhanced the banquet tables preceding the dinner meeting. Mrs. Paul McKenna was chairman assisted by Mrs. Glen Jones, Mrs. Robert Blanks, Mrs. Russell Schultz, and Mrs. Norman Bless.

Music Club Hears Romeo and Juliet

Fourteen members and two guests of the Tecumseh Music Club met at Country House for their annual May dinner.

After the meal, the group traveled to the home of Mrs. William Flanders where they were joined by three members and two guests for business meeting and program.

The program "Romeo and Juliet" was led by Mrs. Robert Leggett, state chairman of opera promotion and workshop. Mrs. Leggett compared the different scenes of the opera by Gounod with the play by Shakespere. A tape of the record of Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet" with Franco Corelli as Romeo and Mirella Freni as Juliet with the orchestra and chorus of the Paris Opera conducted by Alain Lombard was interspersed with the comparisons.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Robert Leggett from Royal Oak, Mrs. Matt Martin from Amasa, and Mrs. Carl Rossbach, Haughn.

Coffee and tea and donut holes were served.

Letters to the Editor

We are privileged to observe Armed Forces Day 1970, a day that should have a particular significance for all of us in these critical times.

The tradition of setting aside the third Saturday in May as Armed Forces Day has, since World War II, been firmly established in our yearly calendar of important events. This day is not, as popularly believed, a day for paying homage to our armed forces, but, conversely, is a time when our armed forces report to the nation on their stewardship of the defense trust. It goes without saying that this occasion is unique among nations, a tribute to our free society.

As U.S. Military and Naval installations across the country and around the world are opened for public inspection, an inspection made possible by our constitutional guarantees of full disclosure to all, it is essential that this year we take a long hard look at our defense posture. What we find on close observation in this crucial year of 1970 is apt to be more than a little disconcerting.

We find our defense establishment increasingly under attack from an ever more radical and vocal left wing, and from others in our midst who should know better.

We hear strident outeries against expenditures for defense systems that our best intelligence, not to mention the exercise of our own common sense, tells us are essential if we are to maintain deterrence against a busily arming Soviet Union, and an increasingly powerful, more hostile Red China.

We find radical left campus uprisings against the vital Reserve Officers Training Corps, permitted by some weak-willed educators, and openly endorsed by others.

We find the uniforms of our armed services, uniforms so many of us have worn with so much pride and devotion, made the objects of scorn in too many places in this land of ours.

Scorned and reviled so that we're told it is commonplace for a serviceman returning from Vietnam to doff his uniform in airport and bus station lounges to avoid ridicule in his own home town, in effect, sneaking home after having risked his life in combat.

This is particularly galling to those of us in the American Legion who are making every effort to reach out to this young veteran and give him the assistance he needs to readjust to civilian life.

That the Armed Forces have more than done their job, even under these adverse circumstances, is evident for all of you to see today. We still have the world's finest, most advanced weapons systems for our defense.

We still have a force of dedicated professionals to man our far flung defense bastions, to fight wars declared unpopular by the short-sighted and those whose motivations are unclear or questionable and ready to give their lives, if necessary, for the sake of our freedom. In short, thanks to the dedication of those in defense, we still have the capability of dealing with the external enemy.

But what about the internal enemy? He is active at all age, social, occupational and educational strata of our society. He is busy discrediting our defense structure and our sense of values. He is gnawing at the vitals of this country and everything it stands for. His name is still subversive, regardless of his other names in common use, and his efforts favor the victory of the world communist conspiracy over the cause of freedom.

Citizens, the hour is late. I can think of no better time than this Armed Forces Day to call for concerted action on the part of we, who are the vast majority, to reverse this trend and put a stop once and for all to the menace of the internal threat.

You ask how? This is possible when our constitution guarantees the freedom to dissent even to our enemies. By taking a leaf out of the book used by these radicals. By using the sheer weight of your numbers in a vast encounter dissent to show your lawmakers, the media and, the weaklings who masquerade as educators that you mean business.

Use the power of guaranteed right to dissent to swamp those who would put America down. This is what they fear most, the one weapon available to restore the proper balance in this country, the loud and clear expression of your opinion.

Inundate your legislators with demands for stronger penalties for those radicals who move beyond dissent into lawlessness.

Demand to know why your tax supported schools and colleges are used to foster radicalism. Why they provide forums for the systematic poisoning of our young people, in same cases by avowed communists, while moderate points of view are permitted to be hooted down. Why they harbor anarchistic organizations such as the so-called Students for a Democratic Society.

Citizens, our Armed Forces are doing their part to keep this country of our great. We salute them today, and should honor them always for their contribution. What I am saying is that we can no longer ask them to shoulder the burden alone. We are threatened by forces they can't fight.

Insidious forces working from within to overthrow our way of life This is a call to action. It is up to us, each of us, to take off the gloves, dispose with the niceties, and get into this fight as though it were a life and death proposition, because it is.

There is still time to save the America we know and love, but the time for action is here and now. Let this day, Armed Forces Day 1970, signal the beginning of a citizenry as involved and committed to the cause of keeping America great as are our Armed Forces.

Respectfully submitted,

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing this letter with the belief that The Tecumseh Herald and the people of Tecumseh would appreciate knowing that there are people in their community who are willing to help out in what I would call an emergency situation.

I am referring sneeifically to Sunday, May 17, while participating in my weekend sport of skydiving at the Tecumseh Airport when I experienced my first malfunction. After cutting away from my main parachute, I deployed my reserve parachute which landed me in what I would call the highest tree in Tecumseh!

The Tecumseh Fire Department was indeed quick in responding to their call, but I believe was somewhat at a loss as to how to get any of their equipment 75 feet high. Luckily, Mr. Don Owens of Owens Tree Service in Tecumseh, had heard on his own radio the original call to the Fire Department. He called them and asked if he could be of service. The Fire Department told him they would call him if they needed him; which turned out to be very shortly. Don Owens came to the scene with his truck with a hydraulic bucket; which unfortunately had an extended height of only 48 feet. By using rope and saddle, Owens was capable of getting within reach of where I was caught. After using my own knife to cut the parachute loose from me, I attached the rope through my parachute harness and the Fire Department lowered me from below.

It is truly appreciated that Mr. Don Owens and his assistant (name unknown) were on hand and did a commendable job with rope and saddle of retrieving both myself and my canopy from the tree.

I am not sure that I still might be in the tree now if Don Owens had not been on hand in this precarious situation.

Very truly yours,
John W. Lambrecht
Assistant Secretary

P. S. If this article does appear in The Tecumseh Herald, I would appreciate very much receiving a copy of it. Thank you.

TO THE EDITOR:

Three Cheers for Mrs. Korte! The lack of carry-out assistance at the grocery stores is a real problem for most of us—and something we should voice our opinion about.

Last winter I had a loaded grocery cart (6 bags) and our 8 month old daughter to navigate to the car. Outside the door to the store was a broken area in the sidewalk over which the cart had to pass. I had to use both hands to get the cart over the break and while doing so my toddler stepped from the sidewalk into the busy parking lot—right in the path of an oncoming car. Thanks to an alert driver a tradegy was avoided. I can still remember how angry I was at the time—because I had requested some help and was politely ignored! Now I try to arrange to do my shopping (especially at an inconvenient time) when I can leave our 3 preschool children at home.

I certainly agree with Mrs. Korte, our "friendly" grocery should be able to provide carry-uot assistance—at least for the pregnant woman, the mother with small children, the handicapped, and the elderly.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Gerald (Donna) Marion
Clinton, Mich.

To the Editor and the City

I am glad that the City has retained possession of the old Globe Pond. I believe that we could make a good start on rebuilding the dam if the truckloads of broken concrete, stone and excavating soil that are now being used for fill in several other places were dumped at the west end of the washed out section of the dam to make a start.

The flow from Evans Creek could be taken care of by maybe two of the metal culvert tubes used by the highway department until the fill was completed and then closed with concrete slabs.

However, when the earthen fill of the dam is completed there should be a concrete pavement on top with a dip in the center and a concrete apron on the dam stream side to take care of any unusual water.

If the gates of the old power house are usable, that would take care of a lot of flood water.

Possible park area east of the pond is not of much value without a good access road and the dam could supply that.

Also the old power house if kept in repair would be an excellent steakhouse or a ticket booth if there was a celebration in the park such as we had in 1924.

This island, for that is what it is, could be a real jewel and very popular. Right now I would call it "Blanden Park." This is easy to say and I like it.

If the dam is rebuilt, I would further suggest that a lot of soil deposits at the end of Evans Creek be bulldozed up into the land on the west side of the lower part of the park along N. Maumee St. That would improve the land area and help the pond a lot.

The costs could be spread over more than one year and I believe could be handled.

I, for one, have been pleased with the job our city employees have done in all lines. As my old friend, Bob McKee, often said when he wanted to give a bit of praise, "He does a real workmanlike job."

W. G. Waldron

To the Editor:

Interested Taxpayers

Is it just to burden five year old children, who are about to begin their first formal school experience, with such a solution as has been publically proposed in an attempt to solve a problem of poor planning?

Is it fair that we parents purchase our homes influeneed by the convenience of the schools and therefore the convenience for our children, and paying taxes for this priviledge, and then have to watch our young children being bussed four (4) miles away from a school they can see from their yard?

Is it logical that your young children, beginning their first school experience, be bussed several miles outside the city limits, adding unnecessary length to their school day?

Is it not possible to leave the youngest school children, kindergarten through third grade, in the most convenient school, and if necessary then bus the older children? And has the possibility of a portable classroom been discarded?

This appeal is made in hopes of a reconsideration of the decision to bus Tecumseh Acre kindergarteners all walkers, to Sutton School. If there are other parents concerned about this situation, we would appreciate signatures in agreement with this letter. Let us make this a forceful appeal.

Concerned parents,
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer

Mrs. R. C Pennington has returned to her home on Park St. after an extended stay with her daughter, following cataract operations and a bout with the flu. Her son-in-law, Lloyd Hall, spent the weekend at their cottage at Houghton Lake with a friend from Adrian.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Who will care for that dog out in the ditch, now that Ruby is moving to Georgia? Who will get up when called day or night because someone's beloved pet is missing? Who will put ads in the paper, notifying people that their Fluffy or Fido has been found and last but not least who will see that hurt animals around town are cared for and the bill paid at the veterinary's?

There are Pet Watchers, who will try but it's our guess that a lot of water will pass through Evans Creek before Tecumseh is fortunate enough to have another who cares so much for four legged creatures that nothing is too much or too costly to do in their behalf.

From a lot of animal lovers in the area, a great big "Thank You" Ruby Caesar We won't forget you.

Mrs. Verdi Skinner spent the weekend in Pontiac visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Vanduzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Goodman are expected home Saturday from three weeks in Bamberg, Germany, and seven other countries in Europe. They visited their son, John, who is stationed there with the army and put 3,000 miles on a car made available to them through the tour they hired.

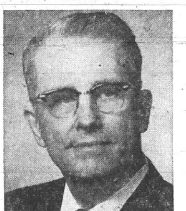
Mrs. Paul Brantingham arrived home from the hospital Tuesday after undergoing surgery. She is improving daily.

Mrs. Rozella Rice was in Middletown, Conn., over the Mother's Day, returning Friday from seeing her new four-months-old grandson, Stefan Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell arrived in Tecumseh Friday, coming from Englewood, Fla., by plane. They stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Lanning until Monday when they drove to Mason to visit Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poley and daughter, Debbie Sue, were among 15 families of C.B.'ers in a caravan over the weekend to Holland for the Tulip Festival. Holland C.B.'ers met the local group at the city limits and escorted them to the camp site. The two groups joined for a pot-luck supper Saturday night and Hollanders brought their emergency vehicle for inspection by Lenawee C.B.'ers. Others from here attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Furgason, Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Weirich, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Weirich, Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yoder of Birdsall and their families. Mrs. Poley remarked that they had a truly hospitable weekend, "Hollanders just couldn't do enough for us."

Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller is in Ansonia, Ohio, this week to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beck. Mr. Beck suffered a relapse Thursday night from a recent heart attack. He is a patient at Wayne Hospital, Greenville, Ohio 45331 and will probably be there for his birthday anniversary May 25.



THE REV. FRED THOMAS

Nazarenes Host Revival Evangelist

The Rev. Fred Thomas will be the evangelist at the Revival Services at the Church of the Nazarene, 808 W. Chicago Blvd., May 25-31, at 7 p.m., each evening and 11 a.m., Sunday.

At the age of 12, the Rev. Fred Thomas, of Elkhart, Ind., began his ministry in the field of evangelism. A well-known speaker, he now serves as a full-time revivalist in the Church of the Nazarene, an international denomination with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Thomas has conducted campaigns throughout the United States and Canada, with thousands seeking God under his ministry. He was also pastor for 12 years, holding charges in various churches in Indiana.

Many have come under Mr. Thomas' ministry at district assemblies, camp meetings, and church colleges. Others have come to know him through his articles in the "Herald of Holiness," official church publication.

Everyone is welcome to attend these special services.

Project Rainfall

By ROBERT OSBURN

Dawn Mitchell, 15, is an avid first year participant in Project Rainfall. Born August 10, 1954, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Dawn is presently a sophomore at Blissfield High School, where she is on a College Preparatory curriculum. The family has lived at their residence on Mitchell Rd., between Adrian and Deerfield, since Dawn was five years old.

Dawn has been in 4-H for seven years. Projects she has undertaken during those years are horse and ponies (7 yrs.); flowers and floral arranging (7 yrs.); rabbits (2 yrs); vegetable gardening (7 yrs.); veterinary science (2 yrs.); first aid (1 yr.); safety (1 yr.); and junior leadership (2 yrs.).

Among other activities, she was on the 1969 horse judging team for Lenawee County, has participated in the county 4-H Service Club, and has won the Beemer Floral Arranging award, the top county 4-H award in this division, for the last five years. For two years, Dawn was the Fair reporter and gave radio reports.

Dawn enjoys relating one of her many experiences in 4-H. In 1968 at the County Fair, her pony won the Grand Champion award. As soon as Dawn received the award, her pony promptly gave the judge a swift kick!

She finds Project Rainfall interesting. "I love nature and the outdoors." said Dawn recently.

"We've always kept records of the rainfall and wanted others to have this information."

Dawn's most exciting experience with the weather was about the first of the month of August in 1965. She and her parents watched a grayish tornado go through their woods about a half mile away. She verified what others have said about tornadoes, "it sounded just like a freight train; like the one that we hear going through Holloway." After the northeasterly-moving tornado had passed through their woods, it stopped moving forward for a half-minute, then broke into three separate funnels, one going off to the east, another going northeasterly, and the other going off in a northerly direction.

Students must have taken at least 14 hours of class work and maintained a point averge of 3.5 out of a possible 4.0.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

Foot Care — any time

It's a shame to see people confined to their homes by sore and swollen feet. Not only is there great discomfort, but many persons are embarrassed by their appearance and the hobbling gait. There are a few things you can do to keep your feet in good condition:

1) Be careful in the fitting of shoes and stockings. Avoid the steady wearing of extremely high heels, running shoes or slippers.

2) Keep toenails clipped, and remove the cuticle and dead skin from around their edges.

3) Use an antiseptic, absorbent foot powder to reduce infection, particularly that which develops between the toes. This powder will also act as a deordorant, keeping the skin dry and comfortable.

4) Never sit on your feet when possible, put your feet up on a chair or high footrest, to improve circulation. In older people, this will help keep swelling to a minimum.

5) Wash your feet often, taking time to soak them in warm and soapy water that will help the muscles relax.

6) Then massage each foot in turn. Make a fist of one hand, and rub the knuckles over the ball and arch of the foot to further ease muscle tension. Then slowly rotate each toe, one after another.

7) If a callus should form, soak a cotton square in lotion and tape it over the area. Leave it on overnight. During the day, an adhesive callus pad should be worn till the problem disappears.

Kaleidoscopic KIOSK

I was beginning to develop a real fear of summer. Not of summer itself, but of those hot, muggy, uncomfortable nights which accompany it.

Living in an apartment, as I do, in the summer did not hold any particular appeal for me. My wife and I. We have a window fan, but that's only so good.

Some nights the air gets so sticky and heavy that it seems that even a fan in every window wouldn't provide any relief. What we needed was a method of escape, a way to get out of the apartment at night.

My wife had the perfect solution, one she had been saying since we were married, but one which I never listened to before. That was, buy bicycles. At the time it sounded like the thing to do, cycling would get us out of the apartment and provide some exercise at the same time.

Now I have a different opinion. If I would have had any idea that buying two bicycles can be such a frustrating undertaking, I would have gladly resigned myself to sweating and suffering in the apartment at night.

We checked about ten stores examining the different features each bike offered over the others and of course, the price. However, this was not to be the determining factor in deciding which bikes we finally bought. We agreed that since we would be using the bikes for many years, we should buy good ones.

Finally we decided which bikes we wanted. But we didn't know how to get them home, you can't get two bikes into a Mustang, no matter how much you push and pull.

A friend had a truck which I knew we could probably use, and we could have, except the muffler had fallen off that afternoon and had become unfit for highway driving.

Our next alternative was to see if the store would deliver them, which they would, but couldn't tell us what time.

Then the salesman said the bikes were not assembled and would easily fit into the car, or they would assemble them for us, at $3 a bike. I rather quickly surmised that putting a bicycle together was a simple task.

So the salesman went into the backroom to get two torn-down, boxed-up English bicycles. He returned with one of those "you aren't going to believe this" looks spread across his face. It seemed there were no more torn-down, boxed-up English bicycles left.

So we were faced with one of two alternatives. We could go elsewhere to buy the bikes or take the floor displays. Since we liked the bikes there, we decided to take them, but not that night.

I remembered a van, usually used to deliver newspapers and transport reporters and photographers, which I could use. So my wife and I returned to the store the next day to pick up our bikes in a van with The Tecumseh Herald proudly emblazened upon its sides.

But that was not to be the end of this experience. Once home, we discovered that the front tire on my bike refused to hold air. Nothing too unusual about that, if it happens on an older bike, but a new one?

So we had to go back to the store the next day again. After a salesman listened to my plight, he said I would have to go over to customer service.

Here is a classic example of wasted manpower. After waiting for ten minutes, a lady asked if she could help us. So I explained my problem to her, only to hear, "I'll be right back" and she was gone.

Another ten minutes elapsed before she returned, bringing the salesman from sporting goods I had already talked to. Must be the salesmen are not allowed to discuss customer problems unless someone in customer service deems them to be legitimate.

He thought it was probably a faulty tube in the tire and would replace it. And he did, but it took three tubes to do it because he kept pumping in too much air and blowing them up.

We finally got our bikes home and in a rideable condition. Now all we have to do is wait for those hot summer nights so we can use them.

$75,000 Raised By Auxiliary

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has raised and spent approximately $75,000 during the first 25 years since its formation and $27,397 since Feb., 1966, the anniversary year.

The latter sum has been used for the coronary care unit and equipment plus general equipment for the hospital.

A large proportion of the money spent in the Coronary Unit since the Herrick Memorial Heart Fund was established at the United Savings Bank in February, 1966, has come from Memorial donations and tag days. The Auxiliary and Hospital greatly appreciate the interest and support of the community in making it possible to have this modern equipment.

There has also been a memorial fund for landscaping the hospital and Nursing home grounds. This account is still open and anyone wishing to contribute to this particular fund may do so.

It was brought to the attention of the Herrick Hospital Auxiliary that there are people who would like to donate money at times to the hospital other than for the heart fund and landscaping fund. With this in mind, the Auxiliary has established a third memorial account at the United Savings Bank to be known as the General Hospital Equipment Fund. This would include equipment for use and treatment of patients with conditions other than heart ailments.

Modern day research continually presents new ideas for equipment and its use and with the new memorial account it will be easier to keep the hospital up to date and better equipped throughout.

The present heart and landscaping envelopes at the funeral homes, hospital and bank will be altered to reflect this additional fund.

Herald Receives Realtor Citation

Lenawee County Board of Realtors has presented a citation of merit to The Tecumseh Herald for "outstanding contributions to the improvement in the lives of residents of this community through accurate and continuing reporting of news concerning real estate and urban development."

The citation was awarded by Rex Glover, board president and Vern Manwaring, chairman of the realtor week committee.

RUBY CAESAR

Dogs' Best Friend Honored by Toast

"We're never gonna have another Ruby," remarked one of the gals who atended the ladies' day Country Club luncheon last week when Ruby Caesar was honored with a champagne toast and gifts.

Forty-three ladies were present when Mrs. William Snook read her own original poem entitled, "Ode to Ruby"

Mrs. David Nichols created a huge card, complete with golfers and the Caesar family dogs, Snoopy and Sydney, to accompany a silver bowl the group gave to Tecumseh's persistent, pulchritudinous pet watcher.

She was also presented a gift by the Club employees.

Mrs. Caesar left Wednesday to join her husband, Al, in Stone Mountain, Ga.

Senator Bursley Seeks Re-election

State Senator Gilbert E. Bursley has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election from the 18th Senatorial District, which includes Washtenaw and the eastern half of Lenawee County.

"The challenges facing Michigan in the 1970's are going to demand much constructive legislative action. I want to be a part of that," said Senator Bursley.

Elected twice to the House and twice to the Senate, Senator Bursley is currently chairman of the senate committee on corporations and economic development, vice-chairman of the senate education committee and a member of the commerce, senate business and intergovernmental cooperation committees.

He has been chairman of several interim committees during his present term including the committees on pesticide research and control, abortion law reform, urban mass transportation and international commerce. In December, Governor Milliken asked Senator Bursley to serve as legislative representative on the Downtown Detroit Stadium Committee.

30 Bikes Compete In Race To Adrian

Thirty boys and girls were on hand Saturday to officially open Michigan Week with a bike race from Tecumseh to Adrian.

The race, which covered 12.8 miles, was run in heats with each contestant timed. Trophies were awarded to the top finishers in each age group and all participants received ribbons.

In the 15 year old group, David Eardley of Adrian was first with a time of 45 minutes and 6 seconds. Richard Sterling of Tecumseh was second and timed at 53 min. and 20 sec. Third place was won by Dave Southwell of Tecumseh with a time of 54 min. 5 sec.

Cheryl Overton was the lone contestant in the 14 year old bracket and was timed at 56 min. 50 sec.

Tom Behrendt of Adrian finished first in the 13 year old group with a time of 47 min. 51 sec. Lawrence Middlebrook and Mark VanWagner, both of Tecumseh, finished second and third with times of 49 min. 50 sec. and 51 min. 55 sec. respectively.

Joseph Terlesky of Adrian captured first place in the 12 year old division with a time of 53 min. 31 sec. Bill Steel of Tecumseh was timed in 58 min. 15 sec., good for second place and Kevin Green of Adrian was third with a time of 58 min. 36 sec.

Named Scholar

Jacklyn Kay Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, 301 Maple St., was among high school seniors named as regents-alumni scholars by University of Michigan, recognizing their outstanding academic achievement.

Each will receive a token $50.

Sale Provides Postage Funds

Proceeds from a bake sale and contributions reached a total of $71.29 toward postage for "Christmas in July" boxes for men in Vietnam sponsored by North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club.

Report was made at a recent meeting at Clinton Community Center. Corrections and additions were made by Mrs. Kay Adams in registration cards for projects.

A policy was set by the club members to give a financial contribution to a charity designated by the family in case of death in a member's family.

Members will meet at the Curtis home on Monigan Hwy. Saturday at 1 p.m. for the first animal tour of the season. Following the tour to begin at 1:30 p.m., the group will meet at the Young's for a hot dog roast. Each family will bring their own wieners and rolls and be notified of further donations.

Jeffrey Young spoke on "How to Cut Needle Teeth in Pigs" and Kathy Hartung showed equipment used in "Horse Grooming."

Refreshments were served by the Youngs. McKeens will be hosts for the June 8 meeting in the same location.

Dinner Fetes Confirmation

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge entertained at a chicken dinner May 7 honoring Sherry MacGeorge on her confirmation at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church. Sponsors were Mrs. Dale Gilson, Deerfield, Mrs. Katharine Ehlert, Palmyra and Robert Ehlert, Britton.

Others attending the dinner were Mrs. Robert Ehlert and daughter, Roberta, Dale Gilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore, Britton, Mrs. Mary MacGeorge, Adrian, Mrs. Hilda Dermyer, Cathy Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Reister, all of Adrian, Mr and Mrs. Alvin Schmidt, Deerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ehlert and Wendy Ehlert, Toledo, O., Virginia Ehlert, Temperance and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Maki and children.

SP/4 William E. Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Carson, of Onsted, received his discharge from the U. S. Army May 1. For the past six months he has been stationed at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., where he served with the 512 Military Police. Bill and his wife, Diane, arrived home May 10. On their journey home they visited Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon and spent four days in Denver, Colo., with Diane's sister and husband, Bud and Carol Echelbarger. Bill and Diane will be temporarily staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey, of W. Chicago Blvd., Britton.

Group Organized To Buy G'TEC

Dr. Carl A. Benz announced that a group of local professional and business people have formed a company to acquire the G'Tec Cable System serving Adrian and Tecumseh.

Under a ruling by the Federal Communications Commission, General Telephone Company must divest itself of all cable facilities owned in those areas which it also covers with telephone service.

The group feels that if there is to be a change in ownership, it is important to keep that ownership local. In this way the best interests of area subscribers will receive first consideration, and the growth of the system can contribute to the development and well being of the community.

Don Sunderland is one of the group.

Chapter Elects Mrs. Wickey

Mrs. Philip Wickey was installed as president of Sigma Phi Iota Epsilon Chapter May 12 at the home of Mrs. John Korican. Other officers installed are:

Vice President — Mrs. James Newman.

Recording Secretary — Mrs. Garry Greene.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Jerry Eggleston.

Treasurer — Mrs. Douglas Hoffman.

A gavel was presented to Mrs. D. J. Martin, new president of Ki Delta Gamma Chapter.

Plans were made for a dinner trip to Toledo to see a museum there.

Assistance was requested from the group in replenishing a hospital bandage room in the Congo. Donations of sheets, pillow cases and white shirts may be given to Mrs. Orville Cook.

Mrs. Philip Wickey read the yard stick with group participation.

Mrs. Howard Wilson served cream puffs with ice cream.

Mrs. Jack Whelan, retiring president, was presented a gift, corsage and a song, sung by chapter members.

Mrs. Wickey was crowned Adrian City Council Girl of the Year at the annual Founder's Day dinner at the Elks Club in Adrian.

Welcomed Home

Susan Hunt and Albert Bailey Marry

Susan Lynn Hunt and Albert Harrison Bailey, Jr., were married Saturday at United Methodist Church, Adrian, by the Rev. Richard Chilkott of Christ Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Jean Hunt, Adrian, and Wesley Hunt, Occidental Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey 2334 Occidental Rd.

Richard Wagner of Clinton was the organist and the Rev. Chilkott sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Altar vases were filled with white gladioli and yellow daisies and a pyramid arrangement of gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations ascended to the foot of the cross

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white angel skin peau in empire A-line style with chapel train secured at the back waist. Venice lace trimmed the high neck, long sleeves, waistline and train. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a headpiece of loop bows and lily of the valley.

She wore a pearl teardrop pendant, gift of the groom, and carried white orchids, stephanotis and carnations.

Mrs. Joan Barlow of Adrian was matron of honor in a floor length empire gown of blue accented at the waist with white appliques. A white bow secured her veil and she wore elbow length gloves. Her bouquet was a semi-cascade of blue glamelias and miniature white, carnations with streamers.

Carol Bower, Clinton, and Mrs. Larry Robison, Kentwood in gowns fashioned as Mrs. Barlow's except in pink and yellow, carried pink and yellow glamelias.

Thomas Bailey, cousin of the groom, was best man and the 35 guests were seated by James Bailey and William Holmes, both cousins of the groom.

Diane Hunt registered the guests at the reception at Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall where a buffet supper was served with dancing following.

Aunts and uncles of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hunt of Jerome and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glenn were hosts.

White candles in crystal candelabra were used to flank a four tieged cake cut by Mrs. Lynn Hunt, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Glenn, aunt of the groom.

Mrs. Carl Kimerer, sister of the groom, served punch and Mrs. Robert Bracey, coffee.

The bride, a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Simplex Industries. The groom, a Britton-Macon High School graduate, is employed at Ford Motor Co. plant at Rawsonville.

Following a trip to Florida, the couple will live at 415 Center Drive.

Rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at Rock Inn.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT H. BAILEY, JR.

K. Butler and J. Dahlke Speak Marriage Vows

Kathleen Butler and James C. Dahlke exchanged marriage vows in the First Baptist Church Saturday evening with the Rev. B. O. Bashore officiating

Bride is the daughter of Mrs. William H. Butler, 301 W. Logan, and the late Mr. Butler. Mr. Dahlke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahlke, 8400 Matthews Hwy.

Mrs. Fred Dickinson was the organist.

Red and white pompons were the altar flowers.

Ceremony was performed before the immediate family and close friends.

Donna Grigg was maid of honor, wearing a light green empire gown, in yellow lace, similarly styled to the bride's She wore a matching lace hair band, and carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies.

James Bashore, Clinton, was best man, and the ushers were Bruce Antrobus, Ansonia, O., and David Tumey, Jackson, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception was attended by 30 guests at the First Baptist Church Youth House. Crystal candle holders and yellow tapers flanked the three-tiered bride's cake.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. David Tumey, Jackson; Mrs. James Bashore, Clinton; Mrs. Robert Chandler and daughter, Brenda, Toledo, O.; Mrs. Nellie Loucks, Norvell and Mrs. Allyn Ernst.

Bride is a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed as an LPN at Bixby Hospital. Mr. Dahlke is a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School, served in the Navy, and is employed as chief water plant operator for City of Adrian.

The couple weekended in Holland and are residing at 712 Company St., Adrian.

Sherry A. Kelley Repeats Vows

Sherry A. Kelley and Perry W. Kerley were married May 9 in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Harrison.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kelley, who moved from E. Evans St. to Harrison, several years ago.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony.

MRS. KENNETH L. STAPLETON

N. Bird and K. Stapleton Are United in Marriage

Nancy Jane Bird and Kenneth Lee Stapleton spoke their wedding vows May 16 in an evening candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Luren J. Strait at Grace United Methodist Church, Ridgeway.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bird, 8915 Milwaukee Rd., Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stapleton of Seymour, Conn.

Harry Bodine of Monroe was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Schroeber, Britton.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length empire styled gown of white satapeau accented with beaded Chantilly lace appliques on the bodice, long puffed sleeves, A-line skirt and chapel train.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured to a headpiece of peau de soie loops and beaded lace petals.

Carol Bird of Saline, sister of the bride, was maid of honor while the bridesmaids were Mrs. William Burgess, sister of the bride, Mrs. Frank Pauza, sister of the groom, Mrs. James Kirk, cousin of the groom, of Ann Arbor, and Kathy Roberts, cousin of the bride, of Onsted.

The attendants were attired alike in floor length gowns of lavender fabric, fashioned with slightly scooped necklines and A-line skirts. Matching satin ribbon was threaded through white Venice lace accenting the empire bodice and short puffed sleeves. A panel fell from a large bow at the back and they wore small satin bows with lavender veils on their hair.

Michael Dragalin of Beacon Falls, Conn., served as best man and 250 guests were seated by William Burgess, Frank Pauza, James Kirk and Randy Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Roberts of Onsted met the guests at the door.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Cleary College where she was also employed until last week.

Her husband is a graduate of Seymour High School and spent three years in the United States Army. He is employed at United Aircraft in New Haven, Conn.

Following a trip to the Virgin Islands, the couple will live in Ansonia, Conn.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bride's parents at their home Friday evening.

Miss Auten Feted At Bridal Shower

Mrs. Harry Hunter assisted by Karen Auten gave a bridal shower Sunday afternoon honoring Kathy Auten whose marriage to David Koertge will be solemnized June 27 at Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Games were played and a buffet luncheon was served after the bride-elect opened many gifts.

Guests were from Adrian, Westland, Clinton, Saline and Britton.

Personal Shower for Jacklyn Sinkey

Jacklyn Sinkey was guest of honor at a personal shower May 8, given by Lorna Hensen, Debra Lavender and Anne Curran, at the Hensen home on Maiden Lane.

Sixteen friends were present for games with prizes awarded to Shirley Griffith, Linda Lask, Steffanie Hensen and Nancy Sinkey.

Mrs. Hubert Lavender made doll cakes in the bridal colors, served with ice crea mand punch.

Miss Sinkey and Mark Perrin were married Saturday.

Ostrander and Sears Exchange Vows

CLINTON—Nuptial vows were recited by Jeane Louise Ostrander and Rodney Allen Sears before the Rev. Thomas Badley in Macon United Methodist Church, Saturday.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Merissa McCarty, 3529 Clinton-Macon Rd., and Robert Ostrander, 2425 US-223, Adrian.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Sears, 6507 Smith Rd., Tecumseh.

Candlelight service was held at 7 p.m., before an altar decorated with white pompons and kissing candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bouffant gown of organza and lace. Fitted lace bodice featured long Camelot sleeves, and Sabrina neckline accented with seed pearls. She wore a Linde Star necklace, a gift from the groom.

Bride's shoulder length veil was attached to a headpiece of pearls and petals that framed her face. Her bouquet was of red rosettes and white carnations.

Vickie Ostrander, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore an aqua chiffon empire gown with long bishop sleeves, scooped neckline, and a matching floor length veil. Pink carnations and white daisies formed her bouquet.

Mrs. Annette Squires, cousin of the bride, wore a similarly styled gown in pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of blue carnations and white daisies.

Roger Sears of Howell, brother of the groom, was the best man. Ushers were Thomas G. Sears, brother of the groom, and William H. Osburn, Jr., brother-in-law of the bride, both of Tecumseh.

White paper wedding bells and pink and white streamers decorated the IOOF Hall, Tecumseh, for the reception dinner attended by 300 guests.

Assisting with the reception were Cindy Thilo, Barbara Bowman and Pat Wood, all of Clinton; Sylvia and Rosemary DeJanche, Ridgeway.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed at H W. Tuttle Co., Tecumseh. Mr. Sears is a 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed as a draftsman at Peerless Gear Division, Clinton.

Upon their return from a wedding trip for a week in the southern states, Mr. and Mrs. Sears will reside at 119½ Locust St., Clinton.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday night at the Country House

Britton Elevator Among Pictures Collected by Camp Fire Girls

Elevator Among Village History

BRITTON—May 19, 1895, the first elevator was moved to Britton from Ridgeway. It was moved on two flat cars over the railroad. Owner at that time was Joe Harrington.

Over the years other owners were Dan VanAuker, William Swick and Walper and Craig. For the past many years of dependable service and good will, undoubtedly the best known, is the present owner, J. J. Walper and Son.

On Oct. 7, 1956, the elevator was destroyed by fire. Sept. 19, 1957, Reynold Seagert brought in the first two loads of grain and a new modern fireproof elevator was doing business again.

Many additions and storage silos have since been added to meet the ever growing grain production.

Other pictures of interest that the Britton Camp Fire Girls and their leaders are looking for are: pictures of the old wooden school house built before the 1879 brick school and the old east Congregational Christian Church which stood where the present home of Mrs. Audrey Underwood is located. All pictures will be returned after the girls get a copy of same.

Seniors Lead on Honor Roll

Memorial Day Plans Are Made

BRITTON — The schedule of events and order of march for the Memorial Day Service in Britton have been announced by American Legion Commander Charles H. Fairbanks and Richard Linn, adjutant.

Parade units will assemble at 8:45 a.m. sharp at Britton-Macon High School.

The local parade begins at 9 a.m. from the school and marches to the business district and returning to the memorial in the park for a short ceremony. At the raising of the flag the band will play the National Anthem. The chaplain will offer memorial prayer. Flowers will be deposited at the memorial with a salute to the dead by the firing squad, followed by "Taps."

The order of march will be: Color Guard, band, firing squad, Legionaires and Veterans, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Blue Bird Girls and others welcome, such as decorated bikes, antique cars, etc.

Following the ceremony at the park the units will be transported by bus to Ridgeway Cemetery where they will reassemble at the entrance in the same order of march to the monument.

Raising of the flag will take place as the band plays the National Anthem. The Rev. Edwin Mueckler, minister of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church will deliver the Memorial Day address at the monument.

Band will play a selection and the Sergeant of Arms will deposit flowers. Firing squad will salute the dead. The playing of "Taps" will conclude the ceremony and the units will be dismissed. Bus transportation will be available to marchers to return to Britton.

MRS. BARRY CARNEY

Belt and Carney Unite in Marriage

BRITTON — Sharon Raye Belt and Barry Carney were united in marriage May 9 by the Rev. McDonald at Milan Free Methodist Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Belt, 139 S. Main St., Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carney of 306 Miami Court, Tecumseh.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown or organza over taffeta with a demi bell silhouette and natural waistline. It had a high neck line and long bishop sleeves. The bodice, sleeves and around the skirt was accented with tiny lace ruffles. Her head piece was Spanish type edged with lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Sandra Belt of Britton was her twin sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length apricot empire waist gown with lace bodice and organza skirt. She carried roses and snapdragons. Judy Hiser, of Dundee, was the bridesmaid and wore a dress similar to the maid of honor except the color was nile green. Her bouquet was similar to the maid of honors.

Ushers were Norm Creger of Tecumseh and Don Schmdt of Deerfeld.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Friday evening in their home.

The bride will graduate in June from Britton. Mr. Carney is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and will leave May 26 for the Army. Mrs. Carney will be joining her husband as soon as possible.

Party Honors Mrs. Bailey

Refreshments were served which featured a decorated birthday cake in orange and yellow.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. David Bailey and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kanous of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. William Carson and Mr. R. B. Kanous of Britton.

Seniors Prepare for Graduation

BRITTON — Forty-seven seniors will remember the past 13 years together as they participate in their final high school activities next week.

Sunday, May 31, Baccalaureate Service will be held at 8 p.m. with Rev. Edwin A. Meuckler, pastor of Emmanuel's Lutheran Church, addressing the 1970 graduates.

Wednesday, June 3 at 8 p.m. Class Night will be presented by the seniors, followed by Senior Awards, at which time athletic and academic awards will be given out.

Commencement exercises will be held Friday, June 5 at 8 p.m. bringing the week's activities to a close, at which time the graduates will receive their diplomas.

Open house will be held by many parents, honoring their graduates Friday evening, following the graduation ceremonies.

Sponge Week At High School

BRITTON — Strange happenings have been going on around the high school this past week. Oddly dressed students appearing in different attire each day and looking and acting stranger each day. Nothing to be alarmed about though, as it happens to be the long anticipated "Sponge Week" that is an annual event of the students.

The week went like this:

Monday — Dress up and Student Government Day.

Tuesday — Class Color and Honor Seniors Day.

Wednesday — Greaser (?) and Old Fashioned Day.

Thursday—Girl-Boy Exchange Day.

Friday — Hippies and Protest Day.

Board Petitions Filed by Three

BRITTON — Thursday, May 14 the School Board met in regular session with Mr. William Saxton, superintendent of Britton-Macon High School, reporting that three candidates for the Board of Education have filed their petitions. Competing for the two four-year terms are incumbent Leslie Downing, Donald Dickerson and Richard Cox. The election will be held Monday, June 8 in the school study hall from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

It was decided that Class Night and Senior Awards Night would be held the same night, June 3 at 8 p.m. Awards Assembly will be held Friday morning, June 5 at 9 a.m. in the assembly.

The board was notified that the graduating class of 1970 will leave the balance of $34 from their treasury to the Honor Society to use toward purchasing a special bulletin board on which names of members of the society will appear and can be put on display in the school.

A special meeting of the school board will be held Thursday, May 21 at 8 p.m. in the superintendent's office.

Girls Give Show for PTO Meeting

BRITTON — A fashion show presented by the Home Economic Department for the May PTO meeting was held Monday evening in the high school gym with fashions from Van-Mers in Tecumseh. Track Team Wins Pair

Tecumseh's track team didn't let the rain bother them last Tuesday as they defeated New Boston Huron by a score of 76-42.

The Indians got first place efforts from John Robert in the high jump, Craig Brown in the pole vault, Paul Randall, 880-yd. dash; Gary Hannibal, 120-yd. high and 180-yd. low hurdles; Tony Lisenbee, mile run; and the 880-yd. and mile relay teams.

The win upped Tecumseh's record to 5-2 against league competition and 7-3 overall.

The thinclads ran in the rain again Thursday, downing Flat Rock, 71-47.

The Indians completed the season with an overall dual meet record of 8-3 and finished 6-2 in the league.

The Huron League Meet will be held Wednesday, May 20, at Gibralter Carlson. Senior hurdler Gary Hannibal runs in the state meet this Saturday.

Results of the Flat Rock meet are:

Shot put — Jessop, M. (FR), Brown (T), Thews (T); 41'9½".

Mrs. Proctor's Doll Family

By Maxine Calhoun

CLINTON — Clustered about in small groups, just as though a part of the family, Mrs. Wesley Proctor's dolls appear to be waiting to greet visitors to her home, 207 Jackson Rd.

Although she doesn't have a single doll that was her own, Virginia Proctor has assembled a fascinating collection of nearly 100 dolls that were someone else's keepsakes.

No two alike, the collection ranges from the tiniest penny dolls of bisque, smaller than a finger, to those two-foot tall, which stand, or sit, childlike, about the living room, or watch wistfully from each step of the open stairway.

Perhaps the most unusual dolls she has are her "real people" French peasant couple. They were made in France by Bernard Ravea during World War II while in the French Underground. Their sale aided that cause. Their aged, wrinkled faces have a flesh-toned visage created with a covering of silk stocking. Their authentic black peasant garb adds to their charm as they perch comfortably on the edge of a lamp table. This pair of dolls was discovered in a doll museum in Douglasville, Pa.

Collecting dolls has proven to add considerable interest to traveling, Mrs. Proctor said.

Mrs. Proctor's husband, Wesley, owner of Proctor's Shoes, Tecumseh, was not at all interested in the dolls at first, she recalls.

She called it stage I, when he wouldn't even get out of the car while she went into antique shops to search for dolls.

Stage II was when he would go inside—and look about, sort of grudgingly. Stage III came when Wes began to pick up dolls and study them—gradually becoming interested.

Now, she says he has a genuine enthusiasm for the collection.

Her oldest doll, about 130 years, is completely fashioned of wood. She isn't interested in dolls of the last thirty years or so.

An Indian doll has sticks for legs and arms which are completely covered by hand sewn cloth.

Foreign dolls have come to her from China, Spain, India, Germany, Portugal, Japan, Ireland and the Soviet Union.

She'd like to add to her character dolls, especially the rare Dionne quintuplet dolls. She has an early photo of those quints, signed by Papa Dionne.

Friends bring her dolls from many places. A flirty-eyed doll was recently brought back by Mrs. Hans Schmidt from a tour to the island of Majorca.

The most expensive doll, perhaps, is valued at more than $200. It's from 1850 and has a Jenny Lind china head.

Usually there is a marking on the neck or back, which tells who made the doll. Then, there's the "Collector's Encyclopedia of Dolls," by Dorothy, Elizabeth and Evelyn Coleman, which has a wealth of information for collectors.

Surprisingly, the Proctor's grandchildren have been told not to touch the fragile dolls—and they never do—although, they're all about the house within easy reach.

Most other antiques the Proctor's collect have an affinity with dolls. There are some charming doll tea sets, handmade doll clothes chests, a quaint, old, handcrafted Pennsylvania Dutch doll house, with real glass windows and there is a tin-roofed, red barn, complete with fenced barn yard and little animals.

Each type of doll has its own unique construction. Called the most perfect to play with, the Schoenhut doll of Germany was fashioned all of jointed wood with many layers of oil paint, giving a life-like texture to the face.

It's important to keep the clothing intact to add authenticity to the dolls. However, although none of Mrs. Proctor's dolls are kept covered, they are in spotless condition.

Distinguishable by their fashionable couture gowns are the French dolls.

Mrs. Proctor mentioned how many of the German dolls became priceless after the destruction of the German cities of Nuremburg and Sonneburg, the toy capitol cities of the world, during World War II and the death of the famous toymakers there.

An unusual doll is her wax, peddler doll, holding a tray of flowers, from Belgium. She also has a rare Grace Storey Putnam doll, era 1922-25.

Mrs. Proctor has taught school for 20 years, fifth grade in Clinton for the last 14 years.

She says she has found her collection to be a most rewarding interest and expects to continue it for many years.

Eventually she hopes to have time to assemble some dolls for the many heads and parts she has accumulated. She doesn't sell them—only collects, however she enjoys sharing them with others. She recently showed her dolls at the mother-daughter banquet in Clinton United Methodist Church.

There's a Federated Club of Doll Collectors in the United States and Mrs. Proctor was a guest at a local branch of the club at Dexter recently.

The doll collectors have royal company—some of the more famous of their number were Montezuma, the Aztec ruler; Queen Victoria of England; Mrs. Henry Ford, Queen Wilhemena of Holland and Eugene Field, the American writer.
